SOMETHING ABOUT LIFE

Of Great Lawyer of Willamette Valley--Passing of Tilmon Ford.

The funeral of the late Attorney Ford was held in Salem, Tuesday afternoon, and the remains were interred in the I. O. O. F. cemetery in the capital city.

Tilmon Ford was born in 1845 and lived with his parents on a farm in Marion county until 1865, when he went to Idaho to try his luck in the mines. Being successful with his pick and shovel, he accumulated sufficient means to enable him to enter Willamette University, where he graduated in 1870. He immediately took up the study of law and was admitted to the bar by the Supreme Court in the Fall of 1872. He opened a law office in this city soon after and has engaged in active practice ever since.

In 1880 he was nominated and elected a Representative in the Legislature from this county on the Republican ticket, and was author of the bill enacted during that session which located and provided for the building of the State Insane Asylum. He was re-elected to the Legislature in 1882 and served through both sessions as an active member of the House judiciary committee. Although a powerful working member of the Legislature, Mr. Ford was not much given to a display of forensic ability, but when he did take the floor to address the assembly upon any subject he had the reputation of carrying his point in nearly every instance. Up to the time of an accident, which befell him in February, 1905, by which he suffered a fractured hip, Mr. Ford had been prominently identified with Republican politics. He presided over several county and state conventions, and twice was chosen a Presidential Elector, in 1900 and 1904.

Many a rising young man in the state has him to thank for the means and encouragement by which he gained an education and start in the world.

Mr. Ford leaves a sister, Mrs. Dr. Angie Warren, of Portland, and two brothers, Charles D., of Seattle, and Frank, of Rosslyn, Mont., besides other relatives, including an aunt, Mrs. E. J. Cornell, and two cousins, W. H. Kaiser, his law partner, and Mrs. F. E. Hubbard, all of this city. He had amassed a comfortable fortune, says a Salem dispatch to the Telegram.

BRYSON WILL NOT ACCEPT.

Corvallis Man Mentioned for High Office but Will Refuse.

E. R. Bryson of this city has been mentioned this week for the position of United States District Attorney, by the delegation at Washington. When interviewed Tuesday, Mr. Bryson stated that he had been informed that his name was being mentioned but that he had sent a telegram that forenoon informing the delegation that he could not consider the proposition.

One reason, and perhaps the greatest is that the young man has already filed his application for the position of district attorney, and he said there were other reasons why he would not become a candidate for United States district attorney.

Mr. Bryson is a brainy young lawyer, 32 years of age, who has made for himself an enviable reputation since being admitted to the bar a number of years ago. His effective work in doing away with the illicit liquor traffic in Corvallis, carried on under the "Commercial Club" plan in violation of the local option law, has made many warm friends for Mr. Bryson throughout the state, among law-abiding citizens, and his record throughout his legal career has been clean and honorable. He is splendidly fitted for the high office for which he has been mentioned and his friends have been urging him to accept it. He insists, however, that he will not be a candidate.

A Card of Thanks.

The Reverend Pastor of St. Mary's church wishes to thank the citizens of Corvallis and Monroe for their liberal patronage of the recent sale for the benefit of the church. In particular is he grateful to the ladies of the congregation both members and non-members, who cheerfully gave their contributions, time and labor to insure the success of the sale. Special thanks are also due to C. A. Gerhart who generously placed his store at the disposal of the committee in charge. It is the earnest prayer of the pastor that God may bless and prosper all concerned in the affair for their good will and substantial aid. 22

"Sis in New York" Coming.

"Sis in New York" is coming next Wednesday night to the opera house. Sis and her Indiana neighbors have been so long before the public entertaining those who have an ear for that quaint brand of comedy found nowhere else save in Posey County, Hoopole Township, Indiana, that she needs no introduction. This season's edition of the fun frolic takes Sis and her rural friends into New York, and she is kept busy dodging the autos and cars, for she insists on walking in the middle of the streets--fearing that some of the big buildings might fall.
