"No Mother to Guide Her" Coming.

Lillian Mortimer's great play, "No Mother to Guide Her," will be the attraction at the Opera House next Wednesday, March 18th. It is the largest and most complete melodrama before the public, contains liberal portions of good comedy and dramatic thrills, and is constructed of the material that appeals to theatergoers who admire simple virtues. The villain can always be relied upon to merit the honest hatred of his audience, and the comic gentleman has iron-bound contracts to furnish a laugh every thirty seconds. It is described as being pure, clean and moral, everything produced on the stage that is pictured on the billboards. The company is unusually strong and is headed by the charming actress, Miss Jeanette Carew. One of the pleasing features is the large number of specialties that are given. This is a play that will please the ladies as well as the gallery gods. Reserved seat sale opens Monday, prices 35c, 50c, 75c.

ABOUT FRUIT CANNERIES

Growth of Canning Industry in Valley Discussed.—Figures Tell Story.

The growth of the fruit canning industry in Oregon has been remarkable in the past year, and the outlook is for a continued growth in this direction. In 1906 there were four fruit canneries in the Willamette Valley. In 1907 there were seven. In 1908 the combined capacity of these canneries was 65,000 cases. In 1907 it was 75,000 cases. In the present year there are under construction or fully planned three more, making a total of ten, and two of last year's canneries will double their capacities. It is expected that this year the output will be very large with a capacity well above 150,000 cases.

Canneries are now in operation during the season at Ashland, Grants Pass, Eugene, Salem and Yoncalla, and the new canneries are for Medford, Monmouth and Newberg. Preparations are being made for canneries at Woodburn, Dallas, Corvallis and Monroe, and it is probable that others will be erected at Roseburg and West Scio.

The Southern Pacific has fostered the canning business largely and to its efforts in part is due the great development of the state in this direction. It is stated by officials of the road that hitherto Oregon has never shipped more than 100 carloads of Oregon canned fruits in any one season. But with fair crop conditions this season it is expected that shipments will amount to 250 cars. One official says he thinks in five years the state will be shipping 1,000 cars of canned fruits east.—Ex.

Additional Locals.

A large number of men are training in the various track events at OAC this spring. Among the promising new men are Lounsbury, Jamison, Farnsworth, McLaughlin and others, while among the old men are Hall, Schroeder, Wolfe, Swann, Davolt, Winniford, Crow, Cross, Greenhaw, Howard, Sutherland, Rooper, Chapman and others.

There will be the usual services at the Church of Christ next Sunday. Matters of special interest will be presented to the congregation at the morning service. In the evening the pastor will speak on "The New Testament Church," the first of a series of sermons on "The Church." The male chorus will sing. At the close of the evening sermon there will be a baptismal service.

Independence is to have a cannery. At a rousing meeting held there a few days ago the committee appointed to solicit stock reported it had raised $4200 of the $5000 necessary to establish a cannery. Chairman Messner was instructed to appoint committees to see about securing a site. Another meeting will be held next Saturday, at which time a building spot will be decided on, and plans for the incorporation of the company completed. As many have subscribed small amounts, intending to subscribe more should the plans develop, no trouble is expected in quickly raising the remaining $800.

J. M. Nolan & Son announces in this issue the dates for his "church benefit" days, notice of which has already appeared in these columns. The offer made by this progressive merchant is one which must appeal to all denominations on account of its generosity, and church people should turn out and make these "days" a great success for all concerned.

William Porter, whose funeral was held at Bellefontaine, Saturday, conducted by Rev. M. M. Waltz, was 88 years of age and was one of the early pioneers of Benton county. He was born in San Quier county, Virginia, Jan. 25, 1820, and when six years of age moved with his parents to Ohio. After a residence of two years there the family moved to Tennessee and later to Kentucky. When a young man William Porter went to Illinois and later to Missouri, being married in the latter state in 1846 to Miss Elizabeth Winkle. The surviving children of this marriage are Isaac Porter, Mrs. M. J. Morris and Mrs. W. A. Jolly, all of Benton county. Deceased crossed the plains to Oregon in 1848.
