MERRY-GO-ROUND, TOO.

And Many Other Attractive Features at Big Stock Show.—Hurdle Race Listed

Realizing that it is their show and that they are the people most to be benefitted by it, the stockmen of Benton county are taking a lively interest in the big stock show that is to be held in Corvallis on Mary's River flat, May 15th-16th. From many directions have come letters to the committee stating that the writers intend to bring stock to the show for selling purposes, this being a feature which will make the show a greater success than that of last year.

Stockmen throughout the county who are planning to bring stock to Corvallis to sell during the show, should send a description of this stock to the committee at once, in order that arrangements can be made for bringing buyers to Corvallis on those dates. This is a special favor to the stockmen and they should avail themselves of the opportunity of listing the animals they wish to offer for sale, as buyers cannot be persuaded to come from abroad unless a reasonable amount of stock is assured for their purposes.

The committee is getting out some fine large posters, catalogues are being distributed and arrangements are in progress for competent judges to be present to pass upon the various kinds of stock. There will be a judge for horses, another for cattle, another for sheep, hogs, goats, etc.

One of the things not yet mentioned is the fact that Arnold's merry-go-round will be in Corvallis during the show, and will be located on Mary's River flat. Furthermore, Mr. Arnold has offered to furnish all the tents that are desired for housing stock on the flat, and Dick Kiger has donated five tons of clover hay to feed the animals that are on exhibition during the two days' show.

There will be a grand-stand on the grounds and a wire fence will enclose the show arena and prevent the crowd from closing in so closely, thus hindering the judges in obtaining a good view of the animals on exhibition.

A new feature on the program this year will be a hurdle race in which there will doubtless be keen interest.

A MODEL COMMUNITY

That Sends Out Many Great Men—Bellfountain and its New School.

The Bellfountain high school building recently completed and of which brief mention has been made in these columns is one of the finest structures of the sort to be found in the rural districts of Oregon, and it is the just pride of southern Benton. Built at a cost of $4,500, it is provided with all modern conveniences such as heater, patent blackboards and desks, and it is one of the best lighted school buildings in the state. Modeled on the cottage plan, the school has that inviting home-like air found only in few schools of the best character.

Across the street is a little union church, which is a by-product of the great religious gatherings of Simpson Chapel and the Bellfountain campmeetings where Father Wilbur, Doctor Roberts, I. D. Driver and other apostles of Methodism expounded the gospel in the early days of Oregon. At Simpson Chapel, four miles away, was held the first Methodist conference on the Pacific Coast.

This farming community, which is unusually gifted in those arts of debate, music and entertainment that are the outgrowth of highly cultured influences of long standing, may modestly claim as its own many of the public men of Oregon, among whom are Congressman Hawley who was born and raised in this community. And it is the boast of the people that there are twenty-five students from that locality now in attendance at colleges and universities.

One of the principal educational attractions announced for the near future in Bellfountain (beautiful fountain) is a visit from Governor Chamberlain and State Superintendent Ackerman, the date to be given later. At present Professor Herschel Mack is the Principal and Miss Madeleine Nichols of Corvallis is assistant.

The Corvallis & Eastern railway will sell round trip tickets to Yacovina on Wednesdays and Saturdays only of each week at $3.25, good for return within 60 days. Tickets to be validated at Yacovina for return. No stopovers allowed on these tickets. R. C. Linville, Agt. 161f

Married Wednesday.

There was a pretty wedding in Jobs addition at 8 o'clock, Wednesday evening, the bride being Miss Minnie Maxfield and the groom Ona Senger, both of this city.

It was a quiet affair, about 25 guests witnessing the ceremony, which was performed by C. T. Hurd.

The bride was becomingly attired in white, with veil, and carried bride roses.

After congratulations had been extended the happy pair, a dainty wedding luncheon was served. Numerous handsome presents, principally silverware, were presented the young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Senger went to Portland, yesterday noon, where they will spend the honeymoon. They will reside in Corvallis, where a handsome new residence awaits them near the Union depot.

Both are respected young people and many friends join in congratulations and good wishes.

Ellis-Wagner Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Luella Wagner of Corvallis to F. A. Ellis of Spokane, Wash., was celebrated at the home of the bride's parents, five miles southwest of this city, at high noon, Wednesday, Rev. S. M. Wood of Corvallis officiating. About 30 guests were present.

The rooms were very prettily decorated with evergreen, fern and Oregon grape, and the young couple occupied a position under a floral arch during the ceremony. The wedding march was played by Miss Leona Jackson. After congratulations a sumptuous wedding dinner was enjoyed. The bride made a very pretty picture in a dainty costume of white.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis will reside on a farm in the Beulah neighborhood, and the hearty good wishes of a host of friends follow them. The bride has grown to womanhood in Benton county and is esteemed by all for her womanly qualities. The groom is a stranger in this locality but is said to be a young man of stability and worth.

Additional Local.

A gory murder was committed over at the Siletz reservation a few days ago, Lark Logan, while under the influence of liquor, literally slashing to pieces a cripple named William Garnier. The latter died two days later, and to avenge his death, a brother, Howard Garnier, fired three shots at Lark Logan, Tuesday, while Logan was being taken by the sheriff from the Toledo hotel back to jail, Mrs. Garnier held her husband's arm and his shots went wild. The shooting Tuesday was done from the second story of the Commercial hotel at Toledo, where Garnier had secreted himself to watch for Logan's return to jail from dinner. The Indians of Siletz are said to be armed and ready to break into warring factions over the affair and further trouble is expected.

If further evidence was needed to convince even the most skeptical as to the doubtful character of W. L. Pason, the detective employed in the local option cases here to work up evidence against reputable citizens, the statement given out by Detective Hartman of Portland in whose employ Pason was, that Pason had confessed to him that he was an ex-convict, would be sufficient to remove all doubt, says Tuesday's Herald. Fearing the result of the charges filed against him of perjury, should they ever come to trial, Pason, the self-confessed liar, suddenly left last Saturday for British Columbia, and will not return to testify in the remaining local option cases, which will consequently be dropped.

Explanation of the Numbering System in Corvallis.

There has been so many questions asked about the numbering system just adopted by the city of Corvallis that I feel an explanation will not be out of place at this time.

The street committee with the assistance of the Postmaster tried to give this matter careful consideration, and after studying numerous systems decided on the one just installed. We selected Monroe street as the base line or dividing line between North and South, because it is the most central and longest street running East and West, so all streets running North and South, north of Monroe street, will be called North, such as N. Third St., N. Fourth St., etc.

We did not think it necessary to add the word South to the other half, so all streets south of Monroe street will be known as First St., Second St., Third St., etc.

We took the river as a base line for streets running East and West, so numbers on all streets running East and West will commence with 100 at First street, even numbers on one side of the street and odd numbers on the other side.

On account of numerous buildings in the city only occupying 12 to 15 feet frontage, we allowed a number for every 12 1/2 feet or four numbers to every 50 foot lot, to avoid using half numbers, and 100 numbers to the block. Where there are alleys between blocks the hundred will be divided at the alley. The numbers will commence with 100 at the base line and increase 100 numbers for every block from such base line.

Any person wishing to put a number on a house or building can call at the Police Judge's office and find out the correct number.
