Buy your wool bags, fleece twine and sheep dip at Benton Mills. 50-5

Student Scott of OAC left Saturday for his home at Milwaukie. His departure was hastened by the fact that his old friend, neighbor and classmate, Leo Duffy, is to be operated on the first of this week at his home near Milwaukie, and Mr. Scott was urged to come home before this occurred. Mr. Duffy is said to be in a critical condition. He was a popular student at OAC, and many old friends hope for more favorable news.

Will contract for vetch seed, any quantity, 1908 crop. Corvallis Flour Mills. 50-5

The Junior hop at the armory Saturday night was one of the most enjoyable ever given at OAC. Great effort had been put forth in the decoration of the room, excellent music was furnished by the Peerless orchestra of Salem, there was a large crowd of prettily gowned and beautiful girls, and well-dressed and handsome men, and the scene and the event will linger in the memory of all present for many a long year.

The keen interest manifested in the better farming demonstration train recently run through the big wheat growing section of Eastern Oregon, by the O. R. & N. Company in conjunction with the staff of lecturers from the Oregon Agricultural College was quite gratifying to the promoters of the scheme. The numerous letters received since, expressing appreciation, petitioning continuation and promising cooperation of the farmers and business men of that section is quite encouraging and the railroad company contemplates a ten year campaign on a broader, more comprehensive scope. From one point alone a letter was received bearing the signature of 100 farmers thanking the company for taking up this work and urging its continuance.—Rural Spirit.
