

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Dr. Morris and family are the guests of friends near Albany.

Miss Jennie Tom went to Newport Saturday for a few days' pleasure trip.

Mrs. W. E. Marvin went to Peoria Saturday for a week's visit with relatives.

Wilbur Starr of Bellefontaine was a business visitor in Corvallis, Saturday.

Miss Hazel Kyle of Albany was the guest of Corvallis friends the last of the week.

Mrs. Charles Copple returned Saturday from a several weeks' visit at Hood River.

C. V. Johnson is adding to his premises by the erection of a new 14x24 woodhouse.

Prof. J. F. Fulton and Pun Avery left Saturday for the Cascades on a hunting trip.

Jesse Starns left Friday for his home in Prineville, after a brief visit in and near Corvallis.

Miss Bettie Thorp has gone to Portland, where she will spend a month's vacation with friends.

Miss Lulu Spangler is spending a week at Newport. She left Saturday and returns next Sunday.

Misses Ella and Thia Johnson are to leave this week for Newport where they will spend their vacation.

Prof. and Mrs. F. Berchtold and little daughter, Florence, left yesterday for a short visit in Portland and at Seaside.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hall and daughter, Mildred, drove to Buena Vista, Saturday evening and spent Sunday with relatives.

Prof. E. R. Lake is in British Columbia on a three weeks' lecturing tour. He is discussing horticulture and kindred subjects.

Mrs. Byerly, whose husband is editor of the St. Johns News, came up Saturday for a visit at the Whitney home near Corvallis.

At their meeting Thursday night the United Artisans appointed George W. Denman secretary, vice Miss Nora Miller, resigned.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hawley of McMinnville are guests at the L. H. Hawley home in west Corvallis. The visitors are en route to Bellefontaine to locate.

George Waggoner and family have moved from the old Belknap house on College hill into the C. L. Heckart house in Jobs addition, recently vacated by Miss Sutherland.

Dr. W. J. Kerr went to Gladstone Park the last of the week, where on Friday evening he delivered an address before the Chautauqua Assembly. He is a very popular speaker.

The new residence that Fred Hereig is building on College hill is to be completed about the middle of August, at which time it will be occupied by Prof. and Mrs. Taillandier.

John Hubler has begun the erection of a new house on lots near his father's residence in Jobs addition. It is declared that Cupid is to play no part in the affair, but that the new house will be for rental purposes.

Mr. and Mrs. Orlo Karsten departed Saturday for Oxford, Iowa, their future home. The latter is more familiarly known here as Miss Leona Marvin, and the popular little bride is followed to her new home by the hearty good wishes of a wide circle of friends.

The W. C. T. U. held a very interesting meeting at the Reading room, Thursday afternoon, an excellent program being rendered. One of the subjects discussed was the advisability of conducting a refreshment stand during the coming All-Benton school fair.

Jack Hanna of OAC returned to Corvallis the last of the week from Kansas, where he went recently to report for military examination for entrance to West Point. The other candidate for similar honors, from OAC, is L. B. Chambers of Kings Valley, also of this year's graduating class.

Miss Nellie Fletcher was among those who spent Sunday at the coast.

Misses Grace and Georgia Lowell and Miss Nora Arrants spent Sunday at Newport.

Clarence Chipman came up from Dallas for an over-Sunday visit with his family in this city.

Byron Atkins, Walter Cummings and Charley Colbert left Saturday for the coast on a ten days' fishing and camping trip.

Mr. and Mrs. George Mulkey and W. E. Marvin have returned from Ashland, where they had been for a week on business.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Venator of Warsaw, Ind., arrived Saturday for a visit of indefinite length with the latter's sister, Mrs. Agnes Thompson, and family.

Morse Burnap has purchased two lots of Virgil Watters, just west of the latter's residence, and has begun the erection of a bungalow like the one he sold last week to Mr. McDonald, on Third Street. The new house will be for Mr. Burnap's own occupancy.

"Grandma" Feese has been very ill at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bier, the past few days, and her son, Dr. G. H. Feese, was summoned from Portland, Friday evening, to be at the bedside. The trouble is neuralgia and the eyes are involved to a serious extent.

Rev. and Mrs. T. S. Handsaker are camping out on the George Bayne farm across the river in Linn county. The Gazette was misinformed concerning Mrs. Handsaker going to Walla Walla a few days ago, as she will not go until her husband has concluded his labors here and can accompany her.

At times, 15 men are employed on the new Y. M. C. A. building at the college. The first floor was laid the last of the week, and the concrete porch floor was put in Friday. A shipment of fire brick arrived Thursday. It is the plan now to have an independent heating plant in the building, instead of connecting it with the main college plant, and a boiler suitable for the purpose is to be ordered.

Prof. Frederic Berchtold returned Saturday from Ashland, where he had been for several days, teaching English literature at the chautauqua. Prof. Berchtold arrived from the East only a few days before going to Ashland. While on the trip he visited Chicago University and the colleges at Madison, Wisconsin, and Minneapolis, Minn., gathering new ideas in his line of work.

Plans are under way for the removal of the OAC library to the second floor of the Administration building, where it is probable it will occupy the entire floor. The old chapel, so the report goes, will serve as the reading room, and the downstairs rooms vacated by the library will be fitted up for the Commercial department and faculty rooms.

W. D. Millhollen was in Corvallis, Friday, bringing with him some Bain cherries from his ranch as large as goose eggs—almost. Anyway, they were the largest ever seen in Corvallis, so far as the local scribe knows, and as seven of them make a row in what is known as the "commercial pack" everyone will know that this story is not a very large one.

Albany, Or., July 15.—William Peacock of this city, who has an 18-acre garden tract across the river in Benton county, has been offered $15,000 for the land. It is said the garden lands are the best on the Pacific coast. Mr. Peacock is one of the veteran gardeners of Oregon. He is not anxious to sell. The price offered, almost $1,000 an acre, is the highest ever offered for farmland in this vicinity.

Considerable annoyance is being caused the contractors and builders by the inability to obtain material for their purposes. There are several houses about town on which work has been hindered the past week because flooring and other material was not available. One man was not to be discouraged and had flooring hauled in from the Benton county mill beyond Philomath, rather than suspend work on his residence.

Mrs. A. F. Peterson of Portland arrived Saturday for a visit with relatives in this city.

Mrs. Bob Thurston of Crawfordville has been the guest of Corvallis relatives the past week.

August Fisher has been enjoying life at Newport since Saturday. He returns today or tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Jackson are moving today into their handsome new house on Seventh and Jefferson streets.

The cherry fair at Salem last week was a great success and many were present from Portland and other points.

Denatured alcohol contains 95 per cent grain alcohol. Just the thing for your alcohol stove. No bad odor. Sold by Graham & Wells. 59-67

A contract for $75,000 for the construction of the foundation of the main building for Swift & Company at Portland, to be finished within ninety days, was let last Friday.

A big crowd went to Newport Sunday and thereby missed one of the hottest days experienced in Corvallis for many a day. The thermometer stood at 100 at Graham & Wells' drug store and at 103 at Graham & Wortham's pharmacy, according to the statement of those who spent the day down town.

HOUSE FORRENT—Will furnish 5-room, modern bungalow, piano included, for responsible parties. No children. Phone 377. 58-62

While in Corvallis, Sunday, Mr. Harrison, of Seattle, who accompanied the remains of his stepfather, the late Jack Young, to this city, was making inquiries concerning the family of John Dicky. Mrs. Minerva Kiger, who is a sister of Mrs. Dicky, hunted up the young man and found he had married her niece, a daughter of Mrs. Dicky, and she now claims a new relative. Mr. Harrison, his mother and sister were guests of Mrs. Kiger while in the city.

For Fine Job Printing go to the Corvallis Gazette.

At their last meeting the Rebekahs installed officers and had a banquet and a general good time. The new officers are: N. G., Maud Hayes; V. G., Margaret Fowells; secretary, Edna Allen; treasurer, Mary Danzeman; R. S. N. G., Mrs. Strange; L. S. N. G., Christine Taylor; R. S. V. G., Mary Allen; L. S. V. G., Mrs. A. A. Johnson; chaplain, Mrs. Ella Wells; I. G., Mrs. Ellen Bovee; O. G., Lee Henkle; warden, Clara Woodcock; conductor, Mamie Rowland.

The dry weather has come, and with it comes the danger of fires. It should be the duty of all persons to use care and judgment in starting fires, and the laws are stringent regarding them. Perhaps the greatest danger to which our forests are subject is from fires started by the inexperienced hunter, camper or careless rancher. Seldom, if ever, are fires started by the experienced woodsman, because he is alert to this danger and selects for his camping place a spot where all danger is eliminated.—Ex.

Mrs. Roy Keeney and little sons have returned to Corvallis from Long Beach, where they went for the summer, and are spending a brief vacation at home, under peculiar circumstances. The continued rain at Long Beach was so unpleasant that Mrs. Keeney started for Washington to visit with relatives. Arriving in Portland she found that her trunk had been lost by the railroad company, and after waiting a couple of days in Portland, where the heat was intense, Mrs. Keeney decided to come to Corvallis and put up fruit for a week or two, and also make more clothes to take to Washington, in case the lost trunk is not located, as it had not been, up to Saturday.

Graham & Wells carry a full line of paints, oils, glass, varnishes, including the great chinamel varnish. 59-67

Rev. J. R. N. Bell goes to British Columbia today on a business and pleasure trip, after which he will join his family at Newport, for which place they leave today to spend the summer. Rev. Bell is to have a vacation until the first of September, and intends to make the best of his outing.

If you are a kicker and see the shadow of failure in everything that is proposed to help the town, for heaven's sake go into some secluded canyon and kick your own shadow in the clay bank, and thus give men who are working to build up a town a chance. One long-faced, hollow-eyed, whining kicker can do more to keep away business and capital from a town than all the drouths, short crops, chinch bugs, blizzards and cyclones combined.—Exchange.

Mrs. H. F. Fischer is having a part of her double residence moved this week to lots on the opposite side of the street from her home, where it will be fixed up for rental purposes.

Fresh vegetables and fruits always on hand in their season. Whitesides & Cooper. 111f

Rev. J. R. N. Bell went to Albany, Friday, where on that evening he delivered the opening address at the Summer Bible School. His subject was "Shakespeare and Education," and as usual the address was a polished and scholarly effort which elicited much favorable comment. Another Corvallis man who will participate in this school is Rev. C. T. Hurd, who is to conduct a class every morning on "Young People's Work." He began his work Saturday morning. The Bible school is being held on Bryant's Island and will be principally outdoor work. The idea was adopted last year on a smaller scale and proved so highly interesting and helpful that it was decided to enlarge the scope of the meetings this year.

C. L. Musgrave is glad he lives in Oregon. Mr. Musgrave formerly lived in Kansas, going from there to Oklahoma, coming thence to Oregon. He purchased the G. F. Rice home, just west of Corvallis, where he is content to spend his remaining days. The reason he is so pleased with Oregon is because he recently met a man from the old home town in Kansas. This man told him a cyclone had but recently swept that locality, literally skimming Mr. Musgrave's old farm and twisting great oak trees off close to the ground. The same storm killed an old neighbor of Mr. Musgrave, and then crossed the river and demolished a home in which were eight persons, not a single one of whom escaped without a broken arm or a broken leg. As to Oklahoma, Mr. Musgrave says they "raise" cyclones down there and he doesn't want any more of it for awhile.

The re-count in the county clerk election contest which was started in the circuit court last Monday afternoon was not concluded until Friday afternoon. Every ballot cast in the June election in Benton county was carefully gone over and recounted by those appointed to the task and the work was slow and laborious. In the West Philomath precinct the recount gave three more votes for T. T. Vincent, but as there were some irregularities in the matter of the first count in this precinct, and the votes are contested, it is not known what will be the result of the change. All told, the legality and ownership of 94 ballots are now to be decided upon by Judge Harris, who has them under advisement. These are ballots that are irregular or objected to for one cause or another, and there is no possible way for even those most concerned to form an idea of what the findings of the court will be. It is said probably three weeks will be required for the final decision to be handed down. The July term of the circuit court adjourned Friday afternoon.
