

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Phoebe Miller left Saturday for a two weeks' vacation at Newport.

Everett Prindle and family of Five Rivers were Corvallis visitors Friday.

Dick Kiger was in Monroe, Friday, buying fine sheep for parties in Albany.

Mrs. Robert Trenholen of Bruce transacted business in Corvallis Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Woods of Philomath were Corvallis visitors the last of the week.

W. E. Bridwell and family expect to go to Newport today to remain for several weeks.

Mrs. Blanche Butolph and little daughter departed Sunday for Oregon City, to remain.

Ed Ryder is building a very large, handsome residence on his lots in Jobs addition.

Frank Howell came out from Alsea, Saturday, to sew sacks through harvest for George Davis.

H. F. Mersdorf of Eugene was in Corvallis the last of the week, looking after business matters.

H. L. Winkley and family now occupy the cosy new bungalow recently completed by D. C. Rose.

Tom Vidito and family and Mrs. Jennie Grier and daughter have gone to Yachats for a three weeks' outing.

August Hodes, the well known merchant, was on the sick list the last of the week and unable to be in the store.

Miss Rova McFarland was in Corvallis, Saturday, en route to her home at Halsey from a vacation visit at Newport.

There was an enjoyable dancing party at Taylor's hall Saturday evening. A good crowd and a good time reported.

Henry Howell, an old Corvallis boy and OAC graduate of '99, is now engaged as a timber cruiser in the wilds of Lincoln county.

Picking peaches will be the order at the Kiger orchard the last of this week, the Early Hales being ready for market. There is a light crop.

Mrs. Chester Avery and little son, who have been visiting relatives in Corvallis for some weeks, departed Friday for their home at Klamath Falls.

A. J. Johnson went to Portland, Friday, to visit his wife, who is rapidly regaining her health since undergoing an operation in a hospital there.

J. M. Nolan and family are going to Newport this week to hear what the wild waves are saying and incidentally to gather in a supply of rest and ozone.

Mrs. Minerva Kiger is considering the advisability of building a new house on her property, where her large barn now stands, the dwelling to be for rental purposes.

Miss Evalena Merrill of Albany, Miss Edna Wyatt and Milton Wyatt have been rusticated in the vicinity of Mary's Peak for a few days. They report a delightful time.

Miss Lura Flett goes to the Five Rivers country the last of this week for her vacation. She will go from there to Yachats with her father, mother, and brother, for an outing.

Norton Adams has been walking with a cane since Friday, when a scaffolding gave way, throwing him to the ground and severely spraining his ankle.

Ernest Rodgers, Mrs. Lincoln Chambers, Mrs. Agnes Rodgers, Mabel, Charles and Glenn Price of Corvallis attended the funeral of the late Miss Pearl Townsend in Kings Valley, Saturday.

Mrs. Minnie Brokaw and little son, Ralph, departed Saturday for their home in Spokane, after a three weeks' visit with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Howell in Corvallis, and with relatives at Toledo and Alsea.

Mrs. Iva Taylor of Portland has been visiting her parents south of town the past week and went to Newport Saturday for a brief stay. She leaves Thursday for Albany and Salem, en route home.

The Abrahams machine finished a run on vetch for Dick Kiger the last of the week. The grain yielded well.

Mr. Murphy of this city has purchased the moving picture theatre at Lebanon, and will go to that city to reside.

Mrs. Mary Barber went to Yachats, Saturday, for a visit of several weeks at the home of her niece, Mrs. L. E. Casteel.

A good show-drama, vaudeville and music, at the opera house next Saturday night. Free concert afternoon and evening.

Mrs. A. L. Knisely and children left Saturday for their home at Sellwood, after a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Wilson, near this city.

Rev. H. H. Hubble, the newly-arrived Christian pastor, preached to a large congregation at the union meeting at the Methodist church Sunday evening. He is a pleasing speaker and an affable gentleman and will be cordially welcomed in Corvallis.

Mrs. Thomas Pomeroy, residing near Buena Vista, was fatally injured a few days ago by the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of her husband. The charge struck her just above the knee and severed an artery. The injured lady died Monday night from the shock and loss of blood.

Miss Lulu Wells returned Friday from Cascadia, to resume her duties in the Independent telephone office. The other members of the family and Chas. Keeney and family are to return the last of this week. They think Cascadia a delightful camping place and are having a fine time.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Beach and children, John Beach, Mrs. Minnie Leamans and Mrs. Emma Lingo and daughter of Portland, T. D. Turley and daughter, Jessie, of Lincoln, Illinois, are expected home the last of this week from a several weeks' camp at Yachats and Alsea.

Milton Wyatt returned Friday from a business visit in Albany. At the hotel where Mr. Wyatt spent the night a six year old child fell from the window in the third story, landing on a tin roof near Mr. Wyatt's room, breaking an arm and receiving numerous cuts and bruises about the face.

Richard Kiger goes to Portland today with a carload of mutton sheep. He is buying fine thoroughbred bucks for a Montana firm and has an order for an unlimited number. This speaks volumes for Benton county's thoroughbred sheep and shows that Benton has a reputation abroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Clark and little son returned Friday from a few days' stay at Newport. Saturday they left for McMinnville to visit relatives and from there Mr. Clark was to go on, yesterday, to their home at Glenn's Ferry, Idaho. Mrs. Clark follows later.

Mrs. G. H. Feese and children arrived from Portland the last of the week and will spend ten days with old friends. Rev. Feese is conducting a revival at Detroit and the little son, Fred, joined his father there Friday, making the trip from Corvallis in care of Conductor Tom Riley.

The river bank was lined with interested spectators several days the last of the week, watching the big log drive and the maneuvers of the men in charge of the work. The last of the drive passed late Friday evening, and there were several million feet in the bunch.

Saturday evening Mrs. W. E. Smith and Mrs. Ellen Beach gave an very pleasant informal reception at the home of the former, near the college. The affair was in honor of Mrs. G. H. Feese of Portland and the guests were the members of the W. H. M. S. of the M. E. church, and their husbands. A large company was present, numbering about 30, and a delightful time was had by all, as both hostesses are successful entertainers. Conversation, music, and light refreshments were the features.

New line dishes in plain and fancy designs, at Whiteside & Cooper's.

Mrs. Chapman, wife of the cashier in the Benton County National bank, returned to Portland yesterday afternoon, having spent Sunday with her husband in this city.

Corvallis is not alone in its prosperity. Many other towns in this part of the state are complaining of a shortage of dwellings to accommodate the new residents who are arriving. And after the reduced rates on the railroads become effective there will be a still greater demand for homes. The eastern people seem to have heard of Oregon at last.

Old papers, in bundles, for sale at this office.

Mrs. N. F. Gillespie and children of Independence have been the guests of old friends the past few days. Saturday afternoon a picnic in her honor was given in Avery's grove by Mrs. August Fischer, Mrs. J. R. Smith and Edna Groves, an exceedingly pleasant time being enjoyed by all. Mrs. Gillespie was for several years a popular lady of this city. Another honor guest on this occasion was Mrs. Charles Smith of Kansas City, Mo., who is a sister-in-law of Mrs. Gillespie. They leave today or tomorrow for the latter's home in Independence.

During the San Francisco earthquake Corvallis and Benton county contributed liberally to the fund for the relief of the sufferers. There was such a generous response from all parts of the country, however, that relief was afforded and not all of the contributions were sent on, especially as stories of the grafts being carried on in the stricken city reached the Corvallis committee. There is left in the hands of this committee $415, and as it cannot be equally divided among the contributors, it is proposed to turn the sum over to the Commercial Club, to be expended for the benefit of some organization or for charitable purposes. The committee favors the purchase and erection of one or more public drinking fountains for the city, and if no serious objections are made, definite action for the expenditure of the fund will be taken by the first of September.

Will open my millinery store at Polk and 11th street, Saturday. All hats at cost during August. Mrs. Carolyn Maxfield-Buchanan. 64-5

Newspapers being the product and handiwork of human beings, are likely to err and to make blunders more or less serious in character. No person was ever known to live to any great age without making mistakes, and to expect a newspaper to be issued every few days, week in and week out for years without errors creeping in, is to expect the impossible. Sometimes these errors are ludicrous and furnish much amusement, but oftener they get the editor into hot water and hurt the feelings of some one whom there was not the slightest desire to injure or belittle. These mistakes are easily explained and are taken as a matter of course in the busy life of a printing office, but to the uninitiated they sometimes take on a very serious aspect and the whole affair is condemned without a hearing. A little charity and a careful investigation are a certain panacea for all such mistakes made.

Prof. Helen Crawford, who recently resigned as teacher of elocution in the OAC, has purchased 20 acres of good bottom land from J. Wither, a short distance above Lebanon, for which she paid $200 per acre. She will devote the tract to growing walnuts, which she thinks will prove a very profitable industry in this section. She will give up teaching and intends to come to Lebanon to reside. She will buy or build a home in this place. Her brother, Orville Crawford, will live with her and care for and cultivate the orchard. Lebanon people are pleased to learn of Miss Crawford's decision to locate in this place and will give her and her brother a hearty welcome.—Lebanon Criterion. Miss Crawford has made a host of friends during her residence in this city, and is a lady whom Corvallis can ill afford to lose. However, she has the best wishes of her many friends for future success in the new home.

The funeral of the late Joseph Gray of Beaver Creek was held at the family home Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the services conducted by Rev. P. O. Bonebrake and interment was made in Pleasant Valley cemetery. Mr. Gray was an old and respected pioneer, having come to Oregon in 1861. He was a native of Scotland and was aged 80 years and 28 days. The Thursday previous to his death he fell and from that time on was partially paralyzed, death coming to his relief Tuesday night. Mr. Gray went from Scotland to Australia in 1850, and in 1860 he was married and went back to his native land on a visit, returning to America in 1861 and locating in California. He came on to Oregon during the same year, however, and purchased the farm on which he has ever since resided, three miles southwest of Philomath. The immediate survivors are the widow, Mrs. Anna Gray, one son, A. M. and a daughter, Miss Isabel, who has been a successful teacher for many years.
