OREGON STATE FAIR.

Live Stock Exhibits to be Record Breakers.

To have a state fair without a live stock department would be like a circus without horses and bareback riders or clowns. The Oregon State Fair, to be held at Salem on September 14-19, next, will be a record breaker in the matter of livestock exhibits if one may judge from the letters of inquiry for space with the secretary, Frank A. Welch, is receiving daily at present. The usual large herds of former exhibits will be on the ground and there will be new breeders numbered among those seeking honor and the ribbons. Harry West, the Jersey breeder at Scappoose, Columbia county, is going to be out in full force with his string of heavy cream producers, of which ten have lately been purchased by him in Indiana, the cost price being $4090. They are of rich blood, and Mr. West will give all other Jersey men a lively rub for the premiums. W. C. Morrow and A. F. Domes, of the Willamette Valley, will be numbered among the Jersey breeders who will be showing their cattle for the first time at the state fair; and there are others, too. D. H. Looney, of Jefferson, is among the entries with his splendid Jerseys and Guernseys. The Atkinsons, of Newberg, have made a requisition for space for their Jerseys, which were not at the fair of 1907 owing to other matters which prevented them making a display. The Holstein breeders will be right up in front, also, for P. A. Frakes, of Columbia county, and John L. Smith, of near Spokane, Washington, are coming with their black and white animals who fill the milk pails to overflowing, and there will be other Holsteins which cannot be mentioned now owing to lack space. In the short horn class will be found the great big animals of Frank Brown, which were formerly owned by Charles Ladd. Mr. Brown's reputation as a breeder of Shorthorns is known far and wide and he will have something rich for the judges to consider this time. Among the Aberdeen Angus entries will be M. Porter & Son, of Benton county. J. C. Sabin, of Linn county, expects to show his Galloways, among which will be several purchased in the East last fall. L. B. Geer & Son, of Benton county, are to show Shorthorns and Herefords.

Country Love Feast.

Far good, solid fun the old fashioned country wool-pulling and rag-sewing time indulged in by our mothers was hard to beat. A royal feast of this kind was indulged in at Mrs. John Whitaker's, 10 miles south of Corvallis, last Thursday. About 50 of the neighbors, including women and children, gathered in and made the wool and rags fly until the dinner hour. While this was going on the tables were being spread under the grape arbor by Mrs. Whitaker, assisted by the daughters, and to say there was something good to eat set before them would be putting it mildly for they know just how it's done. The spread was thoroughly enjoyed by all after which came the social features which our good country friend appreciate so much.

Robert Johnson informs us that the prune crop will be short this year. At the big orchard there will not be more than 1000 bushels when there should be 2500 for a full crop.

NEW ROAD PLANNED.

Trolley Line From Albany To Brownsville.

The Albany Herald says an electric line from Albany to Brownsville a distance of twenty-two miles, is being projected by E. H. Rhodes, a local capitalist. He also plans to build a street railway system in the city, and if franchises are secured, he will begin work immediately. Local capital is behind both enterprises and other local men, whose names have not yet been made public, are associated in the project with Rhodes.

"We have the money assured" said Rhodes today. "That part of the proposition is settled. The road will be built if we can secure the necessary franchises and rights-of-way."

Rhodes will apply to the Albany City Council at its next meeting Tuesday evening for a franchise to cover some local streets with a city railway system. There are already two street railway franchises covering local streets, but it is believed Rhodes and his associates may be successful in gaining permission to use some streets in view of the fact that H. Hirschberg, who owns one franchise, operates a horsecar only, and that A. Welch, who secured a franchise covering several streets has done nothing but stringing piles of ties and a few rails along a portion of the proposed line. Notwithstanding he is under bond to have the line in operation by April 1909, Welch has not been active in work. Rhodes asserts there will not be a minute delay if he secures a franchise.

The only difficulty seen by Rhodes in projecting a railway system is that the other franchises cover the vicinity of the Southern Pacific depot pretty thoroughly.

It will be difficult to secure a right-of-way from Albany to Brownsville.

In the event the Albany Brownsville road is built, it is said that Rhodes will secure the rights-of-way heretofore granted J. S. Talbot for a railroad up the Calapooia River from Brownsville to Crawfordville. Talbot has secured deeds for a right-of-way for the line for a distance of 10 miles, the deeds being in escrow in the Bank of Brownsville to become the property of the company if the railroad is in operation by Aug. 1, 1909. Talbot has begun a general survey for the line and is planning to build it at once, but negotiations are said to be in progress for the purchase of the rights-of-way from Talbot by Rhodes and his associates, the consummation of the deal depending on the securing of a franchise in Albany and the building of the Albany-Brownsville electric line.
