PLANT LICE.

A Prize Formula For Freeing Vegetation of the Pests.

A government report states that the Practical Counselor for Fruit and Garden Culture of Frankfurt recently offered a prize for the best method of destroying plant lice, for which fifty-eight persons competed. The prize was awarded to the author of the following preparation: Quassia wood, two and one-half pounds, to be soaked overnight in ten quarts of water and well boiled, then strained through a cloth and placed, with 100 quarts of water, in a petroleum barrel, with five pounds of soft soap. The mixture is then ready for sprinkling on plants infested with lice. Leaves, even those of peach trees, will not be injured in the least by the solution, which can be kept covered in the barrel from spring to fall without deterioration. As soon as lice appear the leaves should be sprinkled with the solution. If this is repeated several times the pests will disappear.

Culture of Tobacco.

The application of shade and semi-shade to tobacco plants has worked considerable of a revolution in this important crop. In Connecticut by the use of expensive shading methods it has been possible to greatly change the character of the crop, while in other sections by simpler methods of natural shading important modifications in type are attained. The department of agriculture reports a simple corn-tobacco planting experiment at the Kentucky experiment station, covering a period of three years, where the tobacco was planted between rows of corn. The tobacco was of a finer texture and brought a higher price. Most soils which have been cropped to tobacco for any length of time are deficient in vegetable matter. At the same time commercial fertilizers are necessary in the production of such a highly specialized crop as tobacco, but it is only by the incorporation with the soil year

After year of a considerable amount of vegetable matter that its proper physical condition can be maintained and improved. An ideal tobacco soil will produce heavy yields of almost any crop. Such a soil is stated by George T. McNeils, tobacco expert of the department of agriculture, as one "of good depth, mellowness and water holding capacity, and in order to possess these a soil must contain a considerable quantity of decayed vegetable matter." Without these basic conditions it is not to be expected that full benefit to tobacco or any other crop can be derived in this way.

"THE ISLE OF SPICE"

Tonight.—Big Crowd Going.—Don't Miss It.

Tonight at the opera house the bright, musical, extravaganza "Isle of Spice" will be greeted by the largest and most fashionable crowd of the season, the first day's advance sale of seats for this attraction being the largest ever known here. Those who attend are assured a first class performance, for the "Isle of Spice" is a pure and wholesome entertainment, consisting of all that is new and refreshing in comic opera, and it is entirely free from vulgarity or suggestiveness in any form. The music is tuneful and the costumes are handsome and attractive, but withal modest. The production here will be exactly the same as is presented in all of the large cities from Chicago to the Coast; it is an opportunity rarely given to people in the smaller towns and you cannot afford to miss it.

Hunting Forbidden.

$50 reward is hereby offered for the arrest and conviction of the party or parties who trespassed upon my lands, situated west of Corvallis, on or about Sunday the 27th day of September, 1908, and while there shot and crippled one of my registered ewes. The punishment of trespassing upon enclosed lands of another, while hunting, accompanied with a gun and dog is a fine of from $15 to $100 or imprisonment from 7 days to 100 days or both fine and imprisonment. The penalties should be inflicted for each offense, because men raising stock cannot afford to have it killed by those directly violating the laws of the state.

M. S. WOODCOCK, Corvallis, Oregon.

Reward for Trespassers.

$20 Reward is hereby offered for the arrest and conviction of any person or persons for trespassing at any time upon my lands, near Corvallis, Oregon, while hunting thereon or when found carrying a gun, pistol or other firearms, or accompanied with a dog or dogs, on or across said lands. This is made necessary because I have had valuable stock crippled several times through carelessness of hunters.

The penalty for trespassing upon the enclosed lands of another, while hunting, accompanied with gun or dog is a fine from $15 to $100, or imprisonment from 7 to 100 days or both fine and imprisonment. Posting of notices to warn trespassers is not necessary. The crime by statute is made a misdemeanor. These penalties will be inflicted unless such parties absent themselves.

M. S. WOODCOCK, Corvallis, Oregon.
