LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Billy Hogan, of Albany, took in the big game Wednesday.

STRAYED.—Blue and white maltese cat. Call up Gazette and owner will pay reward.

FOR RENT.—Modern six room house. Most desirable location. Call or phone James L. Lewis & Co., 113 Main Street.

James Herron, of southern Benton, passed through town on Wednesday, and was headed for the big Apple Show at Albany.

Mrs. J. F. Yates is in Portland at the bedside of her sister, Mrs. Red Wells. J. F. went down Sunday afternoon and came home Tuesday evening.

Owing to the building now occupied by him having been sold Mr. Wilson will be compelled to store his goods and drop out of business, at least for the present.

Miss Isabelle Gray, one of the oldest and most popular teachers in the county, has removed to Heppner, Eastern Oregon, where she has an excellent position in the High School.

During the last few days that the colonist rates were effective more than twelve hundred people came to Oregon on one-way tickets to make this state their permanent home.

Dr Hanford, the dentist, was exceedingly pleasant Wednesday morning, caused, perhaps, by the return of Mrs. Hanford who has been visiting friends in Portland for one month.

There is wailing at the home of Henry Price over the loss of the family cat that has been a member of the home for many years. It strayed away and diligent search is now being made.

Tonight at the opera houses Sol Smith Russell's beautiful comedy-drama "A Poor Relation." This play ran for more than six months in New York City and it is worthy the attention it is receiving.

The gentle hint given Ammy

Henry Price is moving to the S. B. Bane house on South 4th street and will soon be at home to his friends.

B. F. Irvine, of the Portland Journal, formerly editor of the Corvallis Times, attended the OAC-Whitman game here Wednesday.

Several new cement walks have been laid in front of residence properties on 10, between Washington and Adams streets. It is certainly very commendable and greatly improves the general appearance of the property.

W. E. Williams, of Airlie, waltzed up and down the line at the football game Wednesday and boiled over with enthusiasm when the OAC boys got down to solid work. He learned how to do the business when his son Floyd was one of the stars.

Parties who enjoy a good, old-fashioned, home-like Thanksgiving dinner will be accommodated this year in Corvallis, the Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church having arranged to serve just such a dinner, beginning at noon on Thanksgiving day.

Marion Wood, a graduate of OAC, residing across the river in Linn county, turned the farm over to the good wife and came 20 miles on horseback to see the game Wednesday. He rejoiced with exceeding joy when the boys cleaned up the visitors so nicely.

The many friends of Mrs. Red Wells will be pleased to learn that the serious surgical operation of October 29th was very successful and this very estimable lady is improving nicely. Mrs. Wells is an old resident of Corvallis and is held in high esteem by her many friends.

Mike Bauer is moving his residence on 5th between Harrison and Van Buren across the street and will make arrangements to erect a handsome new residence on the present site in the spring. The new house will be a beauty in keeping with the elegant taste of its builder.

Mrs. H. M. Brunk came in from Salem Sunday to look after her son, Charley Shenefield, until after that important event which is to occur on Thursday, November 19, at twelve o'clock. Then comes the shifting of the scenes and for the first time she will be called mother-in-law.

The new improvement at the independent telephone office will require much additional space and the rooms now occupied by Fred Yates will be remodeled and used in connection with their present quarters. Mr. Yates will occupy the rooms lately vacated by Judge McFadden, over the First National Bank. The rooms are now being prepared to suit his taste.

Artistic Millinery

Corner Third and Monroe, Corvallis, Oregon

Contrary to the report circulated, I have neither moved or bought but will remain in my present quarters Corner Third and Monroe Streets. I cordially invite you to inspect my stock of Fine Millinery. MISS M. CHRISTENSEN.

Just as we go to press we were informed of the death of Prof. Coote, which occurred at Newport Thursday morning. No man in service at O. A. C. was better known by our town people or more universally loved and respected. Arrangements for the funeral service will be made and public notified later.

The foundation of the Miss Emma Thompson residences is now completed and the carpenter work will be rushed as rapidly as possible. The building will be 34x45 with basement and will reflect great credit on this enterprising lady. The work is being done by Holgate & Brown.

S. L. Kline received this week from E. D. Washburne, Brooklyn, N. Y., a handsome bronze medal, commemorative of the one hundredth anniversary of Aurora Grata Chapter, Lodge of Perfection, Scottish Rite Masons, which was recently celebrated in that city. Mr Kline is justly proud of the emblem.

Prosperity has been rife in all parts of Oregon and all the election had to do with it one way or the other was to give some men an excuse to wait. Now that even this is useless people are closing great contracts, and building activity will be more marked than at any time in the history of the state.

Jim Zurcher, now the "Roseburg booster," and a graduate of OAC in the class of '02, was enjoying the big game Wednesday and telling college yarns of how he used to spit tobacco juice on the floor to the great annoyance of some of the Profs. He knows now to spin a good story to make it interesting to his hearers.

Mr. Charles Dinnick is erecting an immense barn on his lot on 3d and Adams streets. The neighbors in that vicinity don't seem to appreciate the situation and were it not for the early piety and deep religious convictions of Prof. Kent and Postmaster Johnson the air in that locality would certainly look blue.

The district convention of Willamette Rebekah Lodge, I. O. O. F., was held at Estacada, Wednesday, Nov. 11, and Mrs. Mary Smith, of Grants Pass, president of the State Rebekah Assembly, presided. It was expected that a good delegation would go from the local Rebekah lodge, but arrangements were not made to that end.

It would certainly be a commendable act on the part of the city council to establish a uniform grade for the construction of cement walks on the various streets of the city. Many new walks are now being constructed and it would materially aid the builder. It would also avoid troublesome complications in regard to lining up the walks.

Wednesday evening was Ladies' Night at the Commercial Club and the large attendance had a very pleasant time. The club is now perfecting its plans to have Corvallis properly represented at Portland on November 21, when the big OAC-U. of O. game is played, the object being to root for the college boys and to boost for Corvallis first, last and all the time.

Turkeys have been coming in quite freely during the past few days and the cruel butcher is busy putting on the finishing touches, trimming his whiskers ready for the market. The price paid is 16 cents per pound and many of the farmers will go home smiling with a neat little sum of money in their pockets. The turkey certainly has no cause for rejoicing at the thought of Thanksgiving day.

Casper Zierolf, of southern Benton, came home Wednesday. He attended the Albany Apple Show and says it made his mouth water as he stood and looked at the elegant display. A large crowd was constantly passing thus showing the deeper interest now being taken by our people in the production of better fruit. The time is fast coming when the big red apple will cut an important figure in the commercial industries of the Willamette valley.

Now that John W. Kern, of Indiana, knows that he cannot become the next vice-president, he has turned his attention to a seat in the United States Senate and will be a candidate to succeed James A. Hemenway. As the Indiana Legislature is democratic by 12 on joint ballot, there seems to be more hope for Mr. Kern to bury himself in the upper house than there was of his playing second fiddle to Bryan.

Now is the time to visit California

When summer has passed in these northern states, the sun is only mild under the bright blue skies of Southern California. This is one of nature's happy provisions—eternal summer for those who cannot endure a more severe climate.

California has been called the "Mecca of the winter tourist." Its hotels and stopping places are as varied as those of all well regulated cities. Visitors can always find suitable accommodations, congenial companions, and varied, pleasing recreations.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC CO.

Will be glad to supply some very attractive literature, describing in detail the many delights of winter in California. Very low round trip excursion tickets are on sale to California.

The rate from Albany to Los Angeles and return is $55.00

Limit six months, allowing stopovers in either direction. Similar excursion rates are in effect to all California points.

For full information, sleeping car reservations and tickets, call on, telegraph or write
