MILLINERY PARLORS

Mrs. H. E. Wetherla, Prop. NEXT TO POSTOFFICE

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Charles Young, of Elk City, was a Corvallis visitor over Sunday.

W. M. Faulkner, a prominent resident of Fisher, was in the city Monday looking after his business interests here.

Miss Margaret Nicolai, a student at OAC, left Saturday to spend the Thanksgiving holidays at her home in Portland.

Tables for families will be a specialty at the Methodist Thanksgiving Dinner. Order in advance of Mrs. J. E. Farmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Springer arrived Sunday from Montesano, Wash., and will soon be settled in their new home on Eighth street.

Married—At the bride's residence five miles north of Corvallis on Friday, Ed Hill and Mrs. Annie Denny, Rev. S. M. Wood officiating.

Tracy Hollister went to Portland, Friday, to visit for a few days at the home of his brother and also to witness the big OAC-U. of O. game Saturday.

The federal grand jury will be ready for business in Portland this week. A. R. Locke went down Sunday as one of the representatives from Benton county.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Evangelical church will have a sale of their Christmas products in the near future, the time and place to be given in the next issue.

After spending two months visiting relatives in Bickleton, Washington, Mrs. Maty Witham returned to her home in Corvallis last week, much improved in health.

Miss Leah Chambers went to Portland Friday to spend a few weeks with friends, en route to Fort Washington to remain with her brother, Lieutenant Lincoln B. Chambers.

Miss Faye Roadruck, of Irri-gon, a member of last year's graduating class and a former popular student at OAC, was the guest of Corvallis friends the last of the week.

Prof. and Mrs. Angell are rejoicing over the arrival of a 9 pound angel at the home. These little cherubs are a source of great pleasure to parents and make home life more attractive.

The new Racket store will open for business today on Second street in the building lately vacated by the express office. These gentlemen come to our city well recommended by our sister city of Eugene and will prove a great convenience to our people in need of the various little nick-nacks usually carried in a racket store.

Artistic Millinery

Corner Third and Monroe, Corvallis, Oregon

Contrary to the report circulated, I have neither moved or bought but will remain in my present quarters Corner Third and Monroe Streets. I cordially invite you to inspect my stock of Fine Millinery. MISS M. CHRISTENSEN.

Senator A. J. Johnson went to Portland Friday, incidentally to look after the good roads business but more particularly to act as an advance guard in the interest of the football boys on Saturday. A. J. is a live, active, energetic citizen and business man and there was not a boy on the athletic field who took more interest in the success of OAC.

Another dentist has located in Corvallis and is now ready for business at his residence at 6th and Madison streets. With four good dentists anxious to serve the dear people there is no need of your keeping that old rotten tooth in your mouth, thus causing you great annoyance and spoiling your breath. The new man is Dr. Hartley and he hails from Idaho.

Jack Kilpack, of Portland an old OAC student, has been the guest of Corvallis friends the past few days. Mr. Kilpack was a very popular student while he attended the big institution and his familiar face has been a welcome one. He was in Corvallis in the interest of the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society of Portland, and addressed the various rooms in the public schools in behalf of that institution Friday afternoon.

The free mail-delivery is progressing very nicely and Postmaster Johnson will soon have everything running along in fine shape. It takes some little time to have your mail properly marked and numbered so as to insure prompt delivery and if the citizens will look after this matter it will materially aid in securing satisfactory results. It looks good to see Uncle Sam step up to the door three or four times a day.

Mr. and Mrs. John Young are worthy of great commendation for the interest they take in beautifying the home, their yard being filled with beautiful flowers thus lending enchantment to the premises. Take a look at them in passing and then think how beautiful the town would be if all the yards were handled with such care. Plant a few flowers and you will be surprised at the result of the little care given them. Make the home beautiful and the children will be more likely to stay at home.

Invitations are out for the wedding of Mark A. Rickard, of this city, and Miss Edna Guthrie. The happy event will be celebrated at the home of the bride's parents in Monmouth next Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, and many relatives and friends from this city will attend. Mr. Rickard is one of our most popular young business men and has a host of friends in this city who extend heartiest congratulations in advance. Miss Guthrie is quite well known in this city. Mr. Rickard and his bride will receive a warm welcome in Corvallis circles.

During the second week of December, from the 9th and 10th, in the lower room of the Oregon Agricultural building, will be held a Bazaar under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. girls of the college. Anyone wishing to sell Christmas presents is welcome to place them in our hands for disposal at reasonable commission. For everybody, especially students. The following list may be suggestive to you: handkerchiefs, cushion covers, doilies, collars and ties; paintings, pictures, calendars; burnt leather or wood; raphea baskets; aprons, fancy or domestic. Bertha Edwards, Pres.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church will serve Thanksgiving dinner in the church basement, commencing at twelve o'clock and closing at 4 p. m. The ladies are taking special pains to make this one of the most elaborate dinners ever given in the city and will serve a full course, thus making it compare favorably with the good dinner your mother used to furnish on this great festival day. It will be an appetizing feast, worthy of your attention. Aside from the dinner you will receive a cordial welcome from these good people. The price will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children under 10 years of age.

Now is the time to visit California

When summer has passed in these northern states, the sun is only mild under the bright blue skies of Southern California. This is one of nature's happy provisions—eternal summer for those who cannot endure a more severe climate. California has been called the "Mecca of the winter tourist." Its hotels and stopping places are as varied as those of all well regulated cities. Visitors can always find suitable accommodations, congenial companions, and varied, pleasing recreations.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC CO.

Will be glad to supply some very attractive literature, describing in detail the many delights of winter in California. Very low round trip excursion tickets are on sale to California. The rate from Albany to Los Angeles and return is $55.00

Limit six months, allowing stopovers in either direction. Similar excursion rates are in effect to all California points.

For full information, sleeping car reservations and tickets, call on, telegraph or write
