WASHINGTON WHIPS AGRICULTURISTS

Thanksgiving Game Was on Fast Field.

WIN THIRTY-TWO TO NOTHING

Intercollegiate Struggle Ends in Victory and Championship for Evergreen State.

The football game played on Thanksgiving day between the OAC and University of Washington teams at Seattle, is fairly told in the following special from the Sound City:

Before the biggest crowd that has witnessed a football game in Seattle this year, the University of Washington cleared its title to the Northwest championship last Thursday by defeating the Oregon Agricultural College team by a score of 32 to 0.

While the score may be too large to indicate accurately the comparative strength of the two teams, Washington was clearly entitled to every point she made and, as a matter of fact, came within a hair of scoring two more touchdowns, OAC holding on her one-yard line.

The day and field were ideal. The grandstand and bleachers were filled half an hour before the kick-off and something like 100 automobiles were standing at either end of the field. Denny Field, on which the game was played, is always dry, and the ground was lightning fast, eminently suited for open play. As a consequence, long runs were much in evidence.

Washington showed superiority at all stages of the game. Eakins had the advantage over Wolff in punting, by a few yards on each kick. In addition, Eakins got his kicks higher, giving his ends plenty of time to get down. The Washington ends nailed the recipient of a punt in his tracks time after time, while OAC's punts were always returned from five to fifteen yards. Washington was stronger, both on offense and defense, than the visitors. There was a finish to her open plays that did not show with the "Aggies." Washington handled the forward pass beautifully, although she did not use it a great deal. For 20 minutes in the first half OAC was unable to do anything at all at carrying the ball.

Later, however, the visitors made better headway against the Washington defense and at the close of the half had carried the ball about 100 yards to Washington's 325.

In the second half the Aggies played better ball, although not consistently. Early in the half by straight football the visitors took the ball 40 yards down the field. Washington scored three touchdowns in the half, however, by brilliant open play.

Washington's first touchdown came in the first half when Grimm received a forward pass and raced 55 yards across the goal line. Washington took the ball to OAC's one-yard line, when Mucklestone fumbled. Wolff punted and Taylor made a fair catch. Coyle took the free kick for goal and put the ball squarely between the posts, making the score 10 to 0. OAC fumbled Washington's punt and Washington recovered. Two plays were made and then Westover was put over for the second touchdown. Goal was missed and the half ended with the score 15 to 0.

The teams lined up as follows:

NEW BANKING LAW.

Statutes of 1907 Become Operative This Week.

Oregon's state banking laws, enacted at the 1907 session of the Legislature, became operative in every particular Wednesday, November 25. National banks are not included in the application of this statute which is designed better to regulate the banking business conducted by private corporations by throwing around it safeguards which make for the protection of the depositor. The purpose of the law in its present form will be further promoted, it is reported, by several important amendments which will be proposed during the coming session of the Legislature.

The principal features of the new law are as follows:

Limits total liability to any bank by any person or corporation to 25 per cent of aggregate paid-in capital and surplus of bank making loan.

Requires publication of detailed statements the same as are now published by National banks.

Regulates amount of capital stock of banks according to population of city in which they are located.

Requires banks in cities of less than 50,000 population to carry available cash reserve of 15 per cent of their demand liabilities and 10 per cent of their time deposits; in cities of 50,000 population and more banks must carry cash reserves amounting to 25 per cent of their demand liabilities and 10 per cent of time deposits; at least one-third of these reserve percentages shall consist of actual cash on hand.

Provides for inspection of every bank by State Bank Examiner at least once annually. For this examination banks pay a fee of from $20 to $250, according to the amount of their capitalization.

PASSING OF FLOYD L. E.

Death Came to his Relief at 5:30 on Sunday Morning

Our citizens were very much surprised to learn of the death of Floyd Lane, which occurred at his home on Sunday morning at 5 o'clock. He had been confined to the home during the past week with peritonitis but the doctors hoped to avoid an operation but on Saturday other complications set in rendering an operation necessary. It was performed on Saturday but without beneficial results and on Sunday morning at 5 o'clock death came to the relief of the sufferer.

Floyd Lane was born in Miami county, Indiana and came to Corvallis in 1891 and has lived here ever since. He was a very stout, rugged, active young man just in the prime of life and it hardly seems possible to think he is gone. He was a very quiet peaceable citizen, always good-natured and happy. By close attention to business and kindly disposition he had drawn around him a host of friends who will be pained to hear of his death. He was a member of the W. O. W. The funeral services were held on Monday afternoon under the auspices of the W. O. W. Rev. D. H. Leech being the officiating clergyman. Interment at the Crystal Lake Cemetery.

Spencer Bicknell has several men cutting cord wood and has several hundred cords now cut.
