HAVING PURCHASED THE FURNI-ture Establishment of John Lehnherr, is now prepared to do any work in the Sr. Paul, July 4.—The first complete and coherent account of the terrible destruction to life in Goodhue county by torm on Wednesday night and yesterday norning reached here at an early hour his morning. The storm assumed the character of a cyclone near Redwing Point, greatest violence being at Vasa, a small village some ten miles west of the

The following is from a Redwing special to the Pioneer-Press: In the town of Vasa the fury of the storm was at its height, making fearful havoc. It seemed to start from about four miles from the Vasa church and traveled in a southwesterly direction. The orphanage which is under the care of the church was completely demolished. It contained 24 in under the care of the church was completely demolished. It contained 24 inmates besides Stranberg, who has charge. Out of this number three was killed outright and seventeen others injured, three, it is thought, fatally. The house of Erick Swenson, close by, was blown down. He was killed and his wife severely injured. G. H. Halme and wife, an elderly couple, were killed; also a baby boy of Mr. and Mrs. Linsted, and another party whose Finest of Spring Beds Mrs. Linsted, and another party whose name has not been learned, making nine in all killed. Four more are not expect-ed to live. The number wounded is 30. The square roof was blown from the parsonage, a little in the rear of the church, and set down in the field where it flattened like a fan. The barn of August Peterson was blown down and his house badly injured; also, of course the houses of all who have been mentioned as killed were blown down and many houses were were blown down and many nouses were injured. The storm also ranged through Belle Creek, where it blew down the house of Anthony Pettil and completely demolished the barn of Walter Doyle. The blacksmith shop at Black Oak post office was scattered to the winds, and at different places in the town, trees were lifted right off the ground by the roots and carried forward and set down without breaking a limb. At Warrentown, on the Lake Shore, three houses were torn down and a man and his wife and daughter killed in one of them. At Maiden Rock two frame houses were de-polished and the top of the warehouse taken off, but no lives were lost. The storm rossed from this side to Trenton, where it unroofed Mr. Hammelgren's houses, barn and granary, and broke down the large trees in his timber, smashing near-ly every tree. The roof of Andrew Nelpletely smashed to pieces, and the barn of John Taggart, another neighbor, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. These houses are all in the southeastern part of the town. The deemed it a wise policy, and wise to have southeastern part of the town. FOREIGN. PUNERAL OF THE PRINCE IMPERI-

London, July 12—10 A. M.—It is announced that the Prince of Wales, Duke of Edinburgh, Duke of Connaught and the Crown Prince of Sweden will be pall bearers at the funeral of the prince imperial.

The entrance to Camden House is draped with cream colored tarestry.

The Princess Beatrice, Princess of Wales, Prince Christian and Prince Edward of Saxe Weimar, have arrived.

The Prince's Body Greatly Disfigured, When the coffin was opened yesterday the features of the prince were much disfigured but were recognizable by the teeth. Uhlmann, the prince imperial's valet, fainted twice at the sight of the remains and was revived with difficulty. The People in Mourning

1 P. M.—The weather is fine but cool.
Crowds of people, all dressed in mourning,
including a large proportion of French, thronged London railway station as early as

The Last Sad Parting. It is stated that the exempress did not visit the coffin until three this morning. She remained over it in an agony of grief until seven, when she fell asleep and was removed to her chamber.

The Funeral.

2:30 P.M.—The funeral of the prince imperial took place, in accordance with arrangements already published. In addition to notable persons heretofore mentioned, the Russian. German and Danish ambassadors to England were present. A body of Paris workmen viewed the coffin previous to the funeral. It is estimated that various sympathizers brought bouquets and wreaths sufficient to fill two vans.

is estimated that various sympathizers brought bouquets and wreaths sufficient to fill two vans.

4 P. M.—The funeral cortege commenced moving at five minutes before 11. The pall-bearers, all princes, were in uniform. An immense wreath, bestowed by Queen Victoria, was carried on the coffin, but was invisible because of the mass of flowers. P. ince Jerome Bousparte and sons followed next after the coffin. The British ministry was represented by Freckerick Stanley and Michael Hicks Beach. The procession was about three quarters of a mile long, and the rear was brought up by the second military band. There were present deputations of French military students and workmen from Paris. Lille, Turcoing and other centers of French industry.

A dispatch says that at an early bour this morning Woolwich common presented an animated appearance on the occasion of the assemblage of troops detailed to take part in the funeral parade of the late prince imperial at Chiselhurst. The soldiers all wore the insignis of mourning and seemed affected by the mournfulness of the occasion. A large number of the inhabitants of Woolwich, Greenwich and Charlton were present to watch the departure of the troops, the majority wearing mourning. The parading column was formed in the following order: One troop of the Fifth Royal Irish Lancers, riding; establishment of royal artillery, a mounted band, royal artillery, four batteries of royal horse, artillery service wagon with thirty rounds of ammunition, cadets of the mounted band, royal artillery, four batteries of royal horse, artillery service wagon with thirty rounds of ammunition, cadets of the Royal Military Academy. Upon arrival at Chiselhurst the column was received by a guard of honor, formed of one company of the first battalion of the 23d fusileers of Waterloo fame. The troops then formed again an 1 marched to Chiselhurst common. Here a halt was made near the north entrance of Camden Place, where they formed a guard of Camden Place, where they formed a guard of honor and firing. The San Francisco Walking Match.

In the walking match during the forenoon, McIntyre, who has been running Scott closely, finally passed him, and at noon the score stood: McIntyre, 190; Scott. 189. Callahan is coming up, and scored 172; Edwards and Bowman 159 and 158 respectively. Thompson, whom many considered a dark house, has scored only 133. Others are struggling along behind with no hopes of success.

San Francisco, July 13.—In the walking match the state of affairs is necidedly changed since yesterday. McIntyre at 6 P. M. has 260 miles to his credit and Scott 259; but both are badly used up, while Edwards, who has been doing good work and running considerable, has scored 239 miles and is in splendid condition, with every prospect of winning. Callahan is even with Edwards but is so lame as to be virtually out of the race. Bowman, with 224 miles, is in improved condition and may come in second. Others are so far behind that they have no chance. The attendance and interest are increasing.
