RESOLUTION OF ENDORSEMENT.

WHEREAS, THE DOUGLAS INDEPENDENT, a newspaper published in Roseburg, has been published in this county for the period of three years; and

WHEREAS, said newspaper is now well established, and during a three years' trial is has faithfully served the interests of the producer and tax-payer; therefore be it

Resolved, We, the members of the Umpqua Grange No. 28, do give THE DOUGLAS INDEPENDENT our unqualified endorsement, and would recommend it as a newspaper worthy the patronage of every farmer and tax-payer in Southern Oregon.

GEO W. JONES, Master,
[SEAL] J. P DUNCAN, Secretary.

GRATIFYING RESULT.

Elsewhere we publish an exhibit of county finances and the result of the work of those placed in position by the honest Independent balance of power at the last county election. No party can claim the gratifying result as something in favor of party. Take the officers, and question them as to their political views, and it will be found that they are about evenly divided as to the two parties. It must be, then, acknowledged that those who made up the Independent balance of power in county politics, so often bitterly cursed by party political managers, were sensible enough to chose only the best men, regardless of the political views of those men, and to their patriotism, to their impartial judgment and to their discernment the honor is divided with those who in office have done the work which places Douglas county finances in their present healthy condition.

According to the record and the exhibit published, the total indebtedness of Douglas county for the year ending Jul. 2, 1878 was $9,869 84. To this amount was then audited, as accounts outstanding—for expenses, which previously occurred, the sum of $6,005 11, making after the July term, 1878, the amount owed by Douglas county reach the large sum of $17,894 95. This large indebtedness was enough to cause the new officeholders to feel that they had a task before them too heavy for speedy accomplishment. There came upon them in addition the largest criminal docket to provide for ever known in the county, and a term of the Circuit Court, in expensiveness, the like of which was never known by our people. The expenses of this term, alone, reached the sum total of 7,134 24. Yet there was perseverence in the make-up of every office-holder, and besides there were honesty of purpose and a determination to do what had been asked by the people. How well they worked is also to be found in the records and the exhibit, for there is shown that for the year ending July 7,1879, the indebtedness of the county was only $6,788 24, the amount audited at the July term, $5,783 26, the indebtedness $12,581 55, and a clear reduction of $5,313 45! This is certainly a good showing for a careful year's work, and it is better when coupled with the promise that before next July the county will be free from debt. This consummation, so devoutly wished for by all is proposed to be accomplished by the same economy which has reduced the debt over five thousand dollars. It is now thought that with a reasonable term of the Circuit Court there will remain, after all expenses are paid, over one thousand dollars in the county treasury. This one thousand dollars, and the increase that is probable in the assessment of property in the county this year, will carry the day in favor of those who are striving to wipe out the county debt and stop the payment of interest on county warrants that taxation may be greatly and permanently lessened.

With this showing it is useless to argue that Independentism pays. The fact that it has paid the people of this county is already perceivable in the above statement. If it has paid once it should again. It was an investment last year in none but honest and capable men, and as a result, we have had in the management of county affairs nothing but honest and good work. In seeing multiplying this both Republicans and Democrats have been engaged, and the people have been represented irrespective of party. So it should be to the end. The platform of the Independents of Douglas county and this paper is the only one at one, for it provides that the people shall govern themselves. When they do this, reckless and bad management is impossible. We offer the proof, and in doing so, we also offer an irrefutable argument in favor of a second struggle at the polls in opposition to the hackneyed partisan cry of "principles, not men," and in favor of honest and capable men and honest and capable government. Give us this much—give us honest, capable and conscientious men in office, and as we have argued before, be they Democrats or Republicans—names without a difference—and the principles will take care of themselves. It is only the dishonest Democrat or the dishonest Republican who will ever do any thing having for its purpose the injury of the government or the perversion of its laws. No man elected to office will have such purpose without he considers his honor as nothing, and regards perjury as no offense. There are such men in both parties, and such men seek office on both sides. So far as this is concerned, the rogues are evenly divided between the two parties, and with this regard one party is no better than another. There are also true and honorable men in both parties, and here again the parties are equal. Standing as they do, the bone and sinew of the country, the life and prosperity of the nation, the producers and taxpayers, it behooves every Independent to hold fast to the freedom from party ties his independence has gained for him, and impartially vote for the honest and capable man—first, last and all the time.

The legal doctrine established in New York, in the case of the Schuler over-issue of railroad stock, that corporations are liable to holders in good faith for the value of regularly executed certificates, notwithstanding fraud in their issue, has recently been affirmed in England. The Anglo-American telegraph company gave a certificate upon a forged transfer, by which, of course, he acquired no real stock. A law suit followed, the result of which was a decision that the company was bound to know the signature of one of its stockholders, and must bear any loss consequent upon a mistake.

The Portland Standard asks if we have marked that newspaper off our exchange list. In answer, we reply, no. The INDEPENDENT is mailed to the Standard regularly every Friday evening, and should reach Portland on Saturday.

IN MEMORIAM.

Miss Laura Sime Burnett was born in Eugene City, Oregon, April 4th, 1856, and departed this life June 26th 1879, at the residence of her father, James D. Burnett Esq., Round Prairie, Douglas county, Oregon.

This amiable young lady was called away, after a brief illness, from a large circle of sorrowing friends who are sad indeed to think they shall enjoy her cheerful companionship no more this side the heavenly city.

She was a kind and obedient daughter, affectionate sister and true friend.

"None knew her but to love her—"
"Nor named her but to praise."

Some two or three months since, Miss Laura Burnett contracted a severe cold, disease fastened itself upon her and she was soon beyond the reach of the best medical skill. Every means was used to save her precious life, but all was unavailing—her friends realized that she must go. When in health, she often talked to the writer and conversed freely with others in reference to the future—and expressed a desire and purpose to become a Christian, and when told that she must die, she evinced no surprise or alarm, and said "it would be better," for all was well. She passed away without a struggle, and looked peaceful and serene—even smiling after death.

The community deeply sympathize with the bereaved father and afflicted children, half of whose family have crossed the rolling river of death. First a daughter is taken away—then the mother—then another daughter, and last, Laura, who seemed the healthiest of all, like a beautiful flower, is withered and blasted by the ruthless hand of the destroyer. May God bless those who remain lingering in this vale of tears and be ready when their summons comes—to meet loved ones gone before in the sweet—by and by.

J. R. N. BELL.

Here is an item which possibly explains the destruction of Troy: "The Chinese Embassador, Li-Fang-pao, at Berlin, says that from the Chinese inscription on one of the vases found by Dr. Schliemann on Trojan soil it is proved that there was traffic between China and European boundaries about 1,200 years before Christ. The gauze linen found by Dr. Schliemann in the vase was made in China. Li-Fang-pao contends that the Hyperboreans were Chinamen."

A lady in New York, in estimating the number of dishes she has to wash during the year for her family of six, gives this result: 213 dishes on an average she washes and wipes daily; this in the course of a year makes 77,799. She spends at a very low average an hour and a half each day over the dishes; from this she calculates she has spent over three years of her life at this noisome labor. Inventors should exert their genius toward making a labor-saving dish-washer.

The Postmaster General has required all postmasters to make an actual count of the number of letters and postal cards, and of packages of third and fourth-class matter deposited for mailing at their offices upon the first seven days in September, and the Superintendent of the Railway Mail Service is directed to have a similar count made upon the cars and steamboats for the same length of time.

The monster steamship Arizona, belonging to the Williams, Guion & Liverpool line, is the largest vessel afloat, except the Great Eastern. Her maiden trip from Liverpool to New York was made in eight days. Her dimensions are, length, 46 feet; beam 46 feet; depth of hold 37½ feet and of nearly 6000 tons burden; indicated horse power 7000. She can accommodate 2000 passengers.

According to an Odessa newspaper the situation of crops in southern Russia and Caucasus has been scarcely ever so bad as at present. What was left by drought and hail is now being annihilated by frightful swarms of grasshoppers and corn beetles in the neighborhood of Odessa and the governments Bessarabia, etc.

BRAINS VS. MUSCLE.

A Desperate Race for Life for Over One Hundred Years.

BRAINS HAVE WON!
And Come in Ahead Triumphantly With
THE LITTLE JOKER!

To make a machine that would wash, one that would not wear the clothing, or break off buttons; a machine that was Light, Simple, Cheap and Durable; a machine that could be used in all parts of a washing; a machine that women could use, no matter if they were weak and sickly; in fact to make a successful clothes washer has been the study of inventors all over the world for centuries past. Thousands of experiments have been tried, and thousands of dollars spent in the hereto unsuccessful effoort to make a washer that would stand the test of actual trial. Nearly every family have purchased, tried and condemned from one to a dozen of those experiments until, at last, discouraged with so many failures, and so much expense, it has become almost a conviction that to the most disagreeable, unhealthy and tiresome work of the household the ever returning weekly washing there was no help But—

MOTHERS, WIVES, DAUGHTERS,

And all the great army of Washers, take courage. There is a NEW washer made, and it will wash CLEAN. It will wash QUICK. It will wash EASY, It is CHEAP, SIMPLE, DURABLE. TRY IT. A trial will convince the most skeptical. It is called the LITTE JOKER

WHAT IT SAVES:

IT SAVES from one to three hours every week on wash day, of the hardest kind of labor.

IT SAVES your money by saving the wear of rubbing cloths which is quite as much as their wear in use, or half the cash you pay for your clothing.

IT SAVES labor, doctor's bills, soap, fuel, cross babies, blue Mondays, cold dinners, cross women, sour men, weary, aching limbs, sickness, suffering, and death caused by overwork, exposure and colds.

THE LITTLE JOKER

Will wash more at a time, large garments, small ones, few or many, and wash them clean; never tears off or breaks buttons, cannot wear the clothes a part ele, will suds and rinse them better than any other process, and this makes them white and clean, and is the only thing that will prevent their becoming grimmy and yellow. You can wash with the LITTLE JOKER in half the time that you can by hand, and best of all, A FRAIL WOMAN CAN USE IT. Boys and girls can help, or even do the entire washing and call it FUN. Price, $7 00. Agents wanted. Manufactured by C. A. DODGE & CO., Pittsburg, Pa. P. B. JOHNSON and J. A. PFEK, General Agents, Roseburg, Oregon. All wishing a LITTLE JOKER call at J. W. Strange's Warehouse.

Something of Interest to Every Farmer and Fruit-Grower in Southern Oregon!

GRUBBE, ENGLE & CO

PLUMMER FRUIT DRYER,
The firm would call the attention of Farmers and Fruit Growers to the Dryer. From the time it was first introduced, it has been the FAVORITE OF ALL.

It was awarded the Grand Gold Medal at the Great Paris Exposition; it took the World's Medal and Diploma at Philadelphia, and against the Alden and all other competitors, it received two Gold Medals from the Oregon State Agricultural Society. Above all other recommendations, is the fruit cured by it. Different from that preserved by other dryers, fruit cured by the Plummer process retains not only its natural flavor when green, but also the color given it by Nature.

Fruit Cured by it Commands from 15 to 20 cts. per pound More than that sun-dried. In every way—its cheapness, durability and worth—it commends itself to the farmer. Those who have used it will readily testify, it saves to the farmer $500 or $1,000 every year that, without the dryer would be wasted. Having ample means for their manufacture, the proprietors are prepared to furnish dryers at the following low rates:

Family Dryer, with capacity of from 15 to 30 bushels per day.....$200 00
Factory Dryer, with capacity of from 60 to 100 per day.....$600 00
