The Independent

SATURDAY..............AUG. 30, 1879

RESOLUTION OF ENDORSEMENT.

WHEREAS, THE DOUGLAS INDEPENDENT, a newspaper published in Roseburg, has been published in this county for the period of three years; and

WHEREAS, said newspaper is now well established, and during a three years' trial it has faithfully served the interests of the producer and tax-payer; therefore be it

Resolved, We, the members of the Umpqua Grange No. 28, do give THE DOUGLAS INDEPENDENT our unqualified endosement, and would recommend it as a newspaper worthy the patronage of every farmer and tax-payer in Southern Oregon.

{18} GEO. W. JONES, Master.
J. P. DUNCAN, Secretary.

THE OLD FIGHT.

In county matters the next year the fight against the old ring in Douglas county will be renewed. Knowing this to be true Independents must at once prepare for the fight. In judicial and county matters there can be nothing urged in a man's favor by his being a Democrat or a Republican; the point is, we must elect the best man. In national affairs it is different—after county and district affairs are attended to the work at home is accomplished, and thereafter the good citizen will look out for his choice for Congressman and President and vote straight for both. It is a pity that the State at large is not as independent of party as Southern Oregon. Were it so the duty of Independents would be to look after the interests of the entire State, and by harmonious and honest voting and the election of honest men give to the people of Oregon four years of just and economical government. Perhaps the time will come for such a struggle as a State canvass amounts to, and when it does every tax-payer in the State should be willing to try four years of State government conducted by honest old farmers. The average politician would claim that the farmer cannot make the Governor or Secretary of State and Treasury; but in Oregon there are educated farmers, and take the farmers generally and it will be found that they belong to the class which studies more than reads and which finds its principles from experience and in established truths. Perhaps not one of the number sneered at by the rascally politician but has a clearer conscience and better appreciation of right, and it is certain no farmer governor would have that disreputable education which leads the politician to seek the position of chief executive of a State that he may use the power obtained through it to send himself into the United States Senate. Oregon has tried politicians in the office named since the State was first organized. We doubt if there is a single instance to be pointed to in the history of the State where the political governor—the man elected on a straight party ticket—has not attempted to use his office and its patronage as stepping-stones to a fatter place in the United States Senate. The test may be applied without fear from the time of the first governor, and it will not fail when it comes down to the last and perhaps the present Democratic administration of State affairs. This time if the candidate's name is not Thayer it will be Bush, and there is no difference between the two, since it is generally regarded the office is held in partnership between them.

We haven't heard anything from the Jacksonville Times lately in abuse of the Independent party of Southern Oregon and this paper. It is high time for that paper to enter once more a feeble protest against a proposition to deprive its political masters of their fat places and put better men in their places. There will be (we inform the Times in advance) a number more emphatic letters published like that one written by that sterling Independent and faithful supporter of the cause of the people, Green B. Smith, and that paper's silence will be increased—if not before the election certainly afterwards. After the election the Times will have proof that the day has gone by when politicians can drive people to the polls like sheep to the shearing in Southern Oregon.

Hon. J. S. Palmer, Senator from Benton county, died at Corvallis Sunday afternoon. During Saturday night he was taken sick, and early Sunday morning became unconscious and so remained up to the time of his death. He died of heart disease.

AN ADDITIONAL DISGRACE.

The Portland Standard, in a measure, justifies the attempted assassination of Dr. Kalloch by De Young on the ground that no honorable man could possibly have done otherwise than did the latter after Kalloch's attack upon his family. The Standard should remember that in De Young's conduct there was nothing honorable. He commenced the attack upon Kalloch, and attacked his private reputation in a manner that was shameful, as admitted by M. H. De Young, and decided after the brothers found that they were doing that which was not honorable not to retract the charges made. And in the shooting what is there in the name of manhood in the man who will deliberately decoy another to his death in a manner that leaves the one assaulted not one single chance for defence? Had De Young faced Kalloch in the open street, and fought him equally there would be less fault-finding; but this he did not do, and played the part of the assassin who complains of injury that he has provoked and with a lie in his mouth attempts a cowardly murder. Were he a man he would have met Kalloch face to face. He was an assassin, and for all such the true man, the man that God intended, can have no sympathy. The sympathy of the brave and the good must necessarily go with Kalloch, though he is not blamless, and though it is true he gave an insult no man would have allowed to go unresented, and yet which was grievously provoked. The man who fights for the good name of his family fights in a holy cause so long as he fight as a man should fight, openly—giving no advantage and taking none; but when the fight is made like the one in question, cowardly and under cover, then there remains the additional disgrace upon the family concerned in the proof furnished that it contains a dishonorable member. No mother could glory in the thought that Chas. De Young was her son. No sister would ask such a cowardly vindication of her good name. A mother or sister would expect of a son or brother that feeling which prompts a man to protect those whom he loves with a shot-gun loaded with buckshot, if necessary, and the satisfaction that the traducer of his mother and sister is looked in the face when he avenges the insult upon their good names and reputations.

THE CANYON ROAD CASE.

We neglected last week to speak of the decision in the Canyon road case by the State Supreme Court, for the reason the decision was not received until after our paper was put to press. The decision did not allow the damages prayed for by Fink and Gazley, but gives them possession of the Canyon road.

This decision does not end the contest for the road on the part of Willis and Abraham, however. They do not propose to give to others what justly belongs to themselves simply because a private lawsuit has been made a political one. The history of the Canyon road case is well known to every citizen in the county. Once the Supreme Court, decided it belonged to them, and several times has the case been decided in their favor by the Circuit and County Courts. Judge Watson's last decision told the truth in the premises when it declared Fink and Gazley never had a right to the road, and were tresspassers upon other people's property, and Judge Boise, in the Supreme Court, very clearly this last time spoke in the same strain and in behalf of law and justice. With these facts known generally it will be hoped when Willis and Abraham again go into the contest, they will win back what has been unjustly taken from them.

LET US HAVE TAX-PAYERS.

LOOKING GLASS, Aug. 19, 1879.

EDITOR INDEPENDENT: I have been a careful reader of your paper for several years, and I like its Independent ideas.

As a tax-payer I would suggest that you favor hereafter the election of only tax-payers to the offices of Judge and County Commissioners. Put a tax payer in these offices and you will put men there who will have an interest in keeping down taxation, and such men, while working for their own interests, will also necessarily be working for the interests of every tax-payer in the county.

In county matters, it should not be with the people whether a candidate is a Democrat or a Republican, but rather that the candidate chosen for election by the people shall be capable and honest, and have an interest in cutting down taxation.

Very respectfully yours,
DAVID GRENOT.

Nothing is lost in France. The orange blossoms and grass in the public gardens of Paris are sold to the highest bidder, and at a country railroad station a visitor lately saw a sale of grass on the embankment. The purchasers were peasants' wives.

COWARDLY ASSASSINATION.

The shooting of Dr. Kalloch by Chas. De Young cannot be too severely condemned. The act was cowardly in the extreme, and the demands of justice cannot be complied with should Kalloch die unless De Young's neck is stretched. The only power adequate to the occasion and capable of doing justice in the premises is Judge Lynch, though the thoughtful mind would oppose such extreme measures, yet it is doubtful if there is one outside of De Young's relatives and immediate friends who would today experience one single feeling of regret had the mob immediately after the shooting and at the time of the overthrowing of the carriage seized the assassin and hung him to the first lamp post. There can be no excuse offered for the man who will call upon another, and then under cover will attempt murder.

It is undoubtedly better that the mob did not seek vengeance after De Young was placed in jail. Had the attempt been made it is impossible to say where the riot would have ended or the amount of damage twenty thousand infuriated men would have accomplished. To Dennis Kearney the credit is due for holding the workingmen in check, and never before in the history of that remarkable man did he show his power of command and his great force of character to a better advantage than at the sand lots this last time in controlling the workingmen and sending them to their homes in peace and quietness. Kearney was one man against twenty thousand, but he was man enough for them all.

CHURCH AND CHINESE.

At the annual conference of the M. E. Church held in Portland this week, the following resolution was offered by Rev. J. F. Devore.

Resolved, That we will warmly invite the Chinese into our own congregations, churches and Sunday Schools, and make special efforts to Americanize these immigrants to our shores. We recommend that the doors of our academies and colleges be kept open to them as to other nationalities.

After this Kearney will be needed in Portland. He is wanted to tell Mr. Devore and his brother ministers that before the Chinese are looked after the moral education of the Americans should be attended to. The number of criminals in the penitentiary and the frequent occurrence of crime would argue that there is much to be done toward reforming those at home befor an attempt is made to improve the condition of those from abroad. And it seems to us that the conference should have given the preference to Americans rather than the Chinese, and resolved to expend its labors and money for the elevation of our own people instead of providing for the manufacture of voters out of the rice eating, opium-smoking and American-hating Mongolians.

The letter published elsewhere from Mr. David Grenot is sensible and to the point. Time has proven that where self-interest makes a patriot the patriot is firm in his faith and faithful in his work in promoting the welfare of the public. He has then a common interest with the people, and to do injury to what concerns them is to injure himself.

Some vigorous articles have recently appeared in the London Times on the condition of the British army. The conclusion is reached that in point of numbers, efficiency and discipline the army is in a bad way. It appears that in the five battalions which were sent to South Africa there were 623 men who had never fired a ball cartridge. Their musketry drill had to be learned under an enemy's fire.

SIMMONDS'
—NABOB—WHISKY

In Bottle and by the Gallon.

Consumers are referred to the following extracts from the reports of eminent Public Assayists:

Laboratory and Office,
No. 4, State Street, Boston.

Geo. Simmonds, Esq.: Sir—The samples of NABOB WHISKY received from different parties, have been analyzed with the following results: It is of standard alcoholic strength and free from added flavoring oils, acids, metals or other deleterious substances. This whisky is pure, of superior quality, and suitable for dietic and medicinal purposes. Respectfully,
S. DANA HAYES,
State Assayer for Massachusetts.

This is pure barley and wheat spirit, remarkable in fragrant ethers which impart a delicate aroma, at the same time gradually increasing its value as a diffusive stimulant. The solid residue contains large amount of tannin, derived from storing in oaken casks, which imparts to fine old whisky one of its valuable individual qualities. The amount of residue proves the whisky to be free from the excessive coloring and sweetening so generally used in adulterating. In fact, in two words, it is the PUREST WHISKY, and will not only supply a public want, now that whiskies are so generally adulterated, but will be of the greatest value to the physician in those numerous cases in which pure whiskies are the most useful of all medicines. THE BEST FRUIT DRYER IN THE WORLD!

Something of Interest to Every Farmer and Fruit-Grower in Southern Oregon!

GRUBBE, ENGLE & CO

Having purchased the Exclusive Right of the Patentee to Manufacture and Sell the justly Celebrated

PLUMMER FRUIT DRYER,

The firm would call the attention of Farmers and Fruit Growers to the Dryer. From the time it was first introduced, it has been the FAVORITE OF ALL.

It was awarded the Grand Gold Medal at the Great Paris Exposition; it took the World's Medal and Diploma at Philadelphia, and against the Alden and all other competitors, it received two Gold Medals from the Oregon State Agricultural Society. Above all other recommendations, is the fruit cured by it. Different from that preserved by other dryers, fruit cured by the Plummer process retains not only its natural flavor when green, but also the color given it by Nature.

Fruit Cured by it Commands from 15 to 20 cts. per pound More than that sun-dried. In every way—its cheapness, durability and worth—it commends itself to the farmer and fruit grower, and as those who have used it will readily testify, it saves to the farmer $500 or $1,000 every year that without the dryer would be wasted.

Having ample means for their manufacture, the proprietors are prepared to furnish dryers at the following low rates:

Family Dryer, with capacity of from 15 to 30 bushels per day..........$200 00
Factory Dryer, with capacity of from 60 to 100 per day..........$600 00

The principal office of the firm is at Roseburg, where all communications will receive prompt attention. Orders promptly filled and money will not be asked of purchasers until dryers are in perfect running order. Address
