DISSOLUTION NOTICE.—The copartnership heretofore existing between G. H. Remme and the undersigned has been dissolved. All bills contracted by Mr. Remme are payable by him, and excepting the firm's individual bills nothing will be paid by the under signed. JOHN W. KELLY, Publisher and proprietor of DOUGLAS INDEPENDENT.

IT HAS NOT FAILED.

As has been asserted upon the eve of every election during the past eight years by the political wire-workers, the cry is now made by office-seeking schemers that the Grange of Douglas county is dead. The Grange has never been better off, or its members in a more prosperous condition. The Grange has not failed, and he who makes an assertion to the contrary is not only untruthful, but an enemy to every honest, hard-working farmer in Douglas county.

The reason each report to the detriment of the Grange have from time to time been circulated is clearly understood by those who understand the facts in the premises. In the first-place, the Grange is opposed to every political or other ring which would have for its purpose the robbing of the farmers, and it is consequently the enemy of all rascals and opposed by them; in the second, holding to an independent idea, and not bound by party ties to vote for either Democrat, Republican or Independent, its members are not owned by any one but themselves, and will do as they please, to the detriment of every rascal in the county, without fear or asking favor. No political ring or party can attempt to control them. Woe be unto those who try to do so. "Vengeance is mine, said the Lord," and so it is with the Grange.

The Grange is not a political organization; it cares not for political influence beyond the protection of the interests of the farmers of this county. And let it be understood that "he who is not for us is against us," and he who is against us very often lies. The Grange is lied about. Those who cannot control it are more apt to be the guilty ones than any one lse. And after all, it is t o to one bet that those who would lie about the Grange have a selfish interest at stake (in their opinion) of greater moment than what they would term their word of honor were they selling second hand clothing on Chatham street N. Y.

We know whereof we speak when we say that the Grange of this county is prospering and independent, and when we say that it past influences to the confusion of schemers have not departed from the places in which they dwelt before, we only ask the scoffers to wait until the ides of june have passed!

Time will surely tell the truth!

A committee, appointed for the purpose, have issued a call for a State convention to consider the railroad question, which says: "All citizens of Illinois who are in favor of compelling railroad corporations doing business within this State to comply with the laws, and of securing schedule rates that will be equitable to all parties and industries, are invited to meet in convention in Springfield, March 15, 1882, for the purpose of organizing the State and placing every county in charge of a committee to detect, report and prosecute every violation of the laws by corporations, and to adopt such measures as shall insure justice being done the people by the agents of the law who have its enforcement in hand.

A curious suit for damages is to be brought against a St. Louis doctor. It seems that after a post-mortem recently made on the body of a deceased woman, and when preparation were about to be made for her interment, the heart was missing. It was traced to the doctor who made the autopsy, and he is now to be sued for having stolen it

THE BILL OF SALE.

It is reported to us that Sol. Abraham is exhibiting what he claims to be a bill of sale from us of the INDEPENDENT office material. He can only exhibit a paper that is false upon its face, and when given was spoken of by us to certain friends, and was a scheme suggested by Abraham to prevent poor John D. VanBuren from sueing us for a bill due from the Plaindealer when Mosher & Kelly were partners. That bill was for paper brought to Roseburg through Wells, Fargo & Co's office, when John D. VanBuren was the agent of the company; and when we came to Roseburg a second time Van naturaly in failing to collect from Chas. L. Mosher—wanted us to pay the bill. The reputed "bill of sale" is to the effect that we received the material from Abraham (all of which is false), and that we were to turn over the material upon demand (which we will not do); and the writing was obtained from Kelly & Moss upon the representation of Abraham that it was to protect us from an attachment of property by poor old John.

John might have worried us considerably at the time, and we denied the debt only for the reason that we thought and still think our other partner, to whom we gave up the Plaindealer office as worthless property should have paid it.

This is the truth in the matter; and the end is, that the "bill of sale" was a subterfuge, and if the debt of Mr. VanBuren was just against us, then Sol. Abraham connived to perpetrate a fraud against J. D. VanBuren as he would against us now.

Mr. Berry, of California, has introduced a bill in the House making a cabinet officer ineligible to the presidency for the term next succeeding his term of office. This is a very good and excellent measure and ought to be passed. Cabinet officers would then have time to attend to the legitimate duties of their positions, instead of engaging in schemes and plots to attain the presidency. There has never been a period since the formation of the government that members of the cabinet were not employed in laying wires to succeed their chief and in undermining each other. Several of the Presidents have enjoyed the felicity of having cabinets nearly all of whose members were in this occupation, causing discords, heartburnings and distrusts, instead of the harmony which ought to prevail in cabinet councils. But down to the time of Mr. Sherman as Secretary of the Treasury no cabinet officer had ever so openly used the patronage of his department to advance his presidential ambition, and down to the time of Mr. Blaine no Secretary of State had deliberately resolved to needlessly plunge his country into war to gratify his ambition in the same direction. These two striking and glaring instances are fresh before Congress and before the country, and the example set by these two presidential candidates may, it no obstacle is interposed, have bolder imitators in cabinet officers of the future, entailing most serious and momentous consequences.

Five years ago when the shipment of American beef to England began, twenty quarters a week could not be sold in Liverpool; now Liverpool alone takes between 3,000 and 4,000 quarters a week, and the whole trade amounts to from 10,000 to 12,000 quarters a week, which, at 200 pounds to the quarter, would make say 2,200,000 pounds of beef sold each week in Great Britain, or 114,400,000 pounds a year. In an article referring to this large shipment of beef from this country into the English market the Manufacturers' Gazette notes that a curious fact in connection with the trade is that, even with the cost of transportation, American beef retails in England at a much lower figure than it does on this side of the water. The Gazette explains that the secret lies in the difference in cutting. In England a side of beef is cut into pieces of from ten to twenty pounds weight, and neither bone nor fat is removed. Englishmen, when they buy meat, do not ask for a piece of the round or sirloin, as Americans do, but for so many pounds of meat, and are indifferent from which part of the animal it comes.

A few nights ago Launcelot Foster, the day-watchman at Lewis's tunnel, on the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, while lying in his bunk asleep heard a loud crash in the tunnel. Though not on duty, without trusting the matter to the night-watchman, who was, Foster got up, went into the tunnel, and finding a large rock had fallen on the track, ran back and warned off a freight train that was approaching. The company on hearing of it increased his wages $10 a month.

Geo. W. Stephens, our accomplished correspondent from Calapooia, gave us a pleasant call during the week. George, you are always welcome.

A WONDERFUL NEW VEGETABLE.

White Giant Stuggart Summer Radish.

This new variety of Radish is heavy, shaped, and remarkably fine flavored mild and brittle. It is the only variety which the heat or dry weather does not run to seed before forming a perfect radish. Its delicacy of flavor is retained during all stages of growth which continues for a period of ten weeks from the time the first are fit for the table. In this Raddish all the desirable qualities are most varity ever introduced and it has developed the remarkable peculiarity that the last pulled have been equal to the first. I warrant it in all respects to be equal to the above description and guarrantee the safe arrival of the seed. Price of the seed by mail postage paid 15 cents per large package, 4 for 50 cents; or ten for one dollar. All orders for more than one package will receive free a beautiful chromo of this raddish. Remittance for less than one dollar make in postage stamps Remember this raddish is offered by the Veteran seed Grower of Iowa. Address all orders to HUGO BEYER, New London, Henry county, Iowa f18
