

The Independent

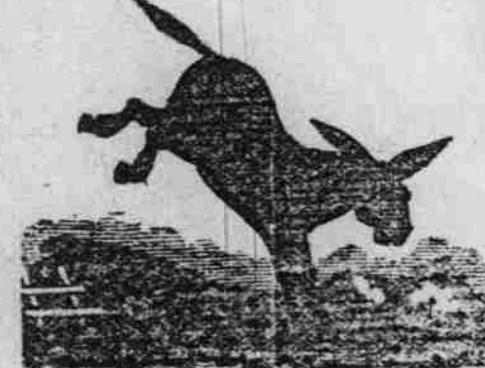

SATURDAY, MARCH 11.

To the Public.—Since the copartnership between Sol. Abraham and the undersigned has been dissolved, I hereby forbid any one trusting the said Sol. Abraham on my account.

JOHN W. KELLY.

Roseburg, March 11, 1852.

Here is Kelly's mule! It is the same mule that went into the camp of Judges Kelly and Prim and kicked smitherens out of the enemy then. And here the mule is, and he never ran away with another man's money. Yet he is lively and frisky! See how he kicks! Cladre track, boys:

Don't ye thee, that this is a kicking mule? Take care, y thee, for males are dangerous.

The Mercury has an article to the effect, that it will next week show up the character of "Kelly the ingrate," and the same paper expresses astonishment that we should lay claim to this office. It speaks also of a certain receipt given.

This is too much for human forbearance,

While we are writing this article—and this is Wednesday—the body of poor old John D. VanBuren lies wrapped in its shroud, and that receipt was given us upon the suggestion and at the request of Sol. Abraham that poor, old John might be deprived of what was justly his due.

Could we put a tongue into every wound, Sol. Abraham has made open that now cold and silent, and now about to be consigned to the grave, thievish stones to Roseburg would openly cry out in mockery.

Poor and silent lips! This a pity that Providence had need of your generous soul before He permitted you to testify in your own behalf!

Van could tell the truth were he here; but he will never face his enemy again, since the Almighty has provided places to fit the good and bad—and Van was good.

And as to our character! We are poor, working six years for Sol. Abraham would make any one poor, as we are willing to testify. To lose money in working to defend worthless character; to beslime men in opposition to another's interests; to come at another's back and call—no we would have continued to do had not the honesty in us repelled against our following the thing that would now rob us of our means of obtaining an honest livelihood; to do this would have been only what Sol. Abraham wanted us to do. We have refused to do a wrong, and Abraham would crush us for nonconformance; and that is all there is in it.

But let the character matter in the Mercury proceed. We want a chapter or two more from the Mercury and then we propose to tell what Sol. Abraham has done even at midnight! [Continued in our next.]

The Plaiddealer is now Sol. Abraham's organ. We remember the time when Abraham called Hirsch a fool, and when he spoke in less complimentary terms of Byars. Yet in the Plaiddealer appears Dr. Merrick's letter above of itself. Am I Dr. Merrick a liar? In the first place, I was Sol. Abraham who first brought a dirty article against Merrick to this office, and desired that we should write up the same for the Portland Mercury. The foundation for the article, we published, was furnished us by a prominent man.

lady in Canyonville, whose name is not necessary here to repeat, and by Sol. Abraham and D. A. Levens. Had we space in these columns we would give the letters brought us by Abraham; but any one who may come to our office may read the same. Abraham, we honestly and sincerely believe had the letter published in the Plaindealer and Mercury—his two weekly organs—in order to annoy us, if possible. If not, why did the same appear in both papers simultaneously? There is no reason for the appearance of Merrick's letter at this late day, when we stopped Abraham on the street over a month ago, and asked him about the master, and demanded of him to take upon himself the responsibility, and he and D. A. Levens requested of us to let the master drop—since Merrick was a dog, the betrayer of family secrets, the seducer of young girls' virtue; a bigamist at the time of his late marriage, and many more things belonging to the complete rascal! Abraham has paid for the publication of the letter brought about by the publication of some of his own rascality, since his spleen was too large and his mind too small to give expression to his own feelings, and Merrick is a coward if he does not write Abraham a letter.

We shall properly hold Abraham responsible for all concerning us which may appear in the Mercury or Plaindealer, and "Lay on Macduff, and dammed be he who first cries—hold enough."

The Jacksonville Times and other newspapers have made note of the dissolution of the firm of Kelly & Abraham. Other newspapers hail the dissolution of copartnership with the kindest of wishes for our welfare and success; but the Times thinks "that when rogues fall out honest men will get their due." We have only kind feelings for brethren of the press who have been kind to us; and as far as the Times is concerned it matters but little.

The fight we are making is not that of one rogue against another—it is the expression of a determination on the part of an honest man against a rogue—the expression of one who has worn green spectacles and now is put upon the stool of repentance and their hourly confessions his rascality.

Do not misunderstand us in this matter, Brother Nichols. In all that we may say of Sol. Abraham, there shall never enter our minds enter the thought that we shall black-mail him. Honest journalism and an honest journalist is above that. But A labor hard during the past six years to establish the INDEPENDENT, and now that it is established, and we have proven that victory has perched upon our banner, we cry out against Sol. Abraham or any other man who attempts to rob us of the result of our labor. We have worked long and earnestly for what we have, and when we refuse to be a dog, it is the duty of every honest man to assist us in our efforts to profit by the advertiser's expense can do by advertising in perfect confidence.

Representative George, whom he also addressed, writes as follows:

H. L. F. LANE, My Dear Sir: I have received your favor of the 4th of February, and have spoken to Senator Grover of the matter. I will give you a summary of what I told him.

I have introduced the petition and had it referred to the Mill for Committee and will see all my power to forward it.

Very truly yours,

M. T. GINGER.

This proposed road will result in a loss to Eastern Oregon; and Senator Storer is jealous in his welfare, and we doubt not will render to his colleague and Mr. George the best of able and earnest assistance. We intend to consider him neither further, nor even worse to a valuable and important prize.

JOHN B. GINGER, Administrator, March 11, 1852.

Since Sol. Abraham has purchased Mr. Villard's interests in railroad matters on the Pacific Coast, he has been putting on style. Stand aside, poor farmers and laboring men; none but Chinese need apply, y' thes.

How about the mule? Y' thes, he is at home, fat and frisky! Baker sent him back just before he left for Portland last time.

A little late, but we have been moving to new quarters.

A CARD OF THANKS.—Mrs. J. D. VanBuren and relatives of the late John D. VanBuren, desire to return their sincere thanks to the many friends who assisted in caring for his death bed illness. The debt of gratitude is large in this instance, and will not be forgotten. Mrs. J. D. VanBuren.
