

SATURDAY, APRIL 22

The Mercury is of the opinion the Democratic conventions of would have done better had it nominated Savage, of Wasco, for State Treasurer. That paper is as well acquainted with the political feelings of the people of this State as the devil is with holy water.

We haven't seen the other ticket yet in this county; but it is possible it may be a good one. We hope lightning may strike the next one if it has not common sense. The best men should invariably be nominated for office when the votes of the citizens are desirable.

There are rumors of war in the camp of the faithful just now, and we cannot see the end. Every man thinks the other fellow on the ticket is a detriment and he wants the 'other fellow off. But the Democrats must yet go into convention, and they must not make another case of "damfino."

The negro was once a desirable acquisition to a certain political party as a voter. Time has made the negro intelligent and independent of those who have used him to perpetuate party existence. The Chinaman must be the next source of salvation for that party, and the negro will aid the white man to drive away the heathen who has nothing in common sympathy with us and who are but a band of invading robbers seeking to secure America's wealth in order that China may be enriched.

James A. Sterling has written us the following note: Some machine politicians are trying to get me to withdraw which I shall not do! I can only get beat, and that won't kill me.

Go for them, Jimmy! You are right to your place on the ticket, for you were fairly nominated. As to the other fellows, the Lord only knows. They have no right to crowd you from the ticket, and when they make you such a proposition it is necessarily a personal insult offered you. They would get in your place some of their favorites, Jimmy, and don't you permit those "machine politicians" to "hog" it all. We are pleased to note your true Yankee grit.

The Republican State Convention has nominated its State ticket as follows: Z. Moody, for governor; M. C. George, congress; R. P. Earhart, secretary of state; E. Hirsch, state treasurer; W. F. Lord, supreme judge; McElroy, State school superintendent; J. H. Byars, state printer. For judicial officers of this district—R. Bean, judge; E. G. Hursh, prosecuting attorney. As can be readily seen, the snapper-end of the ticket is ended with "O. Hush." We will say more of the ticket in our next issue; but it is a fact, that in our heart we believe we could in many instances have done much better in making selections, and the people will probably think so before the election is over.
