We desire to call attention to the advertisement in another column of D. M. Ferry & Co., Detroit, Mich., the great seedsmen, whose mammoth establishment is one of the sights of the chief city of Michigan.

Farmers and others desiring a general, lucrative agency business, by which $5 to $20 a day can be earned, send address at once, on postal, to H. C. Wilkinson & Co., 193 197 Fulton street, New York.

The steamer California on her last trip brought from San Francisco the body of the late Major Victor Trevett. The remains were taken to the Dalles and interred on Minaleoc island, with Masonic honors.

Major A. G. Brown returned to town last Monday. While coming in from Floras creek, the Major tarried a little while at Bandon and essayed an inspection the jetty at the mouth of the Coquille, and he now wishes he hadn't, for while going over the trestle work he made a misstep and fell heavily upon a bar of iron, which cut an ugly gash in his left leg, just above the knee-cap, and rendered him insensible for a minute or two.

Dr. James Browne, LL. D., medical examiner for the A. O. U. W., and professor of physiology in the Willamette university, was married last Saturday to Mrs. E. F. Hargren, Rev. Dr. Frederic R. Marvin officiating. The ceremony was private.

Rev. I. D. Driver, who has been holding a series of meetings here, says God is to be thanked for the great infillies of the past and present. He calls them God's grindstones, with which He sharpens dull preachers. Upon this hypothesis a few leading unbelievers would prove very acceptable to the people of Oregon.

Last week a stabling affray took place at Camp eight on the extension of the O. & C. railroad, in which one of the men received a severe wound in the neck with a knife. The assailant, a Mr. Welch, fearing the consequences of his act skipped the country. There has been no arrest and probably will be no prosecution, as the injured man is in a fair way to recover.

The Marshfield academy, a new institution of learning just established at Marshfield, Coos county, will commence its spring term March 5, 1883. Allen Arrington is principal. Mr. Arrington is a self-made young man and was raised in this county. He is to be congratulated upon his success in literary attainments and we speak for him a liberal patronage.

Many settlers are looking through this county for locations. They are attracted to this county from the fact that this is, without any exception, the finest wool growing section in the world. The Umpqua valley wool has a reputation with the eastern manufacturers which secures for our farmers the highest price of any wool in the world. It is entirely free from dust or alkali and the farmer is at no expense, except to drive up the sheep and shear them. The winters being so mild the sheep browse for the entire year.

The Roseburg land office has made the largest sales during the month of January that has been made in any one month for the last ten years. There has been taken by cash entry, 8,683 acres; 25 homestead entries, embracing 3,786 acres; 16 final homestead proofs, embracing 2,363 acres; 25 pre-emption filings and one timber filing. Nearly all this land is in Coos and Douglas counties. At the rate these lands are being taken it will not be long until the fine timber lands in this and Coos counties will all be claimed by settlers.

S. McKean died at his residence near Myrtle Creek, this county, on Friday the 26th day of January, 1883, after a short illness, of typhoid pneumonia. He was born in Jefferson county, Missouri, October 31, 1824, and was 58 years old at the time of his death. He had lived in this county for several years and was well and favorably known. He was a consistent member of the Baptist church. The remains were buried in the Myrtle cemetery on last Sunday, under the auspices of the Odd Fellows, of which order he was a member. The family tender their sincere thanks to the members of the lodge and friends for the assistance extended to them in this hour of their sorest affliction.

Wheat is worth 85 cents a bushel at Walls Walla.

LOCAL ITEMS.

The California Legislature is in session in Sacramento. Gov. Stoneman has appointed John Boggs of Colusa, State-prison director.

The freeze is over and as one of the result eggs are plenty once again. Noah Cornutt of Cow creek valley, was in Roseburg on business during the early part of the week.

Rabe Jones was in the city Roseburg this week, taking recreation from the cares of business. C. H. Maupin of Elkton, gave us a call last Wednesday and settled his subscription. We are always pleased to see our patrons.

The Standard announces that Wallace Strubel and Mr. Martin have purchased the Polaris. The late cold weather has frozen the oats and barley to such an extent that many fields will have to be re-sown. The wheat is but little damaged.

A foundry for the manufacture of stoves and other castings has been added to the State-prison industries at Salem and is now in full blast. Dr. J. W. Strange, late clerk of the house of representatives, has returned to Douglas county and will engage in the practice of his profession—dentistry.

Last Wednesday Judge Stott sentenced Cornelius J. Murphy, convicted of forgery by a Portland jury, to ten years in the penitentiary. There will be preaching at the M. E. Church South next Sabbath at 11 A. M. No evening service, as the pastor is still in poor health.

Mrs. James Wright and Miss Anna Howard have returned to Roseburg from Eugene, where they have been on a protracted visit to relatives and friends. A new joint stock company is about to be formed, with a capital of five million dollars, for the purpose of navigating the air with ships. We predict that they will experience some difficulty in finding competent pilots for their voyages.

Roseburg is beset with tramps at this time. On last Sunday one of these despicable beings entered the residence of A. C. Marks, during the absence of the family, and informed the young lady who was stopping there that he knew she was alone and ordered her to get him something to eat and what money there was in the house. She gave him something to eat and before he finished his meal some of the neighbors happening in he took his departure. The Marshal was notified and arrested the tramp, but before Mr. Marks got home he took him to the outskirts of the city and ordered him to leave, which he did. Monday night while Mr. Webb and family were attending protracted meeting at the M. E. church, one of these tramps broke open his dwelling-house and stole some sixteen or eighteen dollars in money. Considering the leniency with which this character of offenders have heretofore been treated by juries and law officers of this county, it would not be strange if some of this fraternity which are at present infesting the city, should receive treatment little less severe than was meted out to their brethren in Seattle some months ago. Whilst we are and ever have been opposed to mob law and would be sorry to see it resorted to in any civilized community, but when this class of beings carry practices to extremes they are almost certain to bring upon themselves extreme remedies, that life and property may be secure from their ravages, and should they continue their depredations they are almost sure to leave town under escort, with a coat of tar and feathers, which will render them more hideous, if possible, than they now appear.

Would Have Been in the Grave. A lady in Tecumseh, Neb., writing to Dr. Starkey & Pales, says: "I wish to thank you for receiving so much benefit from your Compound Oxygen. Only for this I would be in the grave. I could not sleep; had no rest; was really bordering on insanity. I was alarmed. Now I sit up until ten o'clock and enjoy music and company. My daughter is recovering her voice. Will continue the Oxygen. May Heaven's choicest blessings rest upon you and yours." Treatise on Compound Oxygen, containing large reports of cases and full information sent free. Address Drs. STARKEY & PALES, 1109 and 1111 Girard street, Philadelphia.

All orders for the Compound Oxygen Home Treatment directed to H. E. Mathews, 606 Montgomery street, San Francisco. Will be filled on the same terms as if sent directly to us in Philadelphia.

The following from Tuesday's Telegram contains within itself a practical lecture upon the evils of intemperance: To-day a former mayor of the city of Portland, and commissioner for Multnomah county, was taken to the poor-house. Drink! One word explains his fall to the gutter and present imbecility. Last Sunday he was picked up from the streets and taken to the county jail. His condition was so filthy and loathsome that the other prisoners, themselves degraded and possessing blunted sensibilities shunned him and his touch. To point out the moral of this would be unnecessary.

PROTRACTED MEETING.—Rev. I. D. Driver, P. E., assisted by the local clergymen, has been holding a protracted meeting at the M. E. church in this place during the last few days. The meeting has attracted considerable attention, but we think that up to this date there has been no additions to the church. The series of sermons delivered by Mr. Driver have been heard of pulpit eloquence, and we hold him, on all hands, spoken of as a very effective and logical speaker.

Real estate at Old Tacoma is held at a high price.

Owen, who had a long pole used in snow-shoeing, succeeded in making a hole through the snow, thus enabling him to breathe until he could extricate himself. A large party of miners late in the night found Lawler dead.

One of the counsel for the defense in the star route cases informs the press that the expense of the Brady, Dorsey, and Vail recen- and pending trials will be fully $200,000, of which Brady and Dorsey are reported to have spent $75,000 each.

The North American Review for February opens with a symposium in which six prominent theologians, representing as many religious denominations, give expression to their views upon the question of the "Revision of Creeds." Prof. Alexander Winchell, in an article entitled "The Experiment of Universal Suffrage," institutes a profound inquiry into the essential conditions of stable popular government, which he finds to be, substantially, virtue and intelligence; and these conditions, he maintains, are absolutely unobtainable under our existing political system, where an electorate either ignorant or vicious, or both, by the mere force of superior numbers, practically nullifies the suffrages of the better and wiser portion of the people, whose right to control the government of the commonwealth is grounded in the very nature of things. Bishop McQuaid writes of "The Decay of Protestantism," and in an essay to prove his thesis, makes a very adroit use of the admissions of protestant writers. "The Political Situation" is the joint title of two articles, the one by Horatio Seymour, the other by Geo. S. Boutwell, who offer their respective views upon the causes of the recent overthrow of the Republican party. An article by Dr. D. A. Sargent, on "Physical Education in Colleges," treats a subject of prime importance to the welfare of the youths in our higher educational institutions. Finally, there are two articles on "The Standard Oil Company," Senator Camden of West Virginia defending that corporation against its assailants, and John C. Welch setting forth the reasons for condemning it as a dangerous monopoly. Published at 30 Lafayette Place, New York.

The late Congressman Godlove S. Orth, of Indiana, bequeathed all his property to his wife saying: "I desire all my dear children to know and feel that this disposition of my estate is, in my judgment, the best under all the circumstances surrounding it, knowing they will find my said wife as much disposed to love and care for them and to deal justly by them as I have always felt and acted toward them myself."

J. M. ARRINGTON was in town this week. He has just returned from an extended trip through Coos and Curry counties. He reports the people of these sections anxious for better facilities for travel from these places to this valley. He says that the people of Coos county propose to open and build a good wagon road from Myrtle Point to the county line over the Camas valley trail, if the people of Douglas will build their end of the road from Camas to that point.

The Coast Mail says: The cold weather froze out the government sluicers at Rocky Point, and all work has been suspended, probably for the winter.

CALAPOOIA ITEMS.

The freezing weather has injured the grain to some extent in these parts. Duck-shooting is participated in by many Calapooiaites. Miss Mollie Lehmann, of this place, has been employed to teach the children of Mr. Jesse Clayton.

Some of our young gentlemen and ladies had the pleasure of a birthday party at the residence of Hon. W. B. Clark, on Monday evening of last week. David Adams paid Calapooia a flying visit recently and was the guest of T. Barnard. Mr. A. now resides in Washington territory.

A valentine party is talked of at the residence of C. G. Derling, on the 14th, by some of our young ladies. Rev. J. C. Richardson delivered a very interesting and eloquent sermon to a large congregation, at the school-house on last Sabbath.

There was recorded in the county clerk's office of Douglas county on Wednesday, a power of attorney from Andrew R. Spang, of Dayton, Ohio, to George W. Smiley, of New York, for the sale of some 96,000 acres of land, known as the Coos Bay wagon road lands, situate in Douglas and Coos counties, the sale to be subject to the payment of a debt of $216,651 45.

CHARIVARI.—We have been informed that our genial friend Doc. Brockway, who was married last week, took his bride to their home at Civil Bend to enjoy the sweets of married life. Ever since, the young folks of the neighborhood have kept continual orgies around their dwelling in which horns, tin kettles and all sorts of improvised instruments have been brought into requisition. The melody of these discordant sounds can readily be appreciated by all newly married people who have had the benefit of an old fashioned serenade. The only inconvenience which Doc. experiences is the breaking up of his peaceful slumbers. He has not as yet treated the boys to a hickory club or had any of them arrested.

SHORT STOPS. A. Marks is in Portland. I. Caro has gone to the front. L. F. Mosher has been absent for a week in Josephine county, attending to law business.

Flood is improving in health and is believed by his physicians to be out of danger. It has been recently reported that Mt. Hood was emitting smoke from its summit. A first-class volcano in Oregon would add to our attractions.

The man Smith who is supposed to have been the murderer of Mrs. Petch, of Yamhill county, is still at large. The veteran James Lamb is still in Roseburg. He prophesies a busy summer and brilliant future for our city.

Rumor saith that our city is soon to be favored with a wedding in high life and that one of our young attorneys and a fair maiden residing hereabout will be the chief contracting parties.

The Catholic clergyman of this city, Rev. Father Heinrich, yesterday celebrated the festival of Candlemas, which is held in honor of the purification of the Virgin Mary and derives its name from the great number of lights used. Ned Dry has purchased the largest stock of brandies, whiskies, wines, beer and case goods ever brought to this city. He has laid in an extra large supply of beers, owing to the scarcity and advance in the price of hops. Ned thought it advisable to take advantage of the situation and provide himself with a stock sufficient to last until a new crop can be grown and fermented.

TRAINS DELAYED.—The late rains and thaw have so swollen the Willamette river that the trains were unable to cross the Harrisburg bridge Thursday, and as a consequence there was no trains Thursday night or Friday morning. To what extent the bridge or trestle work have been damaged we were unable to learn. The cold snap has so retarded the waters that the train is expected to be on time this Friday night and run regular thereafter.

A project is favored in certain quarters to entirely do away with the Territory of Idaho. The new Nevada delegation in congress want the four northern counties annexed to Washington, and the rest of the territory they want joined to their own State.

J. M. ARRINGTON was in town this week. He has just returned from an extended trip through Coos and Curry counties. He reports the people of these sections anxious for better facilities for travel from these places to this valley. He says that the people of Coos county propose to open and build a good wagon road from Myrtle Point to the county line over the Camas valley trail, if the people of Douglas will build their end of the road from Camas to that point.
