TEACHERS EXAMINATION.—The regular examination of teachers for county certificates will be held at the Roseburg academy, beginning on Friday, March 30, at 8:30 A. M. Those intending to apply will please take notice.

FRANK W. BENSON, Supt.

NOTICE.—All persons holding county warrants dated after May 17, 1882, up to October 30, 1882, are notified that interest on the same ceases from and after the latter date.

W. N. MOORE, County Treasurer.

THE FIRST COMET.—A little before seven o'clock on Friday evening last, while Prof. Lewis Swift, director of the Warner observatory, Rochester, N. Y., was scanning the western sky, he discovered a brilliant comet located in the constellation of Pegasus, near the star Beta. The new comet is moving eastward and is very bright. This is the first comet discovered during the present year and also the first discovery made by means of the new telescope of the Warner observatory, which is the largest private telescope in the world.

A SAD AFFAIR.—The community was greatly shocked last Sunday, says the Jacksonville Times, by the news that William Justus, an old and respected citizen, had been killed that day by a rifle in the hands of his eldest son, John Justus. Justice Huffer, acting as coroner, repaired to the scene at once, accompanied by several parties from town, and impelled a jury to ascertain the facts in the case. Mr. Justus claims the shooting to be purely accidental; that he had been firing at birds in the vicinity and had entered the house, where his father was sitting, when the hammer slipped unexpectedly and the gun, which was cocked and loaded, went off and killed the old gentleman. The bullet entered the left side of his head, behind his ear, and passing through almost straight, shattered the skull terribly and lodged in the wall. The coroner's jury, after being in session several days, rendered a verdict that he came to his death from a wound inflicted by a gun in the hands of John Justus, and a majority held that it was done with murderous intent. The accused was brought to town yesterday by constable Birdsey and arraigned before Justice Huffer, who will hold an examination at once.

LOCAL ITEMS.

William Hill's family is suffering with scarlatina.

Born—to the wife of Wm. Kamp, on March 11th, a son. Bill is happy.

Joe, L. Clough is in Jackson county buying brood mares for his stock ranch on the South Umpqua.

Born—to the wife of John Brown, March 3d, in Roseburg, a daughter weighing 13 1/2 pounds.

A. R. Chase of Silver Lake, Eastern Oregon, called last week. He is looking for cattle.

Some of the farmers are praying for rain and complain that the ground is now too dry for plowing and seeding.

George Parker and Anson Price left for east of the mountains on Thursday of this week.

The public school for Canyonville district opened for the Spring term last Monday. Frank Cathey and sister are the teachers.

Mrs. A. M. Compton, sprained her right wrist very badly last week by an accidental fall. It will be some time before she is able to use it.

A large delegation of Good Templars from Roseburg visited the lodge at Looking Glass last Monday evening. We understand they had a pleasant time.

A great many of our property-holders are taking advantage of the pleasant weather to repair their sidewalks. Let the good work go on.

Washington Cardwell, an aged and highly respected citizen of Canyonville, died at that place last Friday. Mr. Cardwell had resided in Oregon for 25 consecutive years and was esteemed by the entire community.

Little drops of printer's ink, a little type displayed, make our merchant bosses and all their big parade. Little bits of stinging—discarding printer's ink—busts the man of business, and sees his credit sink.

Died.—February 4th, at his home in Canyonville, Horace D. Myrtle, aged 59 years. Also, on March 8th, Mary Myrtle, only child of Nort. and Minnie Eddings, of Canyonville, aged 2 years and 5 months.

Phil. Da Motta, Roseburg's favorite barber, has returned from a visit to California, where he had been for the benefit of his health. We are pleased to see that he has entirely recovered and is fully prepared for business.

The thanks of this office are tendered to J. O. Booth, of Yoncalla, for a substantial donation, consisting of a fine ham of bacon which was acceptably received, and we attest our appreciation of the present.

W. F. Courtney of Washington Territory, left Roseburg on last Wednesday with fourteen yoke of work cattle, for the logging camps of Seattle. They were purchased in this county from the Tipton Bros. and Wm. Gage and averaged $82 a yoke.

A. W. Compton, who has acted as forwarding agent for the extension of the O. and California railroad all winter, returned home last week, suffering with rheumatism from the inhospitable situation in the Cow creek canyon.

The winter term of the Roseburg Academy will close on Friday, March 23d, 1883. During the last week of the term the usual class examinations will be held. The patrons of the school universally express themselves satisfied with the able management of Prof. Cathey and Mrs. Webb.

Mr. Robinson, lately from Texas, made us a call on Wednesday. Mr. R. expects to settle somewhere in Southern Oregon and so far is well pleased with our climate. We need just such gentlemen to develop our resources and believe that he will find that the Umpqua valley is the garden-spot of the Pacific coast.

Our reporter did Dr. Crawford an injustice in last week's issue in reference to the amputation of Pierre Petit's foot, which was frozen at the time Regis Pezar was frozen to death. He was not present and did not assist in or witness the operation, which was performed by Dr. Marsters assisted by his son Alva and John Gotsell. The patient is doing well.

The Standard says that there are now four persons who have suddenly gone under without leaving a trace of their whereabouts. The last one is L. L. Clifford, whom a Tacoma paper says came to Portland on Monday, the 26th ult., who drew $2000 for the beneficiary fund on the death of Nicholas.

The road from Jacksonville to Crescent City will be ready for heavy teams by the first of April. Some of the business men have contracted with parties in Crescent City to deliver freight from San Francisco for three cents a pound, which will be quite a saving compared with present rates via Redding or Portland.

Mr. Naury, of the signal station at Roseburg, has furnished us the weather report for February 1883, which we condense: Mean barometer, 30.185; mean temperature, 37.2; total rainfall, 1.17; highest temperature, 63.7, on the 27th; lowest temperature, 9.4, on the 4th and 15th; number of clear days, 12; fair, 9; days of rain, 4; days of frost, 13.

Wm. B. Clarke, who came over the hill from the poor house, gave us a call last week. He reports everything prosperous at the poor farm, with a larger number of county paupers than ever before. He says they make no complaint of their treatment, but on the contrary it is difficult to get rid of them. His hotel is getting so crowded that he took our old friend Tucker down to act as steward.

The body of Joseph Kieselberger, who was missed over two months since, was found on Friday, March 9th, by Chinamen, in a drift near the mouth of Slip creek, on Cow creek. A. R. Flint Esq., Justice of the Peace, acting as coroner, held the inquest, John H. Clark being foreman of the jury. The verdict was accidental drowning. The body when found was in a very good state of preservation but decomposed rapidly on being brought to the air. It was much bruised and the neck broken by the action of the swift current upon the rocks. Two hundred and sixty dollars in gold coin was found upon his person, and it is possible that some may have been lost. It was suspected by some that he had been murdered and robbed, but the result proved this to have been a mistake. He was decently buried by Mr. Clark the foreman of the jury near the spot where he was found.

Foot-pads continue their depredations. One day this week a gent of the above named class passing along the county road in Round prairie, met a young lady and when near her he made a rush and frightened her nearly out of her wits, but she managed to elude the villain by flight. The wretch should have been pursued and punished and it is high time that the people along the public thoroughfares should keep a look-out for these depraved beings.

Considerable excitement was occasioned at Clarkburg on the night of the 14th by an attempt of H. A. Barr to capture a man supposed to be trying to steal or burn their shop at the burg. Mr. Barr happened to be up at a late hour (feeling a little unwell). He discovered a man around the shop. He watched until half-past eleven, when he fired on Mr. Barr in hopes he could cripple him, but having nothing but a small pocket pistol failed to get his man. In the scare the thief lost his memorandum book, which was found by Mr. Hawn, which he can get by calling on the Barr Bros.

Wm. Clinton Esq., the Chief Justice of Oak creek precinct, met with a misfortune last Saturday. He came to town on that day on horseback and thought to surprise his neighbors by buying a new bride. He accordingly interviewed Woodward and selecting one that suited his taste put it on his horse. While engaged in attending to his other business, some graceless scamp, without the fear of the law before his eyes and in plain contempt of court, took, stole and carried away the said bride. The Squire consequently was compelled to ride home with a rope halter. We hope the thief will be caught and punished as the enormity of the offense deserves.

Less Tendency to Take Cold.

As a protection from cold, Compound Oxygen is very efficacious. A patient writes, "Have not had a cold this winter, which is perfectly wonderful for me." Another says, "No return of hemorrhage, hoarseness gradually wearing off, less tendency to take cold and when I do take cold, it is more easily controlled under the use of Oxygen." Another, "I feel that it has been a great benefit to me, increasing my appetite and preventing me from taking cold." Our treatise on Compound Oxygen, its nature, action and results, with reports of cases and full information, sent free. Drs. STARKER and PALLEN, 1109 and 1111 Girard street, Philadelphia. All orders for the Compound Oxygen Home Treatment directed to H. E. Matthews, 605 Montgomery street, San Francisco, will be filled on the same terms as if sent direct to us in Philadelphia.

YONCALLA.

Farmers have improved the opportunity presented by the warm weather to rest the grain which was killed by last winter's freeze. The ground is in good condition and the new grain is looking well and promises a bountiful harvest.

Robert Booth is doing good work at his new saw mill.

Barker & Co. have a large amount of lumber on hand ready for shipment.

Marbel & Darr have completed their new saw mill and have a fine lot of logs cut and in the creek and are waiting for a raise to float them to the mill.

J. O. Booth is doing a good business in the mercantile line. George B. Yale is chief clerk and book-keeper.

Tracy is presiding at his old stand with ease and dignity and considers the prospect for the Spring trade good.

There was forty tons of baled hay shipped from here to the front this week.

Col. Frizell has been in the valley for some time purchasing and forwarding supplies to the O. & C. railroad company for the front.

The Justice's court was occupied Monday and Tuesday in trying a law suit between J. M. Craton and Josiah Allen. The jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff. C. Ball, of the firm of Hermann and Ball, appeared for the plaintiff, and Hon. L. F. Lane for the defendant.

Thomas Applegate and family, who have been residing for some time past in Ashland, Jackson county, have returned to live in Yoncalla. They have concluded that there is no place equal to Yoncalla.

JENKS.

W. O. T. U.

On Saturday last Mrs. H. K. Hines, President of the Women's Christian Temperance Union for Oregon, visited Roseburg and organized a branch of this temperance organization.

The history of this movement is one of interest. In a brief space of time it has grown until it now covers the whole land with its labors, and embraces within its active membership the noblest body of Christian women the world has ever known. They are philanthropists, seeking to deal with the evil of rum just as they find it, praying all the time for the hour when legal enactment shall make it impossible for man to ruin his neighbor with strong drink. They aim to organize here a non-sectarian society to baffle and overturn this evil. If we had time and space we should like to state their different lines of labor, suffice it to say that while they labor and pray for the drunkard they are not unmindful of the demands of charity towards his family, and as they try to save him they aim to inaugurate a system of practical benevolence which will eventually mitigate and remove the consequences of this great evil—intemperance.

THALOE.

The President has appointed to serve on the Civil Service Commission, created by the Pendleton bill, Norman B. Eaton of New York; J. M. Gregory of Illinois, and Judge L. D. Thoman of Ohio. The last is a Democrat and the others Republicans.

OBITUARY.

FLOED.—Died at his residence in this city March 13th, 1883, J. C. Floed, Sr., aged 66 years.

John Creed Floed was born in the county of Amherst in old Virginia on the 1st of November, 1816. At the age of seventeen, impelled by that energy which characterized his whole life he left home and started for the wilds of West Virginia to carve out his own fortune. He worked for a time at the salt works on the Kanawha river and then went as a hand on a flat-boat loaded with salt to New Orleans. This trip induced him to follow the river and by the time he was twenty-one he was a regular steamboat pilot for the Ohio and Mississippi. This occupation he continued until he removed to Oregon. On the 10th of July, 1851, he was married to Emily, third daughter of Gen. Joseph Lane, in Indiana. He removed to Oregon in the spring of 1853 and settled in Douglas county. In November of that year he engaged in the mercantile business on a small scale at Winchester in partnership with Simon R. Lane, his brother-in-law, under the name of Floed & Co. He was a successful business man and all his transactions were conducted with the strictest probity and honor, the signature or word of his firm being always a guaranty for the exact performance of every agreement. He was large hearted and charitable. No deserving person applied in vain to him for relief, but all his generous acts were done quietly and without ostentation. His social qualities endeared him to every one. He had an inexhaustible fund of reminiscences and anecdotes and in his leisure hours was always the centre of a listening company. He was a kind husband, an indulgent father, a generous friend and a Christian gentleman. Mr. Floed leaves a widow and four grown children, two sons and two daughters who are well provided for. The cause of his death was an attack of pneumonia with which he was stricken down on the last day of the last year. Every thing that medical science could suggest was done for his relief and at times it was hoped that his strong constitution would resist the disease, but it was too deeply seated and he at last sank peacefully in his rest, deeply regretted not only by his family and relations but by all who knew him. May he rest in peace.

The funeral took place on Thursday morning, at the Catholic church. The church was not large enough to accommodate one-tenth of the persons in attendance. The services were conducted in the usual impressive manner. A very large cortege followed the body to the graveyard, where it was buried in a vault next to his two daughters, Mrs. Emma Fenner and Miss Winnie Floed, who had gone before him. Many needy persons, not in attendance, will sadly feel his loss, as will the people of the whole county.

JOE'S VALLEY.

Too dry to plow.

Fruit trees in bloom.

Mr. Robert Downie started for the Palouse country yesterday.

Mr. Jordan has many friends since his nice little wind-fall, but Mr. J. understands their tactics. It was once Ed. Jordan, but now it is Squire Jordan.

Mr. C. A. Briggs, of Hubbard creek, will soon be able to supply the market with a first-class shingle.

Mr. H. D. Thomas will close his school at this place with a grand entertainment on the 15th inst. We will send full account next week.

W. B. Clark is worrying considerably on account of his saw mill having to stand idle for want of logs. He had the logs cut and banked in good season, but he could not run them during the wet weather because the creek was too high and he cannot run them since the warm weather has set in because the creek is too low. He feels his misfortune very much since the county authorities have sent him so many able-bodied laborers.

Dr. Russell, who is stopping at W. B. Clark's, is lying very low and his recovery is dispaired of.

One of the county proteges made an assault upon Mr. Baker. W. B. Clark's partner, in which he got badly worsted.

ALPHA.

PRISONER SHOT.—On last Saturday about four o'clock P. M., Charles Anderson, a prisoner in the county jail, where he is confined for want of bail on a charge of stealing a wagon and team from A. F. Ambrose of Yoncalla, attempted to escape from the county jail, under the following circumstances: He asked to empty his bucket and Tim Ford, the jailer, took him from the jail for that purpose. On his return he asked to go out and wash the bucket, which Ford allowed. On the second trip Anderson took a skip and ran in
