LOCAL ITEMS.

Frank Burton, an old resident of Roseburg, paid us a visit this week. Local beer by the quart and a fine lunch at all times, at the Metropolitan saloon.

Mrs. Wm. P. Day of Camas valley, was in town this week on business and a visit to her friends.

Commencing July 21 money orders drawn from the Roseburg postoffice will be limited to one hundred dollars in place of fifty dollars. Three orders will be issued to one remitter the same as at present.

Mrs. S. Minard, of Happy valley, left this week to visit her daughter, Mrs. Black, living in British Columbia, whose little girl was drowned some two weeks ago in the Coquiltum river.

All persons owning real property in Roseburg where the sidewalks are out of repair, are notified to repair the same on or before the first day of July, or the same will be done by the city and the expense charged against the adjoining property.

We have for some months been in receipt of the Floral Cabinet, a monthly magazine published in New York, at 22 Vesey street. Send for sample copy to the above address, and you will receive a gem worth having regularly in the family.

The Hook and Ladder Company of Roseburg propose to give a ball on the night of the Fourth of July at Marks' hall. James Snyder the caterer, has fixed a number of tables adjoining the side entrance to the hall, where he will be ready to furnish a substantial meal, or all the delicacies of the season, to those who apply.

W. L. Reeder, of the San Francisco Marble Works, was in Roseburg the fore part of this week. He has been over a large portion of this county and has worked up a good business. He furnishes the most modern and improved designs for monuments and head stones, which are wrought by the most skillful workmen in San Francisco.

The festival given by the ladies of Roseburg on Wednesday evening for the benefit of the fire department, was a success in every particular. Every one present enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent. The receipts were near $150. There will be a little over one hundred dollars clear for the fire department. Too much praise cannot be said in favor of the ladies for their efforts in this matter, and the success which they have attained.

Dr. Hamilton has recently remodeled the exterior and interior of the building occupied by M. Josephson, and it is now one of the best arranged and most convenient places of the kind in the city. The erection of a new and much higher awning on the front, and the construction and placing of innumerable drawers and shelves inside add largely to the value of the building for mercantile purposes. The Doctor is to be congratulated upon the improved appearance of this old corner.

DIED.—On Saturday, June 23rd, 1883, at his father's residence in Roseburg, JOSEPH LENHERR, in the 28th year of his age.

He was a son of John Lenherr, one of the oldest and best known citizens of this place. Deceased was born in Douglas county and lived here and in this vicinity to the time of his death. He was a young man well liked in the community, and gave early promise of becoming a useful citizen. Some two years ago he was taken with hemorrhaging of the lungs which so impaired his health that he became unable to perform hard work. He gradually grew weaker from consumption until a few days before his death, when he was taken with a violent attack of brain fever, from which he never recovered.

It is sad to see a young man just entering the prime of life carried to an early grave, but such is the will of Him who doeth all things well. The remains were interred in the Masonic cemetery Monday, the 25th, with religious services by the Rev. Joan Howard, of the M. E. Church.

At Civil Bend, Douglas county, Oregon, June 23, 1883, Lois Blanche, daughter of N. J. and Anna L. Richards, aged six years, four months and ten days.

A Clergyman's Sore Throat.

This disease, which has, during the past twenty or thirty years abridged or entirely closed the ministerial usefulness of so many clergymen, has rarely found successful treatment under any of the old systems of medicine. The following from Rev. J. B. Pradt, of Madison, Wisconsin (late Assistant State Superintendent of Wisconsin), shows how promptly, in his case, this disease yielded to the action of Compound Oxygen. He says: "I had been troubled for many years with 'Clergyman's' Sore Throat; and after a severe attack of influenza, the upper part of the lungs was left very sore and irritable, and I was obliged to desist entirely from using my voice in public services. After a two months' trial of the Compound Oxygen, I found myself, to my surprise and gratification, able to go through full services again, not only without any trouble, but with little fatigue. Three months' use of the remedy restored my voice and lungs completely, and greatly improved my general health. I feel it my duty, therefore, to bear testimony to its good effects. I have waited for time to test the permanency of the benefits received, and can say that during the past severe winter I have been entirely free from colds, and in better general health than for years; am 65 years of age." Treatise on Compound Oxygen, its nature, action and results, with report of cases and full information, sent free. DR. STARKEY & PALER, 1109 and 1111 Girard street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. All orders for the Compound Oxygen Home Treatment directed to H. E. Matthews, 606 Montgomery street, San Francisco, will be filled on the same terms as if sent directly to us in Philadelphia.

Umpqua Academy.

The twenty-eighth annual commencement of this popular institution of learning was held on Thursday and Friday evenings of last week. The exercises of the first evening commenced with instrumental music by Misses Hattie Benjamin and Addie Smith, after which Rev. E. T. Lee of Portland was introduced and delivered a very able address on "The Moral Power of the Natural Sciences." Mr. Lee is an able speaker, and his address was practical and well received.

The graduating exercises on Friday evening were begun by prayer by Rev. P. Booth, which was followed by an instrumental solo by Miss Addie Smith. After an instrumental solo by Miss Hattie Benjamin an essay on "Foot-prints" was rendered by Miss Ida Booth which was highly applauded, and fully deserved the ovation of flowers which she received.

Prof. Cathey of Roseburg sang a beautiful song, followed by an oration by John Critser, subject "The Scholar's Hope," which was well rendered, and all who listened were filled by the hope expressed therein, we would certainly have an excellent class of students.

Miss Addie Smith then read an essay on "What Knowledge Should be." This essay was well written, well read, and highly commended. A vocal solo was sung by Mrs. G. W. Short, after which George M. Brown delivered an oration, taking as a subject "Non Sibi, Sed Alia." The delivery was free and easy, and the oration would have done credit to an elderly person.

Mrs. F. C. Flint, of Roseburg, sang a solo which was received with much applause, followed by an address by Prof. H. L. Benson, subject, "A' Sirat." This address was one of the most interesting and eloquent to which we have listened. The diplomas were then presented to the graduates by the Principal with a few well chosen remarks.

The exercises closed with an instrumental duet by Misses Addie Smith and Hattie Benjamin and a benediction by Rev. R. Booth. The exercises of the two evenings were among the most interesting and profitable ever held in the academy.

Each member of the graduating class was highly complimented by admiring friends, and fully merited the many beautiful bouquets received. Thus closes the third year that the academy has been under the charge of Prof. H. L. Benson. Be it said to his credit that though he took the school when in a very unprosperous condition, he leaves it second to none in southern Oregon.

To Campmeeting!

On Sunday last the writer and three or four friends essayed a matutinal airing behind one of Carlson's best farms. The objective point of the party was the campmeeting ground, six miles above Roseburg on Deer creek, where the church people known as United Brethren in Christ were holding a campmeeting in conjunction with the session of the annual conference for the current year.

The trip from Roseburg thence was most refreshing, the cool, bracing air from the Cascades beyond wooing us to prolong the drive, even though the full tones of the choral worshippers reminded of the day and occasion.

The grounds are not well adapted to campmeeting purposes, and the Deer creek church-house location must have decided the matter when the selection was made, for there was a scarcity of good, refreshing water and a superabundance of noise and dust near the stand erected for the out-door services.

The orderly manner of all present was very noticeable and was in marked contrast to the disgraceful scenes that often marred similar gatherings in the "States" in earlier times. The day was warm, but the interest in the devotions seemed to find its climax in the class or experience meeting precluding the Bishop's annual sermon. The earnestness with which old and young poured forth their testimony precludes the assumption that religion, pure and undefiled, no longer holds sway in the hearts of the people.

In the evening when the shadows from the oaks and pines surrounding the scene of the meeting had cast their inviting shade to its almost ultimate limit, we turned our eyes and horses homeward, glad to see again the place where we eke out an existence as purveyor to the discriminating literary tastes of our readers.

New Industry.

It is always a pleasure to a local newspaper to chronicle new industries, therefore we refer to the soda water works recently put in operation by Messrs. Floed & Farquar, two doors below the north entrance of Abraham's store, this city.

The works are complete and the firm are manufacturing an excellent article of soda water, sarsaparilla, etc., and are prepared to supply the trade. Give them a call and sample the goods.

INCENDIARISM!

A Dastardly Attempt to Burn the City of Roseburg!

Wednesday morning between half past three and four o'clock a dastardly attempt was made to burn the city of Roseburg. Some designing villain kindled a fire in shavings and litter against the South wall of McCulloch & Co's saloon building, in the narrow passage between it and Critser's saloon. Fortunately the fire was discovered by the night watch and others before it got under much headway and put out before any damage was done.

J. E. Geddis, who had been on a drunken spree all night in company with others, and who had been seen in the vicinity of the fire, was arrested and charged with the burning. An examination was had before Judge Fitzhugh, sitting as a committing magistrate, who, after hearing the evidence took the matter under advisement, and on Tuesday morning released the prisoner, holding that the evidence was not sufficient to warrant a jury in convicting.

From the location and manner in which the fire was started it was evidently an attempt to destroy the city, and would have endangered the lives of many persons sleeping in the Metropolitan hotel adjoining the building.

Without expressing any opinion as to who the guilty party is, he should be brought to justice and receive the full penalty of the law. While we would do all in our power to discountenance mob law, it would not be safe for any one to be caught by the citizens of this place putting out fire with the intent to destroy property, lest they should receive a lesson in Seattle justice.

Fourth of July at Mt. Scott!

Following is the program for the celebration of the coming Fourth of July at Mt. Scott:

President of the day, J. J. Thornton; prayer by chaplain, Rev. J. Thornton; reading Declaration of Independence, Miss S. A. Wimberly; oration, Prof. Henry L. Benson; "Jubilee Song," young ladies of Mt. Scott. There will be a basket dinner and such amusements as the locality affords, embracing boat racing, foot racing, sack racing, etc.

All who wish to join with us in celebrating our nation's birthday are most cordially invited. The day will close with a dance in the evening and every effort will be made to make this feature pleasant. To you, Mr. Editor, and your co-workers, we extend a hearty invitation.

DAYS OREEK.

Hay harvest in full blast. Some of the children are having a mild form of fever.

Uncle Billy Linville, who went out to the front is now again acting the granter. John Hawks, our obliging postmaster, has the most promising garden in southern Douglas.

Miss Emma Boyle, the accomplished daughter of Uncle Isaac, has again reached the pleasant scenes of childhood. Her many friends bid her welcome.

Last Friday evening those fond of the "light fantastic" whiled the nocturnal hours away at the residence of Peter Ulam. Jas. Hutson, of Myrtle Creek was there and furnished the requisite quantity of candy, nuts, oranges and lemonade. Mr. and Mrs. Ulam have the best wishes of all the participants for the use of the hall.

The directors of district No. 15 are to be congratulated on the successful term of school which closed Friday, the 22d inst; Messrs. Garrison, Perdue and Chapman, who now constitute the Board, did everything that officials could do for the advance, ment of their community. All the patrons aided in making the "finale" of the school a success. Day's creek is one of the most select spots in Oregon for a first-class academy.

Hon. David Fate, Messrs. Raymond & Beals, have the sincere thanks of teachers and pupils for the important parts taken during the exercises.

FRENCH SETTLEMENT.

Weather cool and dry. The district school closed on the 22d. Our Sunday School is made interesting by a large attendance. L. F. Conn has returned from Salem where he has been attending school. His many friends are pleased to welcome him home again.

"Uncle" Billy Rose has again returned to his fishery at the junction of the north and south Umpqua, and is gathering his annual tribute from the funny tribe. The people of this district have completed a woodshed at the schoolhouse, and contemplate other improvements which will make it one of the most convenient in the county.

A petition is being circulated in Coles valley asking the county commissioners for an appropriation to bridge the Umpqua at Roseburg. Signers will no doubt be "Like angels visits, few and far between." A bridge with nothing but a sheep path leading to it is not what is wanted here. Better place it where the people can get to it.

Coal tar and pine tar for sale at Hamilton's drug store.

FROM ELKTON.

The farmers are busily engaged in haying. Miss Dell Parrot is to teach the school in the town of Elkton, and they like her very much.

Miss Edith Rice has been teaching school in the vicinity of Elkton and gave general satisfaction. Miss Harriet Knowles is to teach the school at Crescent ferry. They seem to be well pleased with her.

Mrs. J. C. Cooper had old Rapp arrested for running in among her sheep and preventing her boy and others from corralling them, although they were on her own land. Justice Benedict fined him, but I do not know how much. I have heard it placed at from five to eight dollars and costs. A man who is continually doing all he can to bother and trouble a widow ought to have the full benefit of the law. Two weeks ago her son and two other boys were hauling rails and building up the fence to keep Rapp's horses out of her grain, when Rapp took a club and struck her boy three times.

MYRTLE OREEK.

Weather hot. Haymaking in full blast. John Hall has the finest piece of corn in the Umpqua valley.

Uncle Hans Weaver thinks of getting a steam thrasher this season. On Sunday evening at six o'clock, George Williams, the pioneer carpenter of this place, passed beyond the dark river whence none return. George leaves a vacant place in our midst not easily filled. He was a good workman, always ready and obliging. He leaves many friends and not an enemy behind.

School on South Myrtle closed last Friday. Prof. Day's school closes Friday, the 29th.

Miss Ellen Gabbert will return from Portland next week, where she has been under medical treatment. Her many friends will be glad to see her in their midst once more.

The ladies are now moving earnestly in the matter previously agitated here—the building of a house of worship, and we hope they will succeed.

SUDDEN DEATH.—From Messrs. Joseph Bradley and Zephir Pelland we learn that a Frenchman named Xavier Plante, who had been residing on the north Umpqua river, last Sunday left Mr. Pollard's house to go to a neighbor's. On Monday he was found lying by the side of a fence a short distance from the house, dead. Justice Ray, of Calipsoo precinct, was notified and repaired to the place where the body was and proceeded to hold an inquest. The verdict of the jury was that deceased came to his death from heart disease. The deceased was about 45 years of age and unmarried. He is supposed to have a cousin the name of Antoine Plante, living at Spokane Falls, Washington Territory.

The Fourth of July.

The glorious Fourth of July is at hand. The people of Roseburg have made extensive preparations for a grand picnic. Whilst the services will be conducted by home talent they will be none the less interesting and instructive. No one should forget the event we meet to celebrate; by maintaining the principles promulgated on that occasion will preserve us a nation; they should never be forgotten.

Destruction of Timber.

The destruction of timber on the public lands has become a crying evil, especially upon the lines of the railroads. The penalty for cutting government timber or for burning the same is very severe, and this penalty should be enforced. Mr. F. B. Shocker is the U. S. timber agent for Oregon, and his residence is at Portland, Oregon. He has authorized us to state that whenever any person makes a report to him accompanied by sufficient proof to convict he will proceed to investigate the same and bring the delinquents to speedy and sure justice.

Judge Hoody can whip the Republican candidate for governor of Ohio in a Foraker lot. (Arizona Star.)

Amusements.

The Great Eastern Mastodon Amusement Enterprise is in Roseburg. The troop performed last night to a fair audience. The comique was truly good. They appear again to-night. No one should miss the opportunity to hear them and enjoy a hearty laugh, as it is the best company of the kind that ever visited this place; the singing, dancing, recitations, banjo playing, character sketches and acting being superior in every sense.
