A thousand million dollars is the estimated shrinkage of Wall street values within two years.

The San Francisco Chronicle strongly favors the admission of Washington territory as a State.

The time is at hand for putting together two million pieces of stove-pipe, when the annual swearing match may be expected.

The net value of property in Multnomah county for purposes of taxation, is $17,553,805—an increase over last year of but $587,920.

The November number of the North American Review will contain a contribution from Dr. Norvin Green, president of the Western Union company, in opposition to the proposed government management of the telegraph; also, an article on John Brown by the Rev. David N. Utter, which is calculated to seriously affect the popular estimate of the hero of Ossawatimie.

Our correspondent of last week who signs himself "San Juan," did a very good man injustice in his allusion to Brown, one of the drivers of the Coos Bay stage line. We are informed, upon the authority of Mr. Glover, the superintendent, that the account of Mr. Brown's conduct was a fabrication and that he was not drunk nor was he discharged, but quit the service of the company of his own accord. We gladly make this statement, as the person in question has always been considered one of the most obliging and reliable men on the line.

We have recently received from the publisher "Copp's U. S. Salary List and Civil Service Rules." Our many readers will welcome the solid information contained in the 160 pages of this recently issued book. It is prepared by Henry N. Copp, a lawyer of Washington, D. C. All the government salaries are given from President Arthur's $50,000 to postmasters with $500, officials of the Treasury, Interior, War and Navy Departments, Custom Houses, post offices, and fully 20,000 federal offices, arranged by States and Territories. Specimen examination questions for admittance to the civil service throughout the country are added. The price of the book is only 35 cents.

GOOD JOKE.—W. B. Clark of Coles valley is one of the old time Republicans who glories in the success of his party and who is always on the alert for political news. One day last week just as he had finished dinner the carrier arrived with the mail. The first paper he opened proved to be a San Francisco Bulletin of November, 1866.

The first thing that met his eyes was a flaming headline "Great Republican Victory. Ohio 80,000, Indiana 40,000, Pennsylvania 60,000." Right here Mr. Clark broke out of the house with the paper in his hand, tossed his hat in the air and at the top of his voice cried out, "Hurrah for the Republicans! I said they would win!"

Just here the family and a couple of neighbors who were present came rushing out, and in an excited manner asked what was the matter. Mr. Clark cast his eye at the paper and seeing the date said, "Oh nothing. I was only trying to make a little noise." Since hearing the news from Ohio Mr. Clark thinks some one has been playing a trick on him—that it is not possible that the paper has been since 1866 coming from San Francisco.

BEAR KILLED.—Messrs Gesser, who reside a short distance south of Roseburg, last Sunday, about noon, saw a small black bear in the field a short distance from the house. They took a gun and dispatched him. From the evidence they found he had been stopping in their orchard and feasting on apples for some time and was immensely fat. The meat was brought to town and left at the butcher shop for sale. The hide will make as nice a robe as one could wish for.

The best five dollar boot in Roseburg can be bought at S. F. Floed's for $3 75.

On yesterday morning Deputy Sheriff Buick arrived on the morning train with a prisoner from the front, charged with forging a check on the railroad company. While Mr. Buick was "smiling" with a friend in one of our public resorts the prisoner took advantage of the absence of his attention and left. From the Deputy's description he is "a wab bit of lad, with a white rim on his hat and red flannel around his neck, and new boots on." If any one sees the prisoner they will please return him to the Sheriff.

News Summary.

The Senate sub-committee on labor and education is in New Hampshire taking testimony.

Alexander Thackery, a Philadelphia lawyer, is missing. Defalcation is suspected.

A meeting of 3000 Irishmen in Chicago, on the 16th, memorialized the President of the United States in behalf of O'Donnell, the slayer of Corey, the informer.

Gen. Roger A. Pryor, American counsel for O'Donnell, advises the friends of the latter to be on their guard against false and malicious reports, and not to weaken in their sympathy.

A number of the survivors of the battle of Bull Run visited the field on the 15th. Among those present were General Longstreet, General Ayers, Colonel Tansill and others of the Confederate army, and General Rosecrans, General Fairchild and others of the Federal army.

An application by the prosecuting attorney for an injunction to restrain the St. Louis Post-Dispatch from using certain short-hand notes of testimony given to the grand jury was denied by the circuit judge, who held that he could not interfere with the liberty of the press.

H. Clay Myers, mayor of East Portland, has resigned his office on account of some objections being made to his accepting certain public work. Mr. Myers has served that city a long time and never did anything against its interests. If any one else can do better he does not wish to stand in the way.

Who says now that Oregon is not advancing in the way of civilization? If such an obtuse and stubborn person exists, let him read the accounts of the prize fight and its accompanying "features," that took place some nine miles below Portland, last Sunday.

Details of the affair are about as disgusting as those of like manly games in the east, and will probably be up to the mark after the game becomes properly acclimated.

Very positively the Seattle Post-Intelligencer says that the Chinese are coming into the territory from British Columbia, by way of New Westminster and Whatcom, is not to be doubted.

Every week half a dozen or more come by that route—that is, those who are known to come, while many more probably come of whom less is known.

On the Washington, last Friday, four came who there was abundant reason for believing were straight from New Westminster. The fellows were afraid to land here at first, and hid on arrival of the boat, to prevent discovery.

They afterwards shipped up town, and now, as far as detection is concerned, are undoubtedly lost to the law officers.

The strength of the New York rich men can be understood when four or five of them loan $19,000,000 in a single day to a railroad. But the men who do this are almost all railroad men, and the tendency is to concentrate all valuable railroad property into a few hands. In ten years more, as the country is progressing, all the trunk lines will be substantially under one management, and will be readily controlled by probably less than twenty men.

It will be a powerful more tremendous than ever existed in private individuals before, and will be as potent in the rule of this country as was ever the East India company in India.

The lottery companies have seized upon another lease of life. When Postmaster-General Gresham closed the mails against letters addressed to lottery companies, and directed that letters addressed to agents of lottery companies be not delivered, it seemed as if the lottery must go. But the postal note appeared, and as it is made payable to "bearer," and postmasters have no means of identifying the recipient of the money, as they have in the case of the money order, the lottery man gets the money. The postmaster-general is having a hard time of it in his praiseworthy efforts to suppress these gambling affairs, but he is determined to exterminate them, and the chances are that he will devise means to get over this new difficulty.

The Dallas Itemizer says: Mr. E. T. Miller placed on our table a specimen of one of the greatest natural curiosities it has been our privilege to witness for some time. It consisted of a fir bough coated to the depth of half an inch in places with a clear white wax. The specimen came from the neighborhood of Bald mountain, northwest of Kings valley, where we are informed nearly all the trees are so coated. It is evidently crystallized honey-dew, and must exist in immense quantities in that section. The settlers gather it and manufacture it into syrup for table use. Oregon against the world.

Double Wedding.

On Wednesday evening at 8 1/2 o'clock, at the residence of G. W. Jones, in this city, there was solemnized a double wedding, Rev. H. P. Webb officiating.

The parties who thus bid adieu to the state of "single wretchedness," were Mr. T. W. Morgan and Miss Cora Jones, Mr. J. F. Barker and Miss Anna E. Jones.

For some days previous there had been considerable flutter in our social circles in anticipation of this event, which was to weld in the indissoluble bonds of hymen four happy hearts.

At the appointed hour the contracting parties and a large number of friends assembled at the residence of Mr. G. W. Jones and the officiating clergyman pronounced the words which made the above named persons man and wife.

Immediately afterward, as soon as the bridal party repaired to Marks' hall, to participate in a grand ball given in their honor. We understand their appearance at the hall was greeted with demonstrations of applause, the young people present thus attesting their respect for the newly wedded pairs.

The brides were dressed elegantly, we learn; the presents were numerous and the occasion was altogether pleasant.

We tender our congratulations and hope that their journey through life may be marked by joy and happiness.

AN Omaha dispatch of recent date says: The Comte de Lagrange of Paris, who has been here for about a month as agent of the French government, left this evening for France with twenty-two Omaha Indians, ten men, five women and seven children, whom he has secured for the world's exposition at Paris.

They are fine-looking Indians and will take part in the exposition of uncivilized races of the world, which will be one of the principal features.

Nervous Prostration and Insomnia.

In nervous prostration and sleeplessness, from which so many invalids suffer, Compound Oxygen rarely fails to bring relief.

A lady (a teacher) in Avoca, Wisconsin, who had been a great sufferer, sought help in Compound Oxygen. At the end of five weeks she wrote: "The night after taking my first inhalation of Oxygen, I slept like a babe! I could have cried for joy the next morning. I felt that the restful sleep of that one night was worth the price paid for the treatment. This now a comfort to lie down at night, for I do not have to look forward to long, weary hours of nerve-jerking (which to me is harder to bear than pain). No more midnight alcohol and water baths; no more rubbings, countings, nor walking the floor in agony—but rest, sweet rest instead."

Our treatise on Compound Oxygen, its nature, action and results, with reports of cases and full information, sent free. Drs. STARKEY & PALEN, 1109 and 1111 Girard st., Philadelphia, Pa.

All orders for the Compound Oxygen Home Treatment directed to H. E. Mathews, 606 Montgomery street, San Francisco, will be filled on the same terms as if sent directly to us in Philadelphia.

The Norristown Herald says: John L. Sullivan, the slugger, has just opened a saloon in Boston. Not being able to "knock out" men fast enough with his fists, he has employed Tom, Jerry and demi-John to assist him in the business—a triumvirate that can knock out the best man living.

RECIPES FOR PREPARING SHEEP-DIP.—Take one-half pound of unslacked lime, put in enough water to slack thoroughly; when well slacked add one gallon of water and one pound of sulphur; boil until the sulphur is well dissolved, then add three gallons of water. Use it from 115 to 125 degrees in heat; let sheep remain in one minute.

DAYS OREK.

S. T. Garrison and family removed to Canyonville last Saturday.

Charley McNeal is over at Myrtle Creek, laboring for John Hall.

Joseph Chamberlain has purchased two spans of horses. Joe is now able to do a rushing business.

A gentleman from Oakland on a matrimonial cruise, came up and it is said everything is now in readiness for conjugal delight.

The river near this place has been scoured for a supposed animal, treasure, or the dead carcass of some human form, but all to no effect. The mystery still remains mysterious.

David O'Neal and family have taken their departure for Glendale. Some of the juveniles will weep, but we hope not in vain.

Ephraim Raymond is now moving into his new quarters, where he will be conveniently situated for school and church.

The public school closed here last Friday, the 12th of October. Eckley Beals received the first prize. He went the entire term, without being absent a single day. Eckley is a promising young man. Miss Lilly Linville won the second prize. Several contented for this, but Miss Lilly being the most attentive and the most punctual pupil in her class, came out victorious.

The third class was composed of very studious pupils, but Miss Edney Flock and Miss Fannie Hanks were the closest contestants. Miss Edney having missed one day Miss Fannie gained the present. The prize for the smallest boys and girls was won by little Theodore Beals, whose attentiveness was fully equal to any in school.

FROM OAKLAND.

M. Fickle visited friends in Portland this week.

Sol. Abraham gave us a pleasant visit this week.

Jno. Norwood is in Portland purchasing a fall and winter stock of goods.

Mrs. Gibson, who was called away to eastern Oregon a few weeks since on business, returned home this week.

Ed. Cathart, from Cottage Grove, is visiting relatives and friends in this vicinity.

The Mechanic's fair is now in order and a few of our prospective people are doing Portland, to take in the lively scenes that always attend.

Rev. Shelby, from Dram, delivered a very interesting sermon on Monday evening to the people of Oakland. Rev. Shelby is an active worker in the cause of Christianity and should be encouraged by all.

Railroad carpenters are now busily engaged reconstructing and repairing the depot, and will also build a large and commodious walk from the depot to R. Thomas' hotel.

J. H. Howard arrived at home direct from Kansas on last Saturday evening's train. Mr. Howard's visit to his parental roof was short, he being called home to the sick-bed of his wife.

Alex. Brown, an old and highly respected citizen of this place, is dangerously ill at the present time, but is reported now as being in a better condition than he was a few days since.

The cinnabar mines are attracting considerable attention and we are in hopes that they may be successfully worked in a short time. A mining expert from California interviewed them this week and seems to be satisfied that they will prove valuable if handled properly.

M. Fickle, the railroad agent at this place, sent in his resignation a few days since and will now engage in something more substantial and permanent than railroad work. Mr. F. will soon take his departure for other scenes, and will be greatly missed by every one in this place who knows him.

The cement mines near this place are attracting considerable attention of late, and it will not be long before work will be commenced to open them. A mining expert from San Francisco visited the mines this week, but we are unable to furnish a report of his idea concerning the mines.

The work of improvement is still going on with great energy and the sound of the carpenter's hammer may be heard on every hand. The Baptist church is nearing completion. Mr. R. Thomas' hotel is now ready for occupation. Mr. A. F. Brown is now improving the appearance of his store by putting in a new front and the R. R. Co. is making some needed improvements at and near the depot.

We are requested to announce that a meeting of the friends and patrons of the Y. M. C. A. reading room will be held at the room on Sabbath evening, at the conclusion of church service. Let all who are interested drop in at that hour and consult together in relation to the interests of the reading room.
