Republican Tactics.

Chicago has been chosen as the place for holding the next national Republican convention, which is called to meet on the 3d day of June next. The key note to their campaign thunder has been sounded by the national committee and the representatives of the Union league. These politicians, like drowning men catching at straws, have seized upon the recent decision of the Supreme court of the United States in declaring the civil rights bill unconstitutional, as a pretext for again raising the bloody flag, after these many years of peace and quiet throughout the land. Under the leadership of the notorious Gorham and the traitor Mahone, they have been diligently manufacturing kuklux outrages to order. For the purpose of creating a war of races throughout the southern States they have sent enemies of the worst character among the negroes of that section to revive and reorganize the Union league, and under the pretext of protecting the negro in the enjoyment of his civil rights, incite the ignorant blacks to outrages and riotous conduct, and from these disturbances send to the northern press statements calculated to fire the people of the north against the south, and thus get up a sectional campaign. On this hangs the hopes of the Republican party for success. The power and utility of these secret organizations in politics they fully understand. In the strait to which the party is driven at the present it will not scruple at anything, even to endanger the perpetuity of the republic itself. That they have no real love for the negro no one will pretend, further than to serve to keep and maintain them in power. They would as readily take the Chinamen for their ally, if they could but utilize him for the same purpose. This fact was fully demonstrated by the party action on the Chinese restriction bills. The Republican politicians fear to go before the country on the square issue tendered to them by the election of Carlisle and the laws proposed by the Democratic leaders for the regulation of the railroad monopolies, revision of the tariff and reformation of the civil service. Their only hope to escape these issues is to encite sectional hostilities and direct public attention to the south and utter the cry, "we saved the Union," to blind the eyes of the people to the source of wrong which is plundering and robbing them of their substance.

The Tariff Issue.

Chicago Tribune.

If, under the whip and spur of the caucus, Speaker Carlisle shall force a radical reduction of the tariff through the house, it is not at all likely that such a bill will receive the concurrence of the Republican senate and the approval of the Republican President, and consequently the two parties will go before the country clearly committed upon the tariff issue. If this be brought about, it may be predicted confidently that there will be mere disturbance in party allegiance than there has ever been since the war of the rebellion was inaugurated, and no man can foretell which of the two contending parties will be the gainer and which the loser. In the event of a trial of strength on this question the political situation will be more interesting and important than at any time since slavery was an issue.

New Rules of Logic.

The Democratic party cannot be trusted, because a Republican Supreme court decided the civil rights bill unconstitutional.

Virginia has no republican form of government, because it will not repudiate its debt; and the rebel Mahone and his progeny were fined for drawing their revolvers on peaceable citizens on election day. It should therefore be put under military rule, to prevent kuklux outrages.

The elections are not fair in the south, because the people of Virginia defeated the obnoxious Mahone and his repudiaters.

The country is in great peril because Carlisle, the Democratic speaker, was born in Kentucky.

The pre-emption laws should be repealed to prevent congress from granting the public domain to corporations.

Reducing the tariff on wool and increasing it on manufactured goods, makes clothing cheap and is a protection to the farmer.

The foregoing rules of logic are published for the benefit of Republican stump speakers, who are preparing for the presidential campaign of 1884, and are in general use as the basis of Republican editorials at present.

RELIGIOUS.—Rev. Walter Marvine of the Episcopal church, will hold services at this place, in the Episcopal church, Christmas night. The church has been tastily decorated by the ladies and everybody is invited to attend. The services will commence at 7 o'clock P. M.

The Public Lands.

The latest attempt of the Republican party to favor the monopolies at the expense of the people, is foreshadowed in the recommendation of the Secretary of the Interior in advising the repeal of the pre-emption and timber-culture and timber claim laws and amendment of the homestead laws, so as to make it next to impossible for the individual citizen to obtain title to the public lands. The object is apparent and is an attempt upon the part of the administration to tie up the public lands and force the homeless to resort to the railroad corporations for homes. This is a high-handed game and if successful will give these gigantic corporations a complete monopoly of the public lands, and they would not only be enabled to dispose of their lands, but to dictate absolute terms to those in search of homes. That the Republican members will almost unanimously second the administration in this gigantic swindle, is to be expected; but it is to be hoped that the Democratic majority in the house will interfere on behalf of the people and prevent all such swindling legislation.

The Credit System.

The credit system upon which the business of our country has been transacted for so many years, is a false principle of business and manifestly unjust to the great mass of laboring people. It serves the capitalist as a lever to reduce the real value of the wages which the laborer receives just in the ratio that the floating credit of the country bears to the money in circulation.

The precious metals which are used as the standard of values in all civilized countries are dug from the earth which we inhabit, and are coined for the benefit of the people and belongs to them. When unrestricted by legislation it will circulate freely through the natural avenues of trade, and serve the purpose for which it is coined. When money is plenty we have what we call good times; the laborer is promptly paid his wages, and the artisan and mechanic are enabled to meet their obligations.

When money is close we have hard times, the poor man is unable to pay his debts, his family are curtailed in their expenses, trade diminishes, followed by the closing of industries, labor strikes and financial failures.

This is not caused by reason of there being any less money in the country, but by its being retired from circulation and locked up in the government vaults and private coffers, while a false credit upon which the people pay interest is floated in its stead.

A law which takes from the people their money and locks it up in iron vaults is no better than open robbery, and a party which will enact and uphold such a system of legislation is more dangerous when in power than the freebooter on the high seas or the brigand on our public highways.

That such is the policy of the Republican party is manifest by its public acts, and the financial throes and labor strikes we have passed through since it came into power is proof positive that there is something radically wrong, when we consider that the balance of trade has been in our favor and that our mines have produced more of the precious metals during the time, than in any other age of the world's history.

VILLARD RESIGNS.—Henry Villard has resigned the presidency of the Oregon Transcontinental and the Oregon Railway and Navigation company. The reason assigned for the resignation, Villard says, is that he became impressed with the conviction that it would not be proper for him to continue as president of all the companies whose management he has heretofore directed, after completion of the Northern Pacific. W. Endicott Jr. of Boston, succeeds him in the former company and T. Jefferson Coolidge as president of the latter. It is also rumored that Villard intends to withdraw from the Northern Pacific.

W. C. T. U.—A meeting of the Womens Christian Temperance Union will be held at the Presbyterian church next Sabbath evening, that date being the tenth anniversary of the organization of the Crusade, from which this society sprung. An entertaining program has been arranged and a general invitation is extended to the public. A preliminary meeting will be held to-day at three o'clock P. M., at the residence of Rev. H. P. Webb.

Eldorado Mineral Water.

CHEMICAL ANALYSIS.

CHEMICAL LABORATORY, ASSAY OFFICE, BULLION ROOMS AND ORE ROOMS, 524 Sacramento street, San Francisco, Nov. 23, 1883.

Messrs. Holbrook, Merrill and Stitson. Gentlemen. I have submitted to qualitative analysis the sample of Eldorado water handed me for examination and find it to consist of the following substances: Chlorine, Iodine, Carbonic Acid, Iron, Alumina, Lime, Magnesia, Soda and organic matter.

THOMAS PRICE.

ROSEBURG, Dec. 3, 1883.

GEO. W. JONES: Dear Sir. From sheer curiosity I was induced to try Eldorado Water and was not only surprised but highly gratified with the result. I have for many years been a sufferer from dyspepsia and have tried every kind of pepsin known to pharmacy and without result. The contrary was my experience from the use of your mineral water. Taken according to directions it produced immediate relief and in a short time, if continued, would secure permanent cure. To any who will avoid irritating stimulants, I am satisfied it will prove of valuable comfort and benefit. As a general regulator I found it most excellent.

L. F. LANE.

DALLAS, Dec. 2, 1883.

From Mr. M. W. Parsons, last August, I received one bottle of the Jones Eldorado water, from Dr. Hamilton of Roseburg. Used half a bottle for catarrh and can fully recommend it for that dreaded disease, as I have not been troubled with the complaint since.

D. T. SEARS.

I have also used the Eldorado spring water from Jones' spring, Douglas county, Oregon, and am fully satisfied with the result, as I was bothered with catarrh.
