LOCAL ITEMS.

These warm days are a great relief to the farmers of this valley.

Horace Hanna of Oakland, was in Roseburg this week.

Wednesday of this week was Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent.

John Hall of Myrtle Creek, was on our streets Wednesday, looking as hale and hearty as usual.

Thomas Sabine of Belchertown, Massachusetts, celebrated his one hundredth birthday on the 22 of December.

Charles M. Stephens is prepared to do all kinds of repairing of harness and saddles, at his harness shop in Drain.

Charles M. Stephens keeps on hand and for sale harness and saddles of the best material, at Drain, Oregon.

The Rescue Hook and Ladder company will give a calico ball at the skating rink, on the night of the 17th of March.

Robert Newcomb, who has been ill for some time, we are pleased to learn is much improved in health and will resume his duties as grand recorder of the A. O. U. W.

Our book-keeper, who has taken a lively interest in this Egyptian business, says that the accounts are balanced thus: England—all loss and no profit. Mahdi—all prophet and no loss.

Richard Smith, a retired merchant of Oakland, was in the city this week. He is now traveling agent for Staver & Walker, of Portland, for the sale of agricultural machinery.

Win. Irwin of Tennie, was in Roseburg this week, conspiring for the interests of his part of the county. We do not charge William with being a conspirator or a politician, but there is evidently something in the wind.

Four prisoners escaped from the Portland jail on the morning of the 26th. Their names are John F. Black, Bill Barker, Chas. McLaughlin and Ike Lawrence. Lawrence came back when he got sleepy. The others remained away all night.

The entertainment at Wilbur on Monday next will consist of a select programme of songs, recitations and dialogues, besides an address by Hon. E. B. McElroy. Admission 50 cents, proceeds for expense and improvement fund.

"Pa, what is poetic license?" "Well, my boy, as nearly as I can learn, poetic license is something which enables a man to say things in verse which would incarcerate him in a lunatic asylum if worked off at a political meeting."

By letter from Corvallis of February 23, we are pained to learn that the wife of Rev. J. B. N. Bell is critically ill of the pernicious fever, her babe being only thirteen days old. From late advices it appears she is no better and grave fears are entertained of the result.

The leap-year ball which was gotten up for the benefit of the fire department, netted about $14, which the ladies turned over to the Rescue Hook and Ladder company. The company in turn turned the money over to the city, to aid in the purchase of a fire-alarm bell.

Isaac Velzain and Robert Strotler left Roseburg last week for the Coeur d'Alene mines. They are both experienced miners and if the gold is as plenty as reported we expect them both back by Christmas loaded with the precious metal. Our best wishes for success will ever attend them.

Count Chambord, who during his moderately long life asked for a kingdom and was forced to feed upon the husks of royalty at his own expense, is to be given a memorial monument in Brittany by the Bonapartists.

Another instance wherein a man "asked for bread and was given a stone."

Villard's affairs, after a public rest of some weeks, are again discussed in various quarters. The Philadelphia Press reports that he will go into bankruptcy. If half that has been reported concerning his losses is true, there seems little else for him to do at present. The report that his financial wreck was so complete as to leave him no alternative but to retire to Europe for rest, has not been substantiated by events.

About dark Monday night a fire was discovered in the basement of the State university at Eugene, by a carpenter who was at work a short distance from the building. He called to his assistance some boys and they succeeded in putting out the fire before much damage was done. The fire was started in a pile of wood, about the middle of the basement of the building. From the evidence of kerosene oil having been used, it showed unmistakably that the fire was started by an incendiary.

The latest San Francisco decision on the subject of gambling, we copy from the Chronicle of the 21st: Charges of misdemeanor against four young men captured on Sunday night in a Market-street saloon, playing "stand-horse" poker, were dismissed in Judge Webb's court, yesterday. They were discharged on motion of the prosecuting attorney, who stated that he was satisfied that "stand-horse" poker was not a banking game, and was as legitimate as "straight" poker, which is considered by all legal luminaries to be only a game of skill, and not of chance.

The beautiful spring-time has come at last; at least we are led to so believe from the bright sunshine which has chased away the bleak shades of winter and given new verdure to the fields and a floral decoration to our hillsides. The severe cold spell of two weeks ago has done its work. Many of the red-breast messengers and merry songsters of the meadow lie dead upon the sward, whilst the pastures are strewn with the moldering carcasses of the ewe and lambkin. In many herds fully one-fourth of the old sheep and a large percentage of the lambs died during the cold weather.

A. S. Jacobs, sheriff of Jackson county, was in Roseburg last Monday. He came down armed with a warrant of arrest for a woman of the town charged with dealing faro at Granta Pass, Jackson county. After Mr. Jacobs had made the arrest he offered his fair prisoner her freedom if she would furnish one hundred dollar bail bond, but she modestly declined the offer, as she would have to attend court any way, and preferred to travel in Mr. Jacobs's company, as he was a good looking gentleman and under the circumstances was compelled to furnish the fare. They left on the evening train, seemingly as happy and contented as two old lovers.

The Murray Trial.

The trial of J. W. Murray for killing his brother-in-law, in Multnomah county, lasted eleven days, culminating in the jury returning a verdict of murder in the first degree. The circumstances of the killing were that Murray and his wife had been separated for some time and he had been drinking. About the holidays Mrs. Murray was at a party. Murray went there and wanted her to accompany him home, which she refused to do. Towards morning she, in company with her brother, were going home, when they were fired upon and the young man instantly killed. The shot was fired from behind a board fence. The defense of insanity was attempted to be set up by the prisoner. The evidence disclosed that the only mental derangement was caused by drink, which is no excuse for crime, and under the instructions of the court the jury returned their verdict on the morning of the 22, of murder in the first degree. Judge Smith appointed Wednesday of this week for passing sentence.

A Thief at Large.

Sunday afternoon Mr. Crocker and his wife, who live at the Eberline mill, on the river south of Roseburg, were visiting at Steve Minard's. A young man by the name of William Rider, who was working at Minard's, went to Crocker's house and with the aid of an axe effected an entrance, and stole a valise, a suit of clothes, nine or ten dollars in money, a revolver and a lot of cartridges. Monday morning Mr. Crocker came to Roseburg and swore out a warrant. During the day Mr. Minard found the valise, with the clothing, hid in his stable or barn. When Mr. Crocker returned he informed him where they were. Mr. Crocker took the clothes out of the valise and put in some old gunny sacks in their place and concealed himself in the barn. Tuesday morning when young Rider went to feed the horses he went to the valise to examine it. When he caught hold of the valise Crocker called to him and informed him that he had been laying for him. The young man wanted to compromise the matter, but Crocker told him he would have to come and see Sheriff Purdom, as he could not let him off. This he declined to do and Mr. Crocker requested Mr. Minard to watch him until he could bring the sheriff, but when he started to leave the boy broke and ran. Mr. Crocker started for Roseburg and met Sheriff Purdom going out. The sheriff has been searching for the culprit but up to the present writing has not caught his man.

P. S. Since the above was put in type young Rider returned to Mr. Minard's, who brought him to Roseburg and turned him over to Sheriff Purdom. Judge Willis has been retained to defend him and the preliminary hearing before Judge Fitzhugh is set for 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

The potato is probably the most demoralizing of vegetables. It was brought to Europe from America, where it had doubtless kept the native races in perpetual barbarism, and just in proportion as any nation has become addicted to it that nation has deteriorated. The potato contains little wholesome nourishment—less even than the rice eaten by Oriental nations. It produces fat but does not produce bone and sinew, and what is by far its worst fault, it has a most disastrous influence upon the mind and morals.—New York Times.

Mr. R. D. Pitt, who has lost caste with his countrymen and been bounced out of the Irish land league, may have one consolation left, to-wit: He may still be a simple, plain American citizen, as we natives are.

DANCING SCHOOL.—Prof. Samuel Bayley is teaching a dancing school in Roseburg. The sessions will be held at the skating rink, on Tuesday and Friday of next week and on Monday and Friday for the balance of the month, including ten lessons. Terms—five dollars per scholar; half payable at the conclusion of five lessons and the balance at the end of the term.

Oles Valley Items.

Everybody looks happy since the snow disappeared and farmers in this valley will begin plowing and seeding again in a few days.

W. B. Clarke has been very busy for the past few days, running saw-logs down to his mill from the premises of B. W. Sprague.

Thomas Day and family have removed from the poor farm, where Mr. Day has been at work for W. B. Clarke for some time. Thomas will now be found on his own place, on upper Hubbard creek.

George Hawkens has been sojourning at Clarkesburg for a few days. He is a guest of H. M. Hawn's. George says he would like to find that fellow called "Peanut."

S. O. Emery contemplates building a ferry-boat and establishing a ferry opposite the residence N. T. Day, on the Umpqua river, about one and one-half miles above Umpqua ferry. Report says George Hawkens is to be captain of the ferry-boat.

The poor-house sent a delegate to Clarkesburg the other day. While in the burg the delegate and one of our most prominent and knowing citizens, one who keeps posted about everybody's business, met and fixed up a tirade for the benefit of a certain person not a thousand miles from Clarkesburg, and sent their poor-house literature to one of our county papers for publication. Another person, a prominent citizen of Hubbard creek, also came to Clarkesburg in order to help whoop 'em up. When they got their paper, alas for their fond hopes, it seems that the editor clipped their item and you bet, somebody was mad and our smart citizen said some funny things and called the county editor curious names—something that might have been "school boy." We think that S. B. stands for school boy, anyway. Moral—When you want to give a person a setting up in the county papers do not take too many persons to help you and especially an inmate of the poor-house, for they may give it away.

The Coles valley school closed on the 22d inst. with a grand exhibition. The declamations and dialogues delivered by the students were a credit to both students and teacher, showing that each one done their best and that they had taken both time and pains to make the entertainment a success to themselves and one of enjoyment to the spectators. The song by little Lorena Clayton, entitled "Ten thousand miles away," was very nicely sung. The small scholars edited a paper called the "Coles Valley Echo," which was a spicy little sheet, read by little Miss Minnie Thompson. The large students had a paper entitled the "Coles Valley Literary Vilette." It was edited and read by Mr. A. D. Hawn and was filled by contributions by any one and every one who would contribute. Some articles were very good, some might have been dispensed with, and we think if the editor had done a little more clipping and dropped a few pieces into the waste-basket instead of inserting them in the columns of his paper, it might have retained the friendship of a few who if they have ever cast a slur at him do not know it. As far as we are concerned we thank the editor for his little slur on us, and if he has derived any satisfaction or benefits from it he can enjoy them to suit himself. We thank Mr. A. D. Hawn and kindly wish him success. W. E. JORDAN.

Calapooia Items.

The people seem to be glad to see warm weather once more.

John Kerley has been on the sick list for a spell, but is fast recovering.

William Strange made us a flying visit, with his forceps ready to pull all frost-bitten teeth.

Owing to the cold spell of weather the stock looks very thin, but some of the hay mows will look thinner before spring.

The debating society is in a flourishing condition once more, and if all would take an interest could be made a grand success.

The dance given at Hue Cole's on the 21st was largely attended and all report a grand time, especially so the young ladies, who are bound to stay with their colors. JUMBO.

Dr.—At her father's residence, on Tuesday the 26th, Esther Teuey, daughter of S. Teuey, who is residing on the John Aiken farm, some two miles north of Roseburg; The deceased was in the 18th-year of her age and had been an invalid the greater part of her life. She was subject to epilepsy and required constant care and watching. On Thursday of last week she was taken with convulsions, which lasted until Friday night. After this her breathing gradually grew weaker, until Tuesday, when her spirit calmly and quietly passed away and the body as to rest, freed from suffering and pain.

One of our county officials is causing many a long drawn sigh to escape the lips of some of our fair country maidens by the marked attention he is bestowing upon a city damsel. Our advice to the young man is to go slow; the election is high at hand and the vote comes from the rural districts.

Mount Scott Items.

The storm has subsided and we are experiencing beautiful and spring-like weather.

A flock of wild geese passed north a few nights since. According to the old saying we may expect spring.

Wm. C. Tipton met with a severe accident by his horse falling and fracturing one of the bones of his right leg below the knee. The bone was set by his father and some of the hired men and is doing well. We hope he may soon recover from his injury. He is one of our most energetic young men and will be much missed during his confinement.

Everything is quiet in this neighborhood. The pipe of peace has been smoked by all the tribes; the tomahawk lies buried; the war dance has subsided; the camp-fires have disappeared from the hillsides.

Some of the young ladies of this vicinity are taking the benefit of leap year. Hiding behind the person of St. Valentine they send forth their effusions of love to the young men and bachelors. We are of the opinion that the young men are to be sought and won by the fair damsels during the present year and the young gentlemen should not encroach upon their privileges, and would advise the fair maidens to make hay while the sun shines.

Madam rumor has it that there is to be a wedding or two in this neck of woods soon. From the regular visits a certain young man of this neighborhood makes to Roberts creek church, we can safely say there will be one more to be added to the list.

The deputy tax collector called on the delinquents of this precinct last week and reminded them of what was due the State and county. He carried away some of the surplus coin and the sweet smiles he smole at some of the fair maidens would lead me to conclude he has practised this art to perfection. We feel sure he will return again to this vicinity. Two of the delinquents consider themselves slighted and feel much aggrieved that the deputy did not call on them.

A new school district was organized here recently—No. 68—and everything arranged for a school in the spring, with the exception of a teacher. A good pedagogue that can teach the young idea how to shoot, can find employment for three months, at good wages.

Many of our people are suffering with colds, which is a great drawback on farmers this nice weather. Mr. Wimberly and several members of his family are quite poorly.

Grandmother Marks, who was long well and favorably known among us, died on the 21st, in her 83d year.

The wife of Isaac Matthews, who has been very low since last summer and who has been treated by Dr. Saubert for consumption, is believed to be on the mend. She was moved a few days ago from her home to her mother's, Mrs. E. J. Chapman, without any ill effect.

A. E. Champagne, mine host of the Cosmopolitan, is visiting his friend E. Chevigny at the head of navigation on the east Umpqua. He will return in a few days for his family.

The Winchester and shotguns have been consigned to their resting places for the season. Many of the nimrods have the appearance of a forlorn hope, but they say it is law and they will acquiesce.

FROM OAKLAND.

Sunshine again.

Crop prospects were never better.

The extreme cold weather played havoc with the stock.

The tax-collector has been in our midst.

Dr. H. Little is doing Myrtle Creek this week.

John Hamilton of Jackson county is with us this week.

The matrimonial market has closed for this season, and will remain in an unsettled condition until winter.

A letter of some importance (?) has gone astray and is wandering in the wild woods. The owner can obtain it by making proper application to one of our townsmen.

Our morals are still above par and we hope they may remain in that condition; however there may soon be a reverse of things, as one extreme always follows another.

The population of our town is on the increase, and the members of Mr. Hamilton's household were made to rejoice at the arrival of a little boy on Monday. Another Independent victory.

The Baptist church was overcrowded Sunday at the dedication. Everybody were there, the moral and the immoral, the saint and the sinner, and all were satisfied that the establishment of the Baptist church in this place was a move in the right direction.

Mother Daniels received a severe injury a few days since from a fall on the frozen ground, and sustained a fracture of the thigh bone near the hip joint. At this writing she is comfortable, and we hope will soon recover.

We have nothing of any importance to report this time. Our general health is good, and those who have been seriously ill are convalescent. Business matters are assuming a more active and solid basis and everything indicates prosperity for the future.

Miscellaneous News.

Tipnot items came too late for this issue.

He was a red-haired chap, closely shaven, with a peculiar droop to the upper lid of the left eye. He had been imbibing rather freely. His honor or one of the city dads, with neatly arranged cravat and hair parted in the middle, came slowly walking down Jackson street. An old grudge, of long standing—a debt of gratitude, no doubt. "I'll pay him," mused the red-haired bruiser. He let drive from the shoulder and the city father lay sprawling on the sidewalk, to the material derangement of his fine broadcloth. The red-haired lad rushed for the city recorder, who he found enjoying a game of billiards. He informed his honor of what had taken place and wanted to pay his fine. The recorder politely informed him that it was no offense to knock down a councilman in daylight. He thanked his honor for the information and went on his way rejoicing.

Mr. Henry Fleckenstein of the firm of Fleckenstein & Mayor, wholesale liquor merchants of Portland, made us a pleasant call on yesterday. He has been south into Jackson and Josephine counties for the last ten days. He says they have been having unusual fine spring weather, with clear warm sunshiny days.

Charles Hirstel, of the firm of Abraham, Hirstel & Co., is in Roseburg looking after the interests of their firm. Theirs is one of the most prosperous wholesale grocery houses in Portland.
