LOCAL ITEMS.

The gentle April showers give promise of a beautiful harvest.

Miss Alice Mosher is now teaching the public school at Tenmile and Miss Emma Mosher the school in Flourary valley, below Looking Glass.

The contest which has been carried on in the Good Templar lodge closed last Tuesday. It has been a hotly contested battle and closes with company A in the lead.

McClulloch & McCurdy are now engaged in refitting and painting the Metropolitan. When completed it will be one of the most attractive saloons in the city.

William Glover, late superintendent of the Coos Bay stage line, paid the city a visit this week. He will remain but a few days and will return to Idaho, where he is engaged in a more lucrative business.

The reports from various parts of the county indicate that the peach crop will be lighter than last year, apples, prunes and plums much larger, while the season is favorable for better fruit than last year.

William Carl, superintendent of the stage line from Roseburg to Coos Bay, arrived in town Wednesday and proceeded over the stage line which will be run over the road by May first, or as soon as the road from Roseburg to Looking Glass is passable for wagons.

Last week Bailey Singleton was returning home to his place on Deer creek from Roseburg, when his horse, which was a spirited young animal, fell with him and upon one of his feet and legs, inflicting a severe injury, from which he has since been confined to his room.

Republican primaries to-day, (Saturday.) We will not prophesy any dissatisfaction. It is usual for the brethren to dwell together in harmony. But—when they all want offices some must be deferred. A promise for the future will suffice. The losses know how to throw out the sugar plums. So we glide.

Rev. J. W. Webb, grand lecturer of the Good Templar order of Oregon, and late of California, will be in attendance at the District lodge next week, and will lecture here during the week. Mr. Webb is a very successful worker in the temperance cause and will greatly assist in making the meetings successful.

On last Tuesday morning Eugene Hanna was thrown from a fractious horse in Carlson's livery stable, as he was preparing to start home. He struck his shoulder and head upon the floor, causing a concussion of the brain. He remained unconscious for about an hour, when he recovered. His injuries were severe, but not dangerous and we are pleased to learn that he is gradually improving.

A young man by the name of Striker, living at Drain station, was out hunting last Saturday with a younger brother, a youth about 12 or 14 years of age. When descending a hill about a mile and a half from town the gun, which the boy was carrying, was accidentally discharged, the ball striking his brother in the thigh, inflicting a severe but, it is hoped, not a dangerous wound.

We desire to call the attention of the friends of temperance in this county to the meeting of the District lodge of Good Templars, which convenes next Thursday evening at the Grange hall in this city and continuing during the week. A fine program has been arranged and we are assured that a grand good time will be enjoyed. The evening sessions will be open to the public.

Cassidy of Nevada, in speaking of his vote to take up the Morrison tariff bill, says: "I voted to consider the bill because I believe it is the duty of congress, with its $150,000,000 annual surplus coming into the treasury, to reduce the tariff; or, in other words, I think no more war tax should be collected."

Just before going to press we learned that John Johnson, who is engaged in erecting a new dwelling house on Main street in this city, met with an accident. Some scaffolding, fifteen or twenty feet from the ground, on which he had three bunches of shingles, fell with him, the shingles falling on top of him. Fortunately he received but slight injury and is now at work.

Page & Dimmick, Oakland, Oregon, are this week receiving large additions to their already extensive stock of drugs, medicines, patent medicines, paints, oils and glass, also a large assortment of writing paper, envelopes, inks, alates and school books. These goods have been carefully selected, with a view to the demand of their customers. Book-rod cash prices were paid for this stock and they can offer goods at the lowest rates. Remember, we will not be undersold.

The people of Roseburg were highly entertained at the Presbyterian church Wednesday evening, on the occasion of Mr. Leavitt's lecture, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. The audience was not as large as it should have been but those who were present were well repaid. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Webb in a short and pointed address. Mrs. L. is a pleasing and fluent talker and held the close attention of the audience throughout her address, in which she presented a great mass of facts and figures in relation to her subject, which will and anecdote were not wanting to enliven and give vivacity to the subject.

TREASURER'S NOTICE.—All persons holding county warrants, endorsed prior to Jan. 31, 1884, are hereby notified to present them at the County Treasurer's office, in the court house in Roseburg, on or before April 19, 1884, as interest will cease from that date. W. N. Moore, County Treasurer.

A CARD.—Having closed out my store and retired from the mercantile business, I have placed the settlement of my affairs in the hands of Hon A F Campbell. All persons indebted to me are requested to settle with him and make immediate payment and all persons whom I am owing are requested to present their accounts to him for settlement. S. F. Floed

FOR SALE.—I will sell a good Hanes bander, with two header beds, single and doubletree, very low. Apply to S. B. HENDRICKS, near the depot, Roseburg, Or.

County Court—April Term.

IN THE COUNTY BUSINESS. In the matter of the alteration of the county road leading from Oakland to Roseburg. John Emmet, John Mires and Geo. W. Gorrell appointed viewers and John Little, surveyor, to meet at Oakland May 24, qualify, view, locate, alter, change and survey said road, as prayed for in the petition and make return of their proceedings at the regular term of court.

In the matter of the location of a county road from a point 11.42 chains north of J. N. Smith's donation claim to a point 5.56 chains south of southwest corner of C. Barrett's donation in township 25, south of range 6 west. Johnson Goff, Howard Martin and Joseph Hayes appointed viewers and William Thiel surveyor, to meet at Wilbur June 5th, qualify, view, locate, lay out and survey said road, as petitioned for, and report at next regular term of court.

In the matter of the application of Wm. C. Tipton for a road of public easement across the premises of Daniel Welker. The viewers having failed to make the view at the time appointed, by the order of the court the application is held void and proceeding dismissed.

In the matter of the conveyance from the city of Roseburg to Douglas county, Oregon, the conveyance appearing advantageous to the county the same is accepted and the portion of Lane street conveyed declared a public highway.

In the matter of the location of a county road from Yoncalla to Scotts valley. Wm. Stephens, James Richards and Harding Davis appointed a board to assess the damages, to meet at Yoncalla on the 19th day February, 1884, to assess the damages claimed by A. T. Ambrose, having failed to perform said duty, Perry Cook, James M. Ellison and Thomas Winniford be and are hereby appointed a board of assessors, to meet at Yoncalla on Saturday, May 10, 1884, to qualify and proceed to view said premises and ascertain how much less valuable the premises of A. T. Ambrose would be rendered by establishing said highway.

In the matter of the application of Wm. C. Tipton for a road of public easement over the land of Daniel Welker, from the residence of Tipton to the Mount Scott road. N. Imbler, Henry Landers and W. C. Winston appointed viewers, to view and locate said road, to meet Saturday, May 24, to qualify and view and locate said road, as prayed for in the petition, and make return at the next regular term of court.

In the matter of the construction of a county bridge over and across the south Umpqua river from the foot of Lane street in the corporate limits of the city of Roseburg, Douglas county, Oregon. The same being a public highway of Douglas county, Oregon, and within the jurisdiction of this court, to a certain tract of land on the west bank of said river, heretofore deeded by Rev. Bell to Douglas county, Oregon, as a right of way. Be it remembered that the court after considering the merits and demerits of the different plans of bridges submitted, does hereby adopt that which is known as the Combination Pratt truss bridge, the same to consist in this instance of two spans of two hundred feet each, and one span of one hundred feet, resting on three secure iron cylinder piers, with concrete filling, as per plans drawn by the Pacific bridge company of Portland, Oregon, and that bids at public outcry be received on the 10th day of May, 1884, at the court house in Roseburg, Oregon, for the erection of said bridge on said plan, by D. C. McClallen, who is hereby appointed by the court to superintend the letting, contracting and receiving said bridge when completed, if done according to the plans and specifications and substantially according to the terms of the agreement that may be made between the county and the contractor. But it is always understood and the county of Douglas does hereby reserve the right to reject any oral bids through the superintendent, taken for the letting of said contract. The party receiving the contract is required to enter into a bond of ten thousand dollars for the performance of the contract, to be completed on or before the first day of November, 1884. Payment to be made in county orders on completion of the work.

The allowance of keeping James O'Neil, a county charge, discontinued.

In the matter of the location of a voting precinct at the town of Riddle. It appearing that there was a mistake in the description of the boundaries of said precinct it is ordered that the same be corrected by adding sections 19, 30 and 31 of township 30, south of range five west, to said Riddle precinct.

A license to sell spirituous liquors in less quantities than one quart, in Cow Creek precinct, for the term of six months, granted R. T. McCulloch.

In the matter of the appointment of road supervisors. The following persons were appointed for 1884: Hyram Woodruff, District No. 47. Oren Gilpatrick, District No. 46. J. J. Thornton, District No. 25. Albert Smith, District No. 15. A. W. Slimmons, Districts 26 and 32. J. W. Tiller, District No. 36.

MARRIED.

ST. ORES-FARMER—Sunday the 13th day of April, 1884, at the Cosmopolitan hotel in Roseburg, by Rev. John Heinrich, L. St. Ores to Miss Fay Farmer, both of Douglas county, Oregon.

Democratic State Convention.

The Democratic State convention met at The Dalles, Thursday, the 17th and nominated a strong ticket. For Congress, John Myer, of Oregon City, was nominated.

Supreme Judge, W. W. Thayer, of Portland.

Presidential electors, A. C. Jones, of Roseburg; L. B. Ison, of Baker; W. D. Fenton, of Yamhill.

Delegates to the national convention, L. L. McArthur, A. Waite, F. P. Heagan, V. K. Strode, W. F. Cack, L. L. Porter, J. W. Hamilton for district attorney of this judicial district.

John Myers for congress is a good nomination. He is personally popular and the location strong. Mr. Myers has several times been returned to the State legislature as a Democrat, from the Republican county of Clackamas, with great odds against him, owing to his personal popularity. He is in the prime of his manhood, has been in active business for many years and is well acquainted with men and measures.

In the legislature he was always on the side of the people, quick to detect and fearless to oppose all species of jobbery. He is the people's friend and they will trust him.

W. W. Thayer for Supreme Judge. A better selection could not have been made. Of his personal it needs no mention; his history is identified with that of the State itself. He is not only the leading lawyer of Oregon, but one of the soundest constitutional lawyers of the United States. The Supreme court has long been in want of its counsels. He will be elected.

A. C. Jones, L. B. Ison, and W. D. Fenton are good selections. They are each lawyers of first-class ability, fine orators and men of irreproachable character, personally popular, not only with their party, but with the people at large in their respective sections, and with the proper assistance will make an able canvass of the State.

The delegates to the national convention are representative democrats of the State, men who hold the interests of the party of the highest importance to both the State and the United States. The Democracy of Oregon will be well represented at Chicago.

Nickel Plate Shows.

The W. H. Harris new absolutely world-famous Nickel Plate shows; two monster amusement enterprises combined. Harris has combined this year his stupendous Nickel Plate shows with a menagerie of trained wild animals and the two monster shows will open in this place shortly. The features are tremendously novel and altogether different from what has been presented by other concerns. They claim the only umbrella-eared elephant, with the largest ears of born brutes; the largest tiger in captivity, and the greatest performing den in America; the handsome tigers in existence; the only true species of the "grave robber," a ferocious hyena. The circus is simply immense in size and merit. Features never before dreamed of under canvass will be exhibited and the most elaborate preparations will be made for the recreation of the public. See day and date elsewhere.

A CARD.—An article appeared in last week's Plaindealer entitled "A Juvenile Transaction," which does not represent the exact truth in the matter and being a stranger in this community I desire that the public may know the truth, since publicity has been given to the affair. In the first place George W. Day jr. had been in the habit of using vulgar and obscene language to my little children, as well as calling their older brother, Harry, bad names. My son came to me with complaints and I told him to inform the boy's parents of the fact. He went to Mr. Day's house and told them the way their boy had been talking, and because he was unwilling to repeat the language in the presence of Mrs. Day, she told him he was lying and ordered him away from the house. It was not until after this that I told him to slap the boy over if he repeated the insults. As to Mr. Day reproving his boy and reporting the same to me, he never done so until after the transaction.

HARRY ROBERTS.

A Medical View of Intemperance.

The temperance question has been so ably and fully discussed from a religious and political standpoint as to almost forbid that anything new, or even interesting should be said in this direction. But there is, however, one point which has thus far escaped the attention of a large majority of the advocates of temperance, and at which the great mass of even intelligent people appear to be entirely unconscious, and which pales into insignificance any and all other causes combined in producing and perpetuating the cause of intemperance. This subtle enemy, which plants in the embryonic cells of the human organism the germs of drunkenness and debauchery which are ever ready to spring into life and activity, whenever circumstances are at all favorable for their development, is alcohol and other still more destructive poisons used as remedial agents.

In the treatment of disease by all classes of physicians (except the Physio-medical, which is, in fact, the only temperance liquor in the land), alcoholic liquor is one of the most constantly used remedies as a stimulant. Its use is sanctioned and authorized by the highest medical authority in the profession, in every form of disease in which a stimulant is indicated, and this is the remedy prescribed alone or combined in all low fevers. The vast amount of this liquid fire used in this way would astonish the uninitiated.

All this under the genteel, very honorable and respectable name of medicine, sanctioned and ordered by men representing a noble profession, to whom society looks for wisdom and trusts the sacred interests of health. Thence as an immediate and direct cause of intemperance the practice of the medical profession pre-eminently ranks first and foremost, and as a remote or fundamental cause of intemperance, all other causes are as a drop of water to the great ocean compared to this one. However extravagant or hyperbolic this assertion may seem to many the facts fully justify and sustain the assertion, which I make with no fear of successful contradiction.

The embryonal or formative element of every tissue of the body consists of a minute mass of bioplasm. When in the forces of development there exists formed material, will occupy the central area and give the name of "nucleus" and "nucleolus." These cells or tissue elements are joined together in different ways, thus making up the various tissues of the body. These tissues are woven together in various ways and form the different structures, and these structures in turn make up the different organs and systems of organs and finally the whole corporeal frame.

Thus the entire organism, with all its millions of intricate and complex parts, is made up of bioplasm and formed into microscopic cells. Bioplasm is a semi-fluid mass, its pabulum is the blood, in it resides life force or vitality; by its agency every kind of living thing is made, and without it, as far as is known, no living thing ever has been, or ever can be made. Without it the tissues could not grow and could not be repaired if injured. From these biological facts may be inferred the important part this living semi-fluid substance plays in the animal economy, and also the farther very important fact that the healthy integrity of any and all the structures of the body depend upon the normal condition of this vitalizing product of life force.

Now as life force can only manifest itself upon a definite and specific compound, called bioplasm, protoplasm etc., and as the intellectual faculties are but conscious expression of the life force of the bioplasm of the cerebrum or intellectual part of the brain, it follows that any substance or thing that tends to diminish, stunt or degrade the physical organization, especially those things which tend to kill or otherwise diminish the quantity, or quality, or vital activity of the brain bioplasm, must tend to diminish, dwarf and degrade the intellectual powers of man.

Hence the fact that alcohol, opium, chloral, belladonna, and the entire host of brain poisons degrade men morally, spiritually, mentally and physically; that they lead men only to seek for those things that minister to his depraved appetite and passions, to gratify his lusts and carnal desires. Under the influence of these abominable poisons the cerebral bioplasts are arrested in their growth and multiplication, are diminished in size and hampered in function, are much less freely supplied with pabulum, grow and form more slowly, are predisposed to fatty, granular degeneration, there is less vital force, soul, spirit, this immortal part cannot expand, is dwarfed, stunted and will scarcely, if ever, rise above the plane of his earthly and sensual surroundings, above the lusts of the flesh. These constitute the pleasures of his soul and there can be no joy, peace or happiness when deprived of these. Heaven would become a hell to such a one.

The things we drink, the food we eat and the medicines we take, have more to do with the soul's future welfare than many suppose. Then beware of that man in the guise of friend or doctor who offers you wine or other strong drink, or who substitutes for these belladonna, opium, chloral, or other poisonous agents. Say to him, these are of the devil; "get thee behind me, Satan." The whisky-soaked and poison-drenched brain sees distorted and frightful images, becomes idealistic, egotistical, vain, morose, unhappy, vicious, foolish. If he has pleasure at all he finds it in the gratification of his voluminous lusts; in persecuting those whom he conceives to be his enemies,

Eldorado Mineral Water.

CHEMICAL ANALYSIS. CHEMICAL LABORATORY, ANALYTICAL OFFICE, BULLION HOUSE AND ORE ROASTING, SACRAMENTO STREET, SAN FRANCISCO, NOV. 25, 1883. Messrs. Hubbard, Merrill and Siltson, Gentlemen. I have submitted to qualitative analysis the sample of Eldorado mineral water for examination and find it to consist of the following substances: Chlorine, Iodine, Carbonic Acid, Iron, Alumina, Lime Magnesia, Soda and organic matter.

ALBANY, OGN., December 20, 1882. Geo. W. Jones. Dear Sir: I would here state to you that a year ago I suffered untold agonies on account of piles (hemorrhoids) and went to Portland to get relief from doctors there. I met Mr. Arnold of Roseburg, who advised me before seeing the doctors to try your Eldorado Mineral Water. I did so and had one dozen bottles sent to me by A. E. Champagne. I used one-half dozen bottles, taking right before every meal, one small glass full. I not only was cured, but I am certainly cured by what I found and learned from you, because I suffered more than I can express. I would advise any one suffering from this disease to try your Mineral Water. Should you have any occasion to use this statement, you are at liberty on my account. I think this is the least I can do for you, as I was cured by it. Be specially yours, as I was, J. L. LANE.

ROSEBURG, Dec. 3, 1883. GEO. W. JONES. Dear Sir: From about curiosity I was induced to try Eldorado Water and was not only surprised but highly gratified with the result. I have for many years been a sufferer from hemorrhoids and have tried every kind of ointment, liniment, to pharmacy and without result. The contrary was my experience from the use of your mineral water. To be according to directions it produced immediate relief and in a short time, if continued, would cure permanently. To any who will avoid irritating stimulants, I am satisfied it will prove of valuable comfort and benefit. As a general rule, I would recommend it most excellent. L. F. LANE.
