LOCAL ITEMS.

Tim. Ford went to Salem on Tuesday's train, on a business trip.

Roseburg is growing quite lively in the building line.

The sound of the hammer is heard upon every hand.

Benedict's new business house is ready for occupancy and makes a good appearance.

Mr. George Beath is constructing a cottage for William Watkins, near the depot.

The thanks of many Democrats are due to Senator Slater for valuable documents.

Who is who and how it all happened will be answered on the 7th.

Hon. A. C. Jones returned this week from a visit to Jackson.

We never drink, but some folks do. They say that the Hermitage at the Palace is good.

Mrs. J. C. Fiedt left on Wednesday's train to visit relatives and friends in Portland.

Rev. John Howard's dwelling is in rapid progress of completion. It will be quite neat and attractive.

Mr. Gottsell will build a fine hotel at the corner of Lane street and the depot grounds. Work has already begun.

Ashtland is to have a series of lectures to cadow her college with. Judge Deady will open the course on May 6th.

Charley Ziegler ain't on it. He won't join any circus whatever and as for fancy horseback he has no fancy at all.

We call attention to the new advertisement of F. P. Hogan. He proposes to deal satisfactorily with the public.

Our efficient chief engineer, Mr. Gilder-sleeve, reports thirteen feet of water in the reservoir. That is good enough.

Rev. J. W. Craig will preach at the Southern Methodist church in this city next Sunday, both morning and evening, at the usual hours.

The building boom has struck Roseburg and the music of the saw and hammer is only drowned by the harmony of the Yankee Doodle band.

George Beath is engaged in erecting a tower in front of the city hall for our fireman's bell. Soon will we hear its sound calling us to duty, but we hope not to a fire.

Champagne is pushing the work on his addition rapidly, now that the weather is becoming more propitious. It has been aggravatingly mean and has kept back the work, to his pecuniary injury.

The third quarterly meeting of the Roseburg circuit M. E. church south, will be held in this city, commencing on Saturday, the 10th of May, and continuing over the Sabbath. The presiding elder, E. G. Michael will be present.

Simon Caro was defeated for legislative honors, but he will not be outdone in the sale of goods. Caro Brothers is the place to go to purchase household fancy goods and wearing apparel, if you want to get your money's worth.

Some quartz veins which prospect well, and have assayed as high as $100 per ton in gold, silver and copper, have recently been discovered on the mountain near Woodville-Jackson county. Dr. Stanley and George W. Colvig are interested in the claims.

Frank Howard, formerly of this city, was recently arrested in Redding, California, upon the charge of having been a party to the stage robbery committed near Grant's Pass, last January. We know nothing as to the facts, but hope they may attest his innocence.

The mayor and city council of Portland have removed W. H. Watkins as chief of police and appointed Sam Parrish. Bill, however, refuses to accept the situation and every day appears in his uniform and gives directions to the force. The matter may go to the courts.

For the last two weeks the space formerly occupied by G. W. Woodard's advertisement has been filled by the elephant, nevertheless he has kept on hand and for sale a full assortment of saddles, bridles and harness to fit all animals, from the elephant down to the smallest broncho, and guarantees satisfaction to his customers.

Beer, beer, is the plaintive cry of many south of the No. 6 tunnel. Rast is vexed because his patrons are thirsty and weary of waiting. If they furnish from lack of beer John cannot be to blame. Old Soda Pop Tom is equally mad and wears a tartaric acid visage. Election is high at hand and there we will all fuss, fume and froth to our heart's content.

At their last meeting the following officers were elected by the Good Templars of this place, for the ensuing quarter and will be installed next Tuesday evening: W. C. T., W. F. Benjamin; W. V. T., Lucy Hay; W. Sec., H. S. Strauge; W. F. S., Wm. Howard; W. T., Emma Benedict; W. M., P. Matthews; W. L. G., Luc Hamilton; W. O. G., Wm. Fisher.

Why, oh why, pray tell us, did our contemporary the Plunderer, fail to publish the fate of the resolution to regulate freights and fares, introduced into the Republican convention by Hon. Mr. Otey. Have a care, do not try to deceive the people, for they are wary. Their organ, the INDEPENDENT, will point them. Besides, it is an old law maxim "To suppress the truth is to suggest a falsehood."

Last Sunday the genial gentlemen of the Yankee Doodle band would have given our appreciative citizens a real treat had not the rain prevailed. Early the sunbeams vanished and Jupiter Pluvius frowned and your reporter hastily retreated to Hendricks' cheerful shelter, where he quaffed a generous tankard of San Francisco beer. When it rains too much any Democrat ought to look upon water as hurtful.

Louis Wenner, who was formerly carrier at the butcher shop of L. McGregor of this city, died at the residence of Wm. Vincent, near this place, last Wednesday evening. He was engaged milking when he was seized with an epileptic fit, fell forward and in a few minutes expired. An effort was made to secure a coroner's jury, but no proper officer was obtainable. Mr. Wenner was of Dutch parentage and a native of Pennsylvania. He was about 35 years old. He was a harmless, kind man and well liked by those who knew him.

County Convention on the 7th inst.

An Indignant Stalwart

The following extract from the Northwest News, the stalwart organ of Portland, shows the harmony prevailing among the brethren:

"The county convention on Saturday last was an epoch in the history of the Republican party of Multnomah county. It marked the transfer of the control of the party in this county from Mitchell to Harvey Scott and the Oregonian crowd. We mean rather the control of the party machinery, for the people of the party cannot be traded off like sheep in the shambles, as the Republican representatives were bargained away to J. N. Dolph in the last legislature. A glance at the proceedings of the convention and at the nominations, as well as at the delegation to the state convention, will be sufficient to satisfy every intelligent observer of the fact that the machinery has been transferred to the new bosses. If more proof were needed, it is to be found in the shrewd and careful endorsement of the action of the convention in yesterday's Oregonian, and the putting of Parrish, Harvey's old pal of 1872, into control of the police department, besides many other things. Mitchell has been eliminated from politics, the agreement is complete, but the goods cannot be delivered. This new departure in the political control of this county will break up old political alliances and the result may be to change the political result in this county at least next June. The old, true stalwart Republicans will never consent to be led by Harvey Scott and the Oregonian crowd, but will zealously set themselves at work to administer a rebuke to the perfidious act by which they have been sold away to the clique whom they hate and despise. Already we hear eager expressions of hope that the Democrats will put up a first class ticket in order that a rebuke may be administered to those who have betrayed the true Republicans into the hand of their foe. They will not exchange the agreeable genius of Mitchell for the dull, stubborn, overbearing and vindictive bossism of Harvey Scott. Mitchell had his faults, but he was kind and sympathetic and always ready to lend a helping hand to those who sought his aid. He was generous and liberal, and never, with all his power, assumed dictatorial airs. He was the idol of the people and all of the errors of his career could not shake the great ascendancy over the common people of this county, which has so long been the key to Republican success. Scott is bigoted, narrow and revengeful, and looks with scorn upon the file of the party, who repay the feeling with interest. With this condition of affairs a political revolution in this county may be expected in June, although in November, if the June rebuke shall be effectual, the most of the true Republicans may come back. The party will not consent to be turned over to a clique of old stiffs, money sharks, woman suffragists and cranks. The effect of Saturday's convention may give the Democrats the future control of Multnomah county."

There was a land slide at the south entrance to tunnel No. 6, about six miles north of Glendale, last Monday night. It has proved quite an annoyance to the railroad company, whose employees are doing their best to remove the obstruction. The approaches to this tunnel are quite high and steep and the work of removing the dirt seems somewhat like the Angus stable job, as fast as the debris is thrown out more comes down. The passenger train was three hours late on Tuesday and one hour behind on Wednesday morning at this place. The transfer from one train to the other is, of course, sufficiently inconvenient to travel. However, the workmen are indefatigable in their efforts and no doubt in a short time they will have the track clear again.

WHEAT PROSPECTS. The following gloomy view of the wheat outlook we clip from the Portland Standard of Tuesday. "While receipts from the valley and eastern section are quite large, business is reduced to millers. Millers are offering $1.47, and have been for ten days. The break in the Chicago markets is indicative of a probability that the wheat now on hand throughout the United States will at last be marketed and reach the consumer. The competition of India with us has been rendered more keen by the reduction of rates on her railroads—so much so that not more than 4-3-5 per cent is paid on them. The state of the market at present is due to large crops in 1883, underestimated all over the world, held back for higher prices, and now thrown on the markets of the world. There is now 554,000 more quarters of wheat in London than a year ago, and at it it keeps pouring in, which leads the London Standard to exclaim that the wheat trade is overdue. There is a large amount of wheat going east towards shipping points, Australia has had a large surplus, India also, while Russia has had a large portion of her stock left. It is predicted that prices will be lower than for many a year past; and in Liverpool the market is the lowest it has been in many years, and but that charters here are so low, the market would be much under present rates. Most of the factors in the situation continue to indicate low prices. The visible supply in the United States on March 15th was 39,526,450 bushels, or 6,259,731 larger than a year ago, and 16,810,739 larger than on March 15, 1882. The exports from British India in 1883 were 34,050,950 bushels, against 24,207,749 bushels in 1882, showing that the supply from this source is rapidly increasing. The crops of the world all look well, and if nothing untold occurs, wheat and bread will be cheap for another year."

THE SCHOOLS AND SALOON.—Between the public schools and the saloon there is a conflict as irrepressible as that which made the first three quarters of this century historical in politics. The saloon does all in its power to outwheat what the schools endeavor to teach. The school teaches the children to be prompt, punctual, efficient; the saloon teaches them to dawdle and loaf, and takes all the snap out of them. The school urges them to be industrious; the saloon trains them to be shiftless and thriftless. The school would inspire them with reverence for law, human and divine. The school inculcates the principles of true citizenship; the saloon inculcates the lowest demagoguery. The school teaches them love to man and love to God; the saloon teaches them to despise the one and hate the other.—[Mary Allen West, in W. C. T. U. paper.]

The W. H. Harris New Show! There is probably no man living to-day who has had better success, or made more friends, or won more laurels in the show business than W. H. Harris, who is a thorough gentleman and a showman worthy of the name, and is known wherever the Nickel Plate has shown as a man of integrity, sobriety, honesty, and indomitable perseverance. This enviable reputation Mr. Harris has gained by dealing fairly with his patrons, the public, by fulfilling his every promise and by constant and hard brain and hand work. It has ever been his aim to better his profession and his labors have been highly successful. In the organization of the Nickel Plate circus Mr. Harris has embodied all of worth that he has gained from experience of years. He has built a new show after his own plans and ideas and from new material. He has built a circus for the people, has engaged the best talent of the country, and will introduce features that will be new, novel, and pleasing, among which may be mentioned are Dora, the Feejee Island animal, only one in America; "Coyote," the only umbrella-eared elephant, with the largest ears of any animal; the largest and most savage den of lions. The only male and female Samson on the continent, pulling against elephants and horses, etc., etc. W. H. Harris' New Nickel Plate show will exhibit at Roseburg, Oregon, Saturday, May 24, 1884.

Gov MOODY has pardoned J. K. Mercer, who was sentenced for fifteen years for the killing of McDonald, at Portland. He had served five years. Our readers will recollect that the murder was caused by a severe newspaper rivalry between the Telegram and old Portland Bee. There was a lack of malice and Mercer acts as though his punishment had improved him.

Just as we go to press we learn that one Bristow has been arrested at Grant's Pass for robbing the stage in January

Stallion Show!

The stallion show last Saturday was an enjoyable affair to those who are fond of fine blooded stock. Almost every grade of stock was represented, from the smallest to the largest. Seventeen horses were entered as follows:

"Mark," Clydesdale, and "Sir Henry," a chestnut sorrel, by John Dixon.

"Blackhawk," Morgan and perchleron, black, by Otey Boon.

"Johnny," Morgan and Arabian, spotted, by Thomas Livingston.

"Pride of Perch Jr.," perchleron, chestnut brown, by J. C. Conn.

"Napoleon," perchleron, white, by H. Conn Sr.

"Malone," half Norman, white, by G. W. Alderson.

"Scamperdown Jr." scamperdown, bay, by W. C. Winston.

"Glendale," a beautiful bay, by John McCurdy.

"Clyde," clydesdale, a bay.

"Brutus," Sir Henry, an iron gray, by E. E. Labrie.

"Suffolk Punch Jr." of Suffolk punch stock, a brown, by James Bates.

"Rondeau," clydesdale and messenger, a bay, by C. J. Sears.

"Timbuctoo," an Arabian and copper-bottom, white, with black spots, by C. Anderson.

"Gen. Jackson," Norman and whip, a beautiful dark dapple gray, by Gus Coston.

"Mike," Morgan and Hamiltonian, a bay, by S. Minard.

"Captain," perchleron and leviathan, a gray, by Jas. Therton.

"Frank," leviathan and lammur, iron gray, by Wm. Irwin.

"Billy," scamperdown, a bay, by N. Larout.

"Henry Ward Beecher," Morgan and lineheart, a bay, by E. B. Chapman.

"Selim," Morgan and warwick, brown, by J. A. Freeman.

Last but not least in importance was "Gold Drop," B. F. Ramp's fine Jersey bull.

Seventeen stallions entered and all of good stock and any one could select a good horse to breed to from this list.

All the horses showed care and attention and the display was the best of the kind ever made in the county.

We did not attend the exhibition of the stallions and many had left town before we had an opportunity to see them. For the foregoing we are indebted to the courtesy of our cotemporary's local. We were well pleased with no views we saw. We can make no invidious distinction, but in passing might observe that Mr. Renuick has a very good animal.

Steve Minard's young "Miko" is a splendid fellow. He is young and will develop finely.

The Suffolk Punch owned by Mr. Bates, is perhaps for solid, efficient draft purposes, as good a horse as there is in Oregon. He is now in his zenith. His seasons in Eugene have been very satisfactory and here he has all he will be permitted to render.

Taking it all in all the show was a decided success and Ed Skeridan is entitled to credit for suggesting and working it up.

We carefully read the panegyric of a column's length in Sunday's Standard regarding Justice Field. We expected to find at the bottom a statement that the Judge had been cured by St. Jacob's oil. If the Judge's literary bureau can do no better he should at once go into the patent medicine business.

ELBORADO.—Resolved, that we, the Republican party in convention assembled, do most earnestly recommend that the candidates just nominated use Jones' mineral water exclusively as a campaign beverage, during the ensuing canvass. The foregoing resolution was crowded out of our columns last issue. It was unanimously adopted and clearly indicates that there is some little sense left among Republicans. One campaign with such a beverage will purify their physical and may improve their moral system.

The New York Times feels sore in several parts of its anatomy, over the Blaine prospect, and sets up a howl for a "strong man." Why not put for Dorsey? He has a record, made in the interest of the Republican party, that smells loud enough. He has used a good deal of "soap," but it didn't cleanse him.

The interior press of California has become alarmed over the possibility if not the probability of a yellow fever epidemic. All the conditions of climate etc. favor the spread of the fever, once it gets a footing in California. If in California, what prevents it being carried to Oregon.

Richmond, Virginia, follows Sacramento and several towns in Ohio and Illinois with a successful move, interdicting the exposure and sale in that city of those abominable pictorial papers which lionize and heroize the slum-gullions of society, both male and female. These vile things are doing more than other agencies combined, to degrade the morals of our youth.

FROM OAKLAND.

Sunshine again. Some excitement in political matters. No sickness to report at this time.

A. Williams returned from Portland on Tuesday, where he had been attending to business.

The matrimonial market is quiet at this season and no prospect for improvement until fall.

Miss Mary Dodge, who received a severe injury a few days since, is rapidly improving and it is hoped that her recovery may be complete in a few days.

The Oakland brewery, which has been under the management of J. A. Freyer for some time, is now under the control of P. McGregor, who understands the business and will certainly succeed in the prosecution of the business.

Our temperance lecture delivered here last Tuesday was well attended. However, no revelations were made for the benefit of the temperance cause, but we listened to the same old story that we have heard so often. The lecturer made a few remarks for the benefit of our enslaved (?) mothers and sisters.

Our candidates for office are standing the racket well, and we think will go through the ordeal in good shape, yet the results of the encounter may change complexion of things and cause solemn and sickly smiles to penetrate their heretofore cheerful countenances.

Mrs. McPherson and daughter, who reside at Mt. Idaho and who have been visiting relatives in this place during the winter, returned home this week.

Business matters are assuming a more firm and solid basis and the outlook for the future was never better. The grain prospect was never better and the stock are thriving.

X. X. X.

DIST. LODGE, I. O. G. T.—The Good Templar district lodge which met at the Grange hall last week, was attended by delegates from most of the lodges of the county. Important lodge business was transacted, and plans for temperance work were adopted. The order seems to be progressing rapidly. Evening sessions were held in the court house and were public. Rev. J. W. Webb lectured Friday and Saturday evenings in the court house, and Sunday evening in the Presbyterian church. Rev. Webb is an interesting speaker and all his lectures were well attended.

The Democratic County Convention meets in Roseburg on Wednesday, the 7th of May, to nominate a county ticket. Let every delegate be present in person and select the best men for the various offices and not only the party but the state and county will be greatly benefited. Send no proxies. Let us have a full convention.

Grain is nearly twelve inches high in some fields in the valley. The prospects for unusually large crops both of grain and fruit, were never better at this time of year.

TREASURER'S NOTICE.—All persons holding county warrants, endorsed prior to Jan. 31, 1884, are hereby notified to present them at the County Treasurer's office, in the court house in Roseburg, on or before April 19, 1884, as interest will cease from that date. W. N. MOORE, County Treasurer.

A CARD.—Having closed out my store and retired from the mercantile business, I have placed the settlement of my affairs in the hands of Hon A. F. Campbell. All persons indebted to me are requested to settle with him and all persons whom I am owing are requested to present their accounts to him for settlement. S. F. Flood MARRIED. AHLE-RICKHOFF.—At the residence of Henry Gatterman, in this city, on April 20, 1884, by Judge J. S. Fitzhugh, John H. Ahlf and Caroline E. Rickhoff.

As the above was inadvertently left over last week, we take this occasion to wish the young couple much joy and a long life brimful of happiness.

Notice to the Public. ALL PERSONS ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED NOT to trust any one on my account, as I will not pay any bills or accounts except those which I make myself or expressly authorize by written order. THOMAS BROWN. Roseburg, March 2, 1884.

DRY'S SALOON, Jackson Street, Roseburg. The proprietor of this well known and popular resort would thank his friends for their liberal patronage in the past, and would ask for a continuance of the same in the future. The public is informed that I keep none but the best brands of wines, liquors and cigars and that I sell over the bar the celebrated Jesse Moore & Co's Kentucky Whiskies. A good billiard table will be found in the saloon; also the leading papers of the world.

A FARM FOR SALE. A. W. CONE has a FINE FARM of 100 acres, one mile south of Oakland, Douglas county, which he offers for two thousand dollars.
