

THE INDEPENDENT.

SATURDAY, NOV. 15th, 1884.

JUDGE DEADY, President of the Board of Regents, in his report to the Governor, recommends the erection of a new building for the new State University, to cost from $40,000 to $50,000.

WILBUR E. STORY, proprietor and for many years editor of the Chicago Times, the most successful and leading sensational journal of the western States, died last week. He had been demented for some time.

man of Col's citizens, who was placed under $1,000 bonds at Butte city, Montana, failed to materialize at the recent term of court, forfeiting his bond. Cole put up the cash for the swindler.

HON. C. S. VONHORN, son of Hon. D. W. Vonhorns, of Indiana, has been elected to Congress from Washington Territory by a handsome majority. This speaks well for the young man as Washington has heretofore been reliably Republican.

ILLINOIS, it is said, will lead all other States in miles of railway, having 12,882 miles. Ohio is second, with 9,000 miles; New York third, with 7,230 miles; Pennsylvania fourth, Indiana fifth, Missouri sixth, Wisconsin seventh, Texas eighth, Minnesota ninth.

A REDWOOD tree near Santa Rosa, Cal., furnished all the lumber for the Baptist church at that place. The interior of the building is finished in wood, there being no plastered walls. After the lumber for the church was taken 60,000 shingles were made from what remained of the tree.

OREGON may be very lonesome, off in this extreme corner of the world; but when it comes to fast running horses it is decidedly up to the times. Oregon horses have the best time at the following distances: Hickory Jim, 1200 yards in 1:10; Jim Penwick, 1/2 mile, 1:00; Blue Mountain Belle, 1/2 mile and repeat, 0:40, 0:48; Olive, by imported Leamington, has the credit of the best 1/2 mile, but in fact Susie S. of Baker City, Oregon made the distance in 0:47, Olive's time being 0:47.

SAMUEL SEABOUGH, a noted journalist, died in San Francisco, Oct. 21st, aged 62 years. He was a native of Pennsylvania, and engaged in literary pursuits in early years in Harrisburg and Philadelphia. He engaged in editing papers in California nearly thirty years ago, first editing the weekly Granite Journal at Folsom in 1856. He afterwards edited the Stockton Independent, and then for some years was editor-in-chief of the Sacramento Union. He was at a later period connected with the Alta, and during the last few years was an editorial writer on the San Francisco Chronicle.

The fierce storm that ravaged the coast of Ontario a few days ago, is said to have been the most severe known in that section during the present century. The record of the tide that rose to the height of fifty or sixty feet, carrying devastation and ruin upon its crest, recalls the story of the "Deluge of Barbary" as sung by Jean Ingelow:

"That ebbed streaked wrecks about the shore That flew about the docks to sea." A wintry shore, strewn with the debris of ruined homes, was the prospect that greeted the homeless, poor on the Gulf of St. Lawrence on the morning of the 5th of November, a scene that it is hoped the next half century will not duplicate.

A. T. GREEN has brought suit in the United States Circuit Court against the Coos Bay Wagon Road Company to recover $5,825. For cause of action plaintiff alleges that defendant was owner of a toll road running from Roseburg to Coos Bay, in April, 1875; that at the same time, defendant owned 35,533 in fee, and was also entitled to 70,760 acres upon which patents had not been issued by the United States. The defendant was desirous of disposing of this property, and employed Green in San Francisco, to consummate a sale, in April, 1875. For doing this he was to receive $3,000. On the following May Green had so worked up the susceptibilities of one John Miller that he purchased all of defendant's property. Upon this purchase a first payment of $35,335 53 was made, and out of this the plaintiff received only $2000. Several times since he has demanded of plaintiff the remainder due him, $3090, but has utterly failed in all his endeavors to collect it. Therefore, he prays to recover $3000, with $2825 interest, together with the costs and disbursements.

THE REPUBLICAN BLUNDER.

It no doubt affords the Oregonian, the leading Republican paper of the Northwest coast, a grain of comfort in this hour of their defeat and discomfit, that it opposed the nomination of Blaine at Chicago and predicted his defeat if nominated.

But the Oregonian should remember that after his nomination, it eat all the crow it was possible for its capacious maw to hold; prostrated itself at the feet of the plumed, doomed Knight, and on its servile knees bared its back to the party lash, and in tones of supplication and adoration, sang the praises of James G. Blaine, and, with seeming earnestness and sincerity, predicted his triumphant election.

The Oregonian, when taking to itself the credit of sagacity, should remember that when Grover Cleveland was nominated, it stigmatized his nomination as a blunder and earnestly predicted his defeat and the overthrow and annihilation of the Democratic party, and, while assuming the role of respectable journalism, kept constantly before its readers the vulgar and nauseating scandals invented by a crazy preacher, which neither the editor of the Oregonian or any sensible journalist ever had the hardihood to assume to believe.

It was not the nomination of Blaine alone that doomed the Republican party. The fault was in the organization itself. It was the principles and policies of the party condemned it. Blaine proved himself a brilliant and able advocate of the principles and policies which his party called him to defend, and his past record showed him to be the appropriate leader of such a policy as was marked out by his party at Chicago.

Had the editor of the Oregonian possessed the moral courage of George William Curtis and stood by and maintained the principles which he had previously advocated, he could now consistently take to himself the credit, not only of sagacity, but of honesty, and Oregon to-day would stand with New York, New Jersey, Indiana and Connecticut in the victorious column, and he would not be compelled to go down to defeat with the Republican Bosses who have always hated and despised him.

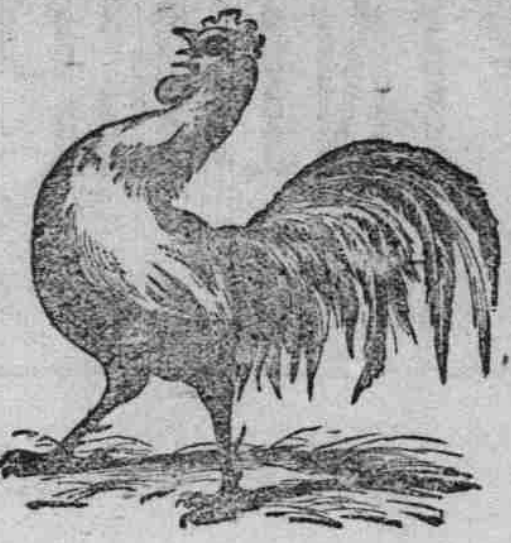

"TIMES" ON KELLY.

The Jacksonville Times whilst rejoicing at the success of the Democracy in the late grand national contest takes occasion to abuse Tammany and John Kelly, and seemingly exult over him. We allow no journal nor man to rejoice any more than we do at the great good result. Among Democrats there can be no difference upon that score. We are all glad, but the assault upon John Kelly was most unwarranted. If it were necessary we could give elaborate reasons for what we say but neither the time nor the occasion require it. John Kelly is not the hideous monster he is painted. He is a ripe scholar, a good lawyer and a manager of excellent skill. He served for several terms in Congress with distinguished ability, and could have held that position for the past quarter of a century had he wanted to. Nor is he treacherous. He fought Cleveland in convention bravely and manfully. At the proper time Mr. Kelly announced to the world that he intended to support Cleveland and would exercise his best offices to induce Tammany to do likewise. He said what he meant. He succeeded and our ticket carried New York. Grover Cleveland had no more valuable supporter than John Kelly. He did his duty and that is enough. He sacrificed Grant for mayor in order to secure Cleveland for President. In using abusive words a paper may appear highfalutin but not wise. However, little journals must have something to say. John Kelly is victorious and happy and little he recked if all the papers in Oregon unjustly accuse him.

COMMERCIAL.

The country has just passed through one of the most exciting political contests that ever disturbed society. Business has in a measure been paralyzed or neglected by reason of the excitement. Now that it is ended we may expect to see commerce settle back into its accustomed channels and trade become more active than it has been for many months. Speculation will again take its place in the land. New enterprises will again be devised. The markets of the world will in the course of time be thrown open to our farm products and our country will start on a new era of prosperity. Instead of the oppression which had been predicted, labor and industry will be rewarded by remunerative prices. And America will again take a first rank amongst the commercial nations of the world; and our Merchantsmen will again be the pride and glory of the high-seas; peace and prosperity will reign throughout the land and America will prosper as no other country in the world.

ATTEMPTED FRAUD.

Since the election the country has been kept in a feverish state of excitement over the result in the State of New York. This has been occasioned, not on account of any doubt as to how the popular vote of the Empire State was cast on election day, but in consequence of certain revolutionary and incendiary schemes devised by Blaine and his managers to cheat the people out of their victory.

It was known by noon the day after the election how the country had gone, and there would have been no doubt cast upon the result had not Blaine telegraphed to his managers in New York: "Claim everything until a new line of action can be agreed upon." The Republican managers then issued a proclamation claiming the State. They done this at the dictation of Blaine, knowing that there was not the slightest foundation for the claim; with the figures from every county in the State before them, showing a plurality of the vote for Cleveland. The plan of action which they agreed upon was first to doctor the returns in a number of the counties which were in the control of their political friends, so as to show an apparent majority for Blaine. Failing in this their next resort was to challenge the returns from a number of districts, under the claim of defects in the certificates and carry the matter into the courts, and from the courts into Congress and by some means or other cheat the people out of their choice. The result of 1876 is too fresh in the minds of the people to admit of these methods of procedure. The country can rest assured that Cleveland has been elected and the will of the people thus honestly expressed at the ballot box will not again be defeated by any sharp practices, and any attempt at revolution will be met and opposed as it deserves.

You Can Have It.

"My dear, what would I give to have your hair! is often said by middle-aged ladies to young ones. Madam, you may have just such hair. Parker's Hair Balsam will give it to you. It will stop your hair from falling off, restore the original color and make it long, thick, soft and glossy. You need not stand helplessly envying the girls. The Balsam is not oily, not a dye, but is an elegant dressing, and is especially recommended for its cleanliness and purity.

Eldorado Mineral Water.

Eldorado: Gaily bright, a gallant knight, In sunshine and in shadow, Had journeyed long, singing a song, In search of Eldorado.

But he grew old, this knight so bold, And o'er his heart a shadow Fell as he found no spot of ground, That looked like Eldorado.

And as his strength failed him at length He met a pilgrim shadow, "Shadow," said he, "where can it be, This spring of Eldorado?"

Quoth the shadow: "For the benefit suffering humanity I will state that the Eldorado spring is situated three miles west from Roseburg, and a supply of the water is kept constantly on hand and for sale by Dr. S. Hamilton, agent, Roseburg, Oregon."

John Joseph, of the well known firm of Hoffman and Joseph, of Albany, bears the following testimony:

ALBANY, OHIO, December 20, 1882. GEO. W. JONES, Dear Sir: I would here state that I have used your Eldorado Mineral Water for several years, and I can testify to its purity and its beneficial effects. THOMAS PRICE. Mr. Geo. W. Jones Dear Sir: I have been troubled with neuralgic pains in my head and chest bones for several years, and had given up all hopes of ever getting cured. I went to your medical springs with my son James and got some of the water, and drank it freely and found it to be a mild purgative. I used it three times a day for a little more than two months, and the pain left me and I have not felt them since, and this has been 17 months ago.

Roseburg, Jan. 25, 1884. H. COSS, SR.

From Mr. H. W. Parsons, East Oregon, I received one bottle of the Eldorado Mineral Water, from Dr. Hamilton of Roseburg. I had half a bottle for ear-ache and can fully recommend it for that dreaded disease, as I have not been troubled with the complaint since.

Having used the Eldorado Mineral Water from Jones Springs, Douglas County, Oregon, for the fully established with the result, as I was furnished with a certificate, W. C. BROWN, merchant.
