GIVEN AND TAKEN.

Smoothing soft the nestling head Of a maiden fawn-eyed. Thus the grave-eyed woman said: "Richest gifts are those we make, Dearest than the love we take"

A SINGULAR STORY.

Marriage, Murder, Desertion and Miraculous Detection.

A Girl in Male Attire Crosses the Ocean to Find Her Father—Success of Her Mission—A Romance in Real Life. Perhaps the most romantic and startling story of facts that has ever come to light in Iowa was related to your correspondent to-day, and which is certainly unknown to the citizens of Dubuque.

DEALING IN DEAD HORSES.

Shoes, Fertilizers, Ladies' Switches, Bats and Glue Made of Defunct Equines. A crowd had gathered on a South Side street corner, where a horse with a broken leg had been shot.

BIG PROFITS.

What the Grocery Keepers in the New York Tenement House Region Make Out of Their Patrons. The corner groceryman in tenement houses districts charges the highest prices for the necessities of life, and reaps therefrom the greatest profit.

FAVORABLE CROELTSY.

Slaughter of Birds for Ladies' Hats—What Mr. Bergh Thinks of It. Walking up Broadway one fine afternoon lately, a Tribune reporter noticed an unusually large display of plumage on ladies' hats.

THE OLD, OLD STORY.

That Anecdote That Mr. Sawage Tried to Relate and the Extraneous Obstacles He Met With. I think that one reason there are so few good story tellers among us is that the listeners are, in many instances, so willfully and stubbornly unappreciative that it tends towards discouraging the skillful narration of first-class anecdotes.
