The bill providing for a Constitutional convention had a lively time in the legislature. It passed the Senate, was defeated in the House by one vote, was afterward reconsidered and passed, and again reconsidered and lost. Mr. Grant, representing the Life and Accident Insurance Co., of Hartford, Connecticut, was in town this week. He took quite a number of risks, and appointed J. H. Shupe, local agent, and Dr. Page medical examiner.

According to appointment, Wednesday evening, Rev. J. W. Webb was on hand, and after some pleasing remarks and an introduction by C. A. Schilbrede, he delivered one of the ablest lectures we have had the pleasure of hearing for many years.

The Baptist Church was crowded to its utmost capacity; we think the largest congregation that ever assembled in Oakland.

This fact is certainly favorable to the general opinion that many of the people of Oakland and vicinity are in real earnest in temperance efforts.

Mr. Webb remarked that "Some one has told me that the temperance cause was dead in Oakland, well, if it is, it is the liveliest corpse I have ever seen."

Much favorable comment was elicited on account of the most excellent music furnished by the choir selected by the Good Templars.

The choir was composed of Miss Sallie Jones, Mrs. G. T. Russell, Mrs. E. H. Henderson, Mrs. C. A. Schilbrede, Miss Nettie Henderson, Miss Mary Dodge, Messrs. C. N. Gaddis, J. T. Bloomfield, C. P. Houston, G. R. Sacry, C. A. Schilbrede, C. L. Chenoweth and Rev. Mr. Atkinson; Mrs. Henderson presiding at the organ. The music consisted of an opening piece entitled, "Where is my Boy To-night." After prayer by Rev. P. C. Parker, a beautiful temperance song entitled, "A Temperance Jubilee Song" was sung with much animation and enthusiasm. Following the lecture, the song, "Yield Not to Temptation" was sung by the choir, the congregation then sang "The Old, Old Story," thus closing an occasion of much pleasure and profit.

Drain Items.

Had you been in Drain last week you might have seen your regular correspondent so very busy with important work that he could not find time to send his regular dish of local "hash", to that most excellent of county papers the REVIEW.

You might also have seen a company of immigrants from Iowa get off of the cars at this place, attracted by the spreading reputation of Drain as a live, thrifty town, with a first class Academy and Normal School, and without a grain-mill.

You might have seen two young gentlemen whose many friends were glad to greet them once more.

You might have seen active preparations for immediate grading and improvement of our streets, including sewerage. An important step.

You might have seen a modest young man, who is in the matrimonial market bring quite a family to church with him Sunday evening.

You might have seen on Wednesday evening, an excellent entertainment given by the Band of Hope, under the direction of Miss Booth, which was largely attended, and was worthy of large praise.

We are informed that Mrs. Calvert is slowly improving in health.

J. W. Webb lectured on Tuesday evening in the Academy chapel, to a large audience.

From Wilbur.

Fruit trees are blooming profusely and all signs point to an early crop in farm and garden.

The school is preparing for an entertainment to be given next week and something interesting may be expected in the line of music, orations, etc.

Our little town is happy in the enjoyment of peace, good order, and moral and religious interests, that makes it a desirable place to locate, especially for those seeking the advantages of a good school.

Our Presbyterian Church has been enclosed with a new fence having a handsome picket front, the result of a supper and entertainment gotten up by the ladies of Wilbur some few weeks ago which netted $30. With the new belfry added lately, it now presents a neat appearance.

Washed-Out Hair. There is a sort of pallid, chalky complexion which the novelists call a "washed-out complexion." It is ghastly enough, and no mistake. Washed-out, faded, discolored, or parti-colored hair is almost as repulsive and melancholy. Parker's Hair Balsam will restore your hair to its original color, whatever it was brown, auburn or black. Why wear moss on your head, when you may easily have lively, shining hair.
