Robert Newcomb our old friend and associate has gone to that bourne from whence no traveler returns. We have known him for ten years, and to us he was always a special friend. How many times he, with his wife, who is now in deepest sorrow, used to gather around our little fire place and while away the evenings so pleasantly together, in social chat. But those days are gone, and he is gone too, and our hearts are heavy, and more especially so because we could not cast a sprig of evergreen in his grave. But we will wait, for we build our hopes of his blissful residence in heaven on the holier and higher impulses that dominated his nature, while he contended with life's real conflict. He rose step by step, to some very responsible positions in our State, and his premature death only torments his greater success which he would have achieved. He will be missed in the home, the social circle, the various lodges of which he was an active member, and in the community at large as a useful citizen. We offer our sincerest condolence to his bereaved widow and child, and also to other relations of his. Old friend farewell, and the brighter morning shall flash its day streaks of gold over the horizon of the east, and the reunion of friendship shall be made by the voice of the Angel that sits on the right hand of the throne, until then we say again, farewell.

"Life is real, life is earnest, And the grave is not its goal, Dust thou art, to dust returneth, Was not spoken of the soul."

From Ripley, New York.

Having frequently noticed your solicitations for county correspondence, I wondered if a letter from Chatsqua county, New York would be inappropriate. Through the generosity of my brother, a fellow townsman of yours, I have been in receipt of the Independent and REVIEW for a long term of years and it is always a welcome visitor. Our winter has been one of unparalleled severity, and at this writing Easter Sabbath, we have an abundance of snow, our roads are almost impassable and the ice on Lake Erie reaches from shore to shore, and will require many days of sunshine to dispel. That you should be enjoying the delightful fragrance of the peach and cherry blossoms makes me long to become a resident of Douglas county. Were I not detained here by home duties, the care of an invalid mother, I should silently fold my tent and migrate as soon as Spring weather would conduce to pleasant travel.

We are all good Democrats here and fully endorse Cleveland and his entire Cabinet. 444.

Is It Not True?

There can be no argument as to the qualities essential to a perfect remedy for the ills arising from a disordered or inactive condition of the Liver, Stomach and Bowels. Everyone will admit that it should be perfectly safe for old and young of both sexes, at any and all times; that it should be acceptable both to the taste and the stomach; that it should never fail to act promptly and thoroughly, yet painlessly, and it should give strength to those organs. It is now well known that Syrup of Figs possesses those qualities in a pre-eminent degree. S. Hamilton is agent for Roseburg.

A Startling Discovery. Physicians are often startled by remarkable discoveries. The fact that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and all Throat and Lung diseases is daily curing patients that they have given up to die, is startling them to realize their sense of duty, and examine into the merits of this wonderful discovery; resulting in our best Physicians using it in their practice. Trial Bottles free at S. Hamilton's Drug Store. Regular Size $1.00.

Washed-Out Hair. There is a sort of pallid, chalky complexion which the novelists call a "washed-out complexion." It is ghastly enough, and no mistake. Washed-out, faded, discolored, or parti-colored hair is almost as repulsive and melancholy. Parker's Hair Balsam will restore your hair to its original color, whatever it was brown, Auburn or black. Why wear moss on your head, when you may easily have lively, shining hair.

Syrup of Figs. Nature's own true Laxative. Pleasant to the Palate, acceptable to the Stomach, harmless in its nature, painless in its action. Cures habitual Constipation, Biliousness, Indigestion and kidney ills. Cleanses the system, purifies the blood, regulates the Liver and acts on the Bowels. Breaks up Colds, Chills and Fevers, etc. Strengthens the organs on which it acts. Better than bitter, nauseous Liver medicines, pills, salts and draughts. Sample bottles free, and large bottles for sale by S. Hamilton.
