Photographs.

Get your faces into shape and be ready. Aid & Ward, traveling photographers can make you a picture quicker than a wink.

Fine Sheep.

W. F. Owens this week received seven head of thoroughbred sheep from Woolsey & Son, Fulton Sonoma county California.

Handsome Marble Work.

The beautiful monument carved and engraved by Mr. Joe O'Malley is beyond question one of the most artistic pieces of workmanship we have seen in Roseburg for a long time.

Parties having Real Estate for sale or those wishing to purchase will find it to their interest to call at my office in Marks building, Roseburg Or.

HERE AND THERE.

Repair your sidewalks. Drink Roseburg soda water. Did you attend the wedding? Robinson's Circus next week.

Go and see those fine sheep at W. F. Owens.

Gates and Critser make the very best of flour.

Go and see Gannon and Blackman's new buck board.

About $250 changed hands on the foot race Saturday.

Mrs. Palmer's residence is about renovated and looks well.

Sidewalks are being repaired throughout all portions of the city.

Rev. W. A. Willis brought some fine oats to town this week.

Considerable good road work is being done throughout the county.

Sheridan and Critzer are making improvements on their property.

Fix your old dilapidated sidewalks or sell out to somebody that will.

Watermelons have made their appearance in all their doubtful glory.

The old countries keep growing and snarling, they may bite after awhile.

The brick lately burnt by Caro Bros. is said to be the best in the country.

Considerable wheat is being harvested throughout the county this week.

Jacob Bitterships beef by express every few evenings south on the train.

Joe Mensor of Jacksonville was with us this week on his way to Eugene City.

On Thursday the 13th the Flood warehouse is to be sold at public auction.

Ira Wimberly brought us a basket of fine plans this week, raised on T. J. Singleton's farm on Oak Creek. Yea, verily, our good neighbors are not all dead yet.

You ought to see W. G. Woodward's new hitching rack in front of his harness shop. Go there and "hitch up" until you put a new Harness or Saddle on your horse.

J. J. Whitsett informed us this week that his planer has started and works well. Last Monday he cut 12,000 ft. in one day. L. C. Beardsley Agent for this mill.

Roseburg is booming in the building line. Caro Bros. are moving ahead with their fine double building, while Dr. Hamilton is putting the finishing touches on his.

Bicycles are coming into vogue. The "Kangaroo" is the latest style, and some of the big fat men of our city speak of investing. Call on Chase and Zigler.

The foot race last Saturday afternoon was a very tame affair. The "cow boy" McKinney not running over half the distance and the professional Ryan only trotting through.

CORRESPONDENCE.

From Drain. I owe you an explanation of my failure to furnish items from our part of the county for the past two weeks, and will make my apology brief.

On Monday evening, July 20, in company with that prince of fellow-travelers, Hon. E. B. McElroy I took the train for Glendale, equipped with rod and basket, to catch the "speckled bean" - beg pardon, I mean trout.

We are extremely sorry that previous engagements prevent us from accepting the very kind invitation of the G. A. R. Post at Independence to conduct the memorial service of General Grant next Sunday.

A gentleman from Scottsburg was at the County Clerk's office lately inquiring for wedding cards. He was at the wrong place however, he should have gone to the REVIEW office. But what did it mean any way?

The Masons are talking of arranging with Caro Bros. to build a second story over their corner brick for a lodge room. We hope that it will succeed, for it is just what is badly needed. The lodge should have a better hall.

Chas. Hughes, County Clerk of Josephine county, was with us a few days since, and then went to Portland. He is one of the substantial men of Southern Oregon. His call was pleasant and profitable at our sanctum.

The iron for the piers of the Rogge river bridge went south on last Wednesday's freight. The bridge is to be built by the San Francisco Bridge Co. the same company that built our bridge, and after the same plan.

Phipp Matthews has moved his blacksmith shop from the Bowen old shop to his father's, B. F. Mathews place of business. Phipp will continue to do as good work there as anywhere and solicits his share of the patronage.

The Oregonian writes one day about Sol. Abraham and Josephine County Court House, and the next day its tone changes. Surely it has a hard time getting at the facts, but no wonder for the "bug dispatches" has given trouble of late.

W. G. Woodward the leading harness and saddle maker has established a branch shop at Grants Pass, and James Woodward goes to take charge. He will give you good bargains in Josephine county, he always leads, never follows.

On Thursday last the little town of Elkton, Douglas county, came near being burned to ashes, the fire closing in from the mountains; but fortunately by the aid of a back fire and the united efforts of men, women and children, the flames were subdued.

It is true that Robinson's circus will be here next Tuesday, and that many are going to see the show, but before you go, do not fail to go around to F. P. Hogan's store and get some of those matchless bargains that can be secured there now, and for the next 30 days.

The citizens of Roseburg have subscribed a purse of $1.00 to be given for a handicap foot race of 100 yards to be run in this city on the 11th of August. J. C. Ryan handicaps all contestants in Douglas county including Joe and Henry Mensor of Jacksonville 15 feet.

The REVIEW received two fine lithographs of Gen. Grant from A. L. Bancroft & Co. San Francisco this week. One ornaments our sanctum, while the other we presented to Messrs Fullerton and Walfin and it is hung out from their office draped in appropriate mourning.

We print an interesting letter from our townsman Geo. A. Beath who with his family are residing at the Bybee Springs in Jackson County. The letter was mostly private, but we take the liberty of publishing the greater part, knowing that it will be of interest to many of his friends.

As will be seen by the Assessor's Notice in this issue all persons interested in their taxable property should comply with the requirements, and attend on the 31st day of August at the Clerk's office in Roseburg and state the reasons why taxes should not be collected on their property as assessed.

B. J. Grubb, of Wilbur, came to town Wednesday and remained only a short time. He was on his way home from the mountains where his son Quincy is rusticated for his ill health which is very poor, but no worse than usual. We hope that Quincy will find the great panacea, which all so much desire for him.

The business men of our city have agreed to close doors next Saturday from 11 o'clock A. M. to 5 o'clock P. M. out of respect to the memory of General Ulysses S. Grant ex-President of the United States, it being the day of the interment of his mortal remains in the Riverside cemetery in the city of New York. This is eminently proper and is as it should be.

Early this morning we were confronted by the startling notice of "danger" which some wag had posted in a hole of godly proportions in the sidewalk on Main street. Now if the hole itself is dangerous we can go around but if some villain is using it as an ambuscade or some canine assumes a local habitation in that particular place, we object.

G. W. Wonscott wholives on Henry Smith's place was harvesting at J. D. Burnett's and with his family left his house for a few days, and when he returned some miscreant had gone into his house and took bedding and other articles, including Mr. Wonscott's best suit of clothes. The only thing for him to do now is to buy another outfit. This is lean consolation no doubt, but it is better than nothing, when we know that the merchants at Myrtle Creek and Roseburg have the very things they need.

From Biddle.

Miss Lizzie Cathey, of Portland, is visiting relatives here. Noah Cornutt lost a favorite horse Sunday from some cause unknown.

One day last week the train ran over and killed a horse belonging to father Powers.

We understand that a quartz mine has been sold in our vicinity for $2,000 but as it is simply hearsay we refrain from giving names. There are some very rich mines near here and if they were worked as they should be it would give employment to several hundred men for scores of years.

Mrs. James Wilson, the wife of our enterprising blacksmith came from Sellwood Monday to join her husband and we hope they will make this their permanent home. XXX

From Myrtle Creek.

Harvesting is in full blast, grain turning out poorly.

Rev. Father Willis was with us Sunday and preached an interesting sermon in the evening.

Mrs. Ace Miller, of Salem, is visiting relatives and friends in this vicinity.

Harvest fights have commenced as citizens of the town can attest by the noise of the raging conflict last Sunday night. Cause, fermented tarantula juice.

For Bargains in dry goods, clothing, and groceries call on H. Dyer, Agt. for Farmers and Mechanics Mercantile Association.

Hon. Wood Barker, an old time resident of this place was in town one day this week, after trying Washington Territory for a number of years thinks that old Douglas is the best place yet and complains of having had better health since coming back than at any time while in the upper country which speaks well for our country.

John Renick, son of Uncle Hans Weaver arrived one day last week from Montana, called to the sick bed of his brother James, but arrived to late to see him alive. John is looking hale and hearty and his many friends were glad to bid him welcome.

Sulphur Springs.

Bybeville, Jackson County, August 4th 1885.

EDITOR REVIEW: I take this opportunity to write you a few lines as it has been four weeks to-day since I arrived here and am as fat and saucy as a native of the woods with plenty of venison, grouse and squirrels, with now and then a little bacon to season the good things with, and spuds to thicken the soup.

My wife is enjoying herself and the little children are happy wading the creek, climbing trees, digging for gophers, fishing for mud turtles and killing rattlesnakes! They expand their lungs also by giving vent to war-whoops that would do credit to a band of Comanches.

Woodville is the starting point for these springs and the distance is about fifteen miles over a good road which can be traveled in three hours. There are about fifty-five people here and more coming every day. There are some from almost every state in the Union, there being four direct from Iowa come in last night, and a party of Congressmen are expected shortly from Washington. Mr. Wm. Bybee, the proprietor will have a fine hotel when it is finished.

There are two springs here, White and Black Sulphur and I think they are excellent.

Give my best love to all enquiring friends as I cannot write to all. I will visit Ashland before returning to Roseburg. G. A. Beath.

To Friends of Education.

We are starting a magazine devoted to the interests of the homes and schools of Oregon. Each number will be neatly bound having a good colored paper cover, and will consist of eight pages of reading matter.

The school department will contain articles on methods of teaching, school management, etc., together with educational news, original contributions from our own best writers, historic of our public and our private schools, proceedings of our State District and County Institutes, miscellaneous selections, school law, etc. The July number will give the proceedings of our State Teachers' Institute at Astoria.

The home department of each number will contain a story, a school dialogue or a declamation, a column for house-wives, children's page, etc.

The price of the "Willamette Valley Educator" is $1 per annum. Address A. L. Randle, Dallas, Oregon.

His Loss was Her Gain.

"Well madam," said a fashionable physician to a wealthy lady patient, "if you don't like my prescriptions, perhaps you had better try Parker's Tonic or some other quack stuff."

"You don't mean it doctor," she answered, "but your advice may be good for all that. Sometimes what you call 'quack stuff' is the best and most scientific medicine after all."

She got a bottle of Parker's Tonic and it cured her of neuralgia arising from disordered stomach and nerves. She told her friends and now they all keep a doctor at home in the form of Parker's Tonic.

Syrup of Figs.

Manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Co. San Francisco Cal. is Nature's Own True Laxative. This pleasant liquid fruit remedy may be had of Dr. S. Hamilton at fifty cents or one dollar per bottle. It is the most pleasant, prompt and effective remedy known, to cleanse the system; to act on the Liver, Kidneys and Bowels gently but thoroughly; to dispel Headaches, Colds and Fevers; to cure Constipation Indigestion and kindred ills.

Better than she Expected.

Your letter received. In reply I am happy to say that Parker's Hair Balsam did much more for me than you said it would, or I expected. My hair has not only stopped falling out, but the bald spots are all covered, and all my hair has grown thicker, softer and more lively than it was before my sickness a year ago. Thank you again and again." Extract from letters of Mr. B. M. T. West Fifty-third street, New York.

Up to the Quinine.

On the 17th of July, a little company composed of Brother Mitchell, his daughter, Miss Ida, his two nephews, Eddie and Walter Patterson, Mrs. Sharp and myself started with our own conveyance to the Quinine Valley to attend a camp-meeting on Rev. H. B. Swafford's work, and a part of the company to spend a few days on the beach. Our trip down, I will say but little. Notwithstanding the rough roads, we enjoyed ourselves with appetites, songs, and the grand and impressive scenery along the way.

To our surprise we found the farmers about the East Branch of the river busily engaged in their harvest, it being nearly a month earlier than usual for harvest in that valley. We arrived at the camp-ground on Saturday at about five o'clock, P. M., where we found Rev. E. G. Michael, the P. E., H. B. Swafford, the P. C. and quite a number of the officials engaged in holding a session of the quarterly conference. Also quite a number of tenters who were there to work for the Master. We, at once proceeded to strike tent, for we had gone prepared to camp out, and were at home wherever we saw fit to do, and especially along this trip to that camp with Mrs. S. and the writer, for we knew almost every person on the ground, she having resided some nine years within a distance of a mile and a half, and he having been P. C. there four consecutive years. At 8 P. M., the Elder preached an interesting sermon to an appreciative audience. The next morning the people began to gather quite early and before half past ten the hour appointed for a testimonial meeting, there was a large crowd, for that valley, present and the writer had the pleasure of leading that meeting which proved a season of refreshing to our souls. We were pleased to listen to the testimony of those who stood by us during our pastorate, and to note that their testimony had the same clear ring. At 11 A. M. the Elder preached again from those words "Who shall we go?" and we felt safe in saying the sermon made a deep impression on the audience. At 3 P. M. the writer was permitted to present some thoughts from the following "All things work together for good to them that love God." After which the Sacrament of the Lord's supper was administered, a large number communing. It was then announced although the people were very busy and the attendance would be necessarily small through the week, the meeting would continue over the following Sabbath. As expected the congregation was small during the week, but many precious seasons were had and doubtless good accomplished. Bro. Mitchell, his daughter and two nephews left the camp ground on Monday and after visiting relatives a day or two went to the beach where they spent a few days very pleasantly and returned to the camp ground on Saturday evening. Toward the last of the week the people began to return in a way that showed that the gospel of Christ is attractive, and the congregation was considerably larger the last Sabbath than the first, and the services as interesting. At the close of the afternoon service the door of the church was opened and six came forward and offered themselves for membership. The Elder preached the closing sermon at 8 P. M. after which he started in company with his brother-in-law Wm. Forgy and went two miles toward Norway in order to catch the steamer for Bandon on Monday morning, and there by connect with the Bandon and Port Orford stage, thereby enabling the Elder to go around by Ellenburg, visit his sister then through Josephine Co. and into Jackson in time to meet the G. C. of the Jacksonville circuit by the following Saturday. On Monday morning after a good testimonial meeting we broke up and started for our homes. All in all we had a good time, and reached our homes in Roseburg on Tuesday in the dusk of the evening, tired and dusty; but feeling we had value received from our visit. B. T. SHARP.

A Horse Thief.

A young man registering himself as E. B. Woodson Yoncola stopped at Champagne's hotel on the 3d. On the 4th he hunted up Superintendent Benson and by false misrepresentation satisfied that gentleman that they were relatives. He afterwards secured the Professor's services in going his security for a suit of clothes; he then obtained a horse of Rose, the liveryman and struck out. At Oakland he was captured by John Beckley, by order of a telegram. On the way to this place, he made his escape. He is a slick one and represents himself as a dealer in fine stock.
