

ROSEBURG REVIEW.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 7, 1885.

STATE NEWS.

The contract for putting in the fifty-two new iron cells in the addition to the penitentiary, was awarded to Trenkman & Wolfe, of Portland, by the state board of public buildings on Tuesday.

The county jail at Baker City, Oregon caught fire last week and burned to the ground. There were six prisoners confined in the jail, two for murder and four for theft. Five were burned to death, and the sixth, Fred Winkelman, the 18-year-old murderer is not expected to live.

It is proposed to place a monument over the grave of Col. Nesmith by the citizens of Polk county. Let the whole State take the matter in hand.

East Portland is in debt $18,805. The largest colony that ever came to Oregon is being organized in Indiana and Nebraska, and will start at about August 1st. It will settle in the Willamette.

The citizens of East Portland, Or., finding that they could not get rid of certain Chinese living in cabins near the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company's wharf, stationed a fire engine near cabins to prevent a conflagration and set fire to them. The Chinese fled.

The register of the land office at Oregon City has received official information of the forfeiture of the Astoria land grant and that the same is open to homesteading and pre-empting.

The Oregon State Temperance Alliance appointed the following delegates to represent them at the National Convention to be held in Philadelphia in September next: Dr. and Mrs. H. K. Hines, Mr. and Mrs. Wallis Nash, Corvallis; Elder J. W. Webb, Portland; and the President, Prof. Miller, of Philomath College; and the Secretary, J. E. Houston, ex-officio.

Wm. Lyons, of Oakland, Cal., has purchased Binger Hermann's saw mill at Coquille City, which he intends putting in order and running regularly.— Coast Mail.

The new mines are only sixteen miles from Joseph, and the Josephites are cutting a trail.

The graduating class of the Indian industrial school numbered 25, of whom 10 are girls. These children will return to their reservation homes at once, carrying thither, it is hoped, the ways of civilization that they have learned in their few years at government school.

Repairs to the tunnel of the Oregon Pacific were completed last week.

Oregon pine is now being sought after by ship builders for masts and is fast superseding that of other regions.

No more Oregon stoves from the prison foundry at Salem will be allowed to be taken to Victoria.

The excitement over the discovery of gold at Little Meadows, on the head of Owens creek, near Pendleton, is unabated.

The Teachers' Institute held at Grant's Pass last week was probably the most successful ever held in Southern Oregon.

The reports of the wheat crop are more encouraging as the harvest progresses.

Eastern Oregon is attracting quite a number of Gentiles from Utah, who are tired of the irrepressible conflict, and are desirous of peace and plenty in a white man's country.

The Astorian estimates the salmon pack of the season of 1885 on the Columbia river at 500,000 cases, against 672,000 cases for 1884. This is quite a falling off, which was caused by the ten days' strike at the commencement of the season and the small run of salmon during the last week. Of this amount 250,000 cases or half the pack, is adroit and en route for market. The remainder will shortly follow. The season as a whole has not been a satisfactory one to either canners or fishermen.

Gen. Jos. E. Johnston, the great confederate chieftain was in Portland Monday but was summoned to New York to act as one of the pall bearers of Gen. Grant.

All Oregon papers are advocating manufacturers as the panacea for hard times.

The salmon season is ended and fishermen are falling their nets. A fewer number of deaths has been reported than ever before in the history of salmon fishing on the Columbia.

The land office at Oregon City is besieged with filers on the forfeited land grant of the Oregon Central railroad.

Father Upchurch, the founder of the A. O. U. W. association is in Portland. The affairs of the association are to be rigidly examined, as vague rumors have been in existence.

The Grants Pass county seat question is gaining state celebrity. The Oregonian mixing it up with the Senatorial question.

Several miles of placer ground has been taken up along Pine creek, Union county. A Union company sent a complete outfit up there Wednesday, and a shaft will be sunk at once, and the claims fully prospected. A few pans of dirt taken from the creek turned out remarkably rich.

NOTES AND NEWS.

Coney Island has the "biggest" elephant in the world. It is 150 feet long, 88 feet high; the legs are 88 feet in diameter. The two hind legs are provided with circular stairways, which lead to the rooms of the body of this colossus, of which there are thirty-four. The tusks are thirty-six feet long.

Great Britain and Ireland contain 30,000,000 head of gantry, and Great Britain's annual egg total amounts to $31,250,000. That is not a chicken piece for the people. Grant was cruelly robbed and died, but one of the thieves, ex-banker James D. Fish, is now known as convict 1,654.

A pauper of dirt taken from under a sidewalk at Santa Rosa, Cal., last week washed out $30 worth of gold dust. Some joyful old miner in the pioneer days dropped his purse about that spot as he was going home, after a time with the boys.

The total receipts of the New Orleans Exposition have been estimated at $533,391.93, or but little over one-fourth of the cost of the exhibition.

June 29 next, Queen Victoria's semi-centennial as reigning sovereign will be celebrated. She will not complete her half century's reign until June, 1887, but the precedents are all in favor of the celebration being held at the beginning and not at the end of the fiftieth year.

The New York Times having made careful examination, reports that at the watering places in the East hundreds of young women pine in the breezy verandas for hundreds of young men who swelter in the heat of the city, being quite unable to go out of town, owing to "the unexpected course of the stock market."

The Prince of Wales keeps at Sandringham a book in which the arrivals and departures of guests, their usual habits, special requirements, etc., are entered with the scrupulous exactitude of a merchant's ledger. Noting this, the Buffalo Advertiser observes that "a good hotel keeper was puffed when this man was born in the purple of royalty."

The Panama canal, which was to have been completed in 1888 at a cost of $120,000,000, would not be finished in ten years, even if the present rate of excavation was maintained. More than $100,000,000 have been already expended, and the probabilities are that if the canal is ever finished it will be after an outlay of $450,000,000. The prediction is freely made abroad that when M. de Lesseps dies the whole scheme will collapse.
