HOUSE TO RENT.—Any person desiring to rent a house, call at once on Henry Easton.

COUNTY SURVEYOR.—Wm. Thiel has been the county surveyor so long that he knows every corner in the county almost and his new instruments are the only ones in the county that will furnish complete work in every department, and William is just the man to handle the theodolite. Give him a rousing goodbye.

BAND STAND DEDICATION.—The Y. D. Band has prepared a most excellent programme of music for the dedication exercises which will take place at the land stand on next Wednesday evening. Remarks will be made by Hon. L. F. Lane and J. R. N. Bell. Let everybody appear in the court yard lawn and enjoy the sweet strains of the silver cornet band.

SPELLING.—Two Democrats and one Republican had a spelling match at the Cosmopolitan hotel last Tuesday. The word lettuce was proposed, the Republican wrote "letuce," the two Democrats wrote it correctly "lettuce," which proves beyond successful contradiction that the Democrats are beginning to learn and can spell, while the Republicans are forgetting what little they did know, but ever remember "let us" have all we can get.

NEW PRINTING PRESS.—Martin Marks, the new addition to the firm of S. Marks & Co., has brought with him a press, upon which he does excellent work in the job line. Martin just graduated from the Commercial College in Portland last week with honor of splendid merit. But my lord, that press is an innovation upon the regular fraternity, and if you find it missing some morning, blame Bro. Black of the Plaindealer for it.

GRADUATING EXERCISES.—The Roseburg public school will close Friday, June 4th. In the evening of that day, the graduating exercises will take place in Sloum's hall. The programme will be announced in due time. As this is to be the first exercise of the kind in this community, and admission is gratis the attendance should be large. The following are the graduates in the regular course: Cora L. Benedict, J. Reid Dean, Rosa Lewis, Abbie Parrott, Henry C. Smith, Ross Bizzar, Arthur N. Knight, Alice K. Mosher, and Lizzie Farrott; in bookkeeping, Oscar N. Kennick, Homer D. Jones and Hamill V. Smith.

STRIKE IN DOUGLASS.—Last Tuesday morning when W. B. Clarke "turned on the steam" to his Hubbard Creek mills, the men refused to go to work, and struck for the eight hour system. The expostulations of Mr. Clarke to his men were tearfully sympathetic, but the crew was obstinate and determined, and preferred money to tears. Mr. Clarke would gladly have compromised on ten hours, but the spirit of the men was unconquerable, and so the excitement continued for the space of half an hour; then the men arose and went to work, and Mr. Clarke's breast heaved with emotion, the throbs of which could be heard afar off when he realized that it was a joke perpetrated upon him to offend some of his friends. This first strike in old Douglas ended, with no prospects of another.

Gibbons and Wald for secretary of state and state treasurer with Penney for Governor, will remind things about the state house, they will drive the money changers from the house of state, and work a reform so much needed at that point in our state affairs.

It is told as a joke on Edmunds that he insists that if the president takes a wife he must take her "by advice and consent of the Senate," and that when the "nominations" is sent to the Senate all the "papers" must be submitted with it, including the president's "reasons."
By land or at sea, out on the prairie, or in the crowded city, Ayer's Cathartic Pills are the best for purgative purposes, everywhere convenient, efficacious, and safe. For sluggish bowels, torpid liver, indigestion, bad breath, flatulency, and sick headache, they are a sure remedy.
Notwithstanding much is said about the importance of a blood-purifying medicine, possibly the matter has never claimed your serious attention. Think of it now! If, by using Ayer's Sarsaparilla, you avoid scrofula, and transmit health to your offspring, thank us for the suggestion.

ROY RABER and John Kennedy of Corvallis remained over one night in Roseburg on their return trip from Jackson county. They had two car loads of rebellious ore to prove the utility of their new machine. We hope and believe they will be millionaires yet, and they lack only one thing to complete their success—subscribe for THE REVIEW.
Hon. Birger Herman's family express themselves as much pleased with their stay in Washington city. Miss Aggie in church last Sunday night looked natural and pleasing, and we are glad to say that her trip to the east did not disqualify her from participating in the church service in our little town, as it does so many girls that visit Washington.

Dist. Atty. Hamilton has been re-nominated for District Attorney for second judicial district. A better selection could not possibly have been made, or one more in accordance with the wishes of the people of Coos. He has been tried, found thoroughly competent and reliable, and his re-election is a foregone conclusion.—Coos Bay News.
The secretary of the treasury has called ten millions more of the three per cent bonds. This makes fifty millions called in one hundred and ten days. This is the fastest the public debt has ever been called when all the bonds called were paid from the surplus. It is about as fast as the Republicans could do when the debt was simply called and refunded in new bonds.

What we know of Col. Cornelius, and supposed that it would be good authority with the Drain Echo, as both seem to lean to the side of the monopolist, by suggesting that Mr. Penney is an "agitator" and "mob breeder." Mr. Penney is simply an Anti-Chinese man and in favor of the workmen of our country. And so are we.
Dear Freddie, you were hunting prohibition, ists, and hence we thought you could consistently endorse Mr. Benjamin, who were seeking good Democrats and found them, not a whit behind any man you have on your ticket, and Mr. Benjamin is my dear boy is you have. What you want is good men, and you not so much prohibition, but the officers, and then you went. It is this in a nutshell!
In a conversation we had with Judge Bean recently, we said that no member of the judiciary in any department whose prejudices were high and unreasonable was a fit man for the place, to which the Judge cordially assented. Now from good authority we learn Judge Waldo should have said that his race prejudice was so strong, "that he could not give a just verdict." If this is true, he is not a fit man for the supreme bench.

Great credit is due to Mr. Abraham our enterprising grocer, for recent importation of a strong yet delicate article of uncolored Japan Tea, known to experts, and the public generally, as "Sunbeam Tea." This brand has been selected, as its name implies, from the most fully matured crop, and Mr. Abraham has wisely made arrangements to import it only in Perflection Tea Cans, so that it cannot possibly lose its aroma or strength, as it might do if packed in any other manner.
With Ben and Baldwin for Judges, Rayburn for prosecuting attorney, and Newton and Acklom for commissioners our taxes will be sure to grow leveller less.—Corvallis Gazette.
No wonder your taxes "will grow less," when you continue to live in that old barn of a court house with its gable ends laughing at each other, and your old jail that would not hold a goose fifteen minutes. Where is your pride? You have eight or ten thousand dollars on hand in your county, what are you thinking about any way? Put somebody in for commissioners that has enterprise. But then its none of our business, please excuse.

Mr. E. E. Miner and wife of San Francisco visited our city during the week, and on Wednesday gave an exhibition of fine art work on the new white sewing machine. It included the latest concrets in household draperies, screens, lambricquins, buds and flowers etc. with a facility to nature that would seem impossible. Practical demonstrations were given as to how simply it is to beautify your homes by the use of the White machine. A large stock of the New White, with all the latest improvements and attachments will be received in a few days by Sheridan Bros. Don't fail to see them.
FINK WORK.—The Sugar Pine Lumbering Co. at Grant's Pass sent a lot of the finest doors, windows and finishing lumber to R. N. Bell last week that ever came to this city, and cheaper than has ever been bought by any one in this city except those who have ordered from the same mills. Send orders there for dry lumber.

IS IT RIGHT.—If it is right for temperance women to attend upon polling places and give sandwiches and lemonade, roads to voters as a means of gaining their votes, is it right for liquor men to do the same thing. If it is right to give a glass of lemonade, which costs five cents, to influence a vote, is it right to give five cents outright. If it is right to give five cents, is it right to give two dollars and a half, or a hundred. Women will gain nothing but humiliation by mixing with the rabble on election day. When men do this sort of thing it is condemned by decent people everywhere as vicious. If women do it, it will be called silly.—Oregonian.

A QUESTION.—Mr. P. P. Palmer sir, the voters want to know without evasion or hypocrisy, which ticket you are running on, the Republican or Prohibition? You were first nominated by the Prohibitionists and then at the Republican convention it was stated that you did not accept the former nomination, and since that time it is said that you have written private letters allowing your name on both tickets. Now sir can you straddle both platforms at once? The difference is not in men but in platforms. We want to hear from you at once. It is all right for a man to run on any one ticket or half a dozen tickets, but the voters want to know where you are.

GRADUATING CLASS SONG.—We have just received a copy of the beautiful song and chorus entitled "Cadmus" as published by Wiley B. Allen. It was written by request of this year's graduating class of the Roseburg public school, and will be sung in Sloum's hall by the class on the evening of graduation, June 4th. The words by Hon. W. F. Benjamin are full of meaning, poetry and song. Mr. Benjamin has written much in rhyme and his effort in the instance is classical. The music by Prof. Mark F. Jones starts off like an evening breeze that softens through minors into the gentle zephyrs to inspire all that is poetic and devotional in man. Prof. Jones took a strong musical theme to start with; and did it justice. The music can live in concert or as a waltz. Mr. Allen and other competent critics speak in glowing terms of the song. The class unanimously dedicated the piece to State Supt. E. B. McElroy, who, it is said, will be in attendance at the exercises of that evening.

ROSEBURG REFORM CLUB.—There was a large attendance at the club-room last Tuesday evening despite the Democratic rally which was held at the same time. A good program had been prepared for this evening sometime before, and the bills struck off and therefore this being its regular meeting night, it could not well postpone the meeting but nevertheless an offer was made to adjourn the meeting to the latter part of the evening, and the prohibition speakers, but this proposition being rejected there was no other alteration but to go on with our program. Mr. J. W. Mullen and Mr. C. Gaddis gave two rousing Proli. speeches after which the temperance drama of "Saved at Last" was read by nine little girls. After the laughable farce entitled "A Chinese Laundry" the meeting adjourned. W. ALEXANDER, Sec.

The Portland Subsidy Bill.
ALBANY, Or., May 14.
To the editor of the Oregonian:
In your issue of the 13th inst, your correspondent "G" calls attention to the fact that Judge Strahan voted for the $300,000 subsidy as well as Cornelius. It is true that such men as Brown of Marion, Burch, Strahan, Peterson, Powell and others voted for this bill in 1870, but Gov. Geary vetoed the bill, and when this veto message was up for consideration in 1872, all of these gentlemen conceded the force of the Governor's constitutional objection to the bill, and voted against passing it over the veto of the Governor, but Mr. Cornelius voted solitary and alone for the bill, notwithstanding the arguments of the Governor had convinced all the other members, it would seem that Mr. Cornelius was too dull to be reached by argument, or too much imbued with self-interest to be convinced.
FAIRPLAY.

A Word.
At the Prohibition gathering on Deer creek last Saturday Hon. W. F. Benjamin Republican nominee for the Legislature renewed his allegiance to the cause of Prohibition "as it was in the beginning." What a play the third party can't endorse this man. He's got more courage than the whole "cannoodle" of them together, except perhaps W. P. Owens; but he don't train with the right kind. I might except also Mr. Shelby. He also graced the meeting and was introduced by Mr. Owens as a seasons prohibitionist, he graciously accepted the compliment and said, if elected, he would feel happy. No doubt he could sing the song of the happy contraband, "I am the jolliest little dorkie in the land" but then he went.

"THAT'S ME."
Don't forget to go to the strawberry festival next Wednesday evening.

DECORATION DAY.

Owing to the peculiar day falling on Sunday this year, the decoration services and parade will not take place until the following day, Monday, May 31st, at which time all members of the Grand Army and all other honorably discharged soldiers of the war for the Union whether members or not, will meet in Grand Army hall in this city at 10 o'clock a. m. sharp. An invitation has already been extended to all organized bodies (civil and military) in the country and all have signified their willingness to attend and the invitation is hereby extended to all others, especially the school who will parade with their teachers at the head of the procession. Everyone should attend on this great national day to do honor to our nation's heroic dead. The memorial services will be held on Sunday, May 30th in the Presbyterian church at morning service, at which time Rev Post G. A. R. are requested to attend in a body. A full programme for decoration day will be published in the next issue of the REVIEW.

NATURAL PHILOSOPHY.
MR. EDITOR: I have a question in natural philosophy to submit to you for a decision upon which my reputation has been brought into question for rationality and scientific knowledge. Notwithstanding the majority of men with whom I have conversed upon this subject take the opposite view. They declare that as a siphon will work on a small scale, it must work on a large one. For instance they claim that a pipe in the form of a siphon will draw water over an elevation of five hundred feet or more. They seem to have forgotten their first lessons in natural philosophy or they are not acquainted with Hydrostatics and the pressure of the atmosphere. I claim that water cannot be carried to a greater height by means of a siphon than the pressure of the atmosphere can sustain. A column of water which is not to exceed 33 1/2 feet in a valve, but not so much on higher ground. The pressure of the atmosphere is about 14 lbs. to one square inch in valleys. "By coty coty" Mr. Editor I want you to decide this question scientifically in plain English so that an Oregonian can understand it. Some years ago when I told some persons (who are over the mountains now) that a light colored garment was cooler that a black one they thought I was a "phool." And when I said that a man ought not to be damned because he was on a desert and could not be baptised I was pronounced a heretic. L. C. HILL.
[Too deep for us at present.—E.]

Only Half Alive.
There are hosts of men and women who, to coin a phrase are only half alive. That is to say, they have seldom if ever any appetite, are nervous, weak, fugly and troubled by numberless small pains and aches. In the presence of vigorous, exuberant vitality they seem mere pigmies. Such persons are usually found frequently dosing themselves, swallowing in the course of the year enough drugs to stock any apothecary's shop of average dimensions. This course, defeats instead of furthering the end in view, viz., the recovery of health and vigor. Were they to seek it from an unfailing source of vitality, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, how different would be their case. Then vigor would return to their debilitated frames, the glow of health to their wan cheeks, their trembling uncertain gait would grow firm and elastic, appetite, that grandest of all sauces, would give a relish for the daily food, were it ever so coarse, and refreshing sleep would crown the tasks of the day.
MIRACULOUS CURE.
W. W. Reed, druggist of Winchester, Ind. writes: One of my customers, Mrs. Louisa Pike, Barton, Randolph Co., Ind., was long suffering with Consumption, and was given up to die by her physicians. She heard of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and buying it of me. In six months' time she walked to this city, a distance of six miles, and is now so much improved she has quit using it. She fits her own life to it.

Band Stand Dedication and Lawn Party.
The band stand in the court house, will be dedicated on Wednesday evening next May 20, under the auspices of the Y. D. Band, where a good time will be in store for all those who attend. The exercises will take place on the lawn in front of the court house at 8 o'clock P. M. where strawberries and cream will be served by several young ladies who have kindly consented to assist the band boys in making the evenings entertainment pleasant. The band stand and its surroundings will be made as bright as day by Chinese lanterns, torches and other illuminating devices, including the bright faces of the young ladies, who will never tire in serving the company with delicious berries, cream, cakes and other delicacies which they so well know how to prepare. The programme for the evening will consist of short addresses by Hon. L. F. Lane and Rev. J. R. N. Bell. Several selections by the Y. D. Band and last but not least, a social hop at Sloum's hall after the company have had enough of the lawn picnic.

Public Speaking.

The Court house was crowded last Tuesday evening to listen to Mr. Penney and Mr. Butler, candidates of the Democracy for Governor and Congressman, Judge Mosher presided and in a handsome manner introduced the speakers. Mr. Penney's manner and mode of speech is that of genuine, pure and honest simplicity. In listening to him we were reminded of an incident in the life of Macaulay. After a long and great speech before his constituency at Edenboro an old Scotchman arose and congratulating him said "It was a very good speech, I could have said the all of it myself." Mr. Penney's speech was so plain, so clear, so comprehensive that every person that heard him went off saying, his sentiments are mine, if I had just thought of it I could have said all of it myself. Those are the speeches that do good and make beneficent impressions. We have not space enough to review it at this time. Suffice it to say he is entitled to the votes of honest men. The interests of labor under his administration will be fostered and protected as far as the position can go. The prowess of that high position will be exercised toward relieving our country of Chinese and servile labor. If the Pacific States do not stand together upon this great question then the people are without hope. In our next issue we will publish in full Mr. Penney's letter to the Oregonian under date of March 15th last. It is in itself a great speech and after reading the voter will agree with us, no fitter man can be chosen Governor. Mr. Butler followed in his characteristic, happy way and in his words inspired his audience with the impression that he is more than an ordinary man. He was extremely hoarse, talked scarcely above a whisper, but his utterances were instinct with eloquence. That man deserves to be elected to Congress and he will be. Hon. L. F. Lane followed Mr. Butler in his usual happy style, and we must say that Mr. Lane made the best points that have been made in the campaign, especially the one showing the weakness of Congressmen, who have allowed the appropriation to fall as low as 10 per cent upon the estimates and recommendations of the Secretary of War. This point was a clincher, and will show who are paper men and who are not.

A Strain.
I had a conversation with an old and prominent Republican a few days since, when he remarked, "that he would vote the straight Democratic ticket, if he lived to get to the polls next month. Why, said he, the party I have supported for a quarter of a century has deceived me; it has gone back on the people, gone back on itself; only two years ago the candidates on the Republican ticket for the Legislature came to me with pledges, if elected, to give the state reform, economy and wholesome laws. Instead of redeeming the pledges made, the entire time of the legislature was spent in passing unconstitutional measures, and fighting over the election of a United States senator which they did not elect. The Governor was forced to convene the Legislature in extraordinary session, and give them an opportunity to correct the incompetent measures passed at the first session and elect a senator. And what is the total gain to the people. After a second trial they got a worked over batch of bills, through both houses, of questionable constitutionality. Indeed so far as the Supreme court has been asked to pass upon any of these bills, they have been declared no good. So you see that about all the people get as legitimate fruit from the last Republican legislature was a United States senator at a cost of something like fifty or sixty thousand dollars. Why, sir I know twenty just as virtuous men as Mitchell, that would have been willing to be elected senator at one tenth the price the state paid for him. Yes I shall vote the straight Democratic ticket and more than that many of my old Republican friends will do the same thing."
I could not refrain from fling this venal and repentent disciple of a defunct party, that the state had pretty generally accepted the opinion that they had Oregon legislature was not exactly a Young Men's Christian Association. How sad it must make the "trooly" loyal feel, to see the only party of great moral ideas, yes of immaculate purity, deserted by the old and tried soldiers who have fought its battles for a quarter of a century. The county and the state will regard as of transcendent worth, the man who have the courage to desert the rotten old bulk of a once powerful party. Their action both honors their manhood and their
