Mrs. Gen. [illegible] Wilson, of parsons, Kansas, who was appointed by the State of Kansas lady commissioner to the World's Fair at New Orleans, in answer to the inquiry of a reporter, said: "I can not speak too highly of Dr. TURNER'S TREATMENT. My sufferings nearly distracted me. My stomach was deranged and my nervous system was completely broken. I suffered from partial paralysis, rheumatism and neuralgia. Added to the above symptoms were loss of memory, voice, appetite and lack of nerve force. My family physician did me no good and by the advice of a friend, I bought Dr. Turner's Treatment. Two packages completely cured me. I think the treatment is wonderful in its effects, and recommend it in all cases of general or nervous debility, and diseased condition of the stomach, kidneys, liver and blood."

It has been used successfully in thousands of cases by both men and women, and is the best medicine know for the repairment of the procreative powers and restoring vitality. We will guarantee that three packages will cure the worst case of debility, causing dimness of sight, defective memory, aversion to society, want of ambition, loss of power, &c. A GIGANTIC SCHEME.

A Proposition to Build a Railroad from the N. P. R. R. to Behring Straits.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 20.—The Examiner's Washington special says: The secretary of the interior has sent to Senator Sherman, chairman of senate committee on foreign affairs, a letter with a complete report made by Maj. Powell, superintendent of the geological survey. A senate bill was introduced some time since to facilitate settlement and develope the resources of Alaska, and to open an overland commercial route between the United States, Asiatic Russia and Japan. The report is accompanied by two large maps. Maj. Powell says a railroad is feasible over this vast extent of country, and the difficulties are not much greater than those that have already been mastered in building roads already in operation. He says the distance from northern Montana to Behring sea is 2800 miles.

The report gives a general description of the region through which the proposed road would pass, and tells of the geological formation and general prospects of the country for settlement and business. Advantage is taken of the report made by explorers who were sent by the Western Union Telegraph company in 1865 to map out a route for that company to run its lines.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

A Mass Meeting of the Sunday School workers of Oregon will be held at the Gospel Tabernacle, Portland, commencing Sunday evening, July 11th, and closing July 13th. B. F. Jacobs, of Chicago, Chairman of the International Sunday School Executive Committee, one of the leading Sunday School workers of the age, accompanied by several other eminent workers from the East, will be in attendance at this convention. This will afford a rare opportunity for the Sunday School workers of Oregon to meet with some of those who stand at the head of International Sunday School work, and who have been a power in the land in arousing and maintaining an interest in this great cause. It is the purpose to reorganize the State Sunday School Association at this time, and perfect arrangements for carrying on the work that is to be accomplished through such an organization. It is therefore a matter of great importance that all those interested in this work should attend and parcipitate in this convention.

While this will be a mass convention, and all interested will be entiled to participate in its deliberations, yet to insure a representation, all Sunday Schools throughout the State are requested to elect two or more delegates pledged to attend.

The friends of the cause in Portland will open their homes for the entertainment of such as shall desire to attend from aboard. All such are requested to send their names to J. E. Haseltine' Chairman of Committee on Entertainment, so that places may be assigned them before their arrival.

Delegates paying full fare coming will be returned at one-fifth the regular rates over the Oregon & Califrnia railroad. Arrangements are expected to be made for a reduction in rates over transportation lines leading into Portland.

Com. of Arrang'ts. E. W. ALLEN, W. S. HOLT, J. K. GILL,
Portland, Oregon, June 10, 1886.

A Merited Rebuke.

The Liquor Dealers' Union arrogated to itself a dominating influence in Umatilla politics during the campaign just closed, and directed its best efforts against J. P. Wager, editor of the East Oregonian, who was candidate for Joint Senator on the Democratic ticket, but who was not even "endorsed" by the Prohibitionists. It appears, however, that the sober and respectable element of Umatilla and Morrow counties, unlike that of Coos and Curry, was in no mood to brook this foreign and unwarranted interference in local political affairs, and emphasized its displeasure thereat, and at the same time administered a rebuke not less severe than it was deserved, by electing the bold and talented Wager with a flattering majority.—Oregon Recorder.

A gentleman driving from Portland to Hillsboro the other day met a Chinaman with a heavy load on a stick across his shoulders. Said the traveler; "Hello, John! Where are you going?" The Chinaman replied: "Mr. Penlover he lectum Gov'ner, me go home to China." "No, don't go away, John, it isn't necessary. You stay here." "Yes, yes, said John, "forte year maybe Mr. Cornelius lectum Gov'ner, me come back wash him shirt. Good bye; me go China

RECENT EXPLORATION AND SCIENTIFIC INVESTIGATION.

The Director of the Geological Survey of Ireland, Professor Hull, F. R. S., delivered the Annual Address of the Victoria (Philosophical) Institute in London, on the 28th of May, on which occasion the Inststitute's new President, Professor Stokes, President of the Royal Society, took the chair. The report was read by Captain F. Petrie, the honorary secretary, and showed that the Institute's home, colonial, and American members were upwards of eleven hundred, including many who joined from a desire to avail themselves of the Institute's privileges rather than bear a part in its work. An increasing number of leading scientific men now contributed papers and aided in the work of bringing about a truer appreciation of the result of scientific inquiry, especially in cases where scientific discovery was alleged by the opponents of religious beliefs to be subversive thereof. The author of the Address then gave an account of the work, discoveries, and general results of the recent Geological and Geographical Expedition t gypt, Arabia, and Western Palestine, of which he had charge. Sketching the course taken by him (which to a considerable extent took the route ascribed to the Israelites,) he gave an account of the physical features of the country, evidences of old sea margins 200 feet above the present sea margins, and showed that one time an arm of the Mediterranean had occupied the valley of the Nile as far as the First Cataract, at which time Africa was an island (an opinion also arrived at by another of the Institute's members Sir W. Dawson,) and that, at the time of the Exodus, the Red Sea ran up into the Bitter Lakes, and must have formed a barrier to the traveller's progress at that period. He then alluded to the great changes of elevation in the land eastward of these lakes, mentioning that the waters of the Jordan valley once stood 1,292 feet above their present height, and that the waters of the Dead Sea, which he found 1,050 feet deep, were once on a level with the present Mediterranean sea margin or 1,292 feet above their present height. The great physical changes which had taken place in geological time were evidenced by the fact that whilst the rocks in Western Palestine were generally limestone those of the mountains of Sinai were amongst the most ancient in the world. The various geological and geographical features of the country were so described as to make the address a condensed report of all that is now known of them in Egypt, Palestine and Arabia Petræa.

Sir Henry Barkly, G. C. M. G., F. R. S. moved a vote of thanks to Prof. Hull, and to those who had contributed to the work of the Institute during the year, which included Assyriological investigations by Prof. Sayce, Mr. Boscawen, and others; M. Maspero's and Capt. Conder's Egyptian papers; Prof. Porter's Eastern researches; also a review of the question of Evolution by Prof. Virchow, and the results of investigations in regard to the subject of the origin of man, as to which it had been shown by Sir William Dawson, that geology divided the chronology of animal life into four "great periods," in the first,—. Eozoic —in the Geological as in the Bible records, were found the great reptiles; and the last, or Tertiary, was again subdivided into five "periods," and it was only in the last of these, the "modern" period, that the evidences of man's presence had been found. Again as regards his ape descent, the formation and proportions of the skull and bones of the ape considered most like man were found to be so different from those of man as to place insuperable difficulties in the way of the theory. In the gorilla, the high crest on the skull, which was also found in the hyena, was absent in man. Also among other points, if the capacity of the brain of the anthropoid ape were taken at ten, that of man even in his savage state was twenty-six, or nearly thrice as much, a very important fact when, as it was known, any appreciable diminution in the brain of men was at once accompanied by idiocy. As regards the transmutability of species, Barrande's argument against the theory founded on the results of a life of modern research clearly pointed to the fact that one great bar to the transmutability of species lay in the refined and minute differences in the molecular arrangements in their organs.

The proceedings were concluded by a vote of thanks to Prof. Stokes, under whose presidency it was remarked that the work of the Institute would be carried out with the increased help and guidance of men of the highest scientific attainments, and in a manner to tend to advance Truth. A conversazione was then held in the Museum,
