

LAST WORDS OF A DRUNKARD.

VARIEITIES.
An English barrister, who was accustomed to train students for the practice of law, and who was not a religious man, was once asked why he put students from the very first to the study and analysis of the most difficult parts of the Sacred Scriptures. "Because," said he, "there is nothing else like it, in any language, for the development of mind and character."

One thought, one scheme, nurtured ceaselessly for a term of years, made the key-note of every meditation, the lever of every action, must result in the insanity or monomania of him who thus plans or broods and craves. This is as natural as that damped-up waters should breed pestilence and the concentrated force of a comparatively harmless essence be a deadly poison.

The crying sin of American society is that it is "too young" therefore crude. Conversation parties are huge games of flirtation, or else stupid to boredom. Our girls flirt with more grace and safety, dance more airily, dress better and look prettier than any other young women on this planet. As a rule, they cannot talk. They lack ballast and tone.

Dr. Christian Kalka, who died at Copenhagen recently, was a celebrated theologian and ecclesiastical historian. His "History of Denmark During the Reformation" is a classic, and he was the president of a committee of divines who published a revised version of the Bible in Danish.

The death is announced of Peter Reid, a well-known Scotch journalist, in his seventy-seventh year. He was the originator of the newspaper press in the extreme north of Scotland, having founded the John o' Groat Journal in 1836.

M. De Lesseps, who is about to leave Paris for Panama, said, in an interview with the Gaulois concerning the Isthmian Canal: "I do not anticipate any future obstacles. The period of experiment is past, and only that of execution remains. Every one of the contractors will have his work finished on the 31st of December, 1888. I shall sail through the canal on that day."

The czar of all the Russias is the latest notable recruit to the army of amateur photographers. He has had a complete apparatus sent out to him, through the medium of the Russian embassy in London, and, it is reported, greatly bores his personal attendants by his pertinacious attempt to "take" them.

Princess Isabeau, who recently inherited $1,000,000 from her mother, keeps in her Persian palace twenty dogs and twenty cats, that, being fed to the full, agree very happily together. She is going to found a home for the aged and indigent of both races.

Senator Chas. A. Van Wyck, one of the millionaire club of the Senate, though so immensely rich, is popular among the working classes. During his last campaign he made himself good with the populace by riding around in an old buck-board wagon. At the close of a certain session of Congress, when John Davis and Daniel Webster were Senators in Congress from Massachusetts, Davis asked Webster if he could suggest any books that it would profit him to read during the vacation. "Yes," said Webster, "I am going to read the dictionary." "Read the dictionaries!"—N. Y. Advocate.

But we have thought it right to protest against the tendency to seek a panacea for the maladies of the time in the uprooting of established human laws, rather than in an earnest, unflinching effort to remove the abuses by which the beneficence and beauty of those laws are obscured.—Christian Journal.

Virginia is moving on in the temperance question. A bill for license is before her Legislature and the preachers of the old Conference are moving in the matter. Brother Lafferty is paraphrasing the subject and everything shows an amusement of the solid conservatism of "Old Virginia."—O. P. T.

The proposed change of time for Thanksgiving from the last Thursday in November to the second Wednesday in October, is receiving favorable responses from the Governors of the various States. Attorney general Garland furnishes the Jeffersonian simplicity for the Cabinet, and the New York and New England members furnish the magnificence.

Mr. Tennyson admits that he once tried for six weeks to be a vegetarian, but slipped on Christmas roast pig. The value of John Calvin's property, when he died, was about $625. His annual stipend, it is said, was never larger than 150 francs, 15 measures of corn, and 2 casks of wine.

Probably the largest literary prize ever offered is that of $1,000,000, to be given in 1925 by the Russian Academy for the best work on the life and reign of Alexander I. In 1825, shortly after the death of Alexander I, the sum of 50,000 rubles was offered by one of his favorite ministers, to be given as a prize a century after his death, and this at compound interest will amount in 1925 to $1,000,000.

The following extracts were taken from one of the lectures of J. J. Talbot, who recently died from the effects of a drunken debauch at Elkhart, Ind. "But now the struggle is over, I can survey the fields and measure the losses. I had position high and holy. The demon tore from around me the robes of my sacred office, and sent me out, churchless and Godless, a very hissing and byword among men." "Afterwards I had business large and lucrative, and my voice was heard at large courts, pleading justice, mercy and right. But the dust gathered on my books and no footholds ever crossed the threshold of the drunkard's office. I had money ample for all necessities, but it took wings and went to feed the coffers of the devils which possessed me. I had a home adorned with all that wealth could buy. The devil crossed its threshold and the light faded from its chambers, the fire went out on the holiest of altars and leading me from its portals, despair walked forth with me and anguish lingered within."

"I had children, beautiful to me at least as a dream of the morning, and they had so entwined themselves around their father's heart that no matter where they were, they were objects of his undying love. The destroyer took their hand in his and led them away."

"I had a wife whose charms of mind and person were such that to see her was to remember, and to know her was to love her. Thirteen years we walked the rugged path of life together, rejoicing its sunshine and sorrowing in its shade. The infernal monster would not even spare me this."

"I had a mother, who for long years had not left her chair, a victim of suffering disease, her choicest delight reflecting that the lessons taught at her knees had taken a deep root in the heart of the youngest born, and that he was useful to his fellowmen, and an honor to her who bore him. But the thunderbolt ever reached there and did its most cruel work. Other days may cure all but this. Ah, me! never a reproach from those lips; only a shadow of unspoken grief gathered on her dear old face; only a tender hand laid lovingly upon my head; only a closer clinging to the cross, only a piteous appeal to heaven if her cup was not full at last. And while her boy raged in his delirium two thousand miles away, the pitying angels pushed the golden gates ajar, and the mother of the drunkard entered into rest."

"And thus I stand, a clergyman without a church, a barrister without a brief, a father without a child, a husband without a wife, a son without a parent, a man without a hope—all swallowed up in a mad maelstrom of drink."

Of Interest to Ladies
The new treatment for ladies' diseases discovered by Dr. Mary A. Gregg, the distinguished English Physician and nurse, which has revolutionized the entire mode of treating these complaints in England is now being introduced into the U. S., under a fair and novel plan.

Sufficient of this remedy for one month's trial treatment is sent free to every lady who is suffering from any disease common to the sex who sends her address and 13 2c stamps for expense, charges etc.

It is a positive cure for any form of female disease and the free trial package is many times sufficient to effect a permanent cure. Full directions accompany the package (which is put in a plain wrapper) also price list for future reference. No trial packages will be sent after Oct. 1st 1886. Address, GREGG REMEDY COMPANY, PALMYRA, N. Y.

The Detroit Free Press says: "In his speech at Grant's tomb, General Logan again asserted that Grant was superior to Cyrus, Alexander, Caesar, Pompey, Hannibal, Scipio, Charlemagne, Frederick the Great, Wellington and Napoleon. And when the Fritz-John Porter bill comes up in the senate, Logan will rise and calmly combat the military opinion of a man he pronounces to be the greatest military genius the world has ever seen—except one, and that one is Logan. For if Logan's military opinion is superior to Grant's it must be superior to Alexander's Caesar's Hannibal's, Napoleon's, and the like."

Talking for Pie.
"Mr. Featherly," said Bobby at the dinner table, "what's an average?"
"An average?"
"Yes. Pa says you come to see sister twice a week on an average."
"Featherly was very much amused. After explaining to Bobby the meaning of the word, he said:
"I suppose you thought it was some kind of carriage, Bobby?"
"I thought perhaps it might be a bicycle, but I knew it couldn't be a carriage, because ma says you're too mean to hire—"

Bobby, interrupted his mother "will you have another piece of pie?"—N. Y. Sun.

WORTHY
Of Confidence.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla is a well-known medicine, which he sells as cheap as it can be bought in the State. The new fangled...

SARSAPARILLA (extracted from the root of the genuine Honduras Sarsaparilla) is its base, and its powers are enhanced by the extracts of Yellow Dock and sassafras, the iodides of Potassium and Iron, and other potent ingredients.

IS your blood vitiated by derangements of the digestive and assimilatory functions? Is it tainted by Scrofula? or does it contain the poison of Mercury or Contagious Disease?

THE States, who know the composition of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, say that nothing else so good for the purification of the blood is within the range of pharmacy.

ONLY by the use of this remedy is it possible for a person who has corrupted blood to attain sound health and prevent transmission of the destructive taint to posterity.

THOROUGHLY effective renovation of the system must include not only the removal of corruption from the blood, but its enrichment and the strengthening of the vital organs.

RELIABLE world, testify that this work is better accomplished by AYER'S SARSAPARILLA than by any other remedy.

BLOOD that is corrupted through derangement is made pure, and blood weakened through dilution of the red corpuscles is made strong, by AYER'S SARSAPARILLA.

PURIFYING the blood and building up the system require time in serious cases, but benefit will be derived from the use of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA more speedily than from anything else.

MEDICINE for which like effects are abundant in the market, under many names, but the only preparation that has stood the test of time, and proved worthy of the world's confidence, is

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,
PREPARED BY
Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
