LAST.—A bunch of keys lost, a post-office key. Report to REVIEW office.

BLACKBERRIES.—Blackberries carefully boxed and delivered at the express office in Salem for 20 cents per gallon. Address all orders to W. A. Strange, Salem, Oregon, or apply at THE REVIEW office.

A CURIOSITY.—James Boggs found about four miles from Roseburg a set of teeth in four large rows. Some think that it is the teeth of a shark, while others think they are the molars of an old gray bear. These teeth were in the creek bottom and all the debris had washed away.

BARK BURIED.—A. J. Chapman's barn in Wilburne caught fire July 19th, and burned to the ground. Mr. Ottinger had eleven tons of hay destroyed, also about 6500 feet of lumber. The fire was the work of an incendiary. It is surmised, insurance $5500. Mr. Chapman lost nothing to speak of but the barn.

A NEW BRIDGE.—Last Saturday the sealed bids were opened by the County Court for the new bridge across Deer creek at this place. Four substantial bids were in, and Thomas Gradwell being the lowest bidder it was awarded him for $850. This bridge was an absolute necessity. Mr. Gradwell will not get rich however, on this contract.

WOOLLEN MILL.—Wm. Seykes of Pennsylvania was on a visit recently to D. B. Reame on North Umpqua, and Mr. Seykes being a practical woolen mill man said that by all means Roseburg should have a factory. And that he would put money into such an enterprise largely. Do you suppose we will ever make up or not? We will see.

INDIAN'S HAIR.—A correspondent wants to know why it is that an Indian's hair never turns gray. It is because an Indian has no trouble, no worry, his wife chops all the wood, he has the fire, he has the market at day light, stores tramps out of the front yard, and blocks his boots. Let an Indian start a twenty eight cent paper in a six column town to fill a long column, and his hair would turn gray in one night.

REFORM CLUB.—Roberts Creek Reform club met at South Deer Creek last Saturday evening at which time B. F. Rapp addressed an over crowded house in an able and interesting manner. The club was entertained by good music, instructive dialogues etc., having in all one of the most enthusiastic meetings of the season. The club is in a very prosperous condition, increasing in membership and gaining a wide spread popularity. SEC.

GOOD FRIENDSHIP.—At the regular semi-annual meeting of the State Board of Education, consisting of Gov. Moody, Sec. R. E. Earhart and Supt. McElroy, J. B. Horner was appointed a member of the State Board of Examinations. Prof. Horner is well known in this country and many friends here will be pleased to learn of the new honor conferred upon him. Mr. H. is the gentleman who so ably reported the proceedings of the State Teachers' Institute for the Gazette.—[Gazette.]

ARRIVED.—Mrs. J. C. Fullerton and two children arrived home Tuesday evening in good health and much pleased with her extended visit to the States and one or two Territories. Hon. J. C. Fullerton went as far as Portland last Saturday to meet his friends, and now all are at home and many friends are pleased to say "we are glad you got back safely." Mr. and Mrs. F. will move into their beautiful residence in West Roseburg in a few weeks. They have the most unique and splendid residence in this whole city without exception. Let us all sing "home again."

FIND OUT.—Girls of a marriagable age do not like to tell how old they are; but you can find out by following the subjunctive instructions, the young lady doing the figuring. Tell her to put down the number of the month in which she was born, then to multiply it by 2, then to add 5, then to multiply it by 10, then to add her age, then to subtract 365, then to add 115, then tell her to tell you the amount she has left. The two figures to the right will denote her age and the remainder the month of her birth. For example, a girl says she is 22 years old, and was born in the eighth month (August). Try it.

FARMERS ROAD.—To the farmers and fruit growers of Douglas county, Oregon, you may get a better variety at home. We have every variety of fruit, shade, and ornamental trees, shrubbery etc. We are responsible for any guaranty that we may make, and we will give you trees suitable to this section and warrant each and every tree just as recommended. Remember that every tree is grown in this climate and warranted true to name. North Western Nursery, located at Salem, Oregon. T. D. Jones, Prop. Roseburg, Oregon.

RETURNED.—Hon. W. F. Benjamin and wife returned from east of the Rockies this week. Mrs. Benjamin has been in Chicago for several months visiting friends and relatives, while Mr. Benjamin only was absent about fifty days, taking in Congress and New York, a few items about which we shall ask him to write for the benefit of the Readers of THE REVIEW. Mrs. Benjamin says she "provisionally" escaped several cyclones, the warm nights, and other impetiments to perfect enjoyment in the east, made her feel that her beautiful home on the banks of the flowing Umpqua is preferable to the rustle and bustle of that breakneck city of wealth and opulence. Mr. and Mrs. B. welcome you home.

Mrs. Dr. Hoover and family returned last Saturday from an extended visit to Jackson County and to Crater Lake, Her son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Menor accompanied them to the celebrated lake. Rev. Sam Jones says that a man who has more sense than religion is a rascal, and one with more religion than sense is a fool. This is putting mankind in a tight place. We would give a dollar to know where we stand.—Statenman. A man at Grant's Pass tried to kill another but a suspender button saving the other man's life and the price of suspender buttons have gone up at that place. We should all lay in a stock of suspender buttons before it is exorbitantly too late. A very large rattlesnake was killed in Stephen Minard's kitchen last Monday. The snake was crawling toward Lee Minard's little baby which was sitting on the floor. Mr. Minard says it was one of the largest snakes that he ever saw in this country. The most deadly foe to all malarial diseases is Ayer's Aged Cure, a combination of vegetable ingredients, of which the most valuable is used in no other preparation. This remedy is an absolute specific, and succeeds where other remedies fail. Warranted. Mrs. Gegan, daughter of Noah Cornitt of Riddle, gave us a most pleasant call this week as she was about leaving for Oakland Cal, her present home. She has been visiting her parents and friends in old Douglas, but will leave again to be absent indefinitely. The curative power of Ayer's sassaaparilla is too well known to require the specious aid of any exaggerated or fictitious certificate. Witnesses of its marvelous cures are to-day living in every city and hamlet of the land. Write Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., for names. The fish ladder at Oregon City is reported "a thing of the past, having gone to pieces." The Oregon City Enterprise asks: "Where is the solid masonry called for in the specifications of the fish ladder? And where is the $100,000 worth that the State paid its gold coin for?" pathetically asks the "Astorian."

It is conceded by the leading journals of Ohio that prohibition is a success in that State, and that all the saloons will be closed excepting in the larger cities. The aggressive attitude of the temperance people is alluded to as something wonderful, and their success is assured at every election.—Portland News. Mrs. Lucy Blackwood was in this city this week and informs us that she has disposed of her hotel property in Drain, and has bought in Grant's Pass, where she will in about two weeks open a first class hotel. We bespeak a large patronage for Mrs. Blackwood, as she is superb as a hotel proprietress. Look out for her new ad. Rev. J. W. Miller will leave next Tuesday for Conference to be held at Forest Grove Aug. 26th 1886, Bishop Harris presiding. Mrs. Miller proceeded last about a week to visit along the valley, and her children at Aurora. The many friends of Mr. Miller would be well pleased to hear him returned to this charge next year, as he has given eminent satisfaction. Gen. Logan, who received an ovation at the hands of the Grand Army Posts in Salt Lake, took occasion to inform the rebellious saints of Utah that there was no alternative but to obey the laws of the land. The General is right, but the Mormons have long since been aware of the fact that talk is cheap and Mormon greed very potent in Congress. Hence the delay in settling the Utah question.—News.

A CALL
To the Citizens of Douglas County.

You are respectfully invited to meet at the County Court House on Saturday Aug. 14th, at 2 o'clock P. M. to consider the report of the Engineer in charge of Surveying party who have been located a route for a wagon road across the Cascade Mountains to Crater Lake and South Eastern Oregon. The Engineer is now in the hands of the Committee, and demonstrates that a good wagon road can be constructed for the small sum of about $14,000. Such a road would be of incalculable benefit to Douglas county at large, would open up a vast new country in the eastern part of the county, and render it eligible to settlement, in addition to placing us in immediate communication with the settlements in Lake, and other counties of south eastern Oregon. It is of great importance that a general attendance be had at the meeting so that immediate and positive action may be taken to have this mentioned enterprise on a sure foundation. The committee has ordered the report of Mr. Arrington published this week. ASHER MARKS, Chairman of Committee.

OAKLAND ITEMS.

Miss Minnie Smith is in Salem on a visit. Mrs. E. J. Walker went to Eugene Monday. The Assessor has his office over Brown's store. Miss Jessie Snowden is a guest of Mrs. Jane Venable. The depot hotel has a new floor in the dining room. Mrs. Smith Bailey is visiting relatives at Eugene city. Hon. L. B. Stearns returned home by Monday's train. Rev. Gitten preached his farewell sermon at this place on Sunday. James Young received from Coos county 190 head of fine steers, Tuesday. Prof. Tapp has returned from Thief creek and will practice his profession. Mrs. Adelle Mackey, daughter of E. C. Sacy, returned to her home at Gardiner Monday. G. Bingham Barr is now employed on the O. & C. road as carpenter. Success to you George. D. B. Hamilton left by Wednesday's train for Junction on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. Eva Hamilton. Dr. Henry Latte has gone to Elkton on professional business and will be absent from Oakland two weeks. C. M. Hall has just received a fine lot of the famous Iron King cook stoves which he proposes selling cheap. We are sorry to lose our fellow townsman, E. L. Berc and wife, who will leave in short, by having disposed of his stock of furniture. The southern part of the city were aroused from their slumbers Saturday night by one of the campers who returned from the coast, being sick at his stomach, cause unknown, but supposed to have been caused by a sudden change of atmosphere. Many men and women are more concerned about the skill of the men who are to manage their own flocks and herds than about the character of the man or woman who is to teach their children next year. If these people resent this impatience, it will be a hopeful sign. The citizen who lays obscure literature and reads it in his family with a relish is only one removed above the wretch who prints and sells it. It would be well if it were possible to let these partners in guilt be sharers in the punishment due to a high crime against society. The party of sixteen who left here with the intention of going to the coast failed to make the connection on account of their capricious "coachman" running a tire off of their coach, which stopped further progress, when only about half way, and the "blinker" being left behind, they were unable to secure the services of another conveyance to continue their journey. DEALS ITEMS.

Mr. Charles Holyfield came home Monday. Forest fires are raging among the neighboring hills. Mrs. R. L. Shelley returned from Eugene Monday. Mrs. Eunice Hudson left Monday evening for California. Mr. and Mrs. Chesire left Monday for Coosmouth. Mrs. M. A. Underhill of the new hotel spent Monday in Eugene. Mrs. Viola Hubson left for her home in Eugene Tuesday morning. Miss Lauretta L. Boots is absent visiting friends and relatives at Elkton. V. L. Dotts, who has been quite ill with fever for some time is improving. Mrs. H. McKee returned home from Scotts Valley Wednesday morning. Mrs. Jackson returned from her trip to Washington T, yesterday evening. There is quite a lack for news at present, owing to the absence of so many of our citizens. Elisha Wright of the United Brethren church delivered an excellent sermon Tuesday evening at the Christian Chapel. Prof. Hippocrite and Booth, Dr. Kuykendall and Rev. T. L. Jones are expected home from their trip to-morrow. Rev. Jones will however leave on the evening train for the South. Among the things worthy of note in our little town, is the constant addition of yet more elegant appointments in the new hotel. No pains will be spared to make this house one of the finest south of Portland. Sickness and death are prevailing in our vicinity, and elsewhere as well. We regret to learn of the death of Mrs. McLure of Yoncalla which occurred a few days ago. She was an accomplished lady, and of marked abilities. Her demise will be a source of great grief to her many friends and relatives. But even in the midst of life we are in death. God's will be done. O. R. S. N.

Engineers Report.

ROSEBURG Douglas county Ore, July 30, 86. To Asher Marks Chairman of Committee to cause a road to be located from Roseburg to Crater Lake, and south eastern Oregon, the undersigned engineer asks leave to make the following report: I commenced survey with party assisting, at the residence of A. Engles on the East Umpqua river, finding good ground up said river twenty miles and but two crossings requiring bridges of fifty feet span; to the foot of the ridge dividing the waters of the North Umpqua and the South Umpqua rivers, ascending the mountain a distance of two and a half miles on a grassy slope, and then descending to the east to the terminus of the road on the east side of Rogue river where it intersects the Rogue river military wagon road making a distance of fifty-four miles in all surveyed from Engles' residence and all on good ground excepting a few miles, chiefly on gravel and clay, very little under timber and no heavy rock to remove. The rock seems to be broken up and would be easily moved. By falling trees along the hill sides, a road can be made for miles by scraping the gravel down against them, making a good dry road. You will see by the accompanying map that the route is a very good one for each mile of road. I estimate the total construction of the road not to exceed fifteen thousand dollars from A. Engles to the summit of the Cascades—a passable road perhaps for less. From appearances of vegetation the snow must leave along the route in April and if traveled might be used all time of the year, as it would pack close making a good road. From Engles to a point on the R. R. M. W. the road the distance 54 miles, being west of Crater Lake about twelve miles.

J. M. ARRINGTON, Engineer.

Scientific.

We read in the San Francisco Examiner and elsewhere a dentist successfully transplanting teeth. In one case it is stated that he took a tooth that had been out one month, soaked it in warm water to soften the membrane he then made a incision in the gum of a person and drilled into the bone to the place where the tooth was to be put. It is contended by some that he has made an important discovery in dentistry; it is also stated that a tooth can be shaped to fill and fit the cavity, but if it is so it is upon natural and scientific principles. The membranes of an old tooth that had been extracted a single day must be dead and the nerve also must be dead, therefore teeth without the old dead nerve or membranes would be preferable at least in a sanitary point of view. If such teeth can be transplanted in a case of tooth loss, the office of original teeth they amalgamate with the jaw bone and become partially vitalized with or without forming new membranes though I would infer that there would be a union of the two bones—the inserted tooth becoming a parasite. Clean new or ivory would be far superior to teeth with decaying membranes and nerves. As natural teeth whose nerves are dead are said to be as for sign substance in the jaw must be extracted or corrode and disintegrate the jawbone, those newly and artificially inserted ones must in some way be in harmony with the laws of nature, anatomy and physiology. Exploratory.

OAKLAND, August 3d, 1886. ED. REVIEW: In last week's issue of the REVIEW your correspondent in giving the Oakland items was in error in regard to the death of one of our Old Oaklanders, and in justice to the attending physicians permit me to say that had "the trouble" call upon the Messrs. Devore he would have been enabled to give a correct version of the sad accident. Willie Long and two brothers were returning from a hunt and stopped to rest under a tree, one brother perceiving a rusty blue Jay perched upon a branch concluded to try his skill and asked Willie to pass him the rifle. Willie undertook to comply with the request and while reaching for the gun was discharged. The wounded boy was conveyed to the home of his parents and Drs. C. P. and W. H. Devore were called, and upon examination found that the ball entered about midway of the forearm on palmer or anterior side coming out again half way between the elbow and shoulder the ball entering the chest in front of right arm between the fourth and fifth ribs passing through the right lung and lodging against the spinal column where the ball was extracted. The patient is doing well at present writing, though by no means is he considered out of danger.

Yours for justice.

Cleveland a Democratic Lincoln. The politicians did not like President Lincoln. They would have punished him aside at the end of his first term if it had lain in their power. The barrier in the way was the confidence reposed in him by the people. The position at this time is not dissimilar. President Cleveland has not pleased the politicians either of his own party or of the opposition; but every day it becomes more and more manifest that the people—both the Democrats, who took him on trust, and the Republicans, who distrust him—are behind and backing him. His sturdy honesty pleases them. The wisest politicians, seeing the drift of the popular current, are beginning to hedge.—Bradford Era.

DISPATCHES.

MISSISSIPPI VALLEY WEATHER. CHICAGO, July 30.—The signal service reports cloudy and rainy weather from the corn belt this morning. In Kansas there was considerable rain last night, a half inch having fallen. There were also light showers in Nebraska, Iowa, Dakota and Arkansas, and so throughout the lower and upper lake regions, the upper Mississippi valley and the Missouri valley is generally cloudy. LARGE STEAMER ASHORE. NEW YORK, July 30.—Midnight.—A telegram from Rockaway beach, just received says a large four-masted steamer is supposed to be ashore near there. She is firing rockets. No particulars are obtainable to-night. AN INSANE PASSENGER. VICTORIA, Aug. 1.—A duty is imposed on foreigners brought into Canada. Yesterday a passenger from the Sound on the Queen of the Pacific, bound for San Francisco, was observed going aboard the steamer with a large bag in his hands, which on examination proved to contain Peruvian dollars. He was overhauled by a customs officer, who seized the bag. The man became violently insane. Although on representations, his property was returned, he continued to act in a strange and noisy manner, and at last lunged the leg of a lady passenger and escaped into the sea. One of the sailors leaped after and supported him till a rope was fastened around his waist, when he was drawn aboard. When the steamer sailed the unfortunate man was locked in a stateroom under guard, to prevent his destroying himself. OREGON'S EXHIBIT. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—One of the most frequented headquarters of G. A. R. visiting delegations is that of the Oregon delegation. Visitors through the large store which it occupies, and which also contains a collection of Oregon exhibits. Streams of people are constantly coming and going, immense flags and photographs of Oregon scenery decorate the walls, and evergreen festoons hang from the ceiling. The windows too are draped with bunting of the national colors. The rear portion of the store is partitioned off for sleeping quarters of the drum corps which accompany the Oregon delegation. The corps is composed of some members of the G. A. R., and numbers sixteen. They everywhere attract much attention, both by their appearance and proficiency. The Oregon delegation is justly extremely proud of its progress, and speaks of great interest in Oregon's exhibits, and other valuable and admirable products of Oregon. The whole drum corps, in charge of one of the members of the Oregon delegation, paid a visit to the Golden Gate park yesterday, and had a thoroughly enjoyable time. To-day under similar protection, they were taken to Woodward's gardens, and spent the greater portion of the day there. Although Oregon is our neighbor, it is astonishing how great is the surprise manifested by residents of California at the productions and resources of Oregon. Eastern visitors also take great interest in Oregon's exhibits, particularly the preserved fruits. It has been the general supposition that California only could make a creditable showing in this field but the luscious fruits preserved and exhibited in glass jars makes the mouth of many a visitor water, and undoubtedly change their ideas as to Oregon's possibilities in horticulture. Her grapes are shown to great advantage in glass jars, and also in the stalk. These fruits are arranged as tastefully as possible on a conical stand with niches and shelves. This stand is itself a piece of the display, and is built of different woods grown in Oregon. It is of elegant workmanship, much of it being inlaid in mosaic style. The minerals, which are contained in a large glass case, cause astonishment by their variety and value. The variety, beauty and value of Oregon's woods come in for a share of attention and comment. They are attractively laid out on a rack in the form of polished slab about two feet long and the width of the tree's diameter. A. T. WILLIAMS, of SAN FRANCISCO, CHOSEN BY THE CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE. SACRAMENTO, Aug. 3.—Both houses of the legislature met at one o'clock this morning and immediately proceeded to elect a United States Senator to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator J. F. Miller, which vacancy since Miller's death has been filled by George Hearst, appointed by Gov. Stoneman. A. P. Williams, chairman of the Republican state central committee, who was nominated by the republican caucus a few hours before, was nominated and received a majority of the vote of both houses. The vote on joint ballot stood: Williams 70, Hearst, 24.

TEMPORARY FAME.

This is an age when notoriety is considered one of the great desiderata and the summer season is par excellence the time for attracting public attention. A Cape May belle was temporary fame by allowing the mail of her little dress to grow to an extreme length and having it tipped with gold. She has thus given a "pointer" to other young women who want to see their names in print. Why the eccentricity of the Cape May beauty should be of public interest it is hard to say, but her feat, rather her nail, has been chronicled from Maine to the Pacific. This craving for newspaper attention is not peculiar to the gentler sex by any means. Early in the season an Englishman reached New York from Australia. His name was printed in the local papers for a day or two and is now forgotten. He jumped into temporary notoriety, but has not yet jumped from the bridge. The dot who jumped yesterday will be famous for a week or two, perhaps. A loud-mouthed fellow recently made public his intention of darning the Niagara whirlpool in a cork suit. He has had his moment of notoriety and is again swallowed up in the whirlpool of his own insignificance. And so the struggle for fleeting fame goes on. One man fails for weeks, another says he is going to hang Sullivan; another has discovered a gold mine in the moon; and still another has walked from Kamachita to shake hands with President Cleveland. They all flourish for a moment and then sink into oblivion. The Cape May belle with the long nail, however, will be remembered for some time. She has nailed her deed to the records of eccentricities.—N. Y. World.

A WAGON ROAD TO THE NATIONAL PARK.

Through the efforts of Hon. B. Herrmann the great national wonder Crater Lake, and the beautiful scenery surrounding it on the summit of the Cascade mountain was by act of Congress set apart for a national park. Some of the enterprising citizens of Roseburg and vicinity seeing the advantage a wagon road would be to our city and county and the settlements on Deer creek and the North Umpqua River across the mountain to this point of interest, raised a sufficient fund for the purpose of making a survey and for the purpose employed the veteran path-finder, J. M. Arrington, who, with a competent force started out to find a practical route for a wagon road from Roseburg to the summit of the mountain, connecting us with the roads leading from eastern and southern Oregon to the lake. Mr. Arrington and force have returned from their labors, looking fresh and invigorated from their mountain trip, and report a practical and easy grade for a road from the end of the wagon road on the east fork of the North Umpqua to the Rogue river military wagon road at the summit of the mountain about fifteen miles from the lake. To construct a good, practical wagon road with a much better grade than the road from Roseburg to Mr. Engles' place, the point of commencement will require but little grading and little or no blasting. It is by actual measurement only 7 1/2 miles from Roseburg to the point of the survey connecting with the Rogue river military wagon road which would at once connect us not only with the national park but directly with the sage brush and lunch grass of eastern Oregon. The advantage of such a road not only to the people of Roseburg but to the farmers and cattle men of this county and the entire Willamette valley, must perforce strike every intelligent mind favorably. Besides this road, when constructed, will open up grass and meadow lands in the wilds of the mountains, sufficient to keep the entire stock of our county through the summer months in good marketable condition. The soil of these high table lands is of the best quality, and there are numerous burns and prairies upon which the grass grows in abundance. According to the estimate made by Mr. Arrington it will require but a few thousand dollars to build a good wagon road over this route. And would it not be economy in our county to insure its construction at an early date? The facility for settlement that it would open up would in a short period of time secure to our county population and wealth that would more than compensate for the amount expended in the increase of our tax roll. The County Court has the power and authority to establish a legal road within the county limits. This once done and a sufficient appropriation to commence its construction and the result is accomplished. The next legislature would no doubt second so laudable an enterprise by a sufficient appropriation to complete the construction of the road, that there is precedence for such an appropriation. The last legislature has furnished an ample evidence. This would secure to the people of the state a free wagon road from the nearest railroad connection to the national park, and there can be no doubt but that the country would settle along the line of this road sufficiently to keep it in good repair. Aside from the national park the road ought to be built and should be a free road. Should our people fail to act promptly in this matter in securing a county road, we may expect, ere long, to hear of a corporation formed to build a road which would prove a detriment to the state and county, and constitute a barrier to the rapid settlement of these table lands which are not so cold, and far more productive than many of the eastern and western states which are teaming with their population.

English Settlement Items.

Farmers have finished cutting grain and are now busy stacking it. Rev. J. Enslay delivered an interesting sermon last Sunday. Large fires are raging in the Calapoosa mountains, destroying large quantities of valuable timber. School began last Monday with Miss Henderson as teacher, the attendance is small owing to the warm weather. Mr. Metley met with an unfortunate joke on Sunday evening not long ago, but he recovered and has higher aspirations than ever. Success. Millard Sammons visits this settlement quite frequently lately. Mr. Sammons is a successful farmer, and we hope he will be successful in his other undertakings. Mr. Joe Brant lost a valuable cow recently, she had her head tied to a log, and in going through the brush became entangled and starved to death before she was found. CASSEDO.

The Kansas Prohibitionists.

The Kansas state prohibition convention, which met on the 15th inst., nominated the following state ticket. For governor—C. H. Branscombe of Lawrence. For lieutenant-governor—D. W. Houston of Garnett. For secretary of state—N. B. Klaine of Dodge city. For auditor—C. H. Langston. For attorney-general—W. S. Waite of Lincoln Center. For superintendent of schools—Mrs. C. A. Culbert of Belle Plaine. For associate justice of the supreme court—V. B. Patten of Emporia. The following resolutions, offered by C. H. Branscombe, carried unanimously with three cheers: RESOLVED, That we take great pride in the career of ex-Governor John P. St. John; that we deem it an honor that he is a citizen of our state and we congratulate him that he has secured such convincing testimonials in all parts of the country of confidence in his integrity—an integrity that could not be bought or sold in his sterling and Christian character and we rejoice and are thankful that God has raised him up in this critical period of the nation's history and has given him ability and strength to point out to the people the dangers that threaten the existence of our government, and to teach the duty of personal abstinence from intoxicating drinks and the national prohibition of the traffic in the same.—The Voice.

A Mystery.

How the human system ever recovers from the bad effects of the nervous medicines often literally poured into it for the supposed relief of dyspepsia, liver complaints, constipation, rheumatism and other ailments, is a mystery. The mischief done by bad medicines is scarcely less than that caused by disease. If they who are weak, listless, dyspeptic, constipated or rheumatic, would often be guided by the experience of invalids who have thoroughly tested Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, they would in every instance obtain the speediest aid derivable from rational medication. This medicine is a searching and at the same time a thoroughly safe remedy, derived from vegetable sources, and possessing in consequence of its basis of pure spirits, properties of a medicinal nature, not to be found in the feverish liquid stimulants often resorted to by the debilitated, dyspeptic and languid.

Being More Pleasant.

To the taste, more acceptable to the stomach, and more beneficial in its action, the famous California liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs, is rapidly superseding all others. Try it. For sale by S. Hamilton.

FRENCH SETTLEMENT, OR., Aug. 1, '86. ED. REVIEW: In your last issue is an article from this place which I think reflects a little hard on our School District, while we are bad enough morally, socially and otherwise, we do object to being held up to the world as being worse than we really are. The writer states there will probably be no school here this winter owing to the failure of the last year that the pupils will most of them go to Salem or Eugene; that our school board had lofty aspirations, a little too much pride, fell down and broke their necks etc., whether with suicidal intent your reporter did not say; this and something more about young girls who are going to neutralize the benefits of our free schools etc., now this poor innocense must be put down if it takes a standing army to do it. We know our school is not always conducted as they should be, that teachers are not always to the point, yet we think if they had the right kind of support and encouragement from patrons and pupils, teachers would have much less trouble in the government of our public schools. In justice to Miss Rice I will state she taught one term here before the last and gave general satisfaction, that her last term was partially a failure she would not doubt admit, but when this is made public we think it is calculated to do her an injustice, unless all the causes that made her school could be made public which is impossible in an article like this, we do not write only to criticize, but that justice may be done to all and I think our hearts and hands should go out to these young girls who are striving with hand and head to earn an honest living by their own industry. ONE OF THE SCHOOL BOARD.
