ROSEBURG REVIEW

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1886.

Rev. E. A. McAllister came up from Eugene yesterday evening on a flying business trip and returned this morning.

A FINE CALF.—C. Richards of Deer Creek has on exhibit at Carlons stable a calf that will be 2 years old 14th of next month that now weighs 1094 lbs. It is of the short horn stock. Let us hear who can beat this.

SERENADE.—The Junior Band tendered Arch-Bishop Gross a serenade at the Catholic Church last monday evening. The Rev. gentleman made a few happy remarks to the boys, which were gladly received by all.

FOR THE CAR SHOPS.—Already near $6000 have been subscribed toward securing the location of the Oregon Pacific car shops at Albany. The committee will commence active work toward raising the amount during the coming week—[Albany Herald.

HE'S COMING!—B. F. Parsons, the sewing machine repairer and adjuster is coming, and will be at Roseburg on or about Sep 25th, 1886, and remain some days, to repair all kinds of sewing machines at low, reasonable rates. All work warranted and guaranteed. Orders left at the Postoffice promptly attended to.

NEW MINES.—The mines lately discovered near Glendale in the Southern part of Douglas county are exceedingly rich, so says pretty well confirmed reports. One man said that the cave where the mine was, "was literally festooned with gold." No doubt that our mineral resources are just begining to develop. This may be the Ophir of the ancients.

REDUCED FREIGHT RATES ON THE WILLAMETTE.—The O. R. & N. Co. have announced that pears and plums in any quantity from any point on the Willamette river to Portland will hereafter be billed as class C, which is the rate that wheat takes, the lowest on the schedule. On and after the 25th inst., the rate on hops from all points on the river to Portland will be $3 per ton, weight. Formerly hops were billed as first-class, and the rate from Corvallis was $6, Albany $5.40, Salem $5. In the face of good prices East, this reduction will be to the farmer "another ray of sunshine."

ADVENTURE WITH A PANTHER.—Miss Charlotte Nicholls and a young brother were passing through some thick timber near Marshfield the other day, when an enormous panther made a spring at them from a tree. Miss Nicholl was mounted, but the animal miscalculated the distance and alighted on the back of the horse. The horse reared and threw the young lady violently to the ground, bruising her badly about the face and otherwise injuring her. The young people then walked to Marshfield. Next morning the horse was found near the scene of the adventure. There were several deep gashes in his body made by the panther.—News.

ARCH-BISHOP GROSS.—Last Sunday morning, Bishop Gross assisted by Father Heinrich of this city at the Catholic church, confirmed five girls and four boys with the impressive ceremonies of the Catholic church. The Arch-Bishop also preached a very pointed and eloquent sermon upon the rich man and Lazarus. In the evening at the court house to a large audience enwapt with the closest attention the Bishop gave the views held by the Catholic church in reference to the Virgin Mary, which were explained in a rather new yet satisfactory manner. The Bishop's manner of speech is at times really lofty and his diction is exquisite in some of his rounding periods. He is truly an eloquent man, full of animation, and his pulpit wit is refined, and of the highest order, and goes to the spot. This distinguished gentleman is from Maryland, a land of orators. His interview with us was highly appreciated. He discharged his duties with acceptability, and seemed fully to recognize that honos habet onus.

The Roseburg "Baby" Band.

Among the few things deserving special mention at our late—? at Halls Prairie, was the manner in which the Junior Band of Roseburg acquitted themselves. The little fellows play excellently and handle a superior grade of music surprisingly well. They came upon the grounds the first day, and did the most of the playing during the four days. On Wednesday evening they visited Coquille City and were quartered at the Robinson House as guests of the Herald. During the evening they played several of their favorite selections to an admiring audience. The little ones made a host of friends during their short stay, by their dignified manners, and polite and manly deportment.

It is the verdict of quite a number of our musicians that if the society had offered a prize to be competed for, by the bands of the district, that the "Babies" would have carried the palm with them to Roseburg.—Coquille City Herald.

Wilbur Items.

Rain has come at last.

Our school is in a prosperous condition.

Wheat is still coming in for shipment.

The Rev. Mr. Gittings will fill his pulpit here on Sunday next.

That enterprising real estate agent and County Treasurer, D. S. West, has erected a handsome bulletin board on the corner of Jackson and Court streets. He says he will not rest until more monied men come from the east and invest in real estate and finally build a large woolen mill on the banks of the roaring Umpqua; and don't you forget it. If you have land to sell tell him so.

We notice in the Jacksonville Times a local in regard to the advance in freight on lumber from Glendale both North and South. Now the consumer at Roseburg must pay this advance, or the mills will stop all along the line. For the benefit of the public we think that the freight ought to be put back to the old prices, and therefore ask that the managers of the railroad look into the matter.

A New York dispatch of the 13th says: "The fact is published to-day that James G. Blaine, Jr., the youngest son of James G. Blaine, was married last week in a Roman Catholic church in this city to Miss Mary Nevins, daughter of Col. Richard Nevins, of Columbus, Ohio. The bride is 19 years old and the bridegroom 20. It was a complete surprise to the Blaine family."

Reading commences at 8, sharp.

A volume of The West Shore contains more information and handsomer engravings of the Northwest than can be secured in any other form at any price. The West Shore is a literary journal circulating extensively throughout the Pacific coast and in the East. Its leading feature is the original illustrations and descriptions of the towns cities and industries, resources and the magnificent scenery of the Pacific coast generally, and especially of Oregon, Washington, California, Idaho, Montana, British Columbia and Alaska.

The coming exhibition of the Portland Mechanics' Fair gives promise of excelling all its predecessors. The whole Northwest should be represented in this annual exhibit, which is viewed by a great throng of people from every portion of Oregon and Washington, as well as by members from every portion of the United States. This can, and ought to be, made a grand exhibition of the products and industries of the Northwest. The fair will be open from the eighth to the twenty-third of October.

We heartily endorse the following sentiment from last week's Drain Echo.

"It gladdens our hearts to know that Prof. H. L. Benson, that prince of teachers and popular educator, who has done so much for the schools in our County, is driving things at Grants Pass. It is doing him honor and meeting the hearty approval and support of his territory. Good-luck and God-Speed! Next week we will publish some lines that were composed by the young ladies of this school and presented to him at the time of his leaving us.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR.

St Louis Thronged by Thousands of Visitors.

THE CONCLAVE A BIG SUCCESS.

—A Brilliant Scene at Night.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 20.—It was after midnight when the last special train discharged its load of visitors to the triennial conclave last night, and day had not broken this morning when the procession of arriving commanderies was renewed. At an early hour bands were playing and commanderies were marching, and the history of the forenoon has been a repetition of the night on a much more extensive scale. At the Union depot the tracks are crowded with extra trains, and no sooner is one emptied than another takes its place. Along the wharves on the river front a similar scene of activity is witnessed, many commanderies from along the river having chartered steamers, which will be used as combined hotels and headquarters during the week.

The weather seems as if it were especially designed for the occasion, and in consequence the streets are thronged with sight-seers, while everywhere may be seen marching commanderies making fraternal calls on local and visiting headquarters

The work of decorating the buildings for the occasion was only fairly begun this morning, and thousands of workmen are engaged in the task. Preparations for illumination, which begins to night are complete, and the aparatus has been tested and found in perfect working order, assuring a display far in advance of anything ever previously attempted in this city. Other arrangements for the work of the encampment are perfected, and nothing remains but to receive the Knights and get them established in their temporary quarters. In this latter respect the committee is entitled to great praise for the excellent manner in which arrangements have been made for housing and feeding the multitude.

A WONDERFUL SCENE.

The crowds on the street, at the various headquarters and the Union depot this morning were but insignificant when brought into comparison with those of the afternoon. At the depot not a quarter of an hour elapsed without the arrival of delegations of Knights. This evening the throng is so great that movement was difficult, and marching by commanderies was next to impossible. Scores of bands were playing in various parts of the city, and frequently squads of Knights and their ladies regaled the crowd with popular ballads. The hotels presented a picture or wonderful activity and while all who applied were furnished with some sort of sleeping accommodations, the crowding was something remarkable.

To-night the streets were brilliantly illuminated for the first time, the work of preparation having been brought to practical completion before sundown. Eight miles of streets were brilliantly lighted with ten and hundreds of thousands of gas jets, enclosed in many-colored globes, while from the fronts of prominent public and private buildings blazed forth electric lights and gas in symbolic designs appropriate to the occasion. There were no set parties, but small bodies of knights, accompanied by bands of music, were moving in all directions, and the streets were thronged with spectators.

THE SITUATION AT CHARLESTON.

CHARLESTON, Sept, 19.—This has been a different day from last Sunday, by reason of the completion of the work of reopening thoroughfares, which a week ago was in full blast. Communications are now pretty well restored; telegraph lines are in operation, and the telephone exchange is working nearly everywhere. The worst feature of the day was a heavy rain this morning, which injured considerably the contents of exposed dwellings, and made the remaining campers-out particularly uncomfortable; but the discomfort and loss were nothing in comparison with what would have been the effect of a down pour ten days ago. The feature of the day, as last Sunday, was open air worship. The Roman Catholic Church had services on one of the ships in the harbor; the Presbyterian and Huguenot church services were on the battery; the congregation of Grace church worshiped in a Sunday school building, and the Second Presbyterian congregation in the residence of Mr. J. S. Riggs.

HOG CHOLERA.

A reliable gentleman, who raises every year about one hundred head of hogs told me he had never lost one from cholera, although the disease had often appeared among his herd. His remedy is Simmons Liver Regulator, administered in drenching—quantity, about double that given to a man. I give this information for the benefit of those whose hogs may be attacked by cholera.—PROF. F. P. HOPGOOD, Oxford, N. C.

"The World's Wonders."

E. F. Walsh, of this city, has secured the agency for the most useful book ever issued from the press, entitled "The World's Wonders," as seen by the great tropical and polar explorers; being an encyclopedia of exploration, discovery and adventure in all parts of the world, and a history of savage races of men, curious and ferocious animals, strange and deadly serpents and reptiles, etc., etc., embracing every important discovery and adventure in the exploration of such distinguished travelers as Speke and Grant, Sir Samuel Barker and wife, Livingston, Stanley, Dr. Chaillu, Wallace, Long, Squire, Gordon, and including all of the explorers of the Polar world. The book contains 768 pages and is beautifully embellished with over 200 illustrations.

Do You Want a Market for fruit?

If so, build a granger, fruit drier, patented by Burnett & Hill. Owing to its cheapness and capacity it takes the lead. It has been tested by the side of other driers and has rendered the best satisfaction. Our terms for farm rights are according to capacity. For 25 bushels $10, 100 bushels $50, 200 bushels $100, If you wish to inquire into the merits of said drier consult John Hall, John W. Weaver or H. A. Adams all of Myrtle Creek, Oregon. We can save your fruit. $200 will save as much fruit for you as $1000 can of some other driers. This is the greatest prune drier known to this country.

A Gentle Stimulus.

Is imparted to the kidneys and bladder by Hostetter's Stomach Bittters, which is most useful in overcoming torpidity of these organs. Besides infusing more activity into them, this excellent tonic endows them with additional vigor, and enables them the better to undergo the wear and tear of the discharging function imposed upon them by nature. Moreover, as they are the channel for the escape of certain impurities from the blood, increase their usefulness by strengthening and healthfully stimulating them. In certain morbid conditions of these important organs, they fall into a sluggish state, which is the usual percursor of disease. What then can be of greater service than a medicine which impels them to greater activity when slothful? No maladies are more perilous than those which affect the kidneys, and a medicine which averts the peril should be highly esteemed.

DR. BURCHARD.—The Rev. Dr. Burchard, the political hero of the last campaign, visited the New Jersey lunatic asylum the other day and was introduced to a mild mannered patient whom the doctor recognized as the son of a former parishioner. After exchanging greetings the doctor asked, "Well, what brings you here?" Rum, Romanism and Rebellion," solemnly replied the lunatic, with a sly wink at the warden. The Rev. Dr. Burchard remarked, "Ah!" and passed on to visit lunatics with less method in their madness.—Weekly World.

SAVE THE CHILDREN.

Detrimental food which, by reason of their superior strength, may not seriously affect the health of adults as is well known, frequently acts upon the more delicate organs of the child to produce this disorders of the most serious character. The amount of laudanum or other poison that would be harmless to an adult will cause the death of an infant. This great difference between the vitality of adults and children is too generally overlooked in the preparation of food. Because no harm immediately perceptible comes to the adult by the use of an article of food, no thought is given to the effect it may have upon the more delicate organs of inferior age.

Children diet largely upon cake and bread, and these articles, if lignt, sweet and composed of materials that are free from injurious substances, are easily digested, nutritous and wholesome. There is a danger to our children, however, lurking in their bread and cake which is to often lost sight of. These articles are now leavened largely by baking powders, and when pure and wholesome baking powders are used they make not only the most palatable food, but one much more wholesome and nutritive than if leavened with yeast or cream of tartar and soda. The trouble arises from the fact as shown by recent scientific tests by the Government chemists and by official boards of health, that all these baking powders, with the single exception of the Royal, contain either lime, alum, phosphates, or acids of an injurious character Therefore when bread or cake is made with the use of these cheap baking powders these ingredients (which are present through the efforts of the manufacturers to produce a cheaper article) pass into the food and are taken into the delicate organs of childhood where they are the source of very much of the disease with which our children are afflicted.

Persons who have not strong constitutions, growing girls, young children and nursing mothers are particularly liable to the evil effects produced by the introduction of the adulterants named as found in the cheap baking powders. Heartburn and the prevalent forms of indegestion are often solely traceable to the action of alum on the delicate coats of the stomach. Prof. Willard Parker, U. S. Surgeon-General Hammond, Prof. Alonzo Clarke, most eminent physicians of New York, with scores of others, bave written and spoken most earnestly of the evills arising from the partaking of such food. There should be as much care in the choice of a baking powder as in obtaining pure milk or in having a prescription compounded from pure drugs and not from poisons. The matter is one of the greatest importance, particularly to the rising generation, and while our conservative law makers are making up their minds as to the proper legislation to stop the sale of the poisonous compounds, mothers will do well to study it carefully. The housekeeper will experience no inconvenience in discarding the use of the adulterated baking powder, if she has been using it, as to the Royal Baking Powder upon the purity and wholesomeness of which all the Government chemists agree, is equally accessible; but she will need to exercise a close watch upon her packages from the grocer in order to prevent the inferior brands from creeping into her kitchen unawares.

In what we have felt it our duty to say in reference to the subject of baking powder there is no intention to disparage the work or the products of those many manufacturers in other lines of food products who, with conscientiousness and liberality, are serving the public with pure and wholesome articles of diet.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.—I hereby give notice that I have given my minor son Robert Z. Hartin his time and allow him in his own name to make contracts, agreements and other citizens rights, the same as if he were of lawful age, and that I will not be held responsible for any contracts or agreements he shall hereafter make.

BORN.

WHITSETT.—To the wife of J. H. Whitsett a son—a regular Prohi—Sept. 20th, 1886. The boy is likely to stump the county in the next campaign.

Born to the wife of A. C. Cox in Garden Bottom a daughter, Sept. 10th, 1886.

Cam has a good crop of wheat this year, and his live plants are springing up around his table to eat the bread.

MARRIED.

At the bride's residence in Round Prairie last Sunday morning, Elisha A. Strong to Miss Emma F. Bush, Rev. J. R. N. Bell officiating.

The bride was handsomely dressed, while the groom wore the conventional suit of black. A number of invited guests were present, who participated in the marriage festivities with a relish, which was opportune upon such occasions. The wedding dinner was all that could be desired, and certainly full justice was done in that direction. These young people start out in life with prospects for a good success, and we wish them all the joy and prosperity that are necessary to complete happiness.

HOWARD, JACKSON.—At the residence of Wm. Jackson Myrtle Creek, Oregon Sept. 15th, 1886 J. W. Howard and Miss Ella Jackson, all of Douglas county, Rev. J. I. G. Stark officiating. May peace and prosperity attend this newly wedded pair.

THE DEATH OF CHEATHAM.

Gen. Chea ham, brave and blunt, had a heart as tender as a woman's —[A member of his corps.

A passing vehicle on the street made a rumbling sound; his eyes opened and he raised his head; "There go the troops, he said; "bring me my horse I am going to the front." His head fell and the veteran had gone to the front.—[Avelanche Nashville special Sept 5.

"Look! Where go my brave battallions, ragged, few, but undismayed.
Marching careless into battle as on holiday parade.
Bring my horse! My boys' without me ne'er shall bear the battle's brunt—
Quick! The warm blood stirs within me; I am going to the front!
"Sec! Where? So; have I been dreaming; laggard by the wayside here;
Sunk beneath the ceaseless watching and a soldier's toil and care!
Listen! 'Where's old Frank', they're asking; bless the rascals! Come; lets go;
As I sat here I was dreaming of the fields of Mexico.
"Dreamed I saw Old Rough and Ready—time the memory more endears—
Heard the voice of Buena Vista calling for the Volunteers;
Saw Chepultapec uprising like a mirage in the sky—
Saw—but—why I sit here idle while 'my boys' are marching by?
"Belmont—Shiloh—Chickamauga—Maney—Morton, Walker, Field;
Ah, my pure, proud Tennesseans! They may die, but never yield!
Arkansas, and old Kentucky; Cleburne, Hanson, Dibrell Hunt—
Bring my horse; the troops are marching: I am going to the front!
"Who detains me? Scoundrel! Villian! See— my feet are as cold as clay!
There goes Bate—and Brown—and Forrett—eagle hearts to dare the day!
Rogue! what holds me here—release me!
Quick! Unhand me! Let me go!
Yet the words fall—from—my—lips—like ice drops—cold—and—slow!
Ah! forgive—I—well a soldier's speech, you know, is rude and blunt;
'Where's Old Frank;' I hear them calling!
Come—I'm going to the front!
"Sergeant, help me to the saddle, now' my sword; there, thank you: come—
Listen. Porter; Cheney; don't you hear the long roll of the drum?
Just beyond the crest they wait us;on, my lion-hearted men!
All the music of the battle stir within my pulse again!"
His eyes grew dim, and through the mists of memory and tears,
He saw the dear hands beckoning he has clasped in other years;
Saw the great hosts marching on along the further shore,
Like midgled clouds in-mist and grey of loved ones gone before.
"There go my troops—I'll join them"—and the soldier brave and blunt,
Through glory's gates ajar had passed on—forever to the front!
It is said that where the heart, there the real man must be—
Where th' unconscious spirit wanders from the body's prison free.
So the hero, as he had willed it many a time in that dark past,
Realized his wish and died the soldier's death at last!
* * * *
Wake, oh Fame, thy holiest peans—Cheatham, Hatton, Forrest, Rains!
Noblest of our Tennesseans; ours while deathless love remains!
Ours, by right divine and human; ours bequeathed in blood and tears:
By a heritage in common, ours through all the eternal years.

C. E. MERRILL.

DOUGLAS CO. FAIR.

The people of Douglas County responded right nobly to the call for a fair, to be held at Olalla on Sept. 18th, and 19th, they gathered in thick and fast on the first day bringing their camping outfit etc., prepared to enjoy themselves, and see what there was to be seen. The ground selected was excellent, for the purpose and beautiful shaded with large, tall oak trees, plenty of water convenient for stock and cookery The crowd was large and behaved firstclass, there being no liquor on the ground stronger than lemonade, every body was pleaseable and jolly. The exhibits were not numerous but above the average to be seen at county fair's and consisted chiefly of horses, vegetables and fruit. There was not many cattle but the few shown were of good stock, showing that the farmers are alive to their best interests. The horses were the best I have ever seen in Oregon and for general purpose would make a good showing in any State; there were also some very fine saddle and a few heavy draught horses, all together the fair was a huge success and those taking part are confident of still greater success in the future. The people of Olalla and Ten Mile deserve great credit for their energy and enterprise. The following is a copy of the resolution offered by Mr Jas. Byron and unamiously adopted by all present.

RESOLVED, That we declare a county fair now virtually established, and that as farmers and mechanics, we pledge the same our solid support on motion the president Mr. R. B. Ireland appointed the following gentlemen a committee to meet at Roseburg Saturday Sept. 25, to select the time and place for the next fair. R. B. Dixon, Jas. Byron, Steve, Minard, Jas. Dillard, I. B. Nichol, Joseph Churchill, Henry Standley.

Was it Murder or Suicide.

Our enterprising county treasurer in order to increase his worldly care has added a Real Estate office to his official calling. And the other evening erected an attractive bulletin on the curbing of the deep well at the corner for Douglas and Main streets, which he has attractively decorated with flaming posters announcing farms for sale. Now the well is very deep and closed only with curbing and a trap door, a regular man trap in fact and in its present condition dangerous to life. The evening in question just after the arrival of the passenger train with a number of immigrants one of our most reputable citizens was passing this corner and heard a terrible splashing in the well. It is not known how many perished in the rush to get the first choice of Dave's farms as the well has not been dragged nor the coroner sent in his report. Well may the victims exclaim, I sought for land and he gave me water.

A Walking Skeleton.

Mr. E. Springer, of Mechanicsburg, Pa. writes: "I was afflicted with lung fever and abcess on lungs, and reduced to a walking skeleton. Got a free trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which did me so much good that I bought a dollar bottle. After using three bottles, found myself once more a man, completely restored to health, with a hearty appetite, and a gain in flesh of 48 lbs."

For sale by A. C. Marsters.

Cure for Piles.

Piles are frequently precededby a sense of weight in the back, loins and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose he has affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs. At times, symptoms of indigestion are present, flatulency, uneasiness of the stomach, etc. A moisture, like perspiration, producing a very disagreeable itching, after getting warm, is a common attendant. Blind, Bleeding and Itching Piles yield at once to the application of Dr. Bosanco's Pile remedy, which acts directly upon the parts effected, absorbing the tumors, allaying the intense itching, and effecting a permanent cure. Price 50 cents. Address, The Dr. Bosanco Medicine Co., Piqua, O. Sold by Dr. S. Hamilton.
