SPECIAL ELECTION.—The governor has issued a proclamation calling for a special election to be held in Multnomah county, November 23, for the purpose of electing a successor to D. W. Taylor as a representative to the legislative assembly.

AN EDUCATED CAT.—While visiting at N. Cornutt's the other evening we noticed a cat take hold of the door latch, raise it, and opened the stair door and walked down. Many such traits are noticeable in "Nig." This cat is about 10 years. old. He takes care of himself, and in many respects runs the ranch.

RETURNED.—Hon. D. S. K. Buick returned from his long and labarythine journey to the four cardinal points of the compass last Monday evening. The Junior Band tendered him a serenade. The car that Bro. Buick had in charge has done our state great good, and we are glad to say that Mr. Buick has given universal satisfaction as to the management of this means of our young and growing state. Welcome home.

ASHLAND ELECTION.—The town election at Ashland last Monday attracted considerable attention and was contested with considerable energy, a full vote being polled. Two conventions, one in favor of laying water pipe and the other for a steam engine, were held last week each putting up complete tickets. The nominees of the first named body were successful by a large majority, which ensures the pipes and hydrants.

NEW PAPER.—The Oakland Enterprise came to our sanctum last Saturday. It is a four column folio, neatly printed. The salutatory contains this sentence; "While we have pronounced personal political views, we shall endeavor to conduct the Enterprise on as nearly a non partisan plan as it may be possible for us to do." My brother you will have to "Tower mighty high" if you make that doctrine work. There is no such a thing as a non partisan, except a nonentity. You are either a republican, democrat, prohibitionist, Knight of Labor, or greenbacker, ad infinitum. Success to the Enterprise.

How to Get of Calomel

People afflicted with a diseased liver, indigestion or biliousness, use mercury. This is done reluctantly, but the argument is, "Nothing will reach the liver and spleen except calomel; could one get something just as good, everybody would use it." That something is Simmons Liver Regulator. It is equal in power to calomel, without any of its injurious effects.

TRANSFER ANNOUNCEMENT.

Roseburg Oregon, Nov. 8th, 1886.

EDITOR REVIEW: Having disposed of my selling agency of the "Young America" feed choppers to Sheridan Bros. who will keep said choppers for sale, I wish to make a statement of some facts concerning the choppers. I received from the manufactures the first of last June one chopper and ground at my place fully 250 bushels of grain. Then more to test the amount one set of grinders would do than anything else, let Mr. Kelly take the mill around and grind for farmers. He ground not far from 600 bushels, making over 800 bushels with one set of grinders which was only about one fourth the amount the enterprising company claims for it to do. Taking into consideration the grinders the only part that wears out, can be replaced at small cost making the mill as good as new. I am well satisfied with the mill, it grinds corn well when too dull for wheat or barley.

The above statement can be verified by several farmers who employed Mr. Kelley to grind their grain. PLINN COOPER.

The Parent of Insomnia.

The parent of insomnia or wakefulness is in nine cases out of ten a dyspeptic stomach. Good digestion gives sound sleep, indigestion interferes with it. The brain and stomach sympathize. One of the prominent symptoms of a weak state of the gastric organs is a disturbance of the great nerve entrepot, the brain. Invigorate the stomach, and you restore equilibrium to the great center. A most reliable medicine for the purpose is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is far preferable to mineral sedatives and powerful narcotics, which, though they may for a time exert a soporific influence upon the brain, soon cease to act, and invariably injure the tone of the stomach. The bitters, on the contrary, restore activity to the operations of that all important organ, and their beneficent influence is reflected in sound sleep and a tranquil state of the nervous system. A wholesome impetus is likewise given to the action of the liver and bowels by its use.

Calapooia Notes.

Cold nights and pleasant days.

Farmers very busy all taking the advantage of the fine weather which we are having at the present time.

Mr. G. W. Stephens is making some very valuable improvements about his residence in the way of fencing etc.

P. S, Durling and Jimmie Underwood spent last Sunday at Wilbur and report a fine time and a very interesting sermon.

Mr. C. Gosett's smiling countenance was seen on the Calapooia last Sabbath.

H. McNabb spent last Saturday night visiting friends in Oakland.

W. B. Clarke of Millwood was in this vicinity the first of the week on business. W. B. is a man we are always glad to meet.

James Barnard and C. A. McNabb went to Elkton last Saturday to spend a few days in that vicinity visiting friends.

Mr. C. A. McGee's dogs captured a large coyote a few days ago. By the aid of Mr. Hartly they succeeded in killing the sheep destroyer.

In some countries they have sleighs for snow but here in our part of the world they make them to carry them over the mud. A good idea I think.

It is rumored that there will be a prayer meeting started at the Calapooia school house in the near future, and if the people will just get right in their harness and all pull together it will undoubtedly be a success.

We understand that there was a little hitch made in regard to a few items in the past, we can only say that we never wrote anything to offend anyone, and we hope in the future if we should get a little joke published on some one of our friends they will take it that way as we do. What is a paper without a few jokes in its columns? CALAPOOIA SAM.

It was quite laughable to see one of our city fathers trying to get a whiskey barrel home on Tuesday.

The new paper published at this place, came out Friday last, in a neat sheat, much credit is due Mr. Tower.

The "city board" through the pleadings of the members of W. C. T. U. refused at first to grant the new saloon a license, but finally had to give in. If the W. C. T, U. are to run the "City Fathers" why not do as you did Friday, women occupy the Council Rooms and the men the sidewalk.

The services in the Methodist Church on last sabbath were unusually interesting. Rev. Mr. Gittens preached an able sermon to an appreciative audience. The singing by the newly organized choir was the best we have heard in Oakland. Miss Sallie Jones presided at the organ, than whom but few young ladies are so well qualified.

DUPLEX.

A BABY.—Well what of it? Simply this and nothing more. Last Monday evening while Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Beardsley were at supper a boy baby was brought and put on their steps, consigned to their care we infer. This occurred about the time the south bound train was pulling out, hence some conjecture that the infant of about 24 hours came in on the evening train. The little fellow is doing well and Mrs. Beardsley we presume will keep it as she has no children of her own. There is no clue to the parentage of the child. "How sad our state by nature is etc."

Saved His Life.

Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., says he was, for many years, badly afflicted with Phthisic, also Diabetes: the pains were almost unendurable and would sometimes almost throw him into convulsions. He tried Electric Bitters and got relief from first bottle and after taking six bottles, was entirely cured, and had gained in flesh eighteen pounds. Says he positively believes he would have died, had it not been for the relief afforded by Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by Marsters & Co.

WEDDING BELLS.

A Happy Event.

Last Sunday at 12 o'clock M. at the beautiful farm residence of Hon. Geo. W. Riddle on Cow Creek, in Douglas county Oregon, Geo. Q. Quine and Miss Della E. Riddle all of Douglas, were united in the bonds of holy wedlock, Rev. J. R. N. Bell celebrating the rites of matrimony.

Truly did the wedding bells ring out in the sweetest tones, indicating thereby the perfect satisfaction of both families to this nuptial occasion. The groom is a well to do farmer near Riddle in this county, managing a large farm with excellent success, while the bride, being the accomplished daughter of the well known gentleman at whose residence the marriage took place, has been fully taught in all the branches of domesticity to insure a happy home. The culinary features of the wedding on Sunday, and at the reception on Monday at the residence of Mrs. Quine, the grooms mother were simply par excellence. Both the dinners were prepared under the skillful management of Mrs. Bartle of Canyonville, who made the viands so tempting, that which the most cultivated taste would heartily desire. The guests were confined mostly to the relatives on both sides, and this fact alone insured a large assembly of well-wishing friends. There was not an accident occured during the two days of festivity to mar the pleasure of the attending guests. Everyone wore their happiest smiles, and their best apparel, the latter being of choicest fabrics. This young couple, if no misfortune occurs, will be successful in this life, with the assurance of that life which is to come. Receive the regards of the whole REVIEW Pub. Company.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

A Wrecking Train on the O. P. Ditched. Two Men Killed.

On Saturday afternoon last, the east bound freight on the Oregon Pacific was ditched near Nashville, and later in the evening a wrecking train left Yaquina for the scene of the accident. The latter train, when near Chitwood siding, ran into a land-slide and was thrown from the track. Two men namely, Thomas Aldrich and Wm. Spellinger, were instantly killed and two others injured. Spellinger had been married but a few days, and his bride of a few hours is prostrate with grief. The body of Aldrich was conveyed to Jefferson on Tuesday, where interment took place under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity. Spellinger was buried near Miller's station where his parents reside. Both men were highly esteemed by numerous friends. The names of the two men injured are E. H. Robinson, leg broken, and R. M. Allen, legs badly bruised. —Corvallis Chronicle.

LADD'S ARTESIAN WELL.

What it Shows of the Formation of the Earth to a Depth of 1700 Feet

Below we give a report as recently published in the Oregonian in reference to Mr. Ladd's deep, deep well. Mr. Ladd's purse is long, and so is the well likely to be.

A glacial chart of the strata through which W. S. Ladd's artesian well in East Portland has passed in reaching the 1700 foot level, prepared by Dr. Willis E. Everette, shows the following varieties and depths:

UPPER WATER LEVELS.	Feet	Foot level
Earth and clayey sand..................		20
Fine drift and sand.....................	100	120
Sand, clay and gravel..................	20	140
Granite & basalt boulders in moist sand	20	160
Water-worn boulders and gravel & veins of white sand(first water)............	20	180
Gravel and sand, granitic.............	20	200
Gravel and sand, basaltic	20	220
Coarse grit and gravel basaltic	55	275
Water-worn boulders....................	55	330
Fine sand..............................	26	356
Coarse grit of granite and felspar.........	04	360
Alternate veins of basaltic boulders	45	405
CENTRAL LEVELS.
Olive marl and clay shale with fossil vegetation and narrow sand stratums....	315	720
Fine grit and sandstone............	10	730
Marl, talc, and shale mud with fossil vegetation and soft sandstone........	120	850
Stiff clay shale and marl with fossil vegetation and fine basaltic sand.....	150	1000
Fine white and coarse sand with mica scales (Potsdam sandstone....	80	1080
Conglomerate with fossil plants, infusorial and fossil vegetation...........	120	1200
Coarse basaltic grit and gravel..........	50	1250
Fine sandy marl and shale mud containing fossil vegetation...............	50	1300
LOWER LEVELS.
Compact archæan rock (solid granite)....	400	1700

This rock may continue for many thousands of feet in solid unbroken mass.

The chances of the well ever proving a flowing one are very small, indeed, but the contractor is going down to a depth of 2000 feet, or till he gets a flowing well.

A very peculiar circumstance connected with this well is, that it has demonstrated the existence of five distinct forest growths; that is, five forests, one over the other, are underneath the valley and river of the lower Willamette and the city of East Portland. By careful reading the composition of the different stratums an idea can be gained as to where these forest growths have been.

This is nothing very new or startling. The city of New Orleans, La., at the mouth of one of the channels of the delta of the Mississippi river, stands over a large submerged forest; and the indications are that there are others ad infinitum. In the Yellowstone park there is a grand vertical bluff showing twenty nine distinct forests, one above the other, the wood being partly fossiled and carbonized. Given a forest whose trees are many hundreds (and maybe thousands) of years old, how many years will it take for these trees to fall, rot and fill up again with young growth, and this in its turn die and be covered by its own straws, leaves and resulting soil, and another forest growth to spring up on this soil? Then saying that it took at least 10,000 years to gradually cover these prostrate many and also standing grand and enormous conifers and deciduous trees, here would be one single bluff that shows an age of 290,000 years.

Yet it is strange to think that we are now living over forests which at the time were possibly filled with animal (and maybe human) life; and to think that centuries hence wells may be sunk through the future wash and earth that will cover us and on to the now known city of Portland and Willamette river and valley by beings who will follow us in the cycle of ages, and regard with great curiosity and speculate on the uses of specimens of our "Oregon ruins," i. e., the always-to-be-built Villard hotel of the Northern Pacific railroad.

SCIENTIFIC.

Upon the hypothesis that we learn by observation and experience so we have learned in part to discriminate between good and evil because good results well, and evil bad; therefore upon the same principle we develop in scientific knowledge.

Admitting the former incorrectness of computing time upon a general conjecture no one can tell what day of the week to-day was 2000 years ago but by scientific fact we can tell by computing the time of eclipses or the time for the return of the comets. Yet we assume that no man can tell the day of the week the first man made his advent into the world, nor in what year.

Now we have another reason to offer that the zetetic or flat theory of the earth is incorrect, and in defense of the spheroid fact at certain degrees north or south of the equator, the magnetic needle becomes wholly unreliable, it vacillates, it points in no definite direction, which is proof that it seeks the equilibrium of the earth as we have previously stated, and the proof in this respect that the earth is oblong, is that from the points or degrees of equilibrium north and south of the equator, there is considerable distance to the poles. Now in regard to the deviation of the needle from north and south within the radious of the earths true equilibrium, it is either due to the earth being thrown out of a symetrical position by the accommulation of volcanic scoria to one side more than the other, or it is due to spherical attraction in its annual movement around the sun.
