

ROSEBURG REVIEW

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1886.

PHILANTHROPIC LODGE. No. 1, I. O. O. F., meet on Saturday evening of each week at 8 o'clock. In their hall, Roseburg members of the order in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. G.

UNION ENCAMPMENT. No. 1, I. O. O. F., meets at 8 o'clock on Saturday evening of each week at 8 o'clock. In their hall, Roseburg members of the order in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. G.

LAUREL LODGE. A. F. M. WILL HOLD REGULAR MEETING on Wednesday on or before each full moon. G. A. DEATH, W. M. J. P. DUNN, Sec.

A. O. U. W. ROSEBURG LODGE No. 10, meets the second and fourth Mondays of each month at 7:30 P. M. in the Odd Fellows Hall. Members in good standing are invited to attend. E. G. HARRIS, Sec.

UMPIQUA CHAPTER, No. 11, P. M. A. M., hold their regular communication every first and third Tuesday in each month. All members in good standing will take due and timely notice and govern themselves accordingly. Visiting members are invited to meet with the chapter. N. F. BICKEL, H. P. W. L. FRIEDLANDER, Sec.

ADVERTISEMENTS of the Roseburg Circuit, M. E. Church South, 2nd Sabbath morning and evening at Roseburg, 2nd Sabbath 11 a. m. at Boggs school house; 3 p. m. at Pine Grove church. 3d Sabbath, 10 a. m. at St. Stephen's school house; 3 p. m. at St. Stephen's school house; 7 p. m. at Oakland. 4th Sabbath 11 a. m. at Myrtle Creek; 3 p. m. at Hamilton school house; 7 p. m. at Myrtle Creek.

DRAWING AND PAINTING.—Miss E. McFadden from Corvallis and Monmouth Colleges will give lessons in oil painting, and everything in that line. Room at Mrs. Parry's up stairs.

CYCLONE WIND MILL.—In a few weeks a new Pacific Manufacturing company will be organized in Roseburg, and a windmill in the REVIEW, and all persons desiring the very best mill, will inquire at this office for further particulars.

A FARM FOR RENT.—The Bushby farm adjoining Roseburg is now for rent upon reasonable terms, and can be had by applying to J. C. Fullerton. Office up stairs in Marks' block.

FINE HORN.—John Chase received one of the finest corals that was ever in Roseburg a few days ago. It is a Conn perfect in form, horn gold mounted, and is a beauty to look at. It cost $50, and no gold plated will now give us some, nor do silver plated will now give us some.

NEW OFFICE.—The undersigned has now fitted up his office on the north west corner of Jackson and Douglas streets Roseburg, Oregon, and is prepared to execute deeds, mortgages and bonds, perform marriages, make collections and do official business generally coming under my jurisdiction. Give me a call.

THOS. L. CANNON, J. P.

COLLAR BONE BROKEN.—J. G. Burciard of Scottsburg fell from a walk some 10 feet high last Saturday and broke his collar bone. He was taken at once in a small boat to Gardner when Dr. Mackey reduced the fracture, and Mr. B. came home on Monday following, glad that it was no worse.

LECTURES.—The eloquent inspirational and trance speaker, George P. Colby, of Orange City, Florida, will lecture at St. Stephen's Hall in Roseburg, Nov. 27th, and 28th. At 7:30 p. m. under the auspices of the Oregon State Spiritual Society. By order of Executive Board. All invited. Admission free.

PUBLIC SCHOOL.—The Fall term of the public school of this city closed this week. The attendance throughout the term has been very regular. Parents deserve great credit in this particular. Punctuality is indispensable to the best results in school work. The next term will open on Monday, the 6th of December.

RUNAWAY.—Last Tuesday morning the train being late Mr. E. Champagne left his team standing hitched to his back, when they became frightened at something and started to run. The back was upset and broke the top off and was dragged a short distance, bottom up, when the team was stopped. The damages were light.

ELECTED.—In the recent election in Washington Territory we find our old time friend Col. Jesse N. Barker elected to the Territorial legislative council. What is particularly pleasing to his many old friends and neighbors here is that the district in which he is elected is largely republican, thus showing his popularity even among his political opponents.

100.—Asher Marks received a check for the above amount from the Occidental self-employment Association the other day, it being the value of his first matured coupon upon the thousand dollars they are to pay him in seven years. There is not much "wildcat" business about this company after all. Messrs. Hattie and Benjamin have received two installments each.

SUED.—Dr. Hamilton and Rev. John How and our city marshal both went to Portland yesterday, Mr. Howard as a witness and Dr. Hamilton as principal, who has been sued for 30,000 feet of lumber as coming off of government land. The Dr. says that he will establish his innocence beyond question. This timber business will cause some hard feelings yet we are afraid.

ROUGH ON TIMBER PULPERS.—Parties who have been guilty of taking timber from government lands do not appear to stand much show in the U. S. courts. They get "cinched" right along. The jury in the U. S. circuit court yesterday rendered a verdict against Messrs. Rowley & Whitsett of Douglas county in the sum of $3200. Rowley did not appear and his bail was forfeited, and a bench warrant ordered to be issued for his arrest—Oregonian.

PRIZE MEETING.—The first event of this kind in our city took place at the M. E. church last Sunday evening. The programme which was read by Supr. H. C. Stanton of the M. E. Sunday school was much as follows: Prayer by Rev. John Howard; Addresses on "Sabbath schools," by J. B. Horner, Hons. J. C. Fullerton and A. C. Jones. The exercises were interspersed with excellent music selected for the occasion. A contribution was then taken in behalf of missionary work.

WHY WILL YOU WAIT when Shiloh's Cure will give immediate relief? Price 10 cts., and $1. at S. Hamilton's.

Next Tuesday evening the Charters, R. A. M. will meet in the Masonic hall, where work will be done in the Mark M. Degree.

LADIES in life and health worth preserving? If you think so, use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. For sale at Marster's drug store.

Albert Cole, stage driver for Salisbury & Co.'s route between Walden and Grant's Pass was visiting relatives and friends here last week.

LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

Pay your taxes. Rain! Rain! Rain!!! Regular week weather. Roseburg has a boot-black. The holidays are approaching. Some beautiful days this week. Several farmers in town this week. That Thanksgiving turkey was delicious. Tramps are reported numerous all along the line. Thanksgiving is past, and Christmas comes next. The big tank at the Depot is nearing completion. Mrs. J. C. Young at Oakland is quite low we learn. Are we going to have any amusement Christmas? Always give new comers to our town a helping hand. Some wheat is being shipped from Roseburg this week. The assignee sale at Caro Bros. store still continues. For all kinds of job work come to THE REVIEW office. The Albany Catholic school opened with 100 students. Jacksonville is out of debt and has money in the treasury. There is talk of a duel between two of our citizens ere long. The editorial correspondence will be continued next week. E. C. Searcy our assessor is now improving we are glad to say. S. D. Chapman returned from a visit to Mt. Scott last Saturday. Don't forget the sale Saturday December 4th at the court house. Already the merchants have begun laying in their holiday goods. For Dickens and Shakespeare's works, go to the post office store. A few genuine diamond collar buttons at J. Jaskulek's bargain store. A church has been erected on the ground where Jeff Davis was born. Hon. Hugh McKenna's wife at Drain is very low we are sorry to say. Don't forget the bargains in glassware at W. N. Moore's until Dec. 15th. All business concerning this paper should be addressed to the REVIEW Pub. Co. How to be happy? By buying your Xmas presents at J. Jaskulek's bargain store. THAT HACKING COUGH can be so quickly cured by Shiloh's Cure, at S. Hamilton's. Read our short letter from Ohio this week. He says our carry me back to old Oregon. Wonder who that young man was that fell off the porch in the mud Sunday evening. Robt. Green returned from a trip to the John Day country recently and is looking well. The next term of the public school will be free, reports to the contrary notwithstanding. A light shower of snow last Sunday morning in Roseburg, being the first of the season. The north-bound train was delayed last Tuesday morning on account of a land slide. "HACKETT" a lasting and fragrant perfume. Price 25 and fifty cents at S. Hamilton's. F. P. Talking of Salem called on us this week and made the printer's heart feel glad. Fendel Sutherland and James Chenoweth of Oakland were in this city on business this week. Rev. F. M. Culp and wife are at Myrtle Creek engaged in a revival meeting at that place. T. G. Reims and wife left for the east a few days since, for the benefit of Mrs. R.'s health. Mr. Norris Humphrey of Eugene city is visiting his brother W. S. Humphrey of this city this week. Mr. H. Parry the tailor has sufficiently recovered from his late illness, as to be able to work again. It looks as if the two principal occupations of the country are, running for office and price fighting. W. N. Moore has just received a lot of boots and stationery at the post office store. Call and see them. IMPROVEMENT in man or woman cured by Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. For sale at Marster's drug store. A NASAL INJECTOR free with each bottle of Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy. Price 50 cents at S. Hamilton's. SHILOH'S CURE will immediately relieve Croup, Whooping Cough and Bronchitis. S. Hamilton agent. The Salem bridge bonds have been approved by the city officers. The bridge is nearly completed. Yesterday (Thanksgiving) was a beautiful day notwithstanding the disagreeable weather the first of the week. H. Dyer of Myrtle creek was in town last Monday on business, and gave us a call while here. Come again. Louis Vernon of Portland who has been in Roseburg visiting friends for a few days returned last Tuesday. Blank deeds, mortgages, chattel mortgages, summons of all kinds, etc., for sale at THE REVIEW office. WE WARRANT Gilmore's Magnetic Elixir to relieve the Asthma in one minute. For sale at Marster's drug store. Major Walsh received a fine double watch chain with charm 18 K. fine as a present by a friend on Thanksgiving day. SHILOH'S CATARRH REMEDY—a positive cure for Catarrh, Diphtheria, and Canker Mouth. S. Hamilton agent. An interesting communication from Willbur came last week for publication this week but will appear next week however. We call attention to the advertisement of the sale of the King property. No doubt that is a bargain for some one. Notice of appeal in the Sander's murder case was served on Prosecuting Attorney Belt last Monday.—West Side. WHY WILL YOU WAIT when Shiloh's Cure will give immediate relief? Price 10 cts., and $1. at S. Hamilton's.

Next Tuesday evening the Charters, R. A. M. will meet in the Masonic hall, where work will be done in the Mark M. Degree.

LADIES in life and health worth preserving? If you think so, use Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. For sale at Marster's drug store.

Albert Cole, stage driver for Salisbury & Co.'s route between Walden and Grant's Pass was visiting relatives and friends here last week.

CONFINED to the bed four months, almost blind, and cured by one box of Gilmore's Neuralgia Cure. For sale at Marster's drug store. R. R. Mynatt at the half-way station keeps constantly on hand choice cigars, and any tobacco. When going to Coos, give him a call. Our U. S. Dept. Marshal, Clay Sloum has been busy of late subpoenaing witnesses to attend the U. S. Court in Portland in the timber cases. The Salem statesman will give us a supplement to its New Year edition a picture of the new bridge across the Willamette river at that place. J. R. N. Bell and Dr. Bunnell returned from their trip to Marshfield last Tuesday evening. They went via Coos Bay stage line and came via of Drain. Hon. J. C. Fullerton goes to Salem this week to be absent several days before the Supreme Court, where he has several appealed cases to argue. GIVE your children for coughs and colds cough, whooping cough and hoarseness Gilmore's Magnetic Elixir. For sale at Marster's drug store. Large and well selected stock of holiday books, books for the little folks, books for the young folks and books for the old folks at H. C. Stanton's. The Misses Ida Burnett and Minnie McFarland went to visit their homes during the present vacation, the former to Corvallis, the latter to Tangent. REV. E. J. WHITNEY of Clarkston N. Y., says Gilmore's Aromatic Wine for female weakness, stands without a rival. For sale at Marster's drug store. E. G. CARR of Daggett Mills Pa., says he saved the life of his child with cramp by using Gilmore's Magnetic Elixir. For sale at Marster's drug store. F. P. Cronmiller, late of the LaGrande Gazette, formerly of the Plaindealer of this city is now canvassing in the Willamette valley for the West Shore. ARE YOU MADE miserable by Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness, Loss of Appetite, Yellow skin? Shiloh's Vitalizer is a positive cure. S. Hamilton agent. WILLES L. CULVER of Pavilion, N. Y., says that Gilmore's Magnetic Elixir cured him of a long standing Throat and Lung trouble. For sale at Marster's drug store. Mrs. and Mrs. Harvey are at the residence of H. S. French visiting their daughter Mrs. French who has not been well lately, but is now recovering rapidly we are glad to say. All kinds of musical instruments, standard poems, novels, linen books, vases and a thousand other articles suitable for holiday presents at J. Jaskulek's bargain store. Dr. Pilkington's next visit to Roseburg will be on Saturday Dec. 4th, instead of Saturday following 1st Monday of month as heretofore. Patients will please make a note of the change. REV. W. F. EGUA, Baptist church, Aurora Ill., says that Gilmore's Aromatic Wine is a household remedy and that no family should be without it. For sale at Marster's drug store. John Spring and Edward Richard are taking advantage of the fall run of salmon by catching and marketing them down in breakfast rolls. They are experts at the business, and success will undoubtedly be the result of their undertaking. A. E. Winiford has leased his farm for a number of years to Jack Wilson. A. E. proposes to lay track and enjoy his old place. Success to you Uncle Ake, may you enjoy yourself in a state of contentment and solitude. NIMROD. Snow whitened our hills last Sunday. Miss Sarah Wimberly's school will close Dec. 3rd. Mr. Childers school at town will close this week. A rather small acreage of fall grain is sowing this season. Wild geese are more numerous in this vicinity than they were last year. Maupin Bros. in center Bend have butchered about 170 hogs this fall. Miss Maggie Beckley will go to Oakland soon to take instruction in music. The Misses Stark went to Drain last week to attend school during the winter. Lou. Brown will draw the reins over the stages horses during the winter between here and Scottsburg. Jimmy Sterling will feed you well and as you reasonably desire the privilege if you call on his hotel in our town. Who says our part of the country is not improving when we have a new church, new school house, two large barns and an elegant residence built the past summer. Phil. Pinkston one of our most highly respected young men, and who has been for some years in the farming and stock raising business with his brother Harry, took his departure for Oakland a few weeks ago, where we understand he is engaged in the hog butchering business. Success attend you Phil. R. E. FORKLE.

THE PARENT OF INSOMNIA. The parent of insomnia or wakefulness in nine cases out of ten a dyspeptic stomach. Good digestion gives sound sleep, indigestion interferes with it. The brain and stomach sympathize. One of the prominent symptoms of a weak state of the gastric organs is a disturbance of the great nerve entrop, the brain, fatigues the stomach, and you restore suppleness to the great center. A most reliable medicine for the purpose is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is far preferable to mineral salts and powerful narcotics, which, though they may for a time exert a soporific influence upon the brain, soon cease to act, and invariably injure the tone of the stomach. The bitters, on the contrary, restore activity to the operations of that important organ, and their beneficent influence is reflected in sound sleep and a tranquil state of the nervous system. A wholesome impetus is likewise given to the action of the liver and bowels by its use.

Particulars of an Accident. EAST UMPIQUA, Nov. 23, 1886. ED. REVIEW: The many friends of W. H. Kernan will be pained to learn of his sad and painful misfortune as in your last issue we have so far as has been local. In reloading a Remington (45 Cal. shell) it exploded the left thigh together with a piece of steel entered his left thigh about midway between the knee and hip joints. Dr. Graham was called, and upon examination found the thigh bone fractured between the wound and knee, the ball and foot which lodged in the thigh could not be located. The thumb and forefinger of the left hand were badly injured, both were amputated. Mr. Kernan's suffering can only be known to those who have met with like misfortune. It prompt attention both professional and otherwise will produce good result than all will be well. X.

Gold and silver watches, chains of all the latest designs, collars, sleeve buttons, scarf pins, lace pins, girdles, finger rings and a full line of fine gold jewelry and superior plated ware for holiday presents, prices lower than anywhere else at J. Jaskulek's bargain store. SOCIABLE.—A dime social will be given at the residence of Mrs. Judge Willis next Wednesday evening for the benefit of the Episcopal church. All are invited. THE NEW GUN SHOP.—There is in our midst a gunsmith by the name of Carl Weller. He is located next door to Clements and meadman's furniture store. We have seen considerable of his work and it is superior in every particular; and his prices are much lower than usually charged for similar work. He also repairs sewing machines and door locks, etc. If you have a gun that needs cleaning or any other work to be done call on him at once. If the work is not done satisfactory to you it will cost you nothing.

THANKSGIVING.—Thanksgiving services held yesterday at the Presbyterian and Episcopal churches. At the former the services were conducted by Rev. W. A. Smick, and the sermon pronounced by Rev. J. R. N. Bell. The choir rendered excellent music under the direction of Mrs. S. C. Flint. At the latter church, Rev. Mr. Past conducted the services and preached the sermon. A good address was presented at each church. After these services, everybody went in different directions to eat the national holiday turkey. The one we helped to eat by the aid of willing assistants, was a fine specimen of the fowl species.

Unpleasant Notes. Uncle John Mires has some delicious cider. W. C. Durr butchered a fine lot of swine last week. The coyotes are making havoc of the sheep in this vicinity. H. D. Vett is doing a rustling business in the farming line. G. W. Stephens had the misfortune to lose a valuable horse a few weeks since. Geo. Adams and Perry Cook are prospecting along the beautiful Calapooia for gold. P. S. Durland and T. E. Farnsworth made a flying trip to Coles Valley last Sunday. G. W. Garrett thinks of retiring from farming and go extensively into the stock business. Our friend J. E. Kerley has some fine young horses of the Brigg stock for sale, cheap for cash. Rev. F. M. Culp held divine services at the Day and Stephens school houses last Sabbath. Those state intimations from Calapooia that appeared in last week's Enterprise was very sickening indeed. The late rains have sufficiently moistened the soil so that the farmers can speed the plow to their hearts content. We are informed that Mr. Perry Cook has offered his ranch for sale. A good chance for some one that wants a home. John Spring and Edward Richard are taking advantage of the fall run of salmon by catching and marketing them down in breakfast rolls. They are experts at the business, and success will undoubtedly be the result of their undertaking. A. E. Winiford has leased his farm for a number of years to Jack Wilson. A. E. proposes to lay track and enjoy his old place. Success to you Uncle Ake, may you enjoy yourself in a state of contentment and solitude. NIMROD. Snow whitened our hills last Sunday. Miss Sarah Wimberly's school will close Dec. 3rd. Mr. Childers school at town will close this week. A rather small acreage of fall grain is sowing this season. Wild geese are more numerous in this vicinity than they were last year. Maupin Bros. in center Bend have butchered about 170 hogs this fall. Miss Maggie Beckley will go to Oakland soon to take instruction in music. The Misses Stark went to Drain last week to attend school during the winter. Lou. Brown will draw the reins over the stages horses during the winter between here and Scottsburg. Jimmy Sterling will feed you well and as you reasonably desire the privilege if you call on his hotel in our town. Who says our part of the country is not improving when we have a new church, new school house, two large barns and an elegant residence built the past summer. Phil. Pinkston one of our most highly respected young men, and who has been for some years in the farming and stock raising business with his brother Harry, took his departure for Oakland a few weeks ago, where we understand he is engaged in the hog butchering business. Success attend you Phil. R. E. FORKLE.

DISPATCHES.

LAKE SUPERIOR DITCHED AS IT NEVER WAS BEFORE. CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Particulars concerning the great storm which has been raging on Lake Superior show that it was the fiercest gale that ever swept the lakes. At Marquette the lake was dashed into sea foam by the terrible force of the wind, and sea after sea rolled completely over the breakwater, producing a tremendous current and underflow in the harbor. Vessels at the docks snapped their heavy lines like threads, and were compelled to go out and lie at anchor. The breakwater harbor light was torn from its heavy timber fastenings and washed into the lake. The tower was lifted by an immense wave and hurled top first into the lake, where it drifted rapidly.

DEATH OF JOHN S. PHELPS. The Noted Ex-Governor of Missouri Dies at St. Louis. ST. LOUIS, Nov. 21.—John S. Phelps, ex-governor of this state, and during the war military governor of Arkansas, died last night at the Planter's house. He was eighty years a member of congress from the Springfield district, and was universally beloved by the whole people of the southwestern part of the state. In 1868 the democratic party nominated him for governor in Missouri; but, although defeated, he ran some 600 ahead of his ticket. In 1876 he was again nominated and elected by the largest majority any man who ever ran for the office in the state. When he returned from office he was pronounced the best governor that commonwealth ever had by the Globe-Democrat, the principal republican paper of the state. In all his public trusts he served intelligently and faithfully and retired from office with the admiration of men of all parties and all classes. He was born on the 2d of December, 1814, and he had lived almost the anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth Rock. He would have reached the ripe old age of 72. Mr. Phelps was graduated from Trinity college, Hartford, at the age of 19, and admitted to the bar of Hartford when he was 21 years of age.

An Anarchist Plot to Burn and Pillage Chicago. CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—A local German paper asserts its issue to-day that the anarchists of this city have renewed their agitation and that calls for meetings "groups" are circulated openly. Monday evening, the article says, in a hall on Clayborne avenue, a meeting of the North side groups of the International Working People's association was held, at which various plans were discussed. Some persons thought that on the evening of the 17th, 18 pounds of dynamite, the water tower could be blown up, and fire started at different places. The water tower destroyed, the fire department could have no water; half the city would go up in a blaze, and in the confusion this caused the reorganized "groups" and companies of the Lehr and Wehr could easily capture the city.

Police Captain Schall says he has no fear of anything happening at present, his men are keeping a sufficiently close watch on the "groups." He could not tell what he was going to do in this particular case, not having any authentic information yet, and if he had he did not think it best to make his intention public in advance.

THE POSTAL TELEGRAPH. The N. P. R. Compelled to Allow the New Company to Build. The contest between the Postal Telegraph company and the Northern Pacific Railroad company was decided at Olympia in favor of the Telegraph company. Judge Hoag delivered an exhaustive and able opinion, in which he sustained the position of the telegraph company. He held in substance, that the railroad company had not such an interest in its right of way as would preclude congress from granting the use of the same for telegraphic or other public purposes. He held that congress granted the Northern Pacific a charter, not for the benefit of its stockholders, but to promote the interest and welfare of the people of the United States and that congress reserved the right to use the road and its right of way as a military road, and for any other public or government use, and that the railroad by its acceptance of the charter agreed to and was bound by these provisions made for the public benefit. The Postal Telegraph company, having complied with the act of congress and having accepted its conditions and restrictions, was, therefore, entitled to use the railroad's right of way for telegraphic lines. The telegraphic line, in connection with the railroad, was, according to the judge, interfering in any manner with the construction of the telegraph line, and the application of the railroad company to enjoin the construction of the telegraph was refused.—Evening Democrat.

NEW ORLEANS IN FINANCIAL STRAITS. CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—The Times' New Orleans special says: The city authorities are in a great stew over the budget. The income of the city for the current year was based on an estimate of a large sum derived from street railway franchises. These, however, have not yet been sold, and as a consequence the city is in financial straits. Mayor Gullette says that he will recommend the suspension of all city officers during December, that is as far as pay is concerned, and he expects that employees will submit to this. He says it is hard, but cannot be helped. The city is unable to pay any but the most necessary and urgent expenses, and he will have to lose his own salary.

FIFTEEN MEN DROWNED. CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Inter-Ocean's Frankfort, Mich., special: The barges Mike Kausch and Marquette, in tow of the steam large Monacow, laden with lumber at Oscoda for Chicago, broke loose yesterday morning (twelve miles off Manitowish Island). They waterlogged and went ashore four miles south of this place. The two crews, numbering fifteen men in all, were lost.

Clothing for Charleston. NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—In accordance with a request issued by the National Association of the Red Cross, donations of clothing, blankets and other useful articles are being taken in for all the principal cities of the country for the benefit of the Charleston sufferers. These donations will be received by an authorized agent of the society, by whom they will be boxed and shipped to a responsible agent at Charleston.

Wm. Buck left for California Wednesday evening last, where he will remain until spring, thence he will go to Nevada where his cattle are, and will remain for some time. Wm. is one of those sober, industrious kind of boys who will always make a clean mark and succeed.

Don't forget the diamond masquerade ball given by the Umpqua Hose Co. on Christmas eve.

CLEVELAND FOR ANOTHER TERM.

New York Herald. If the democratic party cannot re-elect Mr. Cleveland it cannot elect any man to the presidency in 1888. President Cleveland has, by his wise and conservative course, won the respect and confidence of the country, not merely for himself, but for the Democratic party. His administration of the nation's affairs has allayed the suspicions and fears of democratic success which the republicans sowed broadcast in 1884, and successfully that thousands of republicans unwillingly voted for Mr. Blaine or Mr. Ste. John rather than for a democratic, as the saying went in those days. Democrats who desire the continued success of their party must see that they can get it only with Mr. Cleveland at the head. The plain man Mr. Cleveland's honesty, straightforward, faithful democratic principles—the kind the people trust and want. Not merely the democratic rank and file, but masses of republicans are on his side. The bitterness with which the Blaine organs persecute him is the best proof of his strength with the people. If the democratic party should elect him his side, should revolt against his policy and administration of affairs, would be precisely what the republicans want. Mr. O'Donoghue's foolish talk ought to be repudiated by Tammany and by all who desire a continued democratic policy for the country.

A SOUTHERN VIEW OF IT. Atlanta Constitution. The New York Sun, one of our best loved newspapers, quotes an editorial from the Constitution including the Sun's remark that Mr. Samuel J. Randall would make a good president. The conspicuous placing of our article on the Sun's editorial page leads us to promptly disclaim any disposition to join the Sun in its attempt to put Mr. Randall in the field for the presidency in 1888. Mr. Randall is one of the ablest of our public men. Better than that, he is one of the most honest. He can, in our opinion, have the vote of the people pretty much wherever he goes, both in the nominating convention and in the electoral college. And Georgia is the state that, with her solid democratic delegation of ten congressmen, sets the democratic pattern for many mislabeled Southern states. But Mr. Randall understands the political situation as well we do, and as well as the editor of the Sun would understand it if he would think with his head instead of with his liver. The Sun's article does not bear the name of Samuel J. Randall. His name is Grover Cleveland. Mr. Randall knows this, and he will not stand in the way of the fit and chosen candidate unless whom, and under whom alone, the shift and dangerous Mr. Blaine can be beaten. Mr. Cleveland may make mistakes here and there, but he is a great big man, and in him is comprehended again hope and democracy for the South in 1888. Again including all the Sun says of Mr. Randall, we urge it to stand, fast in its devotion to him—and patient.

REBELLION IN SOUTH AFRICA. A Great Battle Fought, in which the Portuguese were Defeated and 7000 Men Killed. LONDON, Nov. 23.—Advices from Durban of November 3, state that a general and apparently successful revolt is in progress among the natives against the Portuguese authorities in South Africa. An American missionary, Rev. Mr. Wilcox, has written in Durban that the Portuguese settlement on the east coast near the Transvaal. He reports as follows: The natives at Inhambane, Portuguese port town, 200 miles above Delagoa bay, rose up against Portuguese taxation and murdered the collector. On October 23 a battle was fought between 800 Portuguese and friendly natives on one side, and 30,000 hostile natives on the other. The Portuguese were defeated and routed, and the loss in killed on both sides is estimated at 7000 men. Mr. Wilcox says the governor of Mozambique, has gone into the country to endeavor to suppress the revolt and save part of Inhambane from falling into the hands of the insurgents. The town was barricaded when the missionary last heard from it, and the women and children had been removed to ships lying in the roadstead. The entire country round about the town had already been abandoned by Portuguese, and arrangements were made to remove the population of Inhambane out to sea if hostile natives attacked the town in force.

DECISION OF U. S. COURT. W. S. Laid awarded $500 for a cow killed by the O. & C. R. R. train: The following decision of Hon. Judge Deady of the U. S. Court for the district of Oregon will be of much interest to persons whose stock has been killed by the railroad trains as furnishing the true rule of damages in such cases. A railway company is not required to pay for the loss of a cow killed by a train unless the cow was run in violation of the regulations of the company. Plaintiff denied the allegations and averred that the cow was killed on his own land, where she had a right to be, and allow the cow to run in plaintiff's field, through which the railroad passed, was no negligence. The plaintiff was under no obligation to fence the railroad, and although the cow was not in plaintiff's field, the plaintiff is not compelled by law to fence it, it takes its choice to do so or pay for stock killed. Plaintiff was wanting to establish the fact that there was any obstruction on or near the line of the road there, this cannot be proved which would prevent persons in charge of the train from seeing the cow on the track, or on either side of it. The court held that the plaintiff was entitled to compensation for the loss of his cow. A railway company is not required to pay for the loss of a cow killed by a train unless the cow was run in violation of the regulations of the company. Plaintiff denied the allegations and averred that the cow was killed on his own land, where she had a right to be, and allow the cow to run in plaintiff's field, through which the railroad passed, was no negligence. The plaintiff was under no obligation to fence the railroad, and although the cow was not in plaintiff's field, the plaintiff is not compelled by law to fence it, it takes its choice to do so or pay for stock killed. Plaintiff was wanting to establish the fact that there was any obstruction on or near the line of the road there, this cannot be proved which would prevent persons in charge of the train from seeing the cow on the track, or on either side of it. The court held that the plaintiff was entitled to compensation for the loss of his cow. A railway company is not required to pay for the loss of a cow killed by a train unless the cow was run in violation of the regulations of the company. Plaintiff denied the allegations and averred that the cow was killed on his own land, where she had a right to be, and allow the cow to run in plaintiff's field, through which the railroad passed, was no negligence. The plaintiff was under no obligation to fence the railroad, and although the cow was not in plaintiff's field, the plaintiff is not compelled by law to fence it, it takes its choice to do so or pay for stock killed. Plaintiff was wanting to establish the fact that there was any obstruction on or near the line of the road there, this cannot be proved which would prevent persons in charge of the train from seeing the cow on the track, or on either side of it. The court held that the plaintiff was entitled to compensation for the loss of his cow. A railway company is not required to pay for the loss of a cow killed by a train unless the cow was run in violation of the regulations of the company. Plaintiff denied the allegations and averred that the cow was killed on his own land, where she had a right to be, and allow the cow to run in plaintiff's field, through which the railroad passed, was no negligence. The plaintiff was under no obligation to fence the railroad, and although the cow was not in plaintiff's field, the plaintiff is not compelled by law to fence it, it takes its choice to do so or pay for stock killed. Plaintiff was wanting to establish the fact that there was any obstruction on or near the line of the road there, this cannot be proved which would prevent persons in charge of the train from seeing the cow on the track, or on either side of it. The court held that the plaintiff was entitled to compensation for the loss of his cow. A railway company is not required to pay for the loss of a cow killed by a train unless the cow was run in violation of the regulations of the company. Plaintiff denied the allegations and averred that the cow was killed on his own land, where she had a right to be, and allow the cow to run in plaintiff's field, through which the railroad passed, was no negligence. The plaintiff was under no obligation to fence the railroad, and although the cow was not in plaintiff's field, the plaintiff is not compelled by law to fence it, it takes its choice to do so or pay for stock killed. Plaintiff was wanting to establish the fact that there was any obstruction on or near the line of the road there, this cannot be proved which would prevent persons in charge of the train from seeing the cow on the track, or on either side of it. The court held that the plaintiff was entitled to compensation for the loss of his cow. A railway company is not required to pay for the loss of a cow killed by a train unless the cow was run in violation of the regulations of the company. Plaintiff denied the allegations and averred that the cow was killed on his own land, where she had a right to be, and allow the cow to run in plaintiff's field, through which the railroad passed, was no negligence. The plaintiff was under no obligation to fence the railroad, and although the cow was not in plaintiff's field, the plaintiff is not compelled by law to fence it, it takes its choice to do so or pay for stock killed. Plaintiff was wanting to establish the fact that there was any obstruction on or near the line of the road there, this cannot be proved which would prevent persons in charge of the train from seeing the cow on the track, or on either side of it. The court held that the plaintiff was entitled to compensation for the loss of his cow. A railway company is not required to pay for the loss of a cow killed by a train unless the cow was run in violation of the regulations of the company. Plaintiff denied the allegations and averred that the cow was killed on his own land, where she had a right to be, and allow the cow to run in plaintiff's field, through which the railroad passed, was no negligence. The plaintiff was under no obligation to fence the railroad, and although the cow was not in plaintiff's field, the plaintiff is not compelled by law to fence it, it takes its choice to do so or pay for stock killed. Plaintiff was wanting to establish the fact that there was any obstruction on or near the line of the road there, this cannot be proved which would prevent persons in charge of the train from seeing the cow on the track, or on either side of it. The court held that the plaintiff was entitled to compensation for the loss of his cow. A railway company is not required to pay for the loss of a cow killed by a train unless the cow was run in violation of the regulations of the company. Plaintiff denied the allegations and averred that the cow was killed on his own land, where she had a right to be, and allow the cow to run in plaintiff's field, through which the railroad passed, was no negligence. The plaintiff was under no obligation to fence the railroad, and although the cow was not in plaintiff's field, the plaintiff is not compelled by law to fence it, it takes its choice to do so or pay for stock killed. Plaintiff was wanting to establish the fact that there was any obstruction on or near the line of the road there, this cannot be proved which would prevent persons in charge of the train from seeing the cow on the track, or on either side of it. The court held that the plaintiff was entitled to compensation for the loss of his cow. A railway company is not required to pay for the loss of a cow killed by a train unless the cow was run in violation of the regulations of the company. Plaintiff denied the allegations and averred that the cow was killed on his own land, where she had a right to be, and allow the cow to run in plaintiff's field, through which the railroad passed, was no negligence. The plaintiff was under no obligation to fence the railroad, and although the cow was not in plaintiff's field, the plaintiff is not compelled by law to fence it, it takes its choice to do so or pay for stock killed. Plaintiff was wanting to establish the fact that there was any obstruction on or near the line of the road there, this cannot be proved which would prevent persons in charge of the train from seeing the cow on the track, or on either side of it. The court held that the plaintiff was entitled to compensation for the loss of his cow. A railway company is not required to pay for the loss of a cow killed by a train unless the cow was run in violation of the regulations of the company. Plaintiff denied the allegations and averred that the cow was killed on his own land, where she had a right to be, and allow the cow to run in plaintiff's field, through which the railroad passed, was no negligence. The plaintiff was under no obligation to fence the railroad, and although the cow was not in plaintiff's field, the plaintiff is not compelled by law to fence it, it takes its choice to do so or pay for stock killed. Plaintiff was wanting to establish the fact that there was any obstruction on or near the line of the road there, this cannot be proved which would prevent persons in charge of the train from seeing the cow on the track, or on either side of it. The court held that the plaintiff was entitled to compensation for the loss of his cow. A railway company is not required to pay for the loss of a cow killed by a train unless the cow was run in violation of the regulations of the company. Plaintiff denied the allegations and averred that the cow was killed on his own land, where she had a right to be, and allow the cow to run in plaintiff's field, through which the railroad passed, was no negligence. The plaintiff was under no obligation to fence the railroad, and although the cow was not in plaintiff's field, the plaintiff is not compelled by law to fence it, it takes its choice to do so or pay for stock killed. Plaintiff was wanting to establish the fact that there was any obstruction on or near the line of the road there, this cannot be proved which would prevent persons in charge of the train from seeing the cow on the track, or on either side of it. The court held that the plaintiff was entitled to compensation for the loss of his cow. A railway company is not required to pay for the loss of a cow killed by a train unless the cow was run in violation of the regulations of the company. Plaintiff denied the allegations and averred that the cow was killed on his own land, where she had a right to be, and allow the cow to run in plaintiff's field, through which the railroad passed, was no negligence. The plaintiff was under no obligation to fence the railroad, and although the cow was not in plaintiff's field, the plaintiff is not compelled by law to fence it, it takes its choice to do so or pay for stock killed. Plaintiff was wanting to establish the fact that there was any obstruction on or near the line of the road there, this cannot be proved which would prevent persons in charge of the train from seeing the cow on the track, or on either side of it. The court held that the plaintiff was entitled to compensation for the loss of his cow. A railway company is not required to pay for the loss of a cow killed by a train unless the cow was run in violation of the regulations of the company. Plaintiff denied the allegations and averred that the cow was killed on his own land, where she had a right to be, and allow the cow to run in plaintiff's field, through which the railroad passed, was no negligence. The plaintiff was under no obligation to fence the railroad, and although the cow was not in plaintiff's field, the plaintiff is not compelled by law to fence it, it takes its choice to do so or pay for stock killed. Plaintiff was wanting to establish the fact that there was any obstruction on or near the line of the road there, this cannot be proved which would prevent persons in charge of the train from seeing the cow on the track, or on either side of it. The court held that the plaintiff was entitled to compensation for the loss of his cow. A railway company is not required to pay for the loss of a cow killed by a train unless the cow was run in violation of the regulations of the company. Plaintiff denied the allegations and averred that the cow was killed on his own land, where she had a right to be, and allow the cow to run in plaintiff's field, through which the railroad passed, was no negligence. The plaintiff was under no obligation to fence the railroad, and although the cow was not in plaintiff's field, the plaintiff is not compelled by law to fence it, it takes its choice to do so or pay for stock killed. Plaintiff was wanting to establish the fact that there was any obstruction on or near the line of the road there, this cannot be proved which would prevent persons in charge of the train from seeing the cow on the track, or on either side of it. The court held that the plaintiff was entitled to compensation for the loss of his cow. A railway company is not required to pay for the loss of a cow killed by a train unless the cow was run in violation of the regulations of the company. Plaintiff denied the allegations and averred that the cow was killed on his own land, where she had a right to be, and allow the cow to run in plaintiff's field, through which the railroad passed, was no negligence. The plaintiff was under no obligation to fence the railroad, and although the cow was not in plaintiff's field, the plaintiff is not compelled by law to fence it, it takes its choice to do so or pay for stock killed. Plaintiff was wanting to establish the fact that there was any obstruction on or near the line of the road there, this cannot be proved which would prevent persons in charge of the train from seeing the cow on the track, or on either side of it. The court held that the plaintiff was entitled to compensation for the loss of his cow. A railway company is not required to pay for the loss of a cow killed by a train unless the cow was run in violation of the regulations of the company. Plaintiff denied the allegations and averred that the cow was killed on his own land, where she had a right to be, and allow the cow to run in plaintiff's field, through which the railroad passed, was no negligence. The plaintiff was under no obligation to fence the railroad, and although the cow was not in plaintiff's field, the plaintiff is not compelled by law to fence it,