ROSEBURG REVIEW

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1886.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE CONTINUED.

In the midst of our labors at Marshfield we penned a few jottings for last week's issue. We now take up the "thread of our discourse," and proceed to say that the following were elected and installed officers of Arago Chapter No. 22 R. A. M. W. H. S. Hyde, High Priest; C. B. Golden, King; R. H. Rosa, Scribe; Walter Sinclair, C. H.; Andrew Nasburg, P. S.; Wm. Morris, R. A. C.; J. P. Stemmler, 3d veil; Jas. Aiken, M. 2d veil. J. W. Hammerberg, M. 1st veil; J. B. Lightner, Sec.; A. G. Brown, Treas.; and W. O. Christensen, Sentinel. This noble band of companions are far from being (Hyde) bound, but on the contrary their hospitality is of the right sort to make one's heart palpitate with gladness and cause him to remember them in days to come. On Saturday night we met a good audience at the Baptist Church, where we were introduced by Bro. Gray the inimitable, and we proceeded to talk to the people with our usual degree of embarrassment. On Sunday we held forth at Empire City and was the guest of J. J. Lamb, the Co. clerk. "Hereby hangs a tale." Immediately after dinner the sheriff of Coos county took us in charge and brought us in a very summary way back to Marshfield, but upon a writ of habeas corpus we were taken from M. Herlocker and allowed to go at large. In the evening we met a very large audience in the same church as the night before, and we proceeded to deliver another message to the people. The singing by Mrs. Dr. Tower deserves special mention. She was ably assisted by a competent choir. On Monday morning with many regrets we were compelled to say good bye, hoping to return again at no distant day. That evening we were landed safely at Gardiner where we remained several hours, and was looked after by Dr. Mackey, Henry Wade, and several others. After supper at Mr. Wade's Hotel, Capt. Cornwall to whom we feel indebted for kindnesses extended, said, "all aboard for Scottsburg," and about 10 o'clock P. M. we arrived and was ensconced in W. P. Patterson's hotel. Next morning at half past two o'clock we were called to breakfast, preparatory to a stage ride of thirty-six miles. Think of a delicate constitution, rising at this untimely hour to face the frosty winds in all their madness, think of an individual borne down by the arduous labors of a week ago, think of unstrung nerves and debilitated appetite, then dear friends with all your sympathy turn, and think of me. At Elkton we found Jimmy Sterling the indefatigable landlord at his post, and enough on the table in the best style of the art to satisfy the most insatiate epicure. Thence to Drain, where we met some of our best friends, and in a few hours thereafter we were at home. Of Gardiner, Scottsburg, Elkton and Drain you will have full particulars in the near future. Dr. Bunnell remained our faithful friend.

EDITOR.

The South Looking Up.

The Pontotoc (Miss.) Observer gives us the very best of reasons for prophesying that the South will soon become the generous and yet formidable rival of the North in all industrial pursuits. It says:—

In the old days, "befo' the wah," the white Southern man who worked had no standing amoung his neighbors, but to-day the white man who does not work is the tabooed one. This change did not follow the war closely; it is the result of a new spirit that declared itself within the last half dozen years.

Then "the last half dozen years" have been very profitable ones. So long as the Republic rests on the broad shoulders of a people who are more proud of what they can do than of how much they can spend without doing anything it is safe. From the Gulf to the lakes we are a nation of toilers, and we boast of that fact. We keep our eyes open and our hands busy, and success must be more slippery than an eel if it gets away from us. The homes of the continent have no men in them after nine o'clock in the morning. They are all in shops, yards, factories and counting houses trying to make two dollars out of one. So, as a people we sleep well, because as a people we are pretty well tuckered out by sundown.

THAT's why the London Graphic says:—"You cannot make a monkey look straight at you," and wonders why. The reason is plain enough. The monkey is meditating on the "Descent of Man," and is ashamed to acknowledge his poor relations.—N. Y. H. Nov. 7, 1886.

THE democrats of California elect the governor, secretary of state, controller, treasurer, attorney general, clerk supreme court, and superintendent public schools; the republicans elect the lieutenant governor, surveyor general and the two supreme Judges.

BETTER.—Mr. Blaine has come to the conclusion that it is a very difficult thing to carry out his little game in New York. Mr. Blaine is right, and it is a great deal better for him to be right than to be President.

Election By States.

Should a labor candidate and a prohibition one, or both run for president in 1888 and carry enough electoral votes to prevent an election of either a democrat or republican by the electoral college it will then devolve upon the House of Representatives to elect. In such an election however the vote of each State is by the majority of the congressman of that State. In case of a party tie, as in New Hampshire now, the State can cast no vote. Leaving New Hampshire alone, therefore, out of the calculation and figuring on a House count by States in a straight fight between the two great parties, the result would place a republican in the white house by the following vote:

Republican—California, Colorado, Illinois Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts Michigan, Nebraska, Nevada, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Virginia, Wisconsin.—20.

Democratic—Alabama, Arkansas, Connecticut, Deleware, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Minnesota, Missouri, North Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, West Virginia.—17

No distinction is recognized in a count by the House. Pocket burroughs like Delaware Rhode Island and Nevada are allowed precisely the same voice as the great States of New York and Pennsylvania—one vote.—Evening Democrat.

A Custom House Needed.

We sincerely hope that Congressman Herman and Senators Dolph and Mitchell will secure an appropriation sufficient to build a commodious custom house in Roseburg for the land office department Post Office and for all other necessities that arise for the accomodation of government officers, prominent among which is the United States Signal Service at this place. If Congress would give just a little less for some expenditures that we might mention and erect this building, much more service would be realized. Our citizens should meet at an early day and hold a public meeting at the Court House, and memorialize Congress to this effect. When shall the meeting be called? We wait for an answer.

SOME republican organs delight themselves with the supposition that President Cleveland "backed down" in the Benton case. He did nothing of the kind, says the St. Louis Republican, but evinced the same courage of conviction that has always characterized him. The reinstatement of Col. Benton was the right thing in the right place. It showed that the president has the qualities of the genuine democratic hickory, which bends easiest when it is hardest to brake.

THE press of the country are everywhere praising Col, Vilas in his postal management, especially his triumph over that subsidized ocean mail steamship line whereby he saved an immense sum for Uncle Sam and made the subsidy fellows very docile.

MR. CLEVELAND may make mistakes here and there, but he is a great big man, and in him is comprehended democratic hope and democratic assurance for 1888.—Atlana Consitution.

OAKLAND ITEMS.

City election Monday.

Old Town all quiet again.

Thanksgiving passed off quietly indeed.

Fen Sutherlin goes north to spend the winter.

Prof. Tapp and family are vising relatives in Eugene.

J. R, Dodge made a flying trip to Portland this week.

The Enterprise speaks of "cement oar, wonder what it is?

J. M. Long (the coffee and spice man) has moved to Salem.

Mrs. Mollie Fay of Roseburg spent Thanksgiving at this place.

W. H. Young has a fine supply of Christmas goods on hand.

For a square meal none can be better served than at the Bailey House.

Mrs, Moore of Eugene is visiting Mrs. Smith Bailey at this place.

Mrs. Jas. Young who has been quite sick for several days is improving.

The reading room will prove a success under the charge of F. J. Crouch.

Bro. Richardson is holding a protracted meeting in the Baptist church.

E. J. Fields M. D. of Bunch Grass has just opened an office at Old Town.

John Canady has just returned from a whaling expedition on Cabin Creek.

Mrs. S. A. Hutchinson went to Portland Monday to lay in a supply of goods.

The Oakland Dramatic Troupe are rehearsing East Lynne which they propose to play shortly.

Fen Sutherlin is making some improvements to one of his houses in the outskirts of "Poverty Hill."

Supt. Brandt and manager Koehler of the O. & C. laid over Monday night here as rumored to accept the taring of the new water pipe,

The "scrub dance" given here Thanksgiving for the benefit of the Union was not a success, the town should be divided in two divisions, some being much stiffer than others.

The water pipe which has been laid from Thomas' hotel to the Calapooia for the purpose of supplying the R. R. tank with water was dug up on Sunday by a gang of celestials for the purpose of coaltaring it to make it more durable.

The editor of the Enterprise was a little off ast week, he said I was scarce of items the week before and had to draw on my imagination, such is not the case, for items were plentiful, and if Mr. Enterprise you wish some to fill out your columns more fully, can spare you some, and as to confining myself to facts in the future I hardly think I can any nearer than I did in the item referred to by you.

After Forty years' experience in the preparation of more than One Hundred Thousand applications for patents in the United States and Foreign countries, the publishers of the Scientific American continue to act as solicitors for patents, caveats, trade-marks, copyrights, etc., for the United States, and to obtain patents in Canada, England, France, Germany, and all other countries. Their experience is unequaled and their facilities are unsurpassed.

Drawings and specifications prepared and filed in the Patent Office on short notice. Terms very reasonable. No charge for examination of models or drawings. Advice by mail free.

Patents obtained through Munn & Co. are noticed in the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, which has the largest circulation and is the most influential newspaper of its kind published in the world. The advantages of such a notice every patentee understands.

This large and splendidly illustrated newspaper is published WEEKLY at $3.00 a year, and is admitted to be the best paper devoted to science, mechanics, inventions, engineering works, and other departments of industrial progress, published in any country. It contains the names of all patentees and title of every invention patented each week. Try it four months for one dollar. Sold by all newsdealers.

If you have an invention to patent write to Munn & Co., publishers of Scientific American, 261 Broadway, New York.

Handbook about patents mailed free.
