MISTAKE IN TOWN.—Santa Claus headquarters are at L. Langenberg's where they have been for over thirteen years.

WANTED.—A man with a good education and some business qualifications, school teacher preferred. Address, Box 63, Roseburg, stating salary required.

TROUBLE.—Arch-Bishop Gross, Messrs. Coffee and Col. Parsons, and the Oregonian are having trouble over the Umatilla Reservation. What the end will be deponent prophesieth not.

SOLD.—The King property of four lots was sold last Saturday to the highest bidder for $1090.00, 15 per cent off for cash, Sol. Abraham being the purchaser. This is a fair transaction all around, DRAWING AND PAINTING.—Miss E. McFadden from Corvallis and Monmouth Colleges will give lessons in oil painting, and everything in that line. Room at Mrs. Party's up stairs.

NEW OFFICE,—The undersigned has now fitted up his office on the north west corner of Jackson and Douglas streets Roseburg Oregon, and is prepared to execute deeds, mortgages and bonds, perform marriages, make collections and do official business generally coming under my jurisdiction. Give me a call.
THOS. L. GANNON, J. P.

TREASURER'S NOTICE.—All persons holding county warrants endorsed prior to April 12th, 1886 are hereby notified to present them at the Treasurer's office in the Court House in Roseburg, on or before December 14th, 1886 as interest will cease from that date.
D. S. WEST,
Dec. 3, 1886. County Treasurer.

A PUBLIC MEETING.—Let everyone in the town and county meet at the court house Saturday 18th, at 1 o'clock P. M. 1886, for the purpose of taking into consideration the propriety of memorializing Congress to build a Custom house in Roseburg to cost not less than $50,000. This building is badly needed in this section.

NO PAY TERM.—At a regular meeting of the Board of Directors a few days since, the School clerk T. Ford presented a report, which showed a balance amply sufficient to run the public school full nine months absolutely free, no rate bills, no nothing. This speaks well for the Roseburg schools. Let every one contribute to this good work.

A COMET.—A comet is now noticeable in the eastern heavens about 3 o'clock a. m. every morning. This new comer has a long, bright tail, and promises to make quite a show before it leaves this part of our western hemisphere. It may bring war for aught we know and therefore Congress should at once make our coast entrances more secure.

HOLIDAY NUMBER.—Our holiday number will be in solid type, with a large five-column supplement, all containing a full description of Douglas county. Send in your names for the number you want. The large patronage allows us to reduce the price of this extra number to six and eight cents per copy. A small number eight cents, a large number six cents. This is the number to send to your friends east. Send in at once.

SOCIAL.—The sociable at the residence of Rev. W. A. Smick last Tuesday evening was a splendid success, financially and otherwise. The guests were many, the entertainment up to high water mark, the singing by the Misses Aggie Hermann and Eva Oakes, and the beautiful solo, "Knock at the window to-night, love," by Mrs. S. C. Flint were intensely relished by the audience. That solo must be heard again in Roseburg.

THE SAUNDERS CASE.—The time for hearing the appeal of W. W. Saunders has been set for December 9th. A stay of execution has not yet been granted but probably will be in a few days, if not by Judge Boise, then by some other circuit judge in the state. When this is granted, it insures Saunders a few months' further lease of life, at least; he will have to be re-sentenced in June, should the supreme court affirm the decision of the lower court.—Ex.

A FINE COLT.—The following is what the North Pacific Rural Spirit says about the sire Springfield Hambletonian stock a colt that W. T. Kerley brought from Sprinfield Ky., last May. This colt will be two years old next May. Mr. Kerley is a lover of fine horses as well as fine cattle. "Mr. Shults, the Brooklyn man who purchased Pancoast at the McFerran sale for $28,000, was offered $30,000 for the horse by Mr. C. F. Emery, of Cleveland, on the same day the purchase was made."

PROGRESS.—The present term of the public school opened last Monday. The attendance which has been from the beginning of the year large and uncommonly regular, has steadily increased until the board saw fit to rent another room. Very fortunately they secured the use of the lower room of the Odd Fellows' hall which with adjacent grounds will be commodious for this purpose. The fourth grade of about forty earnest pupils was put in this room under the supervision of Miss Maximilia Nichols who has taught in different portions of this county with much success. All of the other teachers were retained and will continue their work in the same rooms that they have hitherto occupied.

DEATH OF FRANK KRAUSE.—Frank Krause, publisher of the Oregon Sentinel, died at his home in Jacksonville on Monday last, Nov. 29th, after a lingering illness. For a number of weeks it had been apparent that there was little hope of recovery, and his family and friends were prepared for the sad end, which came, however, rather suddenly and sooner than was feared. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon and was largely attended, nearly all the surrounding country joining in the obsequies. The ceremony at the grave was performed by the Odd Fellows, Mr. Kranse having been Noble Grand of the Jacksonville lodge at the time of his death. He was also a member of Banner Lodge, A. O. U. W., and members of that order also appeared in the procession in regalia. —Tidings.

C. F. Hyde's New Combination fence, is now represented by A. J. Langworthy, a gentleman whom we favorably knew in Corvallis sometime since. This is a substantial and cheap fence, and can be seen at Sheridan Bros. lot near their hardware store. The farmers should give this fence attention, before looking further.

T. J. Singleton on Thursday evening Dec. 2nd, at the residence of the officiating clergyman Rev. W. G. Miller was united in the bonds of Holy Wedlock to Mrs. Elizabeth Simmons. Bro. S. got away with all the boys and his many friends. Not one surmised his intent until he took his bride home, and some even doubted it then, thinking it all a joke. You must always watch the slyness of the old fox. Bro. Singleton; your many friends wish you much joy and happiness, and trust that prosperity may attend you, and that a good old age may be reached by you and your excellent lady.

Communication.

FRENCH SETTLEMENT, Dec. 5, 1886.

ED. REVIEW, Dear Sir,—The people here and on the Calapooia are indignant over the prospect of losing our mail route, it was only last winter through the effort of Hon. Binger Hermann that this route was relocated, it having been cut off at Cleveland. But under the present change, not only this settlement will be deprived of mail facilities but also all who live on the Calapooia, from Umpqua Ferry to Oakland, a distance of twelve miles. You stated in your last issue that the people of Millwood would receive great advantages with this change and also save 4000 miles travel. Now Mr. Editor we always thought that it was the province of the Government to furnish as many of its citizens with mail facilities as possible, but according to THE REVIEW the object should be to cut off and make the routes as short as possible, of course it this policy was kept up long enough the government would not be troubled with the mail service, and THE REVIEW would have to stop publication or peddle out his own paper. As to this change being any advantage to the people of Millwood is a great mistake, only it may and probably will benefit some one pecuniarily, in fact this was the sole object in having the change made. So far as Millwood was concerned they had connection with the main line at Oakland which is two miles shorter than the new route. Now we don't object to so important a place as Millwood, claiming and receiving all the advantages from the outside world, she is entitled to, in fact we think Millwood should have a railroad so that the only man living there could ride on the cars, when not engaged in carrying Uncle Sam's mail sack, we will have to submit for a while at least. But we hope our mail route will be restored as it was at first located some fourteen years ago and where it accommodated a large number of people.

Respectfully,
FRAZIER WARD.

Items from North Myrtle.

Misses Viola Hervey and Clara Stevenson are guests of Miss Mattie Rice.

Ed Dunnivan, who had his leg badly crushed a few month ago, is convalescing. He is visiting friends here at present.

Miss Sallie Wiley is still in Kansas. She will not return before spring. Her visit, is to be hoped, will be beneficial to her health.

Miss Maggie Wiley is attending school at Aurora. It is Miss Maggie's intention to become a teacher. We wish her success.

Miss Esther McGee after an extended visit at Mrs. Robert's near Dillards, is at home again. We wish she would stay always, but circumstances seem very unfavorable.

Mr. Addison Love, the "never give up" cooper of Myrtle Creek spent a few days last week visiting in this place. Come again Mr. Love your presence is like sunshine.

Quite a number from this place attended the quarterly meeting at Myrtle last Sunday. All were much pleased with the sermon to the children.

A presumed agent for Demorest's magazine passed through our neighborhood last week. His inducements were so favorable that everyone that had an extra dollar subscribed. He offered in connection with the magazine any one of the eastern papers for $1.50 a year. Impressed with the thoughts of Talmage's sermons, the poet's best efforts, Nasby's wit, etc. I subscribed for the Toledo Blade, Mr. Brewer selected the Chicago Tribune and Mrs. McGee some other leading paper. He gave his name as Rogers, Burrel and Bruches here, and I suppose gave other names elsewhere. But Mr. Brewer, finding he was an Impostor, would not let the sun go down upon his wrath. He followed him and made him give up his money and, taking into consideration my profession, begged him for my paltry silver. He returned it promptly. Every body beware of him.

Frank Oatman returned from Linkville last Saturday.

Hon. L. F. Lane of Roseburg was in town on business, Wednesday.

John R. Weaver has returned from Montana. He intends to stay here this winter.

The meeting held here last week was largely attended, the people showed a great interest in the word of God.

Willis Kramer went to Roseburg on business this week. Mr. K. is doing an extensive business in bacon and flour.

A couple of our young school boys got into a regular knock down, but the Prof. had to interfere and gave them both a licking.

Madam rumor says that a wedding is to take place soon. Dr. Holland says that a single man is only half a man and proves that two are equal to one.

The health of this place is very good—distressingly healthy for M. D's. and the sale of patent medicines

EDITOR REVIEW: In your last issue the correspondent from this place closes his letter with the following words "We think that Zero must have forze up, the Scribbler has scribbled out, the Traveler passed on, and XXX must have died." If that is so, you can serve as medium, for XXX. The year 1886 is rapidly drawing to a close and it is well for all to review their life, should it prove to be good, amen, if not do better next year, as you are a Reviewer you can finish the inspirational correspondence.

Again Mr. Editor, one could infer from reading your Myrtle items that Myrtle Creek is a very small place; that a few families constitute the town. For the information of the readers of THE REVIEW I can state Myrtle Creek is a town, and stands a good chance of being a city as soon as 1986. Mr, Simon Selig has a store and it is full of dry-goods, hard ware, groceries, etc., he is also post master and during the past week he has at his own expense made a marked improvement in the post office viz: a bran new set of post office boxes, so you see that we, like you city folks can be tony. About two blocks from Selig's store you come to a store kept by a young bachelor familiarily called Hezie Dyer. If Hezie was not so bashful and modest, the chances are that he would ere this be a Benedict. He has a fine stock of Christmas and New Year's ictas and Santa Claus would do well to give him a call.

During last week a series of meetings have been held here by Revs. Michael and Culp, they closed Sunday night and the chances are that the ministers did their duty although they failed to get sinners to the anxious seat, possibly they may do better next time, especially if they will desist from censuring the people because they do not believe as they do.

On Sunday night the DeMoss family gave a vocal and instrumental concert at the Overland hotel, they had a good house, all things considered they did well. The church was occupied and our opera house is not in a suitable condition, and a dining room of a hotel is not suitable for a concert, at the same time Jeff Bailey, the landlord of the Overland, is entitled to credit for his efforts in their behalf. The DeMoss family left here for Deer creek to visit their relatives, rest and recuperate for two or three weeks.

A Valuable Medical Treatise.

The edition for 1887 of the sterling Medical Annual, known as Hostetter,s Almanac, is now ready and may be obtained, free of cost, of druggists and general country dealer in all parts of the United States, Mexico, and indeed in every civilized portion of the Western Hemisphere. This Almanac has been issued regularly at the commencement of every year for over one fifth of a century. It combines, with the soundest practical advice for the preservation and restoration of health, a large amount of interesting and amusing light reading, and the calendar, astronomical calculations, chronological items, &c., are prepared with great care, and will be found entirely accurate. The issue of Hostetter Almanac for 1887 will probably be the largest edition of a medical work ever published in any country. The proprietors, Messrs. Hostetter & Co., Pittsburgh, Pa., on receipt of a two cent stamp, will forward a copy by mail to any person who cannot procure one in his neighborhood.

Calapooia Notes.

Our Calapooia dudes pronounce Uncle Geo. H. Shambrook's cigars A one.

Uncle Jas. Richards one of our solid men spent several days at Salem last week.

We suggest that Coles Valley and Calapooia consolidate and have a Christmas tree.

Uncle Jesse Clayton has rerurned home from his stock ranch down on the river.

Chas. McGee has received a fine blood hound from Rev. Richardson of Eugene.

We are sorry to say that Miss Rosa McNabb is quite ill but under the treatment of Dr. Page she is progressing nicely.

Jasper Shook has a little juniper blossom at his house, it's of the feminine persuasion and Jasper is not expected to recover from the shock.

Misses Rone and Harness have returned to their homes, how many broken hearts they left behind them will not attempt to say but surmise there is more than one poor lad that fell a victim to cupid's dart.

Mr. Joe Cole we understand has purchased a farm which was owned by Mr, Geo. Pierce. Mr, Cole is one of the most enterprising young men in this vicinity and he will evidently prosper in his under taking.

Anyone wishing to have a good time will not fail to attend the grand entertainmnt which will be given at Umpqua Ferry New Years eve.

Estimates of the Treasury for the Next Fiscal Year.

RIVER AND HARBOR IMPROVEMENT.

WASHINGTON, Dec 7.—The secretary of the treasury has sent to congress estimates of appropriatians required for the fiscal year ended June 30th, 1887. The total amount estimated as required for all expenses of the government is $325,185,794; which is $14,403,759 less than the sum called for in the estimates submitted last year, and $272,691 less than the aggregate of appropriations for the present fiscal year. The estimates for 1888 are made up of the following items. Legislative establishment, $3,330,883; executive establishment, $18,125,408; judicial establishment, $416,200; foreign intercourse $1,935,722; military establishment, $25,847,689; naval establishment, $20,639,756 Indian affairs, $5,608,873; pensions, $76,252,500, public works, $27,160,694; postal service, $4,729,553; miscellaneous, $24,138,689; permanent annual appropriations, $116,699,822; grand total, $325,185,794.

The estimates for the executive establishment, judicial establishment, military establishment, naval establishment, public works, and the postal service are in excess of the appropriations for those objects for the current fiscal year. There is an increase of about $4,000,000 for public works, about 4,000,000 for naval establishment, about $1,000,000 for the military, and nearly $4,000,000 for the postal service establishment.

The estimates for river and harbor improvement aggregate $30,281,749. The principal items of these estimates are: $264,000 for the harbor at Boston; $250,000 for the harbor at Buffalo and $10,000 each for the harbors at Coos Bay, Oregon, and Wilmington, Cal.; $200,000 for Humboldt Bay, and $250,000 for the harbor at Oakland, Cal.; $200,000 for Yaquina bay, Or., $500,000 for obstructions in East river and Hell Gate, N. Y. $5,000,000 for the Miss. river below Cairo, Ill.; $1,055,000 for improving harbors in the Miss. river below Cairo, Ill.; $115,000 for improvements on the Missouri river from its mouth to Sioux City, Iowa, $400,000 for the Columbia river, and $150,000 for the Columbia and Willamette riverss below Portland.

These estimates are not furnished as part of the annual estimates for the public service but are inserted in the book of estimates as the amount according to the chief of engineers "that can be profitably expended in the next fiscal year on each of the incomplete works mentioned."

ESTIMATES FOR THE NORTHWEST.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Among the estimates submitted by the secretary of the treasury to congress yesterday were $60,000 for Cape Neare station, Oregon; for continuing the survey of the coast of Oregon, and to continue the survey of the Columbia river from the mouth of the Willamette towards the Cascades, $7000 for continuing the survey of the coast of Washington territory, $9000; for continuing exploration in the waters of Alaska, and making hydrographic surveys in the same, and for the establishment of astronomic and magnetic stations between Sitka, and the southernend of the territory, $12,000. The sec. of the treasury, in his estimates, asks for $30,000 for educational purposes in Alaska, as recommended by Rev. Sheldon Jackson; $6000 for a hospital and $3000 for Indian police, as approved by Governor Swineford.

A VERY WARLIKE OUTLOOK.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—The Star's London cablegram says: Prominent Turkish officials opposed the sultan's Turko-Russian policy, declared last night that the porte fears a crisis any moment in Bulgaria, leading inevitably to Russian intervention and a European war in the spring. An out break of hostilities between France and Germany is spoken of as impossible to ward off any longer than the coming spring. Turkish officials profess now to have certain information that Austria will take the field against Russia, aided at sea by England.

Gen. VonMoltke's speech has cast a gloom over all European capitals. Gen. Boulanger is stated to have privately declared himself in favor of action in preference to delay, affording Germany or France time to increase their military strength, He prefers taking the initiative by striking the first blow and involving Germany. Immense military preparations, respecting which great secrecy is observed, are going on at the French arsenals.

BULGARIA ADVISED TO ACCEPT RUSSIA'S CANDIDATE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 7.—The pore has advised the Bulgarian regency to accept Prince Nickolas of Mingrella as the successor to Prince Alexander. The reason given is that his election is the only means to pacify Bulgaria. The porte admits that the regency must maintain order. But, it adds, so long as an opposing element exists which regards the country's interests from different points of view, the door is constantly open to eventual strife.

Yoncolla Items.

An Answer.

November, 30, 1886.

MR. R. M. LOGAN: Sir, I received your letter of inquiry and shall proceed to answer. We have no road yet but if nothing happens we will get it this winter. Drains station is the nearest station about 12 miles distant. Game is plenty, fish tolerable. There is no store yet. Now I will say to you and to all who contemplate coming to Oregon there is plenty of good land to be had, both government and R. R. land all over the country, and as I have known Smith river from the head to the mouth, I can say that it is the best place that I know for a small settlement, say about 100 familes, there is good wide sandy bottoms nearly the full lenght of the river and all the small streams putting in from large flats, and all the country wants is men with some means and plenty of muscle.

T. L. WILLIAMS.

THE GAME LAW—A FEW WORDS

As time is drawing near when it will be "close season, for all kinds of deer—it is close now for male deer, elk etc., we think a few remarks on the proper observation of the game law will be in place.

Of late years, in some portions of the country, the game law has been a dead letter; no attention whatever is paid to it by certain classes, more or less lawless in their conduct other ways, and by a few would be respectable members of society who would hold up their hands in holy horror if it should be intimated to them, ever so widely, that they were transgressors against the rights of their law abiding neighbors. We have good game laws gotten up by talented men, sportsmen and gentlemen, who have given the subject much thought and modified and amended them from time to time to meet the approbation of certain classes who cry out at the injustice of anything that does not permit the wholesale slaughter of game at all times and places we have these laws and it is not a hardship to any one to live under and observe them, and it behooves every citizen to do his utmost to see that they are observed, for public opinion will have more tendency to drive it out than all the sheriffs and constables in christendom.

A true sportsman is a man who needs no game law to govern his actions for there is an unwritten law—a law of humanity—that he will not transgress The game law is made for certain individuals who recognize no law human or divine and observe none only through fear of the consequence if transgressed. For such as these the game law has a better taste.

A man that will kill a mother doe, or shoot a mother bird off her nest—game law or no game law—is a miserable wretch and no appeal that can be made to his manhood or self-respect will be heeded.

It is strange that men well respected by their a quaintences, and having most of the accomplishments that make a passable man in other respects are lax in this one thing and continue to slap this law in the face with the most brazen effrontry.

At the meeting of the next legislature there will be an attempt made by the game butchers to have the present game law repealed. As an inducement to the farmers to lend it their help, it will be claimed that the present law favors the city sportsmen as it allows them to hunt when the farmer is busy and when the farmer is at leisure it is close season and he can't hunt. The farmer is amply protected by the tresspass law and they will regret it when too late, if they give their support to these game butchers for with the law as it is the game is being wantonly wasted at a terrific rate. Let us keep the present law as it is and demand rigid enforcement of it regardless of whom it strikes—friend or foe.

A late number of the American Field, kindly furnished us, has an able article on the treatment of the game law breakers should receive. The way the editor of that paper comes out, takes his stand and hoists his colors and calls a spade a spade, is a pleasing thing to see.

"It is a matter of great regret that with each returning season there should come the same reports of game killed off before the opening day, for great regret that men who as good citizens respect the laws, should by their manliness lose their sport; but, bad as this is, it is nothing in comparison with the disgraceful fact that among those guilty of this dirty work may be found men who hold the position of gentlemen and stand well in the eyes of the public. It is bad enough for a set of fellows ignorant and with neither social nor moral standing to make them respected to sneak out, and in the most cowardly manner outrage public rights; but nothing better can be expected from them for they are the meanest of society and from their ranks are drawn the pickpockets, sneak thieves and bar-room beats whose names figures in police court records and commitments to the penitentiary. Such men make much pretentions to decency and are taken at their own appraisal by the public. If they claimed respect their pretentions would be received with scorn for they and their associates are out casts with whom respectable people can have no dealings or sympathy. There is nothing to enforce men into association or equality with such fellows. Those who seek them do so voluntarily, and because their tastes are kindred and their pursuits are alike. Those guilty of the same acts sink themselves to the same level no matter how great pretentions to positions may be made and recognized in other respects. A law breaker is a law breaker, and a thief is a thief whether in broad cloth or rags, both are alike amenable at the bar of justice and the rich thief who pays his fine is no more respectable, no more worthy of admission into decent society than the poor one who goes to jail to work his out. These are simple facts and no bluster by those who strive to evade the penalty of their dirty work can change them.

Game is the property of the state, and he who takes it unlawfully, be he pretending gentleman or unpretending loafer is a theif as truly as if he stole the same value in coin from the state treasury. It is idle to sneer at such language as inaplicable to "so trifling a matter as killing a few birds out of season." It is applicable and nothing more than a plain statement of facts. That it hits hard some of whom such things ought not to be said is not our fault, we do not make them offenders and we simply speak of the acts they have knowingly and willfully committed unneccessary terms. If they do not like such expressions they can avoid them by giving no cause for them, but they need not think they can be thieves and expect us to regard them as gentlemen.

For unlawful killing of game we have laws that impose fines, but something more than mere money forfeiture is needed. It is an evil of legislation that its burdens fall unequally in many cases, according to the pecuniary circumstances of those who incur penalties. The poor man finds it difficult to pay a fine that is a mere bagatelle for the rich man.

By the harsh judgment of the world the poor are condemned while the rich are reinstated as soon as the fine is paid, and men who would not be seen speaking to the ragged poacher are ckeek by jowl with the poacher in broadcloth who destroyed their sport. This is neither just nor manly, and the men who act thus dare not avow in principal what they do in fact. It is both cowardly and subversive of the high moral sentiment which distinguishes the man of character from the man without character. It tends also to prevent enforcement of the game laws by creating a class of priviledged offenders, men who can buy absolution cheaply, whenever they see fit to oppose their selfish desires to the rights of the entire public. Such men can be reached only in one way, and that is by being made to pay the penalty of loss of social position. They deserve this and it should be demanded of them.

Justice and self-protection demand that every sportsman should treat alike all law breakers. If a man is known to have forestalled his law abiding associates, and by going out before the season, has killed game which would have furnished lawful pleasure to others as well as himself, in due time, he should be treated as one who imprudently approriated public property to the detriment of those who would become later its rightful owners. He should be treated by those about him as a detected and punished offender, a man unworthy to associate with gentleman. This treatment will be the cheapest task that can be laid upon his back and under its blows he will writhe as nothing else can make him.

It is true that those not interested in field sports, may not appreciate the justice of his punishment and may even espouse his cause, but what of that? Are not those who have no interest in game protection, the men who by buying unlawful game offer a reward for unlawful killing? Are not they to this extent the enemies of sportsmen and should not sportsmen defend themselves against them? It is simple ignorance which makes such men support the lawbreakers Once being fairly before them the knowledge of his wrongs, and they would not uphold him any more than any other offender. It is only by manly self assertion sportsmen can make themselves and their pursuits respected by those who know nothing of them and such assertion can find no better expression than that of holding the law and ostracizing those who defy it.

RESOLUTIONS OF CONDOLENCE AND RESPECT.

WHEREAS, It has pleased the Great Architect of the Universe to remove from our midst brother G. W. Hoover to that Lodge above not made with hands; and

WHEREAS, During all his associations with us his many virtues have ever merited a fitting recognition of his life and character; therefore be it

RESOLVED, By Laurel Lodge No. 13 on the registry of the Grand Lodge of Oregon of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons, that on the death of brother G. W. Hoover, this Lodge laments the loss of one whose voice of sympathy and hand of charity were ready first to console a distressed brother; one who was actively engaged in the promotion of such institutions as tend most to elevate humanity; one who was companionable; a citizen who sought to refine society; and a physician who stood at the head of the profession.

RESOLVED, That we condole with the family of the deceased whose best interests we shall ever guard with watchful eyes; but in this their extremity we commend them for consolation to him who is a husband to the widow, a father to the fatherless, and who sticketh even closer than a brother.

RESOLVED, That these resolutions be spread upon the records of that Lodge, and a copy thereof be transmitted to the family of the deceased brother, and to THE REVIEW and Plaindealer for publication.

SCHOOL REPORT.

FRENCH SETTLEMENT ORE.

EDITOR REVIEW: The following is a report of term of school which closed Nov. 26th in Dist. No. 25, Douglas Co. Whole No. in attendance 33. Average 26. The grade given below in deportment and recitations 100 being perfect. Will also add that this is one of the best schools the county, though report states 'tis one of the worst ones, and very difficult to manage, that the pupils are such rough hoodlums that no teacher can control them. This report I know to be wholly false. Have had no trouble with pupils, and found them easily managed, very kind, pleasant and studious. Do not wish a better school. Pupils and Patrons well suited. Directors complimented the school highly. County Superintendent Russell visited school once and spent half a day. Under his control the schools of the county are prospering finely. We think he is the right man in the right place. His aim is to have the schools of this county equal to those of any county in the state.

BORN

McCURDY.—To the wife of John R. McCurdy Dec. 6th, a girl weight 7½ pounds, and Jonh is happy.

NECROLOGY.

KERNAN.—Wm. Kernan who was accidentally shot a few weeks since, died at his home on the North Umpqua last Sunday. This sad accident and its fatal effects causes much regret.

WHITSETT.—The infant child of J. H. Whitsett and wife died Nov. 28th, 1886, aged 2 months and 10 days. Tis sad to see these unfolding buds disappear, but we must remember. "Suffer little children to come unto me," was said to those who were asking what should become of children if they should die.

Do You Want a Market for fruit?

If so, build a granger, fruit drier, patented by Burnett & Hill. Owing to its cheapness and capacity it takes the lead. It has been tested by the side of other driers and has rendered the best satisfaction. Our terms for farm rights are according to capacity. For 25 bushels $10, 100 bushels $50, 200 bushels $100, If you wish to inquire into the merits of said drier consult John Hall, John W. Weaver or H. A. Adams all of Myrtle Creek, Oregon. We can save your fruit. $200 will save as much fruit for you as $1000 can of some other driers. This is the greatest prune drier known to this country.
Address BURNETT & HILL,
Myrtle Creek, Oregon.

Now Has Faith.

I had been troubled all winter with cold and pain in the chest and got no relief from remedies reccommended by druggists and physicians. At the same time I was advertising Bosanko's Cough and Lung Syrup. I had faith, but thought to try it as a last resort; now I believe even more than the [illegible] its curative qualities. [From The Elizabethtown, Ky.] Sample bottle [illegible] at W. S. Hamilton.

A Captain's Fortunate Discovery

Capt. Coleman, schr. Weymouth, plying between Atlantic City and N. Y., had been troubled with a cough so that he was unable to sleep, and was induced to try Dr. King' New Discovery for Consumption. It not only gave him instant relief, but allayed the extreme soreness in his breast. His children were similarly affected and a single dose had the same happy effect. Dr. King's New Discovery is now the standard remedy in the Coleman household and on board the schooner.
