

ROSEBURG REVIEW

FRIDAY, JANUARY 21, 1887.

PHILANTHROPIC LODGE.—No. 1, O. O. F. meet on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

UNION ENCAMPMENT.—No. 1, O. O. F. meet on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

LAUREL LODGE.—A. F. W. M. will hold regular meetings on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

ROSEBURG LODGE.—No. 1, O. O. F. meet on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

UNION LODGE.—No. 1, O. O. F. meet on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

LAUREL LODGE.—A. F. W. M. will hold regular meetings on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

ROSEBURG LODGE.—No. 1, O. O. F. meet on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

UNION LODGE.—No. 1, O. O. F. meet on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

LAUREL LODGE.—A. F. W. M. will hold regular meetings on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

ROSEBURG LODGE.—No. 1, O. O. F. meet on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

UNION LODGE.—No. 1, O. O. F. meet on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

LAUREL LODGE.—A. F. W. M. will hold regular meetings on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

ROSEBURG LODGE.—No. 1, O. O. F. meet on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

UNION LODGE.—No. 1, O. O. F. meet on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

LAUREL LODGE.—A. F. W. M. will hold regular meetings on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

ROSEBURG LODGE.—No. 1, O. O. F. meet on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

UNION LODGE.—No. 1, O. O. F. meet on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

LAUREL LODGE.—A. F. W. M. will hold regular meetings on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

ROSEBURG LODGE.—No. 1, O. O. F. meet on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

UNION LODGE.—No. 1, O. O. F. meet on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

LAUREL LODGE.—A. F. W. M. will hold regular meetings on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

ROSEBURG LODGE.—No. 1, O. O. F. meet on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

UNION LODGE.—No. 1, O. O. F. meet on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

LAUREL LODGE.—A. F. W. M. will hold regular meetings on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

ROSEBURG LODGE.—No. 1, O. O. F. meet on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

UNION LODGE.—No. 1, O. O. F. meet on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

LAUREL LODGE.—A. F. W. M. will hold regular meetings on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

ROSEBURG LODGE.—No. 1, O. O. F. meet on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

UNION LODGE.—No. 1, O. O. F. meet on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

LAUREL LODGE.—A. F. W. M. will hold regular meetings on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

ROSEBURG LODGE.—No. 1, O. O. F. meet on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

UNION LODGE.—No. 1, O. O. F. meet on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

LAUREL LODGE.—A. F. W. M. will hold regular meetings on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

ROSEBURG LODGE.—No. 1, O. O. F. meet on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

UNION LODGE.—No. 1, O. O. F. meet on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

LAUREL LODGE.—A. F. W. M. will hold regular meetings on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, in their hall at Roseburg. Members of the lodge in good standing are invited to attend. By order of the N. E. J. ASKULAK, C. P.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Rain! Rain! Rain!!!
Litigation still continues this week.
Our chief has gone to Salem this week, and our devil will do the fighting.
Go to M. R. Howell's and get bargains in the lumber, door, sash and window trade.
Dr. Osler moved to Oakland this week to permanently locate having bought out Dr. Page.
The heavy rain last Tuesday caused the river to rise higher than at any previous time this winter.
The new telephone office will be at Taylor's store instead of the Maindealer office as was stated last week.
All the young people should attend the prayer meetings for they may derive much benefit thereby.
There was a washout in the railroad track south of Riddle, Tuesday and the trains could not make connection for a day or two.
GILMORE'S NURALOGIA CURE is a positive cure for Neuralgia in the face, side and stomach. For sale at Marster's drug store.
MIDDLE-AGED MEN who lack vigor and vitality can be cured by Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. For sale at Marster's drug store.
NEURVINE AND VIGOR restored in men and women by using Gilmore's Aromatic Wine. For sale at Marster's drug store.
ANSON HUGHES, of Blackberry, Ill., says he owes his life to Gilmore's Magnetic Elixir. Try it. For sale at Marster's drug store.
James Fletcher near the bridge has added another addition to his property by building an elegant fence in front of his residence.
WILLIAM WILLIAMS, of Ague and Malaria when Gilmore's Aromatic Wine will cure you. For sale at Marster's drug store.
JAMES SULLIVAN of Salem, Oregon, says he was cured of the Asthma by Gilmore's Magnetic Elixir. For sale at Marster's drug store.
The Mackey telegraph poles are huge ones here in town. The wire will be in operation in a short time, then we will have Mackey vs Gould.
Miss E. V. Crump has moved her dress-making shop next door to Woodward's drug store where she will do any work in her line. Give her a call.
We most profoundly acknowledge our indebtedness to Hon. E. G. Hursh for valuable documents sent us from the place where the solons dwell.
ECCO SIGNUM over our front door. This means business. Come in and subscribe at once and be happy for 1887. Do you hear our gentle voice?
MR. A. HIGGINS of Wyoming N. Y., says he had the Piles for nearly 40 years, was cured by using Gilmore's Pile Specific. For sale at Marster's drug store.
THE WIFE, MOTHER AND MAID who suffer from female weakness, will find Gilmore's Aromatic Wine a positive cure. For sale at Marster's drug store.
The Bay City mill near Marshfield, is running on full time to hours. It is thought that this number of hours will be adopted in all the mills on this coast.
E. N. North, dentist, is at Roseburg located over Mr. Belis jewelry store and will spare no ready to do dental work in the most workmanlike manner.
The lecture last night by Mr. C. B. Carlie at the Presbyterian church was indeed an intellectual treat although but a few attended, it being so stormy.
We have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of documents of a public nature from Hon. W. F. Benjamin, for which we heartily thank him.
On our first page to-day will be found a striking and instructive illustration of the comparative worth of the various kinds of baking powders in the market.
Fred Bellman's letter from Minnesota this week tells the tale as to climate. We hope the gentleman will come to Oregon this summer and bring all his neighbors.
DR. FREELAND, of the M. E. church says that two bottles of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine cured his wife of Nervous Debility and sleeplessness. For sale at Marster's drug store.
Call at THE REVIEW office and get your blank deeds and mortgages with the note printed in the mortgage. All kinds of blanks on hand cheap. Call and see us before purchasing elsewhere.
The question of a railroad bridge across the Willamette river at Portland is being much agitated and a bill has been introduced into the legislature for an act to authorize the construction of said bridge.
John Rast and Thos. Critser are now owners in fee simple of the Roseburg mills, and will make flour of the best sort. The highest market price paid for wheat. Read the terms in their new ad.
G. A. Taylor has come to stay, and don't you forget it. See his new ad. Mr. Taylor understands his business, is perfectly reliable, and will give you bargains that will make you happy. Go to the Reel Corner.
Prof. Robertson gave one of his exhibitions at the reform club hall last Tuesday night. A number of the views which he presented were historic and full of interest. It being a stormy night his audience was small.
The poetry this week entitled "My Little Brothers" by Miss Rice breathes the spirit of a true sister's love, and shows plainly that she is enraptured by her subject. All of this lady's poetry is pleasing because it has genuine touch of the muse.
H. Gates has sold out clean, all his mill property, house and lot, crick stock and barrel to John Rast. Thos. Critser being a partner will have charge of the mill and will make flour to satisfy all. We are sorry to lose our friend Gates, and hope that he will remain with us.
JOHN H. YATES, of Batavia, N. Y., says: "I cheerfully commend you."
YOUNG MEN'S WINE.
It did new life and vigor sent through this weak frame of mine.
It did for all my stomach ills.
More than the doctor and his pills."
For sale at Marster's drug store.
A fine March of medium difficulty and as well adapted for the piano as for organ is the Knights of Labor Grand March by J. V. M. It should not surprise us if in a short time this March would be whistled on the streets as is generally the case with captivating melodies that please the public at large. Price 40 cts., duet songs. Ign. Fischer, Publisher, Toledo, O.
The Southern Oregon Agricultural association has been formed in Douglas county, and an effort will be made to hold a district fair. Our sister county has been a long while about it, but it may now go ahead and become famous. Some enterprising men about the Willamette river put the thing in motion, but it seems that Roseburg comes in at the eleventh hour and claims that the fair grounds must be there. There is a lesson in this.—Corville Herald.

Rev. E. T. Ingle came up from Oakland last Monday evening where he has been holding a protracted meeting and preached a very interesting sermon at the Presbyterian church. He met with very good success in his meetings in Oakland of which we are pleased to hear.
J. J. Cawfield left for Coos county last Saturday morning, taking passage upon the "heretic deck" of his pony. This is the most sensible way to travel over the thoroughfare in the winter. Mr. C. will visit his relatives and many old friends in that county for several weeks before he returns. We hope the friends in Marshfield and thereabouts will not founder him on claims.
The signal service observer reports that 4.68 inches of rain has fallen this month to date (19) the average Jan. precipitation is 6.20 inches.
OBSERVER DON'T REPORT THIS.
Dr. Oehme gathered 18 different varieties of flowers from the gardens of a few friends; we have had heavy rains, and two nights of very heavy frost within the past week, yet flowers will bloom.
Rev. Jenkins preached here Sunday.
David Baker, of Roseburg, spent Saturday here.
Mrs. Thos. Howard spent Sunday in Roseburg.
We were visited Tuesday night by a slight snow storm.
Ned Sutherland of Eugene City is visiting relatives here.
E. C. Sacy moved to his ranch near Kellogg last week.
Mrs. Tysan is visiting her daughter Mrs. Wm. Fay in Roseburg.
Grandpa Tibbitts is visiting Hon. B. Herman at his home at Roseburg.
Miss Sophia Tapp left here for Salem Wednesday where she will attend the Sisters school.
Never mind Andy you will soon be able to gather wild Lillies when you can't go to church.
Miss Louise Rice of Rice Hill was a guest of Misses Alice Moore and Laura Pinkston over Sunday.
The City Dads have fitted the council rooms with new benches which should have been done long ago.
Dr. Page had the misfortune to fall and fracture a rib last week and has been confined to the house for several days.
The carpenters have completed the depot at this place and now our agent can boast of as nice a house as any agent on the road.
Dr. Osler of Roseburg has bought Dr. E. J. Page's stock of drugs and office outfit and can now be found at the "Blue Front".
Our butchership has closed on account of the city issuing a license to a farmer to sell of a half beef. Keep her closed Jim I glory in your spunk.
A large crowd was at the depot to welcome Chas. Metley home on his return from the Galpen picnic; he arrived rather late, although representing various colors.
Doc Hall started for town one day last week with a hack load of geese, and while trying to ford a stream near his house, got into swimming water, and lost a valuable mare by drowning besides several geese. Doc is very thankful it was no worse.
We are sorry to chronicle the death of our friend Uncle Bozier Brown, of old age which occurred at the residence of his daughter Mrs. Polly Eabanks at Old Town Thursday at 9 p.m. after an illness of about a week, at the age of nearly 76 years. Uncle Bozier, or Bozier (as he would be called) was a friend to every body and everybody a friend to him. Age never troubled Uncle Bozier for he was always full of play. How oft have we watched our aged friend climbing the hill towards his home in Old Town. Rev. P. C. Parker preached the funeral at Old Town school house; his remains were followed to their last resting place by a large congregation of friends.
DUPLEX.
The young man who came to take his girl to the Smith river dance and failed need not be discouraged for more of the ladies may go next time and then all will be well.
Johnny has jumped Ed. Lucas's Dean cream claim. It is a case that can hardly be settled by arbitration or even a land office trial, but we think it will have to go to a higher tribunal.
There has been a society organized by members of the Sunday school, called the Ganss Bible School, the object of which is the study of the Bible and methods of instruction to be pursued in Sunday schools.
The mill is running on two-third time and the wharfs are nearly blocked up again. There are five vessels loaded with lumber lying inside the lake on account of shallow water and rough bar. One is bound for San Francisco and the others for San Pedro.
WINDLASS.
It is with most profound sorrow we announce the severe illness of Grandma Canon. Rumor says there was a little wailing in Calapooia a few days since. Let the good work go bravely on.
Wm. Johnson who departed last week for California has returned willing to feather his nest and remain permanently.
John Shepard an expert lock-keeper has been employed by Mr. Kerley. Mr. Shepard will keep things straight without a doubt.
The shooting match some time since at Mr. Kerley's was largely attended. Our lady marksmen walk off with the prize.
C. A. McNabb was taken quite sick the evening at a party at Mr. Mires. At this writing he has regained his usual good health.
A. J. Gross, Felix Starr, Jas. Barnard, and Will Churchill have contracted to build a cordway road from the lower school house through Happy valley to the foot of the Brock hill.
P. S. Durland are indeed pleased to say has at last got a "rocket" carrying Uncle Harolds mail. Success to you Pete, may you be obliging and prompt in your new business.
Miss Emma Farnsworth one of lower Calapooia's fair ones who has been in this vicinity visiting friends and relatives has returned home much to the sorrow of some of our love-sick wains.
C. A. McGee participated one day last week in a desperate coyote fight which he had ensnared in his trap. Chas. Blooded dogs soon dispatched Mr. Coyote to that home from whence no coyote returns.
The people of this neighborhood gathered at the Stephens school house last Sabbath but from some unknown cause Rev. Culp failed to put in an appearance this makes the second time the people have been disappointed and some suggests that Bro. Culp withdraw his appointment.
Cure For Sick Headache.
For proof that Dr. Gun's Improved Liver Pills cure Sick Headache, ask your Druggist for a free trial package. Only one for a dose. Regular size boxes 25 cents. Sold by W. S. Hamilton.

MY LITTLE BROTHERS.
(By MARK M. V. BICK.)
My little brothers, with so wild,
With laughing lips, and faces, mild,
Are romping, scampering, little boys
Madly, seemingly, for naught but noise.
Charlie has seven summers seen;
Their ages, three years intervene;
Thus making Benmie only four,
Whose age does puzzle him quite sore.
They are to me a source of joy,
Though oft they other folks annoy.
So oft my wishes they'll obey,
When they would answer others, "may."
So I may only hope and pray
That God may watch their walk away,
And make two useful, bustling men
Of my small brothers, Charles and Ben.
I wrote these lines six years ago.
Now, where the daisies soon will blow,
Does Charlie stand with looks profound
And gaze on Benmie's lowly mound.
Subdued's the hope that lured me then
To write my dream of coming men.
Subdued's the hope, with drawn the pants
Of one bright star for temperance.
But now I have no fears for Ben.
I had not when he lived, but then
I've learned through striving to endure,
That strongest homes stand insecure.
Temptation lurks in every hold.
And innocence is bought with gold.
Ah! though the fleeting years to come
Must Charlie face the demon, ran?
So I may only hope and pray
That God may watch his walks away;
And should his time be seventy years,
His may be paved with scoffs and sneers.
Oh may he have the wondrous star
To keep him in the better way.
And when all earthly ties are riven
Oh may he join my star, in heaven

MY LITTLE BROTHERS.
(By MARK M. V. BICK.)
My little brothers, with so wild,
With laughing lips, and faces, mild,
Are romping, scampering, little boys
Madly, seemingly, for naught but noise.
Charlie has seven summers seen;
Their ages, three years intervene;
Thus making Benmie only four,
Whose age does puzzle him quite sore.
They are to me a source of joy,
Though oft they other folks annoy.
So oft my wishes they'll obey,
When they would answer others, "may."
So I may only hope and pray
That God may watch their walk away,
And make two useful, bustling men
Of my small brothers, Charles and Ben.
I wrote these lines six years ago.
Now, where the daisies soon will blow,
Does Charlie stand with looks profound
And gaze on Benmie's lowly mound.
Subdued's the hope that lured me then
To write my dream of coming men.
Subdued's the hope, with drawn the pants
Of one bright star for temperance.
But now I have no fears for Ben.
I had not when he lived, but then
I've learned through striving to endure,
That strongest homes stand insecure.
Temptation lurks in every hold.
And innocence is bought with gold.
Ah! though the fleeting years to come
Must Charlie face the demon, ran?
So I may only hope and pray
That God may watch his walks away;
And should his time be seventy years,
His may be paved with scoffs and sneers.
Oh may he have the wondrous star
To keep him in the better way.
And when all earthly ties are riven
Oh may he join my star, in heaven

MY LITTLE BROTHERS.
(By MARK M. V. BICK.)
My little brothers, with so wild,
With laughing lips, and faces, mild,
Are romping, scampering, little boys
Madly, seemingly, for naught but noise.
Charlie has seven summers seen;
Their ages, three years intervene;
Thus making Benmie only four,
Whose age does puzzle him quite sore.
They are to me a source of joy,
Though oft they other folks annoy.
So oft my wishes they'll obey,
When they would answer others, "may."
So I may only hope and pray
That God may watch their walk away,
And make two useful, bustling men
Of my small brothers, Charles and Ben.
I wrote these lines six years ago.
Now, where the daisies soon will blow,
Does Charlie stand with looks profound
And gaze on Benmie's lowly mound.
Subdued's the hope that lured me then
To write my dream of coming men.
Subdued's the hope, with drawn the pants
Of one bright star for temperance.
But now I have no fears for Ben.
I had not when he lived, but then
I've learned through striving to endure,
That strongest homes stand insecure.
Temptation lurks in every hold.
And innocence is bought with gold.
Ah! though the fleeting years to come
Must Charlie face the demon, ran?
So I may only hope and pray
That God may watch his walks away;
And should his time be seventy years,
His may be paved with scoffs and sneers.
Oh may he have the wondrous star
To keep him in the better way.
And when all earthly ties are riven
Oh may he join my star, in heaven

MY LITTLE BROTHERS.
(By MARK M. V. BICK.)
My little brothers, with so wild,
With laughing lips, and faces, mild,
Are romping, scampering, little boys
Madly, seemingly, for naught but noise.
Charlie has seven summers seen;
Their ages, three years intervene;
Thus making Benmie only four,
Whose age does puzzle him quite sore.
They are to me a source of joy,
Though oft they other folks annoy.
So oft my wishes they'll obey,
When they would answer others, "may."
So I may only hope and pray
That God may watch their walk away,
And make two useful, bustling men
Of my small brothers, Charles and Ben.
I wrote these lines six years ago.
Now, where the daisies soon will blow,
Does Charlie stand with looks profound
And gaze on Benmie's lowly mound.
Subdued's the hope that lured me then
To write my dream of coming men.
Subdued's the hope, with drawn the pants
Of one bright star for temperance.
But now I have no fears for Ben.
I had not when he lived, but then
I've learned through striving to endure,
That strongest homes stand insecure.
Temptation lurks in every hold.
And innocence is bought with gold.
Ah! though the fleeting years to come
Must Charlie face the demon, ran?
So I may only hope and pray
That God may watch his walks away;
And should his time be seventy years,
His may be paved with scoffs and sneers.
Oh may he have the wondrous star
To keep him in the better way.
And when all earthly ties are riven
Oh may he join my star, in heaven

MY LITTLE BROTHERS.
(By MARK M. V. BICK.)
My little brothers, with so wild,
With laughing lips, and faces, mild,
Are romping, scampering, little boys
Madly, seemingly, for naught but noise.
Charlie has seven summers seen;
Their ages, three years intervene;
Thus making Benmie only four,
Whose age does puzzle him quite sore.
They are to me a source of joy,
Though oft they other folks annoy.
So oft my wishes they'll obey,
When they would answer others, "may."
So I may only hope and pray
That God may watch their walk away,
And make two useful, bustling men
Of my small brothers, Charles and Ben.
I wrote these lines six years ago.
Now, where the daisies soon will blow,
Does Charlie stand with looks profound
And gaze on Benmie's lowly mound.
Subdued's the hope that lured me then
To write my dream of coming men.
Subdued's the hope, with drawn the pants
Of one bright star for temperance.
But now I have no fears for Ben.
I had not when he lived, but then
I've learned through striving to endure,
That strongest homes stand insecure.
Temptation lurks in every hold.
And innocence is bought with gold.
Ah! though the fleeting years to come
Must Charlie face the demon, ran?
So I may only hope and pray
That God may watch his walks away;
And should his time be seventy years,
His may be paved with scoffs and sneers.
Oh may he have the wondrous star
To keep him in the better way.
And when all earthly ties are riven
Oh may he join my star, in heaven

MY LITTLE BROTHERS.
(By MARK M. V. BICK.)
My little brothers, with so wild,
With laughing lips, and faces, mild,
Are romping, scampering, little boys
Madly, seemingly, for naught but noise.
Charlie has seven summers seen;
Their ages, three years intervene;
Thus making Benmie only four,
Whose age does puzzle him quite sore.
They are to me a source of joy,
Though oft they other folks annoy.
So oft my wishes they'll obey,
When they would answer others, "may."
So I may only hope and pray
That God may watch their walk away,
And make two useful, bustling men
Of my small brothers, Charles and Ben.
I wrote these lines six years ago.
Now, where the daisies soon will blow,
Does Charlie stand with looks profound
And gaze on Benmie's lowly mound.
Subdued's the hope that lured me then
To write my dream of coming men.
Subdued's the hope, with drawn the pants
Of one bright star for temperance.
But now I have no fears for Ben.
I had not when he lived, but then
I've learned through striving to endure,
That strongest homes stand insecure.
Temptation lurks in every hold.
And innocence is bought with gold.
Ah! though the fleeting years to come
Must Charlie face the demon, ran?
So I may only hope and pray
That God may watch his walks away;
And should his time be seventy years,
His may be paved with scoffs and sneers.
Oh may he have the wondrous star
To keep him in the better way.
And when all earthly ties are riven
Oh may he join my star, in heaven

MY LITTLE BROTHERS.
(By MARK M. V. BICK.)
My little brothers, with so wild,
With laughing lips, and faces, mild,
Are romping, scampering, little boys
Madly, seemingly, for naught but noise.
Charlie has seven summers seen;
Their ages, three years intervene;
Thus making Benmie only four,
Whose age does puzzle him quite sore.
They are to me a source of joy,
Though oft they other folks annoy.
So oft my wishes they'll obey,
When they would answer others, "may."
So I may only hope and pray
That God may watch their walk away,
And make two useful, bustling men
Of my small brothers, Charles and Ben.
I wrote these lines six years ago.
Now, where the daisies soon will blow,
Does Charlie stand with looks profound
And gaze on Benmie's lowly mound.
Subdued's the hope that lured me then
To write my dream of coming men.
Subdued's the hope, with drawn the pants
Of one bright star for temperance.
But now I have no fears for Ben.
I had not when he lived, but then
I've learned through striving to endure,
That strongest homes stand insecure.
Temptation lurks in every hold.
And innocence is bought with gold.
Ah! though the fleeting years to come
Must Charlie face the demon, ran?
So I may only hope and pray
That God may watch his walks away;
And should his time be seventy years,
His may be paved with scoffs and sneers.
Oh may he have the wondrous star
To keep him in the better way.
And when all earthly ties are riven
Oh may he join my star, in heaven

MY LITTLE BROTHERS.
(By MARK M. V. BICK.)
My little brothers, with so wild,
With laughing lips, and faces, mild,
Are romping, scampering, little boys
Madly, seemingly, for naught but noise.
Charlie has seven summers seen;
Their ages, three years intervene;
Thus making Benmie only four,
Whose age does puzzle him quite sore.
They are to me a source of joy,
Though oft they other folks annoy.
So oft my wishes they'll obey,
When they would answer others, "may."
So I may only hope and pray
That God may watch their walk away,
And make two useful, bustling men
Of my small brothers, Charles and Ben.
I wrote these lines six years ago.
Now, where the daisies soon will blow,
Does Charlie stand with looks profound
And gaze on Benmie's lowly mound.
Subdued's the hope that lured me then
To write my dream of coming men.
Subdued's the hope, with drawn the pants
Of one bright star for temperance.
But now I have no fears for Ben.
I had not when he lived, but then
I've learned through striving to endure,
That strongest homes stand insecure.
Temptation lurks in every hold.
And innocence is bought with gold.
Ah! though the fleeting years to come
Must Charlie face the demon, ran?
So I may only hope and pray
That God may watch his walks away;
And should his time be seventy years,
His may be paved with scoffs and sneers.
Oh may he have the wondrous star
To keep him in the better way.
And when all earthly ties are riven
Oh may he join my star, in heaven

MY LITTLE BROTHERS.
(By MARK M. V. BICK.)
My little brothers, with so wild,
With laughing lips, and faces, mild,
Are romping, scampering, little boys
Madly, seemingly, for naught but noise.
Charlie has seven summers seen;
Their ages, three years intervene;
Thus making Benmie only four,
Whose age does puzzle him quite sore.
They are to me a source of joy,
Though oft they other folks annoy.
So oft my wishes they'll obey,
When they would answer others, "may."
So I may only hope and pray
That God may watch their walk away,
And make two useful, bustling men
Of my small brothers, Charles and Ben.
I wrote these lines six years ago.
Now, where the daisies soon will blow,
Does Charlie stand with looks profound
And gaze on Benmie's lowly mound.
Subdued's the hope that lured me then
To write my dream of coming men.
Subdued's the hope, with drawn the pants
Of one bright star for temperance.
But now I have no fears for Ben.
I had not when he lived, but then
I've learned through striving to endure,
That strongest homes stand insecure.
Temptation lurks in every hold.
And innocence is bought with gold.
Ah! though the fleeting years to come
Must Charlie face the demon, ran?
So I may only hope and pray
That God may watch his walks away;
And should his time be seventy years,
His may be paved with scoffs and sneers.
Oh may he have the wondrous star
To keep him in the better way.
And when all earthly ties are riven
Oh may he join my star, in heaven

MY LITTLE BROTHERS.
(By MARK M. V. BICK.)
My little brothers, with so wild,
With laughing lips, and faces, mild,
Are romping, scampering, little boys
Madly, seemingly, for naught but noise.
Charlie has seven summers seen;
Their ages, three years intervene;
Thus making Benmie only four,
Whose age does puzzle him quite sore.
They are to me a source of joy,
Though oft they other folks annoy.
So oft my wishes they'll obey,
When they would answer others, "may."
So I may only hope and pray
That God may watch their walk away,
And make two useful, bustling men
Of my small brothers, Charles and Ben.
I wrote these lines six years ago.
Now, where the daisies soon will blow,
Does Charlie stand with looks profound
And gaze on Benmie's lowly mound.
Subdued's the hope that lured me then
To write my dream of coming men.
Subdued's the hope, with drawn the pants
Of one bright star for temperance.
But now I have no fears for Ben.
I had not when he lived, but then
I've learned through striving to endure,
That strongest homes stand insecure.
Temptation lurks in every hold.
And innocence is bought with gold.
Ah! though the fleeting years to come
Must Charlie face the demon, ran?
So I may only hope and pray
That God may watch his walks away;
And should his time be seventy years,
His may be paved with scoffs and sneers.
Oh may he have the wondrous star
To keep him in the better way.
And when all earthly ties are riven
Oh may he join my star, in heaven

MY LITTLE BROTHERS.
(By MARK M. V. BICK.)
My little brothers, with so wild,
With laughing lips, and faces, mild,
Are romping, scampering, little boys
Madly, seemingly, for naught but noise.
Charlie has seven summers seen;
Their ages, three years intervene;
Thus making Benmie only four,
Whose age does puzzle him quite sore.
They are to me a source of joy,
Though oft they other folks annoy.
So oft my wishes they'll obey,
When they would answer others, "may."
So I may only hope and pray
That God may watch their walk away,
And make two useful, bustling men
Of my small brothers, Charles and Ben.
I wrote these lines six years ago.
Now, where the daisies soon will blow,
Does Charlie stand with looks profound
And gaze on Benmie's lowly mound.
Subdued's the hope that lured me then
To write my dream of coming men.
Subdued's the hope, with drawn the pants
Of one bright star for temperance.
But now I have no fears for Ben.
I had not when he lived, but then
I've learned through striving to endure,
That strongest homes stand insecure.
Temptation lurks in every hold.
And innocence is bought with gold.
Ah! though the fleeting years to come
Must Charlie face the demon, ran?
So I may only hope and pray
That God may watch his walks away;
And should his time be seventy years,
His may be paved with scoffs and sneers.
Oh may he have the wondrous star
To keep him in the better way.
And when all earthly ties are riven
Oh may he join my star, in heaven

MY LITTLE BROTHERS.
(By MARK M. V. BICK.)
My little brothers, with so wild,
With laughing lips, and faces, mild,
Are romping, scampering, little boys
Madly, seemingly, for naught but noise.
Charlie has seven summers seen;
Their ages, three years intervene;
Thus making Benmie only four,
Whose age does puzzle him quite sore.
They are to me a source of joy,
Though oft they other folks annoy.
So oft my wishes they'll obey,
When they would answer others, "may."
So I may only hope and pray
That God