

ROSEBURG REVIEW

FRIDAY, APRIL, 1, 1887.

COMMUNICATION.

WASHINGTON, March 14th, 1884.

Lent and the adjournment of congress have made a great calm in the east-while busy social world of the Capital. The change is especially noticeable at the White House, which has been the scene of almost constant and brilliant official hospitalities since the beginning of the season.

Mrs. Cleveland is a remarkably amiable woman, and she has constant need of this attribute in her present position. Every day during the past winter she has received quantities of notes, cards, letters, and everything else in the shape of a communication, and, as a young lady visiting at the White House at that time remarked, she really tried to answer them all. Then people would come to see her at all sorts of inconvenient hours and she would some times ask the usher if they were old or young. If they were old people she would go down to see them no matter when they came.

The President is now giving his attention to the selection of Interstate Commerce Commissioners from among the hundreds of names that have been recommended to him. Much of the delay in announcing the appointments is due to his desire to select the best possible men for the positions, and in this he has been considerably restricted by not being able to get the best qualified men to serve at the moderate salaries fixed by the law.

The law provides that it shall go into effect sixty days after its passage. The time will expire on the fourth of April, and as it is desirable that the Commissioners should have some time for organization and consultation before that time, it is probable that the appointments will be announced this week. Nothing has been made known at the White House as to who will constitute the Commission, but it is the belief that Col. Morrison, of Ill. Judge Cooley, of Michigan, and Col. Brazz, of Albany, will be three of the men selected.

Some of the most energetic and public spirited citizens of Washington are discussing the feasibility of holding a carnival here at the conclusion of the National Drill in May, such an annual takes place on Mardi Gras in New Orleans. Advocates of the scheme urge that unless the carnival be pushed through now it will be impossible to hold one for four years. The presidential campaign and the inauguration ceremonies will furnish displays and draw upon private purse strings sufficiently for the next two years, and the third year will witness the grand Knights Templar convalesce. It is estimated that any creditable carnival will necessitate an outlay of $25,000, and in order to save expenses it is proposed to buy or hire the costumes and cars of the New Orleans Knights of Momus and Proteus.

Capt. Eads, who was one of the best known men in America, has been especially well known in Washington for some years past the Eads "Jetty system" which figured before Congress for so many years, attracted more attention than any other private or corporate business before that body in the last decade and a half.

It is said at the Mexican Legation here that the death of Capt. Eads will not interfere with the status of the concession made to him by the Mexican Government for a ship-railway across the Peninsula of Tehuantepec. The concession included both Capt. Eads and his associates in the enterprise, and remains in force for a period of ninety-nine years. Of course his death causes some speculation as to the probable fate of the scheme, as it may be very difficult to find some one equally well qualified to carry out the project.

Mr. Conroy, who has just been appointed to the Mexican mission, has not declined the honor, as was reported, but has accepted that position. The rumor about his refusal originated in the dissatisfaction of his friends, who are averse to his going there on what they consider such inadequate compensation. He, himself, insists that American Diplomats should be better paid. Said he, "The pay of these positions is just about enough to provide decent house rent. I expect to be bankrupted before I return." "But," continued he (laughing) "money is not everything in this world, you know."

Gen. Joseph E. Johnson has been quite ill in St. Louis. He is now seventy-nine years of age, and says the Republican has lost all his old-time physical vigor, though his temper is as cheerful and his manner as courteous as of old.

A person disputing with Peter Pindar, said, in a great heat, that he did not like to thought a scoundrel. "I wish," replied Pindar, "that you had so great a dislike to being a scoundrel."

IS THERE ANY HOPE?

NEW AND IMPORTANT OPINIONS OF PULMONARY EXPERTS!

Can the Universal Consumption be Successfully Treated?

Dr. Borgoon, a leading French doctor, has a new treatment for consumption. He gives an emulsion of carbonic acid sulphured hydrogen gases, the latter gas carrying the former into every part of the throat and lungs.

This treatment, too, is directed at effects—the cause remains undisturbed. What this cause is has been stated by perhaps the highest pulmonary authority in the world by the Brompton Hospital for Consumptives, in London, Eng.

This malady every year carries off from one-seventh to one-fifth of the entire population of England.

Dr. Payne, M.D., M.R.C.P., London, is authority for this statement. The same or a greater proportion of deaths obtain in America.

Dr. Payne also says that one-half the total number of deaths from all other causes have seeds of this disease in the system which only require some irritant to develop!

Dr. Hermann Brehmer, an eminent German authority, says that consumption is caused by deficient nutrition of the lungs, by poor blood.

These authorities cannot be disputed. The medical world recognizes them. The uric acid is the irritant in the blood that causes the development of the seeds which Dr. Brehmer says lie dormant in the blood.

Every particle of blood which passes through the lungs and heart, also goes through the kidneys, and if they are in the least deranged they cannot rid the blood of this killing poison. The thousands of little hair-like sewer tubes of the kidneys very easily get blocked up and diseased; and when they do, they corrupt instead of purifying the blood. Kidney disease may exist, and yet no pain occur in that organ, because it is deficient in nerves of sensation.

Dip your finger in acid every day and it soon festers and is destroyed. Send acid-purified blood through the lungs every second, and they soon give way. The Brompton Hospital investigation showed that 52 per cent. of the victims of consumption were afflicted with deranged kidneys, which permitted the uric acid poison to remain in the blood and irritate the lungs. This uric acid is always fighting every vital organ, and there is an inherent weakness in the lungs it inevitably causes pneumonia, cough and consumption.

The real cause of pulmonary troubles being so authoritatively shown to be faulty even though unsuspected action of the kidneys, explains why, in order to master the dreaded disease, one must rid the blood of the uric acid irritant which inflames and burns up the lung substance. For this purpose there is nothing equal to that great specific, Warner's safe cure. This remedy has now the favor of medical men all over the world purely on its merits. We have no doubt that if the kidneys are kept in natural action, consumption and a great many other diseases, caused by uric acid, will not only be cured but will be prevented.

When the kidney is healthy, no albumen appears in the water, but albumen is found in the water more than half of those who die of consumption!

This, then, is the condition of things that always precedes consumption: First, weakened kidneys; second, retained uric acid, poisoning the blood; third, the development of disease in the lungs by the irritant uric acid passing through them. Then there is a little cough in the morning; soon thick, yellow matter is spit up, followed by loss of flesh and strength, with dreadful night sweats; and when the patient goes to his school physician for help, he is put on cod-liver oil which his stomach, weakened also by uric acid in the blood, cannot digest. Because there is no pain present in the kidneys, the patient does not think they are affected, but the kidney acid is doing its work every minute, every hour, day and night, and by-and-by the disease of the lungs has advanced until pus is developed, then comes hemorrhages, and at last the glassy stare which denotes that the end is near!

A post-mortem examination of such cases shows that the terrible uric acid has completely destroyed the substance of the lung.

It is impossible to cure lung disease when the blood is poisoned with uric acid. Spartans, stoics, heroes, saints, and gods, use a short and positive speech. They are never off their centers. As soon as they swell and paint and find truth not enough for them, softening of the brain has already begun.—Emerson.

A constant faith begets a constant peace.—Mason.
