ROXANA. We have received the Fifth Annual Catalogue of the Oregon State Normal School at Monmouth. It shows the school to be in a very prosperous condition, there being 260 students in attendance during the past year.

The graduating class in the Normal course this year numbered fifteen and there were five graduates in other departments. All Normal graduates receive State Diplomas and are authorized to teach in any public school in the State. Other States honor these diplomas by granting teachers' certificates to the holders without examination. The Normal School is especially designed to prepare teachers, but on account of its practical course of study and modern methods, it is an excellent place for any one to obtain a good education in a short time. There are 76 free scholarships distributed to the different counties of the State, of which this county has four. A new feature of the school for the coming year is the "Dining Hall," where students are furnished table board at $1.50 per week. The catalogue gives a full discussion of the Normal work, and will be sent to any one on application.

QUINCY A. GRUBBE.

On the 13th of July a party of 18 including the entire REVIEW force started at 6 o'clock a. m. for the seaside at Bandon, and a jollier effort it would be hard to find.

The first five or six miles were passed without much notice except that it was a beautiful shady grade, when we merged, as it were, into the beautiful valley of Looking Glass whose broad fields were already whitening by harvest.

After passing through this valley we soon came to the Flourney valley lying just at the foot of the Coast Range. We went on to the foot of the Sugar Pine mountain where we stopped for dinner near Mr. Whistler's place, when the old gentleman came out and gave us some hay for our horses for which we were very thankful. Afternoon we soon came to the 18 mile house where we recruited our store of provisions and were courteously treated by our friend Mr. Weekly. We proceeded to the 19 mile house where we met our friend Mrs. Wilson who kindly had us a pleasant trip. Then after three or four hours of climbing the mountain all walking except the drivers we went down to the old toll house where we camped for the night, and had a supper of delicious trout.

The next day we moved slowly down the creek landing, fishing and picking berries. This is a delightful canyon where many a tiny waterfall adds much to the beautiful scenery, and the lover of nature can wander slowly down drinking in, as it were, the beautiful sights. About noon we reached the toll gate where we met our friends Messrs. McCulloch Myratt, where we received the beautiful hospitalities of these gentlemen and with our hearts full of thanks we went on our way rejoicing. We camped the second night near J. H. Minard's sawmill below Dora and were the recipients of favors at his hands. All along the way we caught many an unwary trout upon which we feasted, and were well pleased. Early in the afternoon of the third day we reached Hon. J. H. Roberts' place just below Myrtle Point where we left our teams, after having gone to Norway where we camped. Here our pleasure was marred by our having camped in a place infested with fleas, and ere snipper was over we were covered with the festive insects and had to move our camp. Mr. Nelson who keeps a store at this place, and whose acquaintance we formed is a very pleasant gentleman. This point being the head of steamboat navigation on the Coquille we took the steamer "Ceres" the next morning for Coquille City. We were shown many kindnesses by the captain, Jonny Yeagin, who spared no pains to give us a pleasant time.

As we were nearing Coquille City we passed the farm of our old friend Capt. Roy, who came out and waved to us as the steamer was passing. We reached Coquille City at noon and went to the Olive hotel where we remained until Monday. Here we met many of our old friends whom we had known in other years and were glad to renew old acquaintances. Coquille City is a beautiful little town and shows many signs of prosperity and growth, and with the prospect of the railroad which the people think, (and we think correctly too) will soon penetrate that section, it will become a city of no mean proportions. It has wonderful resources for development and with a railroad communication the rapidity of its growth would be wonderful. Here our party was increased by our old friend Henry Smith, who accompanied us to the beach, and some of our party, (especially one) was exceedingly happy. Among other friends whom we met in Coquille City were Mr. Dean, editor of the Coquille City Herald and Uncle Tommy Willard at whose hands we received some kind favors and hospitable treatment. We had the pleasure of meeting with the people here both Sunday morning and evening in religious worship at which time we preached to them. Monday at noon we boarded the steamer Antelope, and with Capt. Reed, that affable gentleman at whose hands we received such kind and courteous treatment, and who did much to add to our pleasure we proceeded to Bandon, down by the sounding sea. This was a very pleasant ride down the river along whose banks is much that is pleasant to the eye. We passed Parkersburg, Randolph, the cannery and other points and when we were nearing Bandon all were on the upper deck eagerly watching to catch a first sight of the grand old ocean, there being many in the party who had never seen the briny deep. And as we were rounding the bend in the river some one cried out, there it is, and sure enough just before us lay the broad expanse of the mighty deep with its seething and surging billows lashing upon the shore, which forms a sight that is beautiful to behold. When we landed at the wharf we were met by Judge Dyer who cordially welcomed us to Bandon and he and Mr. Averill literally donated us a couple of small boats to camp in which greatly added to our comfort. The next morning we were up bright and early and ready for a trip down the beach. All started out at a jolly time and had strolling down the beach hunting shells and agates and looking at the thousand curiosities that are only to be found on the beach, and the birds which almost filled the air about us at times. The week was thus spent in wandering up and down the beach, wading in the surf, running foot races in the sandy beach in which the whole party participated, and a jollier and better time no one could expect to have. During the week our party was increased by Capt. Roy, the little daughter and Mrs. Lindley, the latter of Empire City. These old friends we gladly welcomed to our company and they added much to our pleasure. At Bandon we met Rev. H. B. Swafford and family and many of our old friends and acquaintances. And a more hospitable and friendly people than those of Bandon cannot be found in Oregon. We are under many obligations to Mr. R. H. Rost and Mr. Walker for their hall in which we lectured and sang at different times during our sojourn in Bandon. Mr. Tupper of the Ocean House also did much to add to our pleasure, and the evenings spent at his house will long be remembered by our party. We had a beautiful view from the top of Gibraltar rock near the ocean house, and with the use of Mr. Tupper's glasses we could see steamers and schooners passing far out at sea.

On Saturday Lord Bennett accompanied us to the caves down the beach and explained to many points of historical interest to which kindness we were all very grateful. We came very near staying in the cave too long, for the life came up and almost shut us in, but we escaped, however unharmed. During our visit at Bandon we visited the Recorder office and there found Mr. Childron the editor who kindly greeted us and made us welcome, but we never feel more at home than when in a printing office however. Mr. Childron has a neat office and is publishing a neat little sheet which will no doubt grow with the growing demands of the country. If the much talked of railroad should penetrate this region Bandon would become one of our largest seaport towns and a more beautiful beach for pleasure than Bandon is hard to find. It will no doubt become a famous summer resort. The government works at this place are being pushed right under the supervision of Capt. Littlefield, which will no doubt effect good in making this a safe port of entry for ocean vessels, which if accomplished would wonderfully develop the resources of the Coquille country.

On Monday July 24th, we once more boarded the steamer Antelope and bidding our friends in Bandon adieu we were off for home after spending a week that will ever remain as a bright spot in our memory of the past. We stopped at Coquille city Monday night where we lectured and sang to the people. During our week's visit on the beach our friend Mr. Dean, editor of the Coquille City Herald, suffered the severe affliction of losing his wife of which we were sorry to hear. We were again hospitably treated by the people of Coquille City and on Tuesday had our good bye and proceeded on our journey homeward. At Hall's Prairie we met Mr. E. M. Moore and family who were on their way to Bandon. We proceeded to Myrtle Point where we met many old friends among whom were Mr. E. Bender, Wice Bros., Father Lehnler and others who kindly greeted us on our way. Here we again lectured and sang to a crowded house, many having to stand up and a more attentive audience it has not been our pleasure to speak for many a day. Here as elsewhere the great hope and talk is of railroad connection with Douglas county, and we hope and predict that at no distant day they will have it.

On Wednesday morning we set our faces homeward in earnest and arrived here about noon Friday as jolly, dusty, and sunburnt a party you ever saw.

In conclusion let us say that when you go to the beach for pleasure, and want to be hospitably treated by the people, go to Bandon.

SEASIDE LOCALS.

Coquille City can boast of a fine and commodious Masonic hall. These brethren are enterprising craft.

Mr. Schroeder, at Hall Prairie, is a man of push and energy.

Mr. McCulloch, the stage man on the Coos Bay road, is accommodating and expeditiously handles passengers and all traffic connected with his care. His eating house in Brewster valley, about half-way from Roseburg to Coos Bay is kept in first-class style and all travelers will do well to stop there.

R. H. Rosa produces the finest lumber on the Coquille river. He means business.

Lord Bennett, proprietor of a large part of the beautiful Bandon beach, is a man of some years, but his intellectual vigor is unimpaired. His literary works rank with the best modern productions, and is not done yet. His beautiful farm of nearly 200 acres along the sea shore is satiating to the eye, and at an early day will be worth considerable money.

Mr. Childron, editor and proprietor of the Bandon Recorder, is a good writer, and is kindly remembered for kindness shown THE REVIEW force.

Capt. Roy and wife always go with us to the seaside, and our crowd will always be incomplete without them.

Dyer & Averill at Bandon are the merchants of the town, and are men with whom it is safe to trade.

The Ocean House seems to be the leading hotel on the beach. That "mountain heap" was delicious.

Mr. Haynes keeps a good hotel in Bandon. The Olive House in Coquille City is the best.

The Myrtle Point folks are appreciative and well situated and live contiguous to a delightful stretch of country.

The Coquille river and the Bandon beach are the most picturesque and placid we have yet seen.

LANE COUNTY FAIR.

The Lane County Agricultural Association will give its fifth annual fair Sept. 21, 22, 23 and 24. This society will give this year $2000 in premiums and invites the competition of all especially of Douglas county. Special rates on railroad, send to J. R. Campbell, Sect. Eugene City for premium lists.

BORN.

HATFIELD.—On Deer creek, Tuesday, to Mr. and Mrs. John Hatfield, a son.

DIED.

BURNETT.—At the residence of Hon. J. D. Burnett in Round prairie the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Burnett died on the 5th day of August 1887.

The remains of little Mamie were brought to Roseburg Saturday where the funeral services were conducted at the Presbyterian church by Rev. Howard and Snack after which the remains were taken to the Masonic Cemetery where they were quietly laid to rest to await the resurrection morn. In this sad bereavement we would direct the parents to the Giver of all good for grace in this hour of their deepest sorrow. Little Mamie is not lost but only transplanted to bloom in fairer climes, where all the good will meet in the sweet life and bye.

ATTERBURY.—At Mt. Scott, Saturday August 6th, 1887, Wm. K. Atterbury, in the twenty third year of his age.

Riley was a young man just in the morning of life. His health, however began to fail him early last winter and he has slowly and steadily declined until last Saturday when his soul, long pined for light, soared into the great beyond. To his sorrowing relatives, and especially his beloved mother, who has been so faithful during his sickness, and death, are extended the heartfelt condolences of a large number of friends. The remains were quietly laid to rest in the Oak Creek cemetery Sunday at 4 o'clock P. M. Peace to his ashes.

THE CYCLONE VICTIMS.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 7.—Additional advice from Millbrook, Kansas, which was struck by a cyclone Thursday evening, are to the effect that the place was practically demolished, seventy nine buildings, including hotels, school house, churches and residences, being wholly or nearly destroyed. Losses foot up $65,000. The people are in great distress, and a committee has been appointed to solicit aid.

LARGE FOREST FIRE.

COTTONWOOD, Aug. 7.—Fire west of here has been raging for the past week. It has burned over a tract of country twenty-five miles long, extending west up Cottonwood valley, and has now crossed the middle fork of the Cottonwood. It will doubtless go on to Igo and towards Shasta.

HEAVY FIRE AT COLIAR.

COLIAR, Cal., Aug. 7.—This morning the night-watchman discovered the roof of May's new Calif. hotel to be on fire. He promptly gave an alarm and ran into the building to arouse the sleeping guests. In a very few minutes the whole building was enveloped in flames, and the inmates were obliged to flee in their nightgowns to escape. One man named Lafever was overcome by smoke, and had to be carried out by the watchman and others. The fire soon crossed the street to Wilcox's livery stable, and in a very short time two blocks were reduced to ashes. The fire was checked by the arrival of a fire train and crew from Blue Canyon, who rendered splendid service and saved the depot and buildings adjoining. Loss aggregate over $50,000; insurance $16,400.

Physicians are Found Out.

That a contaminating and foreign element in the blood, developed by indigestion, is the cause of rheumatism. This settles upon the sensitive sub-cutaneous covering of the muscles and ligaments of the joints, causing constriction and shifting pain, and aggregating as a calcareous, chalky deposit which produces a stiffness and distortion of the joints. No facts which experience has demonstrated in regard to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has stronger evidence to support than this, namely, that this medicine of comprehensive uses checks the formation and atrocious disease, not less positively established that it is preferable to the poisons often used to arrest it, since the medicine contains only salutary ingredients. It is also a signal remedy for malarial fevers, constipation, dyspepsia, kidney and bladder ailments, debility and other disorders. See that you get the genuine.
