It is estimated that 150,000 strangers will be in Washington City to-day. For first-class dentistry call on Drs. Hupt & Leggo at the McClallen house. We would like to have a load or two of fire wood on subscription right away.

If we would make our town attractive to strangers, we must clean the streets. Impossible for any one to sell watches cheaper than J. T. Bryan at Longeston's brick. A printers' convention, the first held in the United States, met in San Francisco last week.

Let there be a large attendance at the meeting to-night to consider the water works question. Not only the looks but the health of the town demands that the streets and alleys be cleaned. Episcopal services next Wednesday (Ash Wednesday) at 11 A. M. and also in the evening.

Eugene City will hereafter be known as Eugene, the word "city" being left off under the new charter. The national ensign will soon contain 42 stars and more are likely to be added in the not distant future. Oregon now has 31 counties. Sherman and Harney counties having been created by the last legislature.

Elder David Brower will hold a basket meeting at Oak creek next Sunday March 10th. Everybody invited. Wm. Tipton came to town yesterday after a physician for his father who has been quite unwell for several days.

THE REVIEW is the leading paper in Douglas county, and speaks out boldly on all questions after having thoroughly investigated them. Nearly $15,000 was paid for clerk hire during the session of the legislature just closed. About $11,000 was expended in the same way two years ago.

Kohrer Bros. received four fine parlor organs last week from the Western Cottage Organ Co. of Illinois. They have several more instruments en route. The teachers' examination closed Saturday but as the board of examiners have not yet completed their work we are unable to give the result in this issue.

Woodruff and family spent Saturday in Roseburg. He is now manager of the Cal lahan saw mill and is prepared to furnish all kinds of lumber on short notice.

Miller went north on Thursday evening's freight and spent a day or two in Draining and Elkton on business. Rev. Wm. Lund will go to Eugene Wednesday night and will hold services there until the following Tuesday.

Comrades Bellows, Baldwin and Flook returned from the G. A. R. encampment at Portland, Friday morning. G. W. Kimball returned Sunday morning from Portland where he has been since the adjournment of the legislature. Rev. Father Clark went to Oakland Sunday evening and will spend several days in the northern part of the county.

Miss Bazzell, the foreign missionary, spent a day in Roseburg last week. She was on her way from Ashland to Astoria. Ed. Ruckles of Oak Grove, spent Friday in Roseburg. He says the people in that vicinity are engaging extensively in prune culture. E. F. Walsh returned Saturday looking as though his sojourn in Salem had been quite agreeable, but says Roseburg is the best place he has found.

Miss LaVina Champagnon, who has been attending the public school here, went out to her home in French settlement Saturday to spend the vacation. Mrs. Abraham and Miss Mollie Abraham returned home Saturday morning. They had been in Portland several days attending the annual meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps.

The Misses Mattie Strange, Sackie Donnell Lizzie Cooper and Jennie Duncan gave THE REVIEW a pleasant call one evening last week while here passing examination for teachers' certificates.

Business on Hubbard creek is beginning to resume quite a lively appearance, all the mills on the creek will be running on full time on and after March 4th. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Stephens of Calapooia, paid Millwood a visit last week, they were the guests of W. B. Clarke and family. Come again George as we are always pleased to see you and family.

Mr. W. K. Caldwell, or general stage driver has been quite feeble for the last few weeks, but we understand that he will be able to resume his old position next Monday. Your old friends will be pleased to see you on the road again W. K.

Mr. G. Shambrook is preparing to build a large barn at Umpqua Ferry this spring. Mr. S. is probably the largest farmer in the county and I will venture to say that there is not a farmer in Southern Oregon that can boast of as many miles of good fence as can be seen on Mr. Shambrook's farm.

We were greatly in hopes that the legislature would give us a good game law and authorize the different counties to give a bounty on deer scalps, but they failed, now what are the poor settlers to do? Our local hunters succeed in killing from twenty to thirty per week, but still the deer come. If something is not done to protect the frontiersman he will have to move on or starve as he cannot live on venison alone.

Mr. Cyrus Smith, of Green's station, paid Millwood a friendly visit last week. Mr. S. is a genial talker but he does not like the way the county board builds bridges and lets contracts for keeping the county poor. Mr. S. thinks Judge Fitzhugh only made about $5000 out of those contracts. Now if the people do not stop cutting the Judge down on this contract business, it won't be six months before it will be reported that he gave Messrs Booth and Bartell $1000 out of his own funds to get them to keep the poor and build the Winches bridge. Such things should be stopped at once as it is well known that our County Judge is a poor man and a few more contracts will ruin him financially.

Important Decision. An important ruling has been made by the commissioners of state school lands—the Governor, Secretary and Treasurer of State. E. A. Swope, of Portland, and Frank B. Poor, whose home is said to be in California, were after the same piece of land in the Warner lake country, Lake county. Swope filed his application first and swore to it before Napoleon Davis, clerk of the board of commissioners. Mr. Poor came in afterwards and contended that Swope's application was irregular, because the law did not authorize the clerk to administer oaths in such cases. The board has had the case under advisement several weeks and recently decided that the clerk had such authority and that Mr. Swope's application was regular. The piece of land in question gives entrance to an immense tract of grazing lands which some cattle kings of that country thought they had completely surrounded. By the way, all the maps of Oregon extant are incorrect in their showing of Grant and Lake counties. According to the code of Oregon takes in a strip about 30 miles wide by 50 miles long that is outlined on the map as in Grant, and it is in this strip the Warner lake country is located.—Benton Leader.

NOTICE.—The quarterly meeting of the United Brethren Church will be held at the Pine Grove Church on Deer Creek the second Saturday and Sunday of March. I will also hold Divine Service at Looking Glass on the third Sunday at the usual hour. E. M. Marsters, Pastor.

A COMPLAINT.

Wherefore O! REVIEW do you seek occasion to trouble the souls of those of your readers who live afar, with your meteorological reports and your weather items? Is it not enough that we know our present state of suffering without being continually reminded of what it might have been, by having such items as these put before our eyes twice a week? Lowest temperature 22°, highest temperature 58°, number of clear days 7, number of fair days 17. Farmers all busy, seeing good blooming and birds singing, etc. This is nothing less than downright cruelty, and shows an amount of depravity surpassing your usual defense of the poor farm contract. (See files of the Herald.) It is also needless, as most of your home subscribers probably know what the weather is without being told, and those who do not cannot be supposed to have much interest in it. Also we would remind you that there is a hereafter, and in that day we, the neighbors of zero and the blizzard, will remember with compassion those who have laid up no treasures of coolness against the burning heat of dog days, when the mercury goes up to 95° and sighs because the tub is so short. We have packed away solid comfort by the hundred thousand tons, yea in millions of tons, and in summer when the leaves wither, and the birds lay aside their feathers, and the cyclone faints for lack of breath, and our footsteps are traced in spasms of sweat then will we revel in draughts of ice water and make glad the hearts of our matrons and maidens with bounteous plates of ice cream, iced strawberries and cream, iced watermelon, yea even bananas on ice. What then will be the state and condition of the creature that boasts himself of his mild climate? Nevertheless this present distress is hard to bear and our hearts torn to the far west with longing, yea in the visions of the night we see the green banks of the Umpqua, the sheltered nooks of the Calapooia, and the sunny vales of Myrtle Creek, and our ears hear the shouting of the waters and the rushing of the winds through the fir trees, and our hearts are sad and weary "for this place is not our rest." The winter which up to Feb. 10th was so mild and pleasant that we were threatened with the prospect of empty ice houses in many parts of the east, has asserted itself at last, and zero weather with howling northwesterly gales are our daily companions. It is much harder to bear such weather now at the end of a mild winter than if it had come upon us in due season. The cold comes too late to help the dealers in woolen goods and overcoats, as people will not buy so near spring and it will not do much for coal and wood dealers unless it lasts all through March which may Heaven forbid. B. L. HEW. Delaqua, Iowa, Feb. 24, 1889.

Genial Items. Glendale, Or. Feb. 27, 1889. Mr. Barr and family have removed to Drain. A little rain after many bright and perfect days.

Mrs. J. P. Jones has been visiting friends and relatives at Grants Pass. The Cow creek target shooters attended the grand shooting match at Canyonville the 22d, and came away with less money, though more experience. However T. A. Ireland managed to get third choice.

Mr. Wright Allen, of Smith river, Cal., who is sojourning on Cow creek for the benefit of his health, thinks of locating here permanently as his health is somewhat improved by his short stay in our glorious climate.

Messrs J. R. and S. H. Redfield and J. R. Wilson have received a great many letters from all over the United States as well as Canada and Europe, inquiring about their new patent on mower, which no doubt is destined to be the leading machine.

SENATOR SLATOR ILL.—Woodson T. Slator, assistant treasurer of state, received a dispatch yesterday morning from LaGrande, urging his immediate presence at the bedside of his father, ex-Senator and Railroad Commissioner Jas. H. Slator, who is seriously ill at his home in that city. Woodson took the first train in answer to the message. Those best acquainted with Mr. Slator and who met him intimately while in the city during the session of the legislature, say that he has not been feeling well for some time, and that the worry and annoyance incident to what he considered unjust and uncalled for treatment at the hands of Governor Penney, had much to do with bringing him down physically. The old gentleman felt his removal from the commission keenly and took it to heart as a personal reflection which he did not deserve from the governor, and it grieved him very much. His illness is dangerous and may result fatally.

AN EARLY START.—It is a rare thing in 45 degrees north latitude to see peach and pear trees beginning to bloom at the beginning of March, but such is the case in the Willamette valley this year. The fact causes some uneasiness among fruit growers, lest a March frost should come along and kill the buds; but upon hearing this fear expressed yesterday, a practical Salem man made the truthful remark that the valley could afford to have half its fruit killed and then have the best crop in the world—in fact more of a crop than the average fruit grower here takes pains or labor enough to save decently.

A RARE RELIC.—Col. Kelsay showed us the other day a continental bill of the United States of the denomination of one dollar, says the Benton Leader. It has the imprint of the printers who printed it. It was issued in 1779. It has on it the motto in Latin, "aut death or decora vita," which means "either death or an honorable life." The colonel thought he had lost the bill, as it had been mislaid among some papers. It is worth more than the dollar which it calls for. One almost wishes it could talk. What a story it could tell of the dark days when it circulated among the fathers of the republic.

ACQUITTED.—John D. Wilcox, late proprietor of the Portland News, who has been on trial for attempting to extort money from Mrs. Dr. Murray, was acquitted Friday night after less than an hour's deliberation by the jury. The case created a great deal of interest and comment in Portland and throughout the state at the time of the exposure, but it seems there was not so much to it as at first supposed. The defense offered no witnesses, depending entirely upon the cross-examination of the state witnesses.

IMPROVEMENTS IN ROSEBURG.

Roseburg's proposed woolen mill is rapidly assuming tangible proportions. The mill race has been completed and the mill erected. All that is necessary now is to place the machinery in position, three car loads of which have already arrived. By the time the spring clip of wool is ready for the market, the mill is in good running condition and this important industry will be in operation, the beneficial effects of which will be felt throughout the entire Umpqua Valley. Other improvements in the city are progressing with equal satisfactory speed. Arrangements are being made for the erection of several brick business blocks and for the construction of a much needed system of water works. Recently the Baptist society completed the largest and finest church edifice in Southern Oregon. One of the evidences of growth is the fact that THE REVIEW has changed from a weekly to a semi-weekly paper, with promise of becoming a daily as soon as the conditions become more favorable. An upward tendency in all classes of real estate is observable, and is the necessary consequence of the growth and prosperity of the town.—West Shore.

He has been for several years a minister in the "regular" Baptist church and leaves a devoted wife, four sons, three daughters and a host of friends to mourn his death.

CHAMPAIGN.—At his residence in French settlement March 2, 1889, Joseph Champagne of heart disease. Mr. Champagne had been afflicted with heart trouble for several years and on retiring on Friday evening seemed about as well as usual. He arose about 2 o'clock Saturday morning and laid down on a lounge in front of the fire place. As he frequently did this when not feeling quite well, the family took no particular notice of it, but on their arising in the morning he was found to be dead and to all appearances had passed away without a struggle.
