A dispatch from Independence, ed last Thursday, to the Statesman says: C. C. Doughty, of the Observer, was last night robbed of his mare, which he had ridden to this city. He tied her on a side street, transacted his business, and an hour later looked for his horse, but no trace of it could be found. The country-has been scoured day to-day, but no trace of the horse or thief can be found.

Albany's first street car accident ocurred last Saturday Mrs. Marion Propet, who lives near that city, was riding in a street car when the horse became frightened and tried to break away. This excited the woman, who threw her child from the car and leaped into the street. Her leg was broken, and other injuries were sustained. She will probably recover. The child was also tadly hurt.

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's arsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their's would last longer; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I knew what Hood's Sarsaparilla was. I had taken it, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other.

When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable, suffering a great deal with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly stand. I looked, and had for some time, like a person in consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me so much good that I wonder at myself sometimes, and my friends frequently speak of it." Miss. ELLA A.
