Do be a Gentleman

No matter what sterlin worth a young manners and attentions which distinguish the well bred young man from the boor, he will bot succeed. Good manners are a passport everywhere and young men who wish to succeed will pay the utmost attention to them. Especial care should be bestowed upon table etiquette. as nothing stamps a man so much as his manner when eating and nothing so distressing to a person of refinement as to est at the same table with an ill bred person. The following hints, if carefully observed and practiced, will enable any young man to mingle with his fellows without giving offense. And take heed young man, all of these things are of more importance to the girls than all your rough good qualities.

Do not drink with your spoon in your cup; place it in your saucer. Nothing is more vulgar than this.

Do not drink your soup or coffee audi-bly. In fact, especial care should be observed in cating silently, for nothing is more disgusting than noisy chewing and drinking, except eating with the mouth

Open.

Do not under any circumstances, use the fingers to put food on your fork or Do not lean your arms on the table,

Do hot lean your arms on the table.

Do keep your elbows close to your side and don't flourish them in the air. In raising food to your lips the lower part of the arm only must be used.

Do be careful as to the way you hold your knife and fork, for nothing will give you a more awkward appearance than improper handling of these important ar ticles. The knile should be held by the handle only. Do not touch the blade with your bager. The fork should not be held with the whole hand only when cutting. In raising the food to the lips hold the fork at the end of the handle, prongs upwards between the first finger and thumb, the handle resting on the second finger. If you hold it otherwise you are obliged to duck your head and stick out your elbows in order to eat. Never walk out of a room before a lady. Open the door, then stand saide and let ner precede you. In this way you follow ner out and close the door for her costly Nothing is more rude or ill bred than a violation of this rule. Do take off your hat the instant you come into the house. Do pay attention to the foregoing rule and believe that good manners are im-

Then he clasped her with emotion,
Drow the maiden to his breast,
Whispered vows of true devotion,
The old, old tale,—you know the rest.
From his circled arms upspringing,
With a tear she turned awny,
And her voice with sorrow ringing,
"I shall not see my bridal day."

"I shall not see my bridal day."

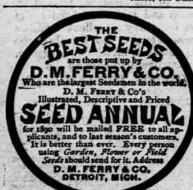

This dramatic speech broke him up badly; but when she explained that her apprehensions were founded on the fact of an inhersited predisposition to consumption in her family, he calmed her fears, bought a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for her, and she is now the incarnation of health. Consumption fastens its hold upon its victims while they are unconacious of its approach. The "Golden Medical Discovery" has cured thousands of cases of this most fatal of maladics. But it must be taken before the discass is too far advanced in order to be effective. If taken in time, and given a fair tipl, it will cure, or money paid for it will be refunded.

For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shoriness of Breath, Bronchitis, Asthmia, Sewere Coughs, and kindred affections, it is an efficient remedy.

THE FORUM has won the highest place reached by any periodical; for it publishes articles by more authoritative writers and by more workers along instructive lines of activity than any other publication. It contains eleven studies of great subjects every month. It is impartial, giving hearings alike to each side. It is financially independent, and it belongs to no sect or party or "interest." It is never sensational, but it aims always to be instructive.

THE FORUM continues to hold its place as the foremost of our magazines, for the variety, the value, and the weight of its contributions.—THE NEW YORK TIMES. There has come forward no problem of grave importance since THE FORUM was established that has not been discussed in its pages by masters of the subject. Announcements of forthcoming articles can seldom be made long in advance, for THE FORUM's discussions are always of problems of present concern. Every such problem that the year 1890 will bring forward will be discussed, whether in politics, or religion, or social science, or practical affairs. The January number will contain a reply by ex-Speaker J. G. Carlisle to Senator Cullom's recent article on "How the Tariff Affects the Farmer."
