

FIRE! FIRE! FIRE!

GRAND CLOSING OUT SALE!

$1,000,000 Worth of Dry Goods Clothing, Boots and Shoes, Hats and Caps,

GENTS' FURNISHINGS.

In Order to Effect a Speedy Clearance, the Entire Stock will be Sold Regardless of Cost. The Balance of Ladies', Misses' and Childrens' Cloaks and Wraps will be Sold at Half Price.

$3,000,000 WORTH OF MEN'S BOOTS AT HALF PRICE.

Every Other Department Marked Away Down Below Cost. As this is the Greatest Opportunity Ever Offered to the Purchasing Public, Their Earliest Attention is requested, as the Goods ARE BEING SOLD VERY RAPIDLY.

W. H. Moody & Co., - Vogt Grand Block, - The Dalles, Oregon.

Times Mountaineer.
SATURDAY, MARCH 22, 1890.
Railway Time Table, Union Pacific.

ITEMS IN BRIEF.

The river is rising slowly. The beach is crowded with wood and lumber. Dr. E. J. Thomas, of Hood River, was in the city Monday. Mr. T. M. Baldwin is very sick in his residence in this city. Capt. H. C. Coe, of Hood River, paid The Dalles a visit last Monday. The west-bound trains are not on time these days, and may be expected any hour. Board of trade meeting last night. Proceedings will be found elsewhere in this issue. The lambing season has begun with sheepmen, and they are very busy attending to their flocks. Mr. J. C. Martin, of Prince Edward Island, is in the city. He is the guest of Mr. Joseph MacEachern. Rain in copious quantities fell yesterday; but today is one of springlike brightness and geniality. The time has come for spring sports, and we expect to see small boys beginning to inaugurate outdoor amusements. Mr. J. C. Brogan, of Antelope, who has spent the winter in the city, will leave for his ranch on the first stage. Mr. W. Cram, of the firm of Cram & Corson, left this morning for Spokane Falls, to be absent two or three days. Spring flowers are beginning to bloom, but spring flowers are very scarce, and it is high time our people were waking up. Mr. H. H. Draper returned to his home in the Dalles Sunday night on a 2 o'clock train, very sick. Having had the grippe and took a relapse. The Hod and Gun club of this city gave a shooting match this afternoon at the air grounds, which was attended by many of our citizens. The east-bound train had not arrived up to the hour of going to press. It is delayed by a box car of freight No. 23 being ditched between Wyeth and Viento. By a dispatch received today from a friend in attendance at the meeting of the Democratic Central Committee at Salem, we learn the state convention will be held in Portland April 12th and 13th. As soon as the D. S. Baker is thoroughly repaired, he will be placed in the trade between this city and the Cascades, and the Harvest Queen will take the place of Cascades to run on the lower river as soon as the water will permit. The John Gates will take her place in the trade as soon as the river is sufficiently high. Two families of geysers are camped on the side of the road leading to the wharves, near the company's shops. They are journeying farther east, and are waiting for the roads to dry. During their rest the women manage the table, and a few dollars relating fine-spun theories of a brilliant future to credulous individuals. Mr. W. Journal: A very different operation, was performed at St. Mary's hospital Sunday at 11 o'clock by Drs. N. O. and Y. C. Blaine and Dr. Shaw. The well known hand doctor, Prof. Myrtle, was operated upon for the removal of a stone which had collected in the bladder. Six wires removed, five being as large as common sized walnuts. The patient is doing well, and will no doubt recover. Friarville News: Another exhibition of the liberality and whole-souled generosity of the people of Prineville was given at Union church last evening. A simple social, with an ice cream accompaniment, was patronized to the extent of nearly $50. If that isn't worth bragging about these hard times, then we have boasted out of season. It would remunerate any one who admits the single in aid to visit the office of Mr. H. B. Reed, the fence dealer in this city. On every imaginable picture, which accompanies every package of cigarettes, Mr. Reed puts the artistic touch, and in a few moments puts one of his fences in the heart of the scene. For pure original conception, Mr. Reed is an artist equal to any with whom we are acquainted. W. W. Journal: The residence of John Doyle was burglarized on Saturday. Entrance was made through a pantry window. Mr. Doyle's trousers were taken from the sleeping room, carried outside, and the money removed from the pockets, the keys and other things being left. So far as known, the entire loss is $15 in money, part of which was taken from the clock shelf, and two pipes. The honest losers in sheep in this county will be in the Dalles, where the crook crew of these Rogers Bros. have lost about 5000 out of 7000. There has been a large amount of sheep taken from the crook crew, and the weather conditions, cattle were not prepared. This place has usually been a stockman's paradise, and the luxuriant growth of alfalfa hay has heretofore furnished abundant feed. The past season was an exception, and all flockowners could not put up the usual amount of feed. There is another unfortunate locality, and principally in cattle and horses. The loss: A peculiar state of freight charges results in damage to W. H. Moody & Co. and the freight on wheat from Dalles to Puget Sound is $4.70 a ton, and from Spokane to the same point it is $6 a ton. As a result wheat is cheaper at Spokane Falls than at Walls, Walla. But in our comparison to intermediate points we find a discrimination against Walls, Walla. The charge on wheat from Walls, Walla to Ellenburgh is the same as it is to Puget Sound, while the charge from Spokane Falls to Ellenburgh is five cents a hundred or a dollar a ton less than it is from Walls, Walla. The result is that the charge on wheat at Spokane Falls and Falls and take it home cheaper than they can at Walls, Walla.

Those of our readers who are fond of tracing out the lines and links of relationship tell how this is: A family in Henry county, Georgia, consists of three more, three sons, two grandmothers, one daughter-in-law, one husband, one grand-daughter-in-law, two brothers, one daughter, two grandsons, one wife, two widows, one grandmother-in-law and one in the town of Elkins, West Virginia.

On Sunday night a coal miner named James New, an carpenter by name, was on a drunk together, and, going to a saloon kept by Mrs. W. W. they drank the woman out of doors and went to the place they quarreled and concluded to fight a duel. They had but one revolver and took several shots at each other. They agreed on fifteen feet, nearly the length of the room, as the distance, and Archer got the first shot. His bullet plowed a groove in New's scalp. He gave up the pistol to New, who fired at Archer and missed. Archer then took a second shot and missed, and handed the weapon over to New. This time New took better aim and shot Archer through the hand. Before any more shots were fired outsiders took the revolver away, then all took a drink and called it a draw.

Chevy Enterprise: Soft weather has at last been the cause of the meeting of the "beautiful" is fast disappearing to the great relief of the anxious ranchers. It is now in any winter since 1861. The losses of the harvest season were not so great as they were in January and February, 1890, than in any winter since 1861. The losses of the harvest season were not so great as they were in January and February, 1890, than in any winter since 1861.

Mr. J. C. Brogan, of Antelope, who has spent the winter in the city, will leave for his ranch on the first stage. Mr. W. Cram, of the firm of Cram & Corson, left this morning for Spokane Falls, to be absent two or three days. Spring flowers are beginning to bloom, but spring flowers are very scarce, and it is high time our people were waking up.

Mr. H. H. Draper returned to his home in the Dalles Sunday night on a 2 o'clock train, very sick. Having had the grippe and took a relapse. The Hod and Gun club of this city gave a shooting match this afternoon at the air grounds, which was attended by many of our citizens. The east-bound train had not arrived up to the hour of going to press. It is delayed by a box car of freight No. 23 being ditched between Wyeth and Viento.

By a dispatch received today from a friend in attendance at the meeting of the Democratic Central Committee at Salem, we learn the state convention will be held in Portland April 12th and 13th. As soon as the D. S. Baker is thoroughly repaired, he will be placed in the trade between this city and the Cascades, and the Harvest Queen will take the place of Cascades to run on the lower river as soon as the water will permit.

The John Gates will take her place in the trade as soon as the river is sufficiently high. Two families of geysers are camped on the side of the road leading to the wharves, near the company's shops. They are journeying farther east, and are waiting for the roads to dry. During their rest the women manage the table, and a few dollars relating fine-spun theories of a brilliant future to credulous individuals.

Mr. W. Journal: A very different operation, was performed at St. Mary's hospital Sunday at 11 o'clock by Drs. N. O. and Y. C. Blaine and Dr. Shaw. The well known hand doctor, Prof. Myrtle, was operated upon for the removal of a stone which had collected in the bladder. Six wires removed, five being as large as common sized walnuts. The patient is doing well, and will no doubt recover.

Friarville News: Another exhibition of the liberality and whole-souled generosity of the people of Prineville was given at Union church last evening. A simple social, with an ice cream accompaniment, was patronized to the extent of nearly $50. If that isn't worth bragging about these hard times, then we have boasted out of season.

It would remunerate any one who admits the single in aid to visit the office of Mr. H. B. Reed, the fence dealer in this city. On every imaginable picture, which accompanies every package of cigarettes, Mr. Reed puts the artistic touch, and in a few moments puts one of his fences in the heart of the scene.

For pure original conception, Mr. Reed is an artist equal to any with whom we are acquainted. W. W. Journal: The residence of John Doyle was burglarized on Saturday. Entrance was made through a pantry window. Mr. Doyle's trousers were taken from the sleeping room, carried outside, and the money removed from the pockets, the keys and other things being left.

So far as known, the entire loss is $15 in money, part of which was taken from the clock shelf, and two pipes. The honest losers in sheep in this county will be in the Dalles, where the crook crew of these Rogers Bros. have lost about 5000 out of 7000.

There has been a large amount of sheep taken from the crook crew, and the weather conditions, cattle were not prepared. This place has usually been a stockman's paradise, and the luxuriant growth of alfalfa hay has heretofore furnished abundant feed. The past season was an exception, and all flockowners could not put up the usual amount of feed.

There is another unfortunate locality, and principally in cattle and horses. The loss: A peculiar state of freight charges results in damage to W. H. Moody & Co. and the freight on wheat from Dalles to Puget Sound is $4.70 a ton, and from Spokane to the same point it is $6 a ton. As a result wheat is cheaper at Spokane Falls than at Walls, Walla. But in our comparison to intermediate points we find a discrimination against Walls, Walla. The charge on wheat from Walls, Walla to Ellenburgh is the same as it is to Puget Sound, while the charge from Spokane Falls to Ellenburgh is five cents a hundred or a dollar a ton less than it is from Walls, Walla.

Those of our readers who are fond of tracing out the lines and links of relationship tell how this is: A family in Henry county, Georgia, consists of three more, three sons, two grandmothers, one daughter-in-law, one husband, one grand-daughter-in-law, two brothers, one daughter, two grandsons, one wife, two widows, one grandmother-in-law and one in the town of Elkins, West Virginia.

On Sunday night a coal miner named James New, an carpenter by name, was on a drunk together, and, going to a saloon kept by Mrs. W. W. they drank the woman out of doors and went to the place they quarreled and concluded to fight a duel. They had but one revolver and took several shots at each other.

They agreed on fifteen feet, nearly the length of the room, as the distance, and Archer got the first shot. His bullet plowed a groove in New's scalp. He gave up the pistol to New, who fired at Archer and missed.

Archer then took a second shot and missed, and handed the weapon over to New. This time New took better aim and shot Archer through the hand. Before any more shots were fired outsiders took the revolver away, then all took a drink and called it a draw.

Chevy Enterprise: Soft weather has at last been the cause of the meeting of the "beautiful" is fast disappearing to the great relief of the anxious ranchers. It is now in any winter since 1861.

The losses of the harvest season were not so great as they were in January and February, 1890, than in any winter since 1861. The losses of the harvest season were not so great as they were in January and February, 1890, than in any winter since 1861.

Mr. J. C. Brogan, of Antelope, who has spent the winter in the city, will leave for his ranch on the first stage. Mr. W. Cram, of the firm of Cram & Corson, left this morning for Spokane Falls, to be absent two or three days.

Spring flowers are beginning to bloom, but spring flowers are very scarce, and it is high time our people were waking up. Mr. H. H. Draper returned to his home in the Dalles Sunday night on a 2 o'clock train, very sick.

Having had the grippe and took a relapse. The Hod and Gun club of this city gave a shooting match this afternoon at the air grounds, which was attended by many of our citizens.

The east-bound train had not arrived up to the hour of going to press. It is delayed by a box car of freight No. 23 being ditched between Wyeth and Viento. By a dispatch received today from a friend in attendance at the meeting of the Democratic Central Committee at Salem, we learn the state convention will be held in Portland April 12th and 13th.

As soon as the D. S. Baker is thoroughly repaired, he will be placed in the trade between this city and the Cascades, and the Harvest Queen will take the place of Cascades to run on the lower river as soon as the water will permit.

The John Gates will take her place in the trade as soon as the river is sufficiently high. Two families of geysers are camped on the side of the road leading to the wharves, near the company's shops. They are journeying farther east, and are waiting for the roads to dry.

During their rest the women manage the table, and a few dollars relating fine-spun theories of a brilliant future to credulous individuals. Mr. W. Journal: A very different operation, was performed at St. Mary's hospital Sunday at 11 o'clock by Drs. N. O. and Y. C. Blaine and Dr. Shaw.

The well known hand doctor, Prof. Myrtle, was operated upon for the removal of a stone which had collected in the bladder. Six wires removed, five being as large as common sized walnuts. The patient is doing well, and will no doubt recover. Friarville News: Another exhibition of the liberality and whole-souled generosity of the people of Prineville was given at Union church last evening.

AROUND THE COUNTRY.

Items From Special Correspondents in the Country.
MORO, March 10, 1890.
Mr. Young, one of the stage proprietors, passed through this place on route to the south end of the river, and as the result we noticed a load of hay going that way today, which denotes the scarcity of feed in this county. Sherman county jurors returned from the hub and report no court. That is the kind of a county to live in where criminal courts are not needed.

C. R. Rollins, of the firm of Moro & Rollins, passing through here en route to Bays, we understand the grade is very muddy in places, but if the weather holds long it will soon be dry again. W. B. Farmer's Union Party. The following are the resolutions constituting the platform of the new third party, and which were unanimously adopted at the political meeting held yesterday at Eight Mile. We, the undersigned committee, pursuant to the authority given us at the Citizens' Meeting, held at the Eight Mile school house, March 6, 1890, instructing us to draft resolutions, etc., beg leave to submit the following:

Resolved, That we are opposed to any system of finance which necessarily perpetuates the public debt. That we favor a national monetary system in the interest of the producer, and that there be free coinage of silver equally with gold. Resolved, That we oppose land monopoly in any form, and that we demand the forfeiture of all unoccupied lands.

Resolved, That the unequal taxes now levied upon lands, though generally the least productive of the soil, be equalized. Resolved, That we favor a reduction of the tariff laws in such a manner as to enable producers to receive a just and reasonable compensation for their labor. Resolved, That we favor a constitutional amendment making United States senators elective by a direct vote of the people.

Resolved, That we favor a revision of the tariff laws in such a manner as to enable producers to receive a just and reasonable compensation for their labor. Resolved, That we favor a constitutional amendment making United States senators elective by a direct vote of the people.

Resolved, That we favor a revision of the tariff laws in such a manner as to enable producers to receive a just and reasonable compensation for their labor. Resolved, That we favor a constitutional amendment making United States senators elective by a direct vote of the people.

Resolved, That we favor a revision of the tariff laws in such a manner as to enable producers to receive a just and reasonable compensation for their labor. Resolved, That we favor a constitutional amendment making United States senators elective by a direct vote of the people.

Resolved, That we favor a revision of the tariff laws in such a manner as to enable producers to receive a just and reasonable compensation for their labor. Resolved, That we favor a constitutional amendment making United States senators elective by a direct vote of the people.

Resolved, That we favor a revision of the tariff laws in such a manner as to enable producers to receive a just and reasonable compensation for their labor. Resolved, That we favor a constitutional amendment making United States senators elective by a direct vote of the people.

Resolved, That we favor a revision of the tariff laws in such a manner as to enable producers to receive a just and reasonable compensation for their labor. Resolved, That we favor a constitutional amendment making United States senators elective by a direct vote of the people.

Resolved, That we favor a revision of the tariff laws in such a manner as to enable producers to receive a just and reasonable compensation for their labor. Resolved, That we favor a constitutional amendment making United States senators elective by a direct vote of the people.

Resolved, That we favor a revision of the tariff laws in such a manner as to enable producers to receive a just and reasonable compensation for their labor. Resolved, That we favor a constitutional amendment making United States senators elective by a direct vote of the people.

Resolved, That we favor a revision of the tariff laws in such a manner as to enable producers to receive a just and reasonable compensation for their labor. Resolved, That we favor a constitutional amendment making United States senators elective by a direct vote of the people.

Resolved, That we favor a revision of the tariff laws in such a manner as to enable producers to receive a just and reasonable compensation for their labor. Resolved, That we favor a constitutional amendment making United States senators elective by a direct vote of the people.

Resolved, That we favor a revision of the tariff laws in such a manner as to enable producers to receive a just and reasonable compensation for their labor. Resolved, That we favor a constitutional amendment making United States senators elective by a direct vote of the people.

GILLIAM COUNTY.

Loss of Stock - Farming Item - Grange Meeting.
FOSSIL, March 14, 1890.
The loss of stock in this county is much greater than any one supposed it was a few weeks ago. The loss in sheep will probably reach 40 or 50 per cent, and the loss of cattle on the range will be fully as great, while the loss of horses will reach 10 or 15 per cent. The loss of sheep in the West Fork and Deep Creek ranges is as follows: T. T. Coole 500 head, loss 500; Ed Chumblings 1100 head, loss 500; Patterson & Ready 1100, loss 50; George Harvey's band 2100 are all dead but 7 or 8 head, making in all a total loss of 2850 out of 4900.

The county seat question will be the main issue in the coming campaign, and the Oregonians for the insertion of an advertisement (or places that should be called) are candidates for that honor. There are a few in this end of the county that will vote for Arlington with the expectation of locating the county seat at Arlington, and then dividing the county in such a way that Fossil would win the county seat honor without a grunt or a struggle. It is believed here by some that Arlington will try to buy votes in this end of the county by promising to assist us in dividing the county. Every honest voter of Gilliam county should remember these three words: Be not deceived.

The deputy sheriff of this county seems to be doing about one-fourth of the assessing. It looks as though the assessor has failed to do his duty. The farmers are plowing. Crops will be much later than usual, and should there be no June rain spring crops will be as short as they were last year. It is thought by some that, owing to the drought last summer and the severe winter, there are in Morrow, Gilliam and Sherman counties a few families left destitute.

The Gilliam County Grange Council and Grange Convention will meet at Mayville, today. The Grange convention is not a political affair, as some seem to think. It delegates to attend the Oregon State Grange to be held at Salem next June. The Grangers of Gilliam will take part in politics any farther than to vote for the man and not the party. H. The Third Party. DEMOCRATIC CLUB, March 14, 1890. I am for a third party, openly and above board, for it, and not ashamed to say so. I am for turning the reins out, and setting out a new course, and I believe that the Democratic ticket, I have fought for the Democratic party, but for the Democratic party, and I am ready to do so again, especially the whisky-but it's no use. The Republicans have got the cluck on us, and unless some desperate effort is made they'll keep it there. Hence, I am for a third party. Not that I wish the third party to succeed themselves. Not by any means. That's not my lay-out. Who but a born fool would dream of success, with such a heterogeneous condition as a disgruntled politician of all sorts, single-tax fanatics, women-suffrage crusaders, prohibition implacables, Bellamy visionaries, and anti-clericalists, formerly designated free-traders. Such elements do not possess the cohesive force necessary to success. It cannot, therefore, that the grand old Democratic party, for while I will cry the loudest for the third party during the coming campaign, when election day comes I intend to vote the old ticket, as I take my whisky straight.

John Jasper, a Virginia colored preacher, once had a dream. In relating it he said, "I dreamed I went to heaven and knocked at the door, and St. Peter said, 'Who's dar?' Says I, 'John Jasper.' Says he, 'Ye'r mounted?' Says I, 'No.' Den he 'lows 'Ye'r com' in here 'es ye'r mounted.' I just thought how we can both get in. You get down on all fours and I'll ride ye'r right in." So I got down and the general a-straddle, and finally lay her lying in the creek in the shallow water. Of course it is difficult to get up, and I'm afraid that the Indians always being sharp enough not to execute such decrees in very public places where white men are apt to see them, and it is very seldom that an Indian will inform upon them. While it is apparent to most people that the degree of the guilt of the murderer is less than if the deed had been done by persons who were not influenced by superstition, the government is derelict in permitting them to roam around upon the country as they please. We believe there has been no arrest made.

She Paid the Penalty. Goldendale Sentinel. Again the inalienable prerogative accorded to the opinion and ancient customs of the aborigines, of murdering their unsuccessful medicine men whenever they fall to restore to health a diseased patient, has been exercised on Rock Creek about eighteen miles east of Goldendale. This time, however, the victim was a poor old klotchman, and the manner in which he was executed was horrible indeed. A rope was placed around her neck and a "brave" mounted his horse, and taking a turn around the horn of his saddle, struck out at a break-neck speed over the frozen ground, snow and rocks, and finally lay her lying in the creek in the shallow water. Of course it is difficult to get up, and I'm afraid that the Indians always being sharp enough not to execute such decrees in very public places where white men are apt to see them, and it is very seldom that an Indian will inform upon them. While it is apparent to most people that the degree of the guilt of the murderer is less than if the deed had been done by persons who were not influenced by superstition, the government is derelict in permitting them to roam around upon the country as they please. We believe there has been no arrest made.

She Paid the Penalty. Goldendale Sentinel. Again the inalienable prerogative accorded to the opinion and ancient customs of the aborigines, of murdering their unsuccessful medicine men whenever they fall to restore to health a diseased patient, has been exercised on Rock Creek about eighteen miles east of Goldendale. This time, however, the victim was a poor old klotchman, and the manner in which he was executed was horrible indeed. A rope was placed around her neck and a "brave" mounted his horse, and taking a turn around the horn of his saddle, struck out at a break-neck speed over the frozen ground, snow and rocks, and finally lay her lying in the creek in the shallow water. Of course it is difficult to get up, and I'm afraid that the Indians always being sharp enough not to execute such decrees in very public places where white men are apt to see them, and it is very seldom that an Indian will inform upon them. While it is apparent to most people that the degree of the guilt of the murderer is less than if the deed had been done by persons who were not influenced by superstition, the government is derelict in permitting them to roam around upon the country as they please. We believe there has been no arrest made.

She Paid the Penalty. Goldendale Sentinel. Again the inalienable prerogative accorded to the opinion and ancient customs of the aborigines, of murdering their unsuccessful medicine men whenever they fall to restore to health a diseased patient, has been exercised on Rock Creek about eighteen miles east of Goldendale. This time, however, the victim was a poor old klotchman, and the manner in which he was executed was horrible indeed. A rope was placed around her neck and a "brave" mounted his horse, and taking a turn around the horn of his saddle, struck out at a break-neck speed over the frozen ground, snow and rocks, and finally lay her lying in the creek in the shallow water. Of course it is difficult to get up, and I'm afraid that the Indians always being sharp enough not to execute such decrees in very public places where white men are apt to see them, and it is very seldom that an Indian will inform upon them. While it is apparent to most people that the degree of the guilt of the murderer is less than if the deed had been done by persons who were not influenced by superstition, the government is derelict in permitting them to roam around upon the country as they please. We believe there has been no arrest made.

She Paid the Penalty. Goldendale Sentinel. Again the inalienable prerogative accorded to the opinion and ancient customs of the aborigines, of murdering their unsuccessful medicine men whenever they fall to restore to health a diseased patient, has been exercised on Rock Creek about eighteen miles east of Goldendale. This time, however, the victim was a poor old klotchman, and the manner in which he was executed was horrible indeed. A rope was placed around her neck and a "brave" mounted his horse, and taking a turn around the horn of his saddle, struck out at a break-neck speed over the frozen ground, snow and rocks, and finally lay her lying in the creek in the shallow water. Of course it is difficult to get up, and I'm afraid that the Indians always being sharp enough not to execute such decrees in very public places where white men are apt to see them, and it is very seldom that an Indian will inform upon them. While it is apparent to most people that the degree of the guilt of the murderer is less than if the deed had been done by persons who were not influenced by superstition, the government is derelict in permitting them to roam around upon the country as they please. We believe there has been no arrest made.

She Paid the Penalty. Goldendale Sentinel. Again the inalienable prerogative accorded to the opinion and ancient customs of the aborigines, of murdering their unsuccessful medicine men whenever they fall to restore to health a diseased patient, has been exercised on Rock Creek about eighteen miles east of Goldendale. This time, however, the victim was a poor old klotchman, and the manner in which he was executed was horrible indeed. A rope was placed around her neck and a "brave" mounted his horse, and taking a turn around the horn of his saddle, struck out at a break-neck speed over the frozen ground, snow and rocks, and finally lay her lying in the creek in the shallow water. Of course it is difficult to get up, and I'm afraid that the Indians always being sharp enough not to execute such decrees in very public places where white men are apt to see them, and it is very seldom that an Indian will inform upon them. While it is apparent to most people that the degree of the guilt of the murderer is less than if the deed had been done by persons who were not influenced by superstition, the government is derelict in permitting them to roam around upon the country as they please. We believe there has been no arrest made.

She Paid the Penalty. Goldendale Sentinel. Again the inalienable prerogative accorded to the opinion and ancient customs of the aborigines, of murdering their unsuccessful medicine men whenever they fall to restore to health a diseased patient, has been exercised on Rock Creek about eighteen miles east of Goldendale. This time, however, the victim was a poor old klotchman, and the manner in which he was executed was horrible indeed. A rope was placed around her neck and a "brave" mounted his horse, and taking a turn around the horn of his saddle, struck out at a break-neck speed over the frozen ground, snow and rocks, and finally lay her lying in the creek in the shallow water. Of course it is difficult to get up, and I'm afraid that the Indians always being sharp enough not to execute such decrees in very public places where white men are apt to see them, and it is very seldom that an Indian will inform upon them. While it is apparent to most people that the degree of the guilt of the murderer is less than if the deed had been done by persons who were not influenced by superstition, the government is derelict in permitting them to roam around upon the country as they please. We believe there has been no arrest made.

She Paid the Penalty. Goldendale Sentinel. Again the inalienable prerogative accorded to the opinion and ancient customs of the aborigines, of murdering their unsuccessful medicine men whenever they fall to restore to health a diseased patient, has been exercised on Rock Creek about eighteen miles east of Goldendale. This time, however, the victim was a poor old klotchman, and the manner in which he was executed was horrible indeed. A rope was placed around her neck and a "brave" mounted his horse, and taking a turn around the horn of his saddle, struck out at a break-neck speed over the frozen ground, snow and rocks, and finally lay her lying in the creek in the shallow water. Of course it is difficult to get up, and I'm afraid that the Indians always being sharp enough not to execute such decrees in very public places where white men are apt to see them, and it is very seldom that an Indian will inform upon them. While it is apparent to most people that the degree of the guilt of the murderer is less than if the deed had been done by persons who were not influenced by superstition, the government is derelict in permitting them to roam around upon the country as they please. We believe there has been no arrest made.

She Paid the Penalty. Goldendale Sentinel. Again the inalienable prerogative accorded to the opinion and ancient customs of the aborigines, of murdering their unsuccessful medicine men whenever they fall to restore to health a diseased patient, has been exercised on Rock Creek about eighteen miles east of Goldendale. This time, however, the victim was a poor old klotchman, and the manner in which he was executed was horrible indeed. A rope was placed around her neck and a "brave" mounted his horse, and taking a turn around the horn of his saddle, struck out at a break-neck speed over the frozen ground, snow and rocks, and finally lay her lying in the creek in the shallow water. Of course it is difficult to get up, and I'm afraid that the Indians always being sharp enough not to execute such decrees in very public places where white men are apt to see them, and it is very seldom that an Indian will inform upon them. While it is apparent to most people that the degree of the guilt of the murderer is less than if the deed had been done by persons who were not influenced by superstition, the government is derelict in permitting them to roam around upon the country as they please. We believe there has been no arrest made.

She Paid the Penalty. Goldendale Sentinel. Again the inalienable prerogative accorded to the opinion and ancient customs of the aborigines, of murdering their unsuccessful medicine men whenever they fall to restore to health a diseased patient, has been exercised on Rock Creek about eighteen miles east of Goldendale. This time, however, the victim was a poor old klotchman, and the manner in which he was executed was horrible indeed. A rope was placed around her neck and a "brave" mounted his horse, and taking a turn around the horn of his saddle, struck out at a break-neck speed over the frozen ground, snow and rocks, and finally lay her lying in the creek in the shallow water. Of course it is difficult to get up, and I'm afraid that the Indians always being sharp enough not to execute such decrees in very public places where white men are apt to see them, and it is very seldom that an Indian will inform upon them. While it is apparent to most people that the degree of the guilt of the murderer is less than if the deed had been done by persons who were not influenced by superstition, the government is derelict in permitting them to roam around upon the country as they please. We believe there has been no arrest made.

She Paid the Penalty. Goldendale Sentinel. Again the inalienable prerogative accorded to the opinion and ancient customs of the aborigines, of murdering their unsuccessful medicine men whenever they fall to restore to health a diseased patient, has been exercised on Rock Creek about eighteen miles east of Goldendale. This time, however, the victim was a poor old klotchman, and the manner in which he was executed was horrible indeed. A rope was placed around her neck and a "brave" mounted his horse, and taking a turn around the horn of his saddle, struck out at a break-neck speed over the frozen ground, snow and rocks, and finally lay her lying in the creek in the shallow water. Of course it is difficult to get up, and I'm afraid that the Indians always being sharp enough not to execute such decrees in very public places where white men are apt to see them, and it is very seldom that an Indian will inform upon them. While it is apparent to most people that the degree of the guilt of the murderer is less than if the deed had been done by persons who were not influenced by superstition, the government is derelict in permitting them to roam around upon the country as they please. We believe there has been no arrest made.

WASCO COUNTY.

Items From Special Correspondents in the Country.
MORO, March 10, 1890.
Mr. Young, one of the stage proprietors, passed through this place on route to the south end of the river, and as the result we noticed a load of hay going that way today, which denotes the scarcity of feed in this county. Sherman county jurors returned from the hub and report no court. That is the kind of a county to live in where criminal courts are not needed.

C. R. Rollins, of the firm of Moro & Rollins, passing through here en route to Bays, we understand the grade is very muddy in places, but if the weather holds long it will soon be dry again. W. B. Farmer's Union Party. The following are the resolutions constituting the platform of the new third party, and which were unanimously adopted at the political meeting held yesterday at Eight Mile. We, the undersigned committee, pursuant to the authority given us at the Citizens' Meeting, held at the Eight Mile school house, March 6, 1890, instructing us to draft resolutions, etc., beg leave to submit the following:

Resolved, That we are opposed to any system of finance which necessarily perpetuates the public debt. That we favor a national monetary system in the interest of the producer, and that there be free coinage of silver equally with gold. Resolved, That we oppose land monopoly in any form, and that we demand the forfeiture of all unoccupied lands.

Resolved, That the unequal taxes now levied upon lands, though generally the least productive of the soil, be equalized. Resolved, That we favor a reduction of the tariff laws in such a manner as to enable producers to receive a just and reasonable compensation for their labor. Resolved, That we favor a constitutional amendment making United States senators elective by a direct vote of the people.

Resolved, That we favor a revision of the tariff laws in such a manner as to enable producers to receive a just and reasonable compensation for their labor. Resolved, That we favor a constitutional amendment making United States senators elective by a direct vote of the people.

Resolved, That we favor a revision of the tariff laws in such a manner as to enable producers to receive a just and reasonable compensation for their labor. Resolved, That we favor a constitutional amendment making United States senators elective by a direct vote of the people.

Resolved, That we favor a revision of the tariff laws in such a manner as to enable producers to receive a just and reasonable compensation for their labor. Resolved, That we favor a constitutional amendment making United States senators elective by a direct vote of the people.

Resolved, That we favor a revision of the tariff laws in such a manner as to enable producers to receive a just and reasonable compensation for their labor. Resolved, That we favor a constitutional amendment making United States senators elective by a direct vote of the people.

Resolved, That we favor a revision of the tariff laws in such a manner as to enable producers to receive a just and reasonable compensation for their labor. Resolved, That we favor a constitutional amendment making United States senators elective by a direct vote of the people.

Resolved, That we favor a revision of the tariff laws in such a manner as to enable producers to receive a just and reasonable compensation for their labor. Resolved, That we favor a constitutional amendment making United States senators elective by a direct vote of the people.

Resolved, That we favor a revision of the tariff laws in such a manner as to enable producers to receive a just and reasonable compensation for their labor. Resolved, That we favor a constitutional amendment making United States senators elective by a direct vote of the people.

Resolved, That we favor a revision of the tariff laws in such a manner as to enable producers to receive a just and reasonable compensation for their labor. Resolved, That we favor a constitutional amendment making United States senators elective by a direct vote of the people.

Resolved, That we favor a revision of the tariff laws in such a manner as to enable producers to receive a just and reasonable compensation for their labor. Resolved, That we favor a constitutional amendment making United States senators elective by a direct vote of the people.

Resolved, That we favor a revision of the tariff laws in such a manner as to enable producers to receive a just and reasonable compensation for their labor. Resolved, That we favor a constitutional amendment making United States senators elective by a direct vote of the people.

Resolved, That we favor a revision of the tariff laws in such a manner as to enable producers to receive a just and reasonable compensation for their labor. Resolved, That we favor a constitutional amendment making United States senators elective by a direct vote of the people.

WASCO COUNTY.