WEATHER-CROP BULLETIN NO. 1.

Oregon State Weather Bureau in co-spera tion with U. S. Signal Service, central office, Portland, Oregon. For week ending March 15, 1890: INTRODUCTORY.

With this begins the weekly weather crop bulletin of Oregon for 1890. Arrange ments have been made with prominent farmers, representatives of this service and others, in every county of the state to render weekly reports of the conditions of crops, their progress and prospects, the effects of the weather on them, and, in general, information that will accrue to the Especial attention has been given to the selection of persons to render these reports. n general, these bulletins can be refied upon as being in the main absolutely correct.

weather in the forepart of the week was cool, rain or snow was generally experienced. The temperature rose in latter part of the week, when warmth and sunchine prevailed. The temperature since January 1st is much below the average, while the anow and rainfall are above the Winter wheat is generally reported in good condition. A few sections report previous thawing and freezing weather which had injurious effects, but these reports are confined to a limited area.

The ground is generally too wet for plowing, though in sections plowing is in progress. The snow has generally left, leaving the wheat in good condition, and fair grass for stock. A few flowers are blooming. Fruit and other trees are rapidly approaching the budding season. Some fears are entertained that the fruit trees may have been alightly injured by the cold winter.

On March 15, 1889, flowers, peach, cherry, apple and plam trees were in full bloom in most parts of the state. 1890 is about three weeks later in the opening of spring.

The reason why a woman is afraid of a mouse is a profound mystery—indeed, it has never been very clearly proven that she is. But some women are constantly in such a nervous, irritable condition that the slightest thing amongs and startles them. The cause of this unfortunate state of affairs is usually some functional derangement; some distressing or painful irregularity, some derangement or poculiar weakness incident to her sex; or, it may be due to inflammation, ulceration or displacement, of some of the pelvic vincers, or to other organic lesions peculiar to her sex. From whichever cause it may arise, Dr. Pierco's Favorite Prescription is a positive remedy, so certain in its curative results that its manufacturers sell it, through druggists, under a guarantes of its giving satisfaction in every case, or money paid for it will be promptly rafunded. As a soothing and strengthening nervous excitability, irritability, exhaustion, prostration, hysteria, spasms and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womb. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency. WOMEN AND MICE.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS Anti-Bilions Laxative, or Cathartic, according to size of doss. By Drugrista, 25 cents a vial.

The Forum

A MONTHLY REVIEW OF LIVING SUBJECTS By the Foremost Writers in the World.

HE FORUM has won the highest place reached by any periodical; for it publishes articles by more authoritative writers and by more workers along instructive lines of activity than any other publication. It contains eleven studies of great subjects every month. It is impartial, giving hearings alike to each side. It is financially independent, and it belongs to no sect or party or "interest," It is never sensational, but it aims always to be instructive.

The Forum is of great value to that part of my college work which deals with practical politics and reent questions. Two sets are hardly enough for daily use by students.—Prof. ALFRED BUSHMELI I consider THE FORUM as furnishing the most intelligent and sympathetic audience that a thoug triter can find to address in any land.—Prof. ALEXANDER WINCHELL, of the University of Michigan. THE FORCE continues to hold its place as the foremost of our magazines, for the variety, the alue, and the weight of its contributions.—THE NEW YORK TIMES.

There has come forward no problem of grave importance since THE FORUM was established that has not been discussed in its pages by masters of the subject. Announcements of forthcoming articles can seldom be made long in advance, for THE FORUM'S discussions are always of problems of present concern. Every such problem that the year 1890 will bring forward will be discussed, whether in politics, or religion, or social science, or practical affairs. The January number will contain a reply by ex-Speaker J. G. Carlisle to Senator Cullom's recent article on "How the Tariff Affects the Farmer." THE FORUM PUBLISHING COMPANY, 253 Fifth Ave., N. Y.
