Bound to be Even,

A Briton was once on a visit to American friend who was something of an mateut farmer. In walking through the grounds they passed a pile of potatoes.
"Pretty good sized, eh, Smith?"
"Oh, fair, but I've seen much larger ones in England."

"What do you think of those cabbage

"Small; much larger at home." "You can't beat those squashes, any-way," muttered the host, as they passed some specimens of that vegetable. "Oh, yes we can-beat them to pieces."

The Yankee was chagrined, and bethought himself of revenge. Before dark he procured some small turtles, inserted them between the sheets of his guest's bed, and stayed up at night after all had retired to await developments.

Down flew the Englishman nearly flight at a time, agape with astonishment-"What under the sun do you keep "I don't know: what did you find?" "'Pon my soul, I don't know what they are; they're 'orrid beasts any how; come

Thus adjured, the host proceeded to the room his guest occupied. As soon as he saw what was in the bed, he coolly re-"Oh, those are only some small-sized bed bugs. Got any bigger ones in England?"

Editor-"James, what is that moving in the waste basket—a mouse?"

James—(examining basket)—"No, sir;
it's one of them throbbing, passionate poems, sir."

The usual impression obtaining con cerning creoles is that they are all of them possessed of dark and swarthy complex ions, hair black as the raven's wing and eves of "ebon darkness." A New Orlean acquaintance says that many have lily white complexions, golden locks and eyes of "heaven's own blue." The creole girl of "heaven's own blue." The creole girl is usually refined and dainty, sensitive and sympathetic, light hearted and sunny balles, Oregon, on May 17, 1890, viz: tempered. She is usually brought up quietly and is content to remain at home.

Of course the majority of creo'es are dark—they are nut-brown maidens.

be pronounced a miracle; but so would the telegraph and the telephone a hundred years ago. Why, even very recently a cure for con-sumption, which is universally acknowledged to be scrotula affecting the lungs, would have sumption, which is universally acknowledged to be acrofula affecting the lungs, would have been looked upon as miraculous, but now people are beginning to realize that the disease is not incurable. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure it, if taken in time and given a fair trial. This world-renowned remedy will not make new lungs, but it will restore diseased once to a healthy state when other means have failed. Thousands gratefully testify to this. It is the most potent tonic, or strength restorer, alterative, or blood-cleanser and nutritive, or flesh-builder, known to medical science. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarri in the Head, and all Lingering Coughs, it is an uncqualed remedy. In derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels, as Indigestion, or Dyspepsia, Billousness, or "Liver Complaint," Chronic Diarrhea, and kindred allments, it is a sovereign remedy.

"Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine of its class, sold by druggists, under a printed Suarautee, from the manufacturers, that it will benefit or cure in every case of disease for which it is recommended, or money paid for it will be promptly refunded.
