ITEMS IN BRIEF.

Weather cool, with indications of rain. Mr. Henry Darnelle, of Eight Mile, is in the city.

The brick on the Moody corner is nearing completion.

Strawberries and other early fruits are plentiful in our markets.

Miss Nellie Fulton, of Ten Mile, has been spending a few days in the city.

The memorial exercises last evening at the Vot Grand were largely attended.

Our streets are in very good condition, and the sprinklers are doing excellent work.

The carpenters, this evening, who are employed on the new building built by J. T. Patten & Co., after having raised the main framework, are now erecting the roof.

Memorial Day was appropriately observed in this city yesterday. Flags were placed at half mast, and our business houses were closed.

Another gentlemanly party. The battle is on once more.

The west-bound passenger train, due here at 2:40 P. M., did not arrive until 6:30 this morning.

The election passed off to-day without any extraordinary incidents, although many amusing incidents happened.

Rev. G. M. Irwin occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church last evening. He delivered a most interesting discourse.

Mrs. C. M. Balger and daughters Kate and Annie left for the afternoon train to visit relatives in Massachusetts.

Mr. J. A. Anderson, the well known British Columbia, is in the city. He has more sheep than any man on the western slope.

Judge Bennett, with the tenacity of purpose for which he is so well known, made the last speech of the season at the Locks this morning.

Rain fell at Hood River and Cascade Locks Friday night and Saturday, and also at Antelope and Jewell, leaving crops in fine condition.

The Sunday school excursion last Saturday, near Mosier, was largely attended.

The eagle heads the Republican ticket, which is a representation of the Democracy, and a deer standing in a pool of water and the reason for the victory over all of these to-morrow.

At Cascade Locks Saturday evening another meeting was held by Mr. Hugh Gourlay, who is in his happiest mood, and made a most interesting address to the audience.

The last day of the campaign there was a political picnic held at the locks, and was held in advance by the Republicans, and Col. Nevins made one of his thrilling speeches, and the Democrats, in a side view with the Democrats, but suitable arrangements could not be made.

Mrs. Britton's residence, near the Union Pacific, was destroyed by fire in the roof to-day; but Mr. Wm. McCoy, a hero not to fame unknown, soon mounted the roof, and made the flames cease.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

Full Report of Proceedings of the Institute Held in this City Last Week.

The Teachers' Institute which has been in session was opened on Monday morning, May 26th, at 9 o'clock by Supt. A. C. Connelly.

The meeting being held in the upper room in the brick school house, a goodly number of teachers, ex-teachers and friends being present from various parts of Wasco county, including all the teachers in the public schools in this place.

The session was begun Monday morning by singing "America," which was heartily joined in by all present. Supt. Connelly appointed Mr. Aaron Frazier chairman of the meeting.

An address then followed by Mr. Connelly welcoming the teachers to the institute, and earnestly recommending all to avail themselves of the benefits offered by the institute to the mutual benefit, knowledge, and improvement of the teachers and of the qualifications of the teachers as required by the state and of the vast influence held over the minds of children committed to their charge. Mr. Connelly closed his remarks by asking the teachers to give due attention to all branches presented during the institute, giving a little wholesome advice that cherished hobbies might gracefully be allowed to take a back seat and inviting all present to enter into discussions freely that the work of the meetings might not be in vain.

The organization then followed. The chair appointed was A. M. Penner, secretary, the following committees were named: On music, Misses Meyers, Hildebrandt and Lang; On programme for evening, Prof. M. S. Smith and Miss M. Michell; On resolutions, Misses Rintoul, Frazier and Hildebrandt.

Miss M. Michell then read an interesting paper on Orthography. A brief summary of remarks showed that while spelling is in part a natural gift, no child with proper application to the new methods now taught need be ashamed to write in any other language than his own.

The meeting closed at 11:30. The afternoon meeting was called to order at 1:45 by the chairman, Mr. Frazier. A class of children from the primary grades sang several songs. The regular programme was then taken up, the first being a talk on Geography by Mr. Troy Shelby.

Geography was very practical—full of good points and well calculated to make any less experienced teacher than the speaker more hopeful of success in the teaching of the subject. Mr. Shelby has had many years' experience in the school room, and is one who has never deemed himself infallible on methods, thereby by careful observation and comparison he has learned his own methods and has learned many facts which he explained in a very concise way. The connection of history and geography and their unbounded field to each other—facts concerning places and the people therein, stories told to interest children and awaken an ambition to grasp more, objects as indispensable in presenting some topics, methods of remembering hard names, as by games and by rhymes, were all talked about at length by Mr. Shelby. A discussion then followed which was entered into by a number of teachers. Prof. Tobet, of the Wasco Academy, then presented a lecture on teaching a very comprehensive method of instructing a cube root, using blocks especially designed for such work.

The meeting adjourned to meet at 8 P. M. in the Court House.

The following programme was rendered: Music—Waltz, "The Swains," by primary pupils; Music—"The Doves," by primary pupils; Recitation—"The Pride of Battery B," Doty McFarland; Music—Greetings, Mrs. Woodworth and Miss Lang; Readings—"Rivermouth Rocks," Miss C. Towler; Mr. Frazier then gave a lecture on the subject Home, School and Church. It would be hardly just to attempt to give a synopsis of the lecture in a few words. It was listened to by those present with interest and those who were attracted elsewhere during the evening lost some very timely advice.

In the state the returns are not complete; but the election of the Republican ticket is conceded, with the exception of governor, which is still in doubt.

A man named Morrison committed suicide Friday morning at Seattle by taking
